—Mike Yonder, merchant and butcher, of Brookston, lost his reason Sunday and Monday was brought to this place by Constable Burlingame and later taken to the asylum at North Warren. The first evidence of lost reason was his desire to discuss the comet and nothing else. Later he became violent and it was necessary to place him under restraint.—Sheffield Observer.

—Dr. Siggins' first well on the Chester Hollister farm, just below Jamieson Station, was finished last Friday and will probably make a good producer. The drill opened up a fine pay streak in the second sand at about 205 feet, but upon drilling it a few feet deeper a strong flow of salt water was struck, which has temporarily drowned out the oil. It will be rigged for pumping at once. The crew is at work on a second well.

—The Punxsutawney Spirit thinks all public roads should be made of brick. It says: "It may be too much to expect all in a heap, but the thing to do whenever possible is to build brick roads. They are much cheaper in the long run than any other kind of road, and every State road should be brick. The Macadam road is too dusty in summer, too smeary in wet weather and too ephemeral. It must be constantly repaired to keep it smooth."

—James, Patrick and Daniel Donovan and John Caine, of Stewart Run, hold the championship belt so far as the rattlesnake slayers of this section. On Sunday, two weeks ago, the boys visited a snake den on Sugar Camp Run, over in Harmony township, and killed 43 of the rattlers before they gave up the hunt for the day. And it wasn't a good day for snakes either, it being rather early in the season for the venomous reptiles to be out in full force.

—Congressman Nelson P. Wheeler has had placed at his disposal a limited number of copies of the new Agricultural Year Book for 1909. He feels that those are for the benefit of his constituents, and he takes this means of informing those interested that a copy will be mailed to persons sending requests for same to him at Washington as long as the supply lasts, believing this to be the best method of calling the matter to the attention of those interested in agricultural pursuits.

—It is coming the time of year to again call the attention of road supervisors to the matter of removing loose stones from the road. The law requiring road supervisors to remove all loose stones from the public highways during the months of May, June, August and October is very specific and makes it the duty of the supervisors to remove loose stones under a penalty of $10 for each and every offense in neglecting to do so; the fine to be collected before any justice of the peace in county. Supervisors should carefully take note of this matter.

—Car No. 6, of the Bureau of Fisheries, Department of Commerce of the United States, passed up the road Monday afternoon and left over forty cans of speckled trout fry at the Tionesta station. The fish measured about one to one and one-half inch in length and were distributed among the various streams in this section the same evening. The car left the hatchery at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., several days ago and had on board a large consignment of speckled and rainbow trout fry. Each of the cans contained 500 trout and that amount ought to help some.

—The forest fire which swept over an area of ten square miles in Harmony township, Tuesday of last week, was even more destructive than indicated in our report of last week. The Alva Oil Co. on the Erb lease, in the Poverty Hill district, lost a power house, a stock tank with a large amount of oil and all the perishable stuff about the rigging of six or eight wells. A saw mill on the property was saved. The Pequinot lease, on the O'Hare tract, was stripped of everything, which included five wells, a stock tank and power house. The Gilbert lease, on the Watson tract, lost six wells and all tanks and oil. The power house was saved. On the Schofield & Roe lease, also on the Watson tract, four wells and two stock tanks were burned. The Wilbur Schofield lease, north of this, lost two stock tanks with oil and ten wells. The lease of Mrs. Anna B. Schofield lost four wells but saved a stock tank. On the Fogle Farm, owned by the South Penn Co., the loss was confined to standing timber. The fire broke out near the McCabe Lumber Co.'s lumber railroad, near West Hickory creek and then westward toward Nelltown.

—At the instance of Prof. Burdett Bayle superintendent of the McKean county schools, an effort will be made to raise a fund of $1,000 as a reward for the recovery of the body of little Michael Steffan, the Ludlow boy who disappeared from home on April 16, the same day on which Edward Lamont Adams, of Lamont Station, disappeared. Up to this time the Adams boy's case has occupied the attention of the public mind and the professor believes that more effort should be made to locate the little Hungarian lad. It may be of interest to Forest county people to know that the Steffan family formerly resided at Kellettville, this county.

—Thomas Snodgrass has purchased the residence property of Mrs. Ella Hill, on Elm street, in the upper part of town, and also the vacant lots of George Framp-ton and Theodore Huddleson, lying just north of the Hill property. As soon as the necessary changes can be made, which will probably be next week, Mr. Snodgrass will move to his new purchase, where he will engage in the poultry business on a large scale, not fancy chickens, but to provide eggs and poultry for the market. With the characteristic energy which he showed in his other business ventures properly applied in this, we feel sure he will make it a success and wish him prosperity. Mrs. Hill will store her household goods for a time and A. H. Gordon will occupy the house to be vacated by Mr. Snodgrass, on Bridge street.

—Some time ago a native of Syria was brought from Forest county in the vicinity of Marienville suffering from a gunshot wound in the chest. He alleged that he had been shot by a young man who intended to kill and rob him and although his assailant claimed that he had missed his aim while shooting at a grouse from the side of the road as the Syrian appeared he was convicted. The Syrian arrived in town Sunday and was admitted to the hospital suffering from a serious affection of the lungs caused by the wound received nearly two years ago. His command of English is so slight that it was impossible to learn much of his wanderings, but the surgeon in charge learned from him that "he had been sick in boarding houses" and fearing he would never get well and recalling the kind treatment he had received while under treatment here before, he had returned for some more of it.—Oil City Derrick. This is the man who was shot by young Mealy, near Newmansville.

—That the Courier recently was right in assuming that a girl who came here from Marienville and who fell into the hands of the Ladies' Aid and through them into the hands of the police, needed looking after, has been proven by late developments. According to the Cleveland papers of yesterday, the girl, whose name is Nellie Crosier, when she was sent to Shippensburg, early in the week to relatives located by Mayor Dickenson and the police, and after having been furnished with transportation and funds, went no farther than Oil City before she changed her mind as to where she wanted to go. At that place she met with a railroad man, who, she says, enticed her to go to Cleveland with him. At that place they were placed under arrest and the railroad fined $50 and sent to the work-house for 30 days. The girl is in the hands of the juvenile court and unless relatives, who have been notified, come after her, will be sent to some home for incorrigibles. She is only about 16 years old and looks young, but in facing the mayor here and being questioned, she showed all the nerve of a city girl who had varied experience.—Tinsville Courier.

—The name of the man in the case is Henry Gregory, a P. R. R. passenger brakeman.

May Court Minutes.

When our report of the May court proceedings closed last week the case of the Commonwealth vs. Dr. M. C. Kerr, of West Hickory, charged with selling intoxicating liquor without a license and to a minor, was on trial. The case was ended Friday morning when the jury rendered a verdict of guilty on the first six counts of the indictment, for selling unlawfully, but not guilty on the seventh count, on the charge of selling to a minor. The jury also recommended the defendant to the extreme mercy of the court. A motion was made for a new trial, which was argued Tuesday, May 31st.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. J. E. McCauley and Andrew McFarland, charged with furnishing intoxicating liquor to a minor, was tried Friday after the name of McFarland was stricken out of the indictment. The jury found McCauley guilty as indicted. A motion for a new trial was made and it will be argued Tuesday, May 31st.

In the case of the Commonwealth vs. Plumer Kahle, convicted of malicious mischief in a violation of the livery stable act, a motion for a new trial will also be argued Tuesday, May 31st.

In the case of Amos Shotts vs. R. W. Beers, which was an action to recover the price of some pork shipped to Mr. Beers and which spoiled in transit, the jury gave a verdict for the defendant.

All the remaining cases on the civil list having been continued, the court adjourned Friday evening.

GRAND JURY REPORT.

The Grand Jury reports that they acted upon five bills of indictment, four of which were true bills. They visited the County Home and recommended the grading and putting in good condition the basement of the barn at the County Home; also the putting in good condition the toilet room on the second floor of the County Home, and attention given to sewers pertaining to same. We also recommended a toilet room arranged on the first floor of the County Home in the ladies' department. We also recommend the Commissioners to take up the matter of putting gas throughout the building for light and heat. We also recommend the Commissioners to consider the putting in of fire extinguishers. We also recommend the putting in of a new walk of either stone or cement from the Home to public road. The Grand Jury finds that the interior of the Home is clean, neat and well kept and very satisfactory to us.

Double Breasted Boys' Suits

6 to 17 Sizes.

A lot of mothers are ready to tell you that these double breasted wool suits are every thread reliable quality.

The high grade of tailoring in them gives the garments plenty of shapely style to start with; the light, strong, enduring fabrics hold that style. So these are not roughly made suits built for strength alone. The solid wearing quality is there—and with
