The Functions of a Trust Company

differ in many respects from those of a National or State bank,

In some respects the laws governing Trust Companies are more exacting.

They do however permit the Trust Company to extend more intimately personal service to the individual in financial matters.

In a series of notices, we shall explain some of these points. Watch for this series—it will prove instructive and interesting.

"I declare!" shouted a bellboy in one of the big downtown hotels as he dashed into the lobby.

"I declare!" he shrieked again, or at least it sounded like that.

An irascible old gentleman whose omnibus was jarred by the shrill screech wheeled about and glared at the boy.

"I declare!" he piped louder than before.

"Well, what's the answer?" demanded the old man gruffly.

"I declare!" came the shrill reply.

"Oh, you do, eh?" snorted the old fellow.

"Well, why the deuce don't you?"

The bellboy cast a withering glance at him, gazed sardoniously about the room and emitted a shrill "Declare!"

"Say," exclaimed the old chap, color- ing the boy, "what the dickens is wrong with you, anyway? Are you going crazy?"

"Naw, I ain't got' crazy," replied the brass buttoned one.

"I got a telegram fer 'em; that's all. Aw, look fer yourself!" exclaimed the boy disgustedly.

As he shoved the yellow envelope under the old fellow's nose, it was addressed "L. D. Clair."

"Well, I declare!" gasped the old man weakly as he sank into his seat.—Pittsburg Gazette.
