—The prosperity of a town is not gauged by the wealth of its inhabitants, but by the uniformity with which they pull together when any important undertaking is to be accomplished. A man with a thousand dollars at his command and a love for his town in his heart can do more for the upbuilding of it than the millionaire who looks up his capital and snaps his fingers at home progress.

Mrs. Jenkins is the wife of Evan Jenkins, who was until last July, a workman in the tin mill, but who has been out on strike since that time. Congressman Nelson P. Wheeler, of the 28th district, is given all the credit for the successful fight by the happy woman. He has been after this back pension ever since he went into office, and although refused once at the pension office, he kept at it until all the necessary testimony was furnished to the pension department and the claim was allowed.

No other city in the United States has more interesting places in its neighborhood: Concord, Plymouth, Lexington, Harvard, with the homes of Longfellow, Holmes, Lowell and many others. Closing Club Meeting.
The Tionesta Reading Club held its closing meeting of the year at the home Mrs. George F. Watson, Wednesday afternoon, June 8th, when almost the full membership was present, and the gathering proved one of the best of the whole year. The Club at the beginning of the year had taken for its theme England and Eliza Literature, and the program as prepared was carried out to the letter, not one of the members having failed to respond to the part assigned to her. As a consequence many papers of exceptional merit were read and all of them proved highly edifying and intensely interesting.
This the sixth year of the Club's organization, and the one just closed has doubtless been the most profitable of them. Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President Mrs. Sule Mharpe; first vice president, Mrs. Geo. F. Watson; second vice president, Mrs. G. F. Holeman; secretary, Mrs. J. L. Land; treasurer, Mrs. B. M. DeWesse; post superintendent, Mrs. J. E. Wank; librarian, Mrs. Joseph Clark.

RECENT DEATHS.
METZGAR.
John L. Metzgar, of East Hickory, Pa., a lifelong resident in this vicinity, died suddenly at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Robert Lynch, at Endeavor, Monday about noon, June 13, 1910. He had gone to work in the morning at the Wheeler & Dusebury mill feeling well as usual, but about 10 o'clock was attacked by sickness of the stomach and went to the home of his daughter, near by, and laid down expecting the attack to wear off in a few minutes, refusing to have a physician called, as he said he would be all right in a short time. The sickness failing to pass off as expected, Dr. Morrow of West Hickory was summoned, but before he reached him Mr. Metzgar passed away. Heart trouble is assigned as the cause of his unexpected death. About two years ago the deceased had suffered a slight stroke of paralysis, from which his friends thought he never fully recovered.
Mr. Metzgar was born near Neiltown, Forest county, about 63 years ago, and his whole life had been spent in the vicinity of his birth. He had followed lumbering from boyhood, and there was no part of the business that he did not thoroughly understand, and he was an expert sawyer. Of a genial disposition he made friends wherever he went, and although a man who did his own thinking, he was never contentious and lived at peace with his neighbors, by whom he was always highly esteemed and respected for his sterling honesty, frankness, and ever willingness to lend a helping hand in time of trouble or need.
When a young man he was united in marriage with Miss Minna Mathe, who, with two daughters, Mrs. Robert Lynch of Endeavor Pa., and Mrs. Fenton E. Kiffer of Tionesta, survives him. He is also survived by three brothers, William R. Metzgar of Titusville, Simeon D., of Smithport, Pa., and Lorenzo, residence unknown. The funeral services will be held at the late home of the deceased this afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. Mr. Phipps, officiating.

That it pays to be thrifty nor that even the pennies count in saving for the rainy day or for the future competence. But you may not realize the importance of the question, Where to buy your clothes; yet they are no inconsiderable item in your year's expenses.
For many years we have been demonstrating our superior ability in value giving—in helping our patrons to save. Not by price alone, but by quality and price.
Good clothes, and good clothes only, are the basis of our value-achievements. We feel that we are doing the public a real service in refusing to supply them with inferior goods—the price of which, whatever it may be, is too high.
Fifteen, twenty or twenty-five dollars is a convenient price for the average man to pay for his suit. The suits we have at these prices are our best definition of value. They are the perfection of fabrics, making and style, yet all our prices, from $10 to $27.50, stand respectively for the utmost limit of wearing worth.
A word about our Blue Suits, which so many men favor. Our showing covers the whole ground. Hard and soft weave serges, stripes and solid color—numerous beautiful shades and effects, with especially attractive styles at $15, $18, $20 and $25.
