No Paper Next Week.
In order that the REPUBLICAN forces may aid in the celebration of the Fourth of July in a safe and sane manner it will be necessary to adhere to the usual custom of "kipping an issue," and so no paper will be issued from this office next week. The sanctum will be kept open, however, and the latch string will hang on the outside to all who have business to transact with the financial editor, especially if the coin happens to be coming his way. And it is hoped there may be many who will avail themselves of this splendid opportunity to "shake hands" on this occasion. Come early and avoid the rush.

Reports are current that Dr. Morris A. Gutt, who has been at the head of the state insane asylum at North Warren for the past 30 years and who is known to many persons in this part of the state, had expressed his intention of withdrawing from that position.

George Swab, of Hunter Station, was a visitor in Tionesta Saturday and gave this office a pleasant call. While mowing the grass in his yard Saturday morning he killed a large yellow rattlesnake within twenty-five feet of his front door. The snake measured three and a half feet in length and sported eight rattles.

It was a crowded special car that left the Warren Business College, of which C. W. Smith is president, at 10 o'clock today, bound for Hunter's Grove opposite North Warren, where the annual reunion of the college is being held. There were about 75 in the party including a number of students from the Kane Business College, which is also under the management of Mr. C. W. Smith.—Warren Mirror.

Contractor Putnam has a crew at work again on the street paving in this borough, and expects to complete the job without interruption. The curbing that was laid late last fall at the lower end of Elm street proved a failure on account of heavy freezing before the cement had "set," and it is being taken out to be replaced by new work. Most of the brick for this portion of the street were hauled in last winter, so there will be no delay in this respect when the foundation has been prepared for the laying of the blocks.

Over at Sheridan, a couple of miles east of Dunkirk, the Frost Gas company has completed three big gas wells on the Dahlman farm that are valuable assets. The last of the trio shows a pressure of 3,000,000 feet the day and the two others are nearly if not fully as great producers. The company supplies Fredonia and environs with gas and the new wells have been connected into the mains and the fluid is being piped. Mr. Frost, the principal stockholder in the company was once a prominent Forest county lumberman.

A very happy wedding took place at the Methodist parsonage, Clarion, Pa., Thursday, June 16, 1910, when Miss Mabel Clare Miller, of Chicago, Ill., daughter of the late Rev. J. R. Miller, of Scotch Hill, and Mr. John Howard Everhart, of Jersey City, N. J., were united as man and wife, the Rev. Frank S. Neigh performing the ceremony. May they enjoy all the blessings of a happy married life.—Clarion Democrat.

The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Everhart of Lickingville, and is favorably known to many of our readers.
Miss Maude Thompson of Marienville, a school teacher well known in this section, has received her diploma from the Edinboro State Normal School and leaves immediately for Grant's Pass, Ore., where she has taken up a homestead. It is necessary that she shall reside on the property and make certain improvements there in order to hold her title and it is for that purpose she has gone west. She has two brothers at Grant's Pass, both of whom have taken up claims. Her friends will wish her success. She will have the advantage of a little more civilized era in which to work at this line of business than people knew who went to Kansas and Nebraska forty years ago. Miss Thompson taught last year at Reno, near Oil City.—Titusville Herald, 25th.

E. E. Norton, of Brook street, the well known lumberman, met with an accident yesterday that might have resulted in the loss of one of his feet, but which fortunately turned out to be less serious, though very painful. He was felling a tree on a timber tract from which he is cutting trees, near Boughton, and as it was about to fall, he leaned his hand against it to shove it in the direction he wanted it to drop. As he did so the butt of the tree slid from the stump and toward Mr. Norton, catching his left foot and ankle underneath a portion of the tree. Fortunately for the gentleman the tree top went down so fast that the lower end struck the stump before the full weight was upon his limb and he escaped with a badly crushed foot. He came home on the evening train and was taken to Brook street in a carriage. The injury will lay Mr. Norton up for some time.—Titusville Courier, 22d.

After July 10th and until further notice the lower end of Elm street will be closed to heavy teaming, on account of the street paving. Light rigs will be allowed to pass. Teamsters please notice.
Geo. R. Johnson, Joseph Cunningham and Harry Murphy recently purchased and took possession of the store business of Mrs. M. Andrews, in Kellettville. The purchase includes the two store buildings, one of which contains Andrews' Hall. Mrs. Andrews did not sell her separate residence properties and will remain in Kellettville for the present at least.

Paul J. Hepler, proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, Franklin, and well known here, was in an auto mix-up, one day last week, and was quite severely though not dangerously injured. He was returning from Oil City with his wife and little daughter in a car driven by F. J. Dion. The wheels skidded and the car went over an embankment. Mr. Hepler jumped and alighted on some large pieces of glass resulting in three ugly cuts and several painful bruises about the body. The little girl was thrown out of the car and suffered a slightly bruised knee. Mrs. Hepler and the driver clung to the machine and escaped injury.

H. A. Dotterer, of Mozetta, was a visitor in town last week and reports the rattlesnake crop as prospering in his section in spite of dry weather and lack of rain. While he and his son Lester, aged 13 years, were hunting the cows one day a week or more ago they came upon two large rattlers sunning themselves by a big rock, both of which Mr. Dotterer promptly killed. Hearing some others buzzing under the rock he poked out two more large fellows which the boy finished in short order, shooting one with a small rifle which he carried, and thus scoring as high as his dad. The four snakes ranged from 2 feet 10 inches to 4 feet 2 inches in length.

According to the story being related by a couple of drillers who have been at work in the vicinity of Gaderon, a suburb of Warren, that village recently had a narrow escape from being swallowed alive by a terrible earthquake. It is reported that the top of one of the large hills in that vicinity has opened up a crevice three feet wide and a mile in length with apparently unlimited depth has been discovered. Residents of the village report that they have experienced no "shock" and the story probably originated from the fertile brains of the drillers. It sounds very much like the yarns the late "Gib" Morgan used to tell, and old oil men will notice this fact.

With the coming of pleasant summer weather and settled roads the Monday morning newspapers are again teeming with accounts of Sunday automobile recklessness, and the killing and maiming of men, women and children. Sunday morning at a very early hour Harold Backus, aged 22, chauffeur for Judge J. W. Boston of Smithport, McKean county, met with fatal injuries while driving the Judge's car at a 50-mile gait. In the car were two other young men, one Harold McCarthy, probably fatally, and Frank Park, general agent of the National Society, who was driving the car, which was a powerful machine, crashed into a telegraph pole with sufficient force to break off one of the cross-arms at the top, while the machine was a total wreck.

Invitation is extended by Tidouate Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, to all citizens of Warren county and surroundings to be present at the unveiling ceremonies of the monument erected to the memory of the Revolutionary heroes who are buried in Warren county, and to General Joseph Warren, for whom the town and county are named. At 11 o'clock, July 4, at Liberty Theater, a patriotic and fitting program will be given. Ex-Lieut. Gov. Charles Warren Stone has consented to make an address on the life of General Warren, and Mrs. Donald McLean, ex-President General of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, will speak, and possibly Mrs. Matthew T. Scott of Chicago, President General, and other notables.

Marie McKeen, Marie Small and Anna Cole, three young ladies who compose the "Flower Mission" committee at Nebraska, entertained the W. C. T. U. last Thursday at the residence of Mrs. Mabel McKeen. The exercises consisted of songs and recitations, in which the following little girls took part: Edith McKeen, Janet Thomson, Lorna Small, Ruth Myers, Belle and Mabelle Combs, Modelina Near, Twila Young, Alina Nellis, and Inez Weaver. Wilda Thomson also recited. With the simple gift of a flower has brightened a life; and we feel that this part of our temperance work can be carried on by the young girls better than any one else. At the close of the literary program refreshment was served and a beautiful bouquet given to each one present.

A Buffalo Wedding.
At the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Maude Cook, wife of Dr. M. B. Cook of 1338 Niagara street, Buffalo, N. Y., were united in marriage last night at 8:30 o'clock, Miss Gertrude Greaves of Warren, and Gilbert G. Davis, of Rosmar, South Carolina. Mr. and Mrs. Davis after spending a few days in Buffalo and Warren will leave for Rosemary, where Mr. Davis has just completed a beautiful home to which he will take his bride. Mr. Davis is connected with Atlantic Coast Lumber Company, holding a position of trust and responsibility, and at this time holds the office of Mayor of Rosemary. Mrs. Davis is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Greaves of Warren and of the late William A. Greaves, one of the foremost artists of the country, and whose oil portraits grace homes and public buildings throughout the state. Mrs. Davis is herself an artist, although her work is along musical lines. For many years a student of LeRoy Campbell and a graduate of the Warren Conservatory of Music, Mrs. Davis, as Miss Gertrude Greaves, ranks among Warren's most accomplished and brilliant musicians.—Warren Times, 28th.

Cooks' Mill at Millcreek Burned.

The large saw mill of A. Cook Sons Co., at Millcreek, near Strickonville, Clarion county, was destroyed by fire last Thursday afternoon. The fire started from unknown causes in the under portion of the structure and spread so rapidly that the men could not, with the apparatus at hand, check the flames. They were, however, able to save the lumber piles and the large boarding house which stood near the mill. The mill structure was of modern type and an extensive one. The loss is placed at $40,000, with an insurance of $15,000.

Judge Rice's Resignation.
The announcement of the resignation of Judge William E. Rice from the bench of the judicial district came to his many friends in Forest county, as indeed it doubtless did throughout the entire district, like a clap of thunder out of a clear sky, and caused universal and genuine regret. Our people had just fairly settled down to the pleasing contemplation that they had a jurist on the bench who ranked with the best in the State, and were congratulating themselves that for the next eight or nine years to come the judiciary of this district would be in safe and able hands.
The resignation is to take effect July 1st. Judge Rice resigns to accept the position of general solicitor for the Elk Tanning Company, the Central Pennsylvania Lumber company and the Central Leather company, and his duties will be confined to the state of Pennsylvania. This important position had been held for many years by the late C. H. McCauley of Ridgway. On July 1st Judge Rice will have served 15 months, having assumed the judicial ermine Jan. 1st, 1909. It is a pleasure to learn that he will retain his residence in Warren, Pa.
Who will succeed to the bench is not yet known, but in all likelihood it will be Watson D. Hinkle, of Warren, who has been endorsed by both the Warren and Forest county bar associations, besides very generally signed petitions in both counties have gone to Governor Stuart, by whom the appointment of the new Judge will be made.

She was married when a young lady to Christian Sigworth who preceded her to the grave in 1861, while residing at Fryburg.
