The effort of the Esperanto tongue to swallow the English language is likely to end in the English language swallowing the Esperanto tongue.

In order that you may be sure of your vote this fall you should make sure that your name is on the registry list. September 5th is the last date.

SENATOR GORE claims that he can make $150 a day on the Chautauque platform. Is not this almost as bad as taking advantage of the Indian?

The New York Press says that if the ticket nominated in New York is such as Colonel Roosevelt cannot recommend to the delegates or afterward indorse to the voters of his party—well, it would not be worth while to print the names of the candidates upon the ballots.—Blizzard.

Even if Walter Wellman only succeeds in crossing the Passaic river on his way to Europe he will have accomplished more than he did when he started for the north pole in a balloon.—William-port News. Outside of being a professional faker and four-flusher, and a big advertiser who doesn't have the goods, Walter appears to be all right.—Punxy Spirit. Since the Spirit has covered the case completely we can add nothing to the estimate.

There is Democratic talk of a break between the President and Mr. Roosevelt. Personal differences may arise between any two men, though we doubt if any have or not, none are likely to in the slightest way interfere with the president as Chief Executive, nor with his devotion to the Republican party, nor with Mr. Roosevelt's usual strenuous work to elect Republican candidates.—Franklin News.

The "complimentary business" of giving franks and half-rate certificates by the Postal and Western Union Telegraph companies has been discontinued since such corporations have been made common carriers under the new railroad law. It is about time that express companies took similar steps and the Interstate Commerce Commission should stir them to action and reduce the rates of all these corporations as excessive, especially the express companies.—Titusville Courier. The I. C. C. cannot get busy in this line too soon to suit the public.

There is truth in these sayings of the Franklin News: Jim Jeffries could not "come back," and few men drink for pleasure ever can do so. But a man of thirty-five is not "out of the running" if he has lived right. Weston is walking no other man can walk, though he is literally in the old age period. James H. Riley and James A. TenEyck are preparing for a sculling race, through it is years since they were wonders of the boating world. As the New York World sums it up, there are illustrations enough. Gladstone cut trees at eighty. At the same age Ericsson pulled two younger men off their feet in a tug-of-war. Plato wrestled at eighty-three. Jim Mac was sparring at seventy-six. Bloncin was athletic at seventy. The memory is fresh of Dr. Furnell coming to a green old age at the oars. The strong man who uses his powers rationally does not need to "come back." His strength is his loyalty ally.

The police rules of the Pennsylvania railroad are becoming more stringent. Instructions have been issued to patrolmen that in the future, crossing the tracks at any point but at a public crossing will be considered a violation of the law, and that it will be their duty to prohibit all such traffic. In sections where campers have taken advantage of the spots along the river divisions to erect camps on the opposite side of the track from the river this new rule will affect such parties rather seriously. They have been warned against crossing the tracks. The railroad men claim that such action is necessary for the maintenance of high speed trains and the reduction of accidents. The Titusville Courier states oilmen south of there complain that the company has shut them off from its lines and bridges, making it very inconvenient to get about as these are practically the only way to get to and from leaves. These men say that accidents have often been averted by pedestrians on the rights of way discovering broken rails or other defects that would have caused serious wrecks had they not been noted and reported. One Titusville man has had at least two cases of this kind to his credit.

MR. SIBLEY WITHDRAWS.

Continued Ill Health is Assigned as Cause of Withdrawal.

To the Electors of the Twenty-eighth Pennsylvania Congressional District: Owing to the continuance of the serious condition of my heart, I am convinced that the days of my physical activities are numbered. At the best, I can only hope that a long period of absolute rest will alleviate my present condition. When I became a candidate for Congress I had no premonition of the serious difficulty with my vision or the subsequent attack of heart failure. While my vision has greatly improved, the graver difficulty of my heart has not responded to treatment so fully as I had hoped and believed. I am now convinced that if elected to Congress I shall be unable to give to the discharge of my duties the close and earnest attention which the position demands and which the constituency is entitled to receive. It is, therefore, incumbent on me to decline the nomination you have given me and to express the hope that some one of high character and eminently qualified for the duties of the position may be selected in my stead.

I recognize the embarrassments this will cause the party which has honored me and the disappointment which this decision will bring to my friends. I had hoped that a few weeks of rest would be effective in working a restoration of my strength, but an acute recurrence of my heart trouble convinces me that the duty I owe alike to you and myself demands that another must be the candidate and the Congressman.

I shall let my whole life stand as an answer to my political detractors and to any undesired criticism on their part. In the days of my strength no political storm has worried me, nor does the thought of it do so now, for I am aware of the undiminished confidence of those who have already been my friends and political supporters.

It is simply a recognition by me of the fact that I am unable to perform the task that prompts the decision I have made. In the days yet coming to me it will be my pleasure to demonstrate to my friends how much I have appreciated their love and loyalty. Fortunately for my peace of mind, I have no revenges to gratify or enemies to punish.

JOSEPH C. SIBLEY.

The withdrawal of Mr. Sibley makes it necessary to fill the vacancy on the ticket by the nomination of another candidate. Opinion is divided as to how this shall be done. The uniform primaries act provides as follows: "Vacancies happening or existing after the date of the primary may be filled in accordance with the party rules, as is now or hereafter may be provided by law." In accordance with this provision, the State Committee has formulated the following rule of procedure, which was applied in the case of gubernatorial candidate Tener, who had withdrawn as a Congressional candidate in the 24th district: "Whenever a vacancy shall happen or exist after the date of the primary election, in any congressional, senatorial or judicial district composed of more than one county, said vacancy shall be filled by conferees selected by the county committees of the respective counties composing the district in which said vacancy occurs; and each county in the district shall be entitled to as many conferees as it had delegates in the last preceding state convention, and the meeting of the conferees shall be held at the time and place fixed by the chairman of the state committee." This provision gives Mercer county three conferees, Venango and Warren two each, and Elk and Forest one each.

Not a few candidates have already been "mentioned," or are mentioning themselves, but what the outcome will be is still guess work. The district, however, has an abundance of good timber, and a good candidate will be in the field for the November election all right.

Heart's Content.

The recent rains have been welcome to the farmers, saving the buckwheat crop. David Platner interviewed a rattler and a bear on the Warren road (not traveling together) recently. Dave gave the rattler all the road.

"Dago" Hillard spent some time hunting bear in the big woods last week, but bruin was too wary.

The Anthony boys are considering establishing a home bakery. A crowd of campers from Endeavor, Pa., made the woods at Heart's Content Camp seem like Wild Bill's tent on circus day. The personnel of the party were: Mrs. May Carr, Miss Edna Zuendel, Miss Myrtle Black, Mrs. Flo Shaw, Gladys Shaw, Virginia Jones, Helen Lynch, Clyde Gorman, Chas. Gorman, Ray Shaw, Joe and Burd Lynch, Mrs. S. J. Lynch, chaperon and "Chief Hooter," I. J. Kunselman assisted with the moving in of the heavier articles. The party stopped en route at Pine Grove House for dinner and Mrs. Kunselman gave them the best dinner they remember of ever having. Pete Wheeler went along to help put up tents, having learned the art from one of G. Hooker's aides, Clyde Gorman, as lobby hawk and photographer, is a good fellow at any camp, running a close second to Brennan, photographer. Chas. Gorman, as a camp musician, is without a peer, his favorite song being, "It Is Certainly Better for Him." Miss Zuendel concluded her stay before camp broke, being lured away by one of "those aristocrats" from Pine Grove Camp. The farmers around found ready sale for their produce to the campers, castaway men even being in demand. A Gypsy visited camp, collecting quarters from the young ladies anxious for a peep into the future. Some long walks were taken, Miss Black usually choosing the spot for a stop. After all woods sport grew tame, Virginia Jones washed her hands and the party broke up with the yell "Conomy Woods 1911." Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Obadiab, of Baxter, spent a day or two with the campers.

Mt. Zion's Missionary Festival.

The missionary festival of the Evangelical Lutheran congregation, held in the church grove, Gorman Hill, Aug. 19, was a successful event, both in the number of people present and in the interest manifested. The beautiful weather brought people from far and near, and about 275 enjoyed a day long to be remembered. A very large and sumptuous dinner was served, in which all present partook freely, after which due time was given to the meeting of friends and acquaintances. At 2 p. m. the exercises proper began and lasted until 4 p. m. There was a large platform built in the grove for the speakers and choir, and this was beautifully decorated by the young people of the Mt. Zion's congregation. Rev. H. J. Reimann was the first speaker of the afternoon, and emphasized what God had done for us and that we in return ought to labor for our Lord and Master. Mr. W. J. Ferne based his discourse on the words of the prophet Isaiah, laying stress on the importance of missionary work, and what our Lord expects of his children along such lines, and that missionary work is a vital factor to the christian church, for God has given to the church this work. Mr. O. A. Heinzelman spoke of the estimate the christian should have of the church and that we should be thankful to our God that we had been blessed so bountifully by him. C. L. Rush, pastor of Mt. Zion's congregation, made a few remarks in which he asserted and impressed on the minds of the hearers that we ought to thank and praise, and magnify God for his manifold blessings both temporal and spiritual, and the highest aim of a christian should be to spread the gospel of Christ to the darkest of heathendom. Special music was rendered by the choir from Mt. Zion's congregation, which aided wonderfully in beautifying the services. A collection for our home mission treasury was raised and amounted to $27.61, which shows that the people of Mt. Zion's congregation are imbued with a true missionary spirit. We were glad to see so many of our friends present at this festival, and to all our services our friends are cordially invited.

SIGNS OF PROSPERITY

Scott Works Running at Full Capacity to Fill Orders. Reading, Pa., Aug. 23.—The Scott works of the Reading Iron company are running at fullest capacity, due to the big orders for cotton presses and sugar mills. Last week a large cotton press was sent to Quannah, Texas, and a sugar press to Sinclair, La. These ponderous machines are built in the machine shop, and as the parts are finished are sent to the erecting shops. When every part is found to be perfect the machines are again taken down and loaded for shipment.

CRUST STRANGLES CHILD

Two-Year-Old Dies When Bread Lodged in Her Throat. Beverly, N. J., Aug. 23.—Rose Fogarty, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Fogarty, was strangled by a piece of bread crust which lodged in her throat. The child was given the bread while the family were at supper. Although the parents made heroic efforts to dislodge the obstruction, the little girl expired in a few minutes.

—There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.
