A JOINT RESOLUTION Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, so as to consolidate the courts of common pleas of Allegheny County.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby proposed, in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:

That section six of article five be amended, by striking out the said section and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 6. In the county of Philadelphia all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the district courts and courts of common pleas, subject to such changes as may be made by this Constitution or by law, shall be in Philadelphia vested in five distinct and separate courts of equal and co-ordinate jurisdiction, composed of three judges each. The said courts in Philadelphia shall be designated respectively as the court of common pleas number one, number two, number three, number four, and number five, but the number of said courts may be by law increased, from time to time, and shall be in like manner decreased by successive numbers. The number of judges in any of said courts, or in any county where the establishment of an additional court may be required, may be increased or decreased, from time to time, and whenever such increase shall amount in the whole to three, such three judges shall compose a distinct and separate court as aforesaid, which shall be numbered as aforesaid. In Philadelphia all suits shall be instituted in the said courts of common pleas without designating the number of the court, and in Allegheny the several courts shall distribute and apportion the business among them in such manner as shall be provided by rules of court, and each court, which shall be numbered as aforesaid, shall have exclusive jurisdiction thereof, subject to change of venue, as shall be provided by law.

In the county of Allegheny all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the several numbered courts of common pleas shall be vested in one court of common pleas, composed of all the judges in commission in said courts. Such jurisdiction and powers shall extend to all proceedings at law and in equity which shall have been instituted in the several numbered courts, and shall be subject to such changes as may be made by law, and subject to change of venue as provided by law. The president judge of said court shall be selected as provided by law. The number of judges in said court may be by law increased from time to time. This amendment shall take effect on the first day of January succeeding its adoption.

Woman Caught Trying to Smuggle In Pearl Necklace.

Gems Were Valued at $5,000—Inspectresses Searched the Woman but Were Unable to Locate the Necklace—Husband Appealed to by Inspector and, After a Talk With Wife, She Produced the Pearls, Which Were Hidden in the Lining of Her Big Blue Straw Hat.

The declaration of Mrs. B. Reynolds Adriance, who arrived Sunday in New York city with her comely daughter, Marion C., and her son, John P. Adriance, aboard the White Star liner Baltic, was a model. All memoranda of sales were attached to every dutiable article and Mrs. Adriance answered promptly the inquiries of the customs men. The answers might have been more impressive if the treasury department had not received a tip about a $5,000 necklace. Assistant Deputy Surveyor Raczekiewicz asked her if she had not overlooked a string of pearls. She denied all knowledge of such an article.

Mrs. Adriance and her daughter went aboard together from the pier. After about half an hour the inspectresses, who had been deputed to search them, came back on the pier with a gold mesh bag and a few yards of lace they had found in the clothing of Mrs. Adriance, but no necklace.

Mrs. Adriance finally let the bit of paper, before spoken of, fall. It was torn in pieces. The scraps were picked up by watching inspectors and pasted together.

Mr. Raczekiewicz meanwhile called Mr. Adriance to one side and told him that the government had information that his wife had purchased pearls abroad and it was a very serious matter for not only Mrs. Adriance but also her husband. He was advised to urge his wife to make a clean breast of it, if she hoped for leniency later. Mr. Adriance talked to his wife. After a few minutes of very earnest conversation Mr. Adriance came back to Mr. Raczekiewicz and remarked, "My wife has the necklace."

Naturally the customs men wanted to know where, and they asked Mrs. Adriance to please produce it. She said she must retire to her room and it and immediately locked the door.

The inspectresses knocked on the door and were admitted in time to see Mrs. Adriance ripping open the lining of her big blue straw hat, and pearls were pattering on the floor.

TRAIN KILLS TWO WOMEN

Prof. Emans' Wife and Sister Meet Death at Crossing.

Mrs. Edgar A. Emans, wife of Professor Emans of Syracuse university, and the latter's sister, Miss Martha Emans of Fayette, were killed and Professor Emans seriously injured when the New York-Chicago flyer on the Lehigh Valley railroad, making 70 miles an hour, struck their automobile in Gaywood, 30 miles south of Geneva, N. Y.

Both women had their skulls fractured as they were hurled from the machine. Mrs. Emans' neck was broken and Miss Emans had both legs broken. The chauffeur, Carl K. Kilmer, also of Syracuse, was only slightly hurt.

Professor Emans, head of the Greek literature department at Syracuse university, is at the Geneva city hospital unaware that his wife and sister are dead. They died on the flyer, which conveyed the injured to Geneva.

BRYAN NOT A CANDIDATE

Will Not Make an Effort to Secure Nomination in 1912.

"I will not be a candidate for president in 1912," was the declaration made by William J. Bryan in Kalamazoo, Mich., last Thursday. This is the first time the Nebraskan has positively stated that he will not make an effort to secure Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1912.

"There is plenty of good material in the party, but who will be the next candidate for president on the Democratic ticket depends upon what the next congress does," continued Mr. Bryan. "I believe the Democrats will control the next house. That the country is dissatisfied with the Republican party is manifest in the strength of the insurgency movement."

Mr. Bryan refused to make any comment when asked about the possibility of Governor Harmon of Ohio being the next Democratic candidate for president.

Daring American Aviator Meets With Another Mishap Near London.

MEETS MORE HARD LUCK

While Making Another Attempt to Reach London—Moissant's Machine is Wrecked.

John Moissant, the American, who started on Aug. 19 on an aerial journey from Lezy, a suburb of Paris, to London by way of Calais and landed at Filmanstone, Eng., 7 miles from Deal, on Aug. 17, since which time he has made 2 or 3 attempts to reach London, has again failed in his endeavor.

He started Sunday morning from Upchurch, where he had been detained by an accident to his aeroplane, but had only ascended 20 or 30 feet, when a gust of wind rendered the machine unmanageable and it fell.

The fore part of the aeroplane was smashed, but Moissant and Albert Pfluech, his mechanic, who accompanied him on his "cross channel flight," escaped without injury.

It will take some days to repair the wreck which lies within a stone's throw of the place where it met with its previous accident.

WILL BE RENOMINATED

Oneida County Machine Will Not Oppose Senator Davenport.

It has been definitely announced at Utica, N. Y., that Senator Frederick M. Davenport will be renominated with opposition at the Oneida county Republican convention next month.

Vice President Sherman and the other Republican leaders in the county have decided not to further oppose the senator and, with the indorsement of Colonel Roosevelt, the backing of both factions of the party and his personal popularity to accelerate the machinery, the name of the senator will be placed upon the ticket with a whoop. It is believed that his Democratic opponent will be former Senator Joseph Ackroyd of Yorkville.

Former Mayor Thomas Wheeler told a reporter that he believed it would be bad politics to oppose Davenport. He added that the senator had faithfully represented the sentiment of his constituents in the legislature.
