SEPTEMBER AT THE SEASHORE.

REDUCED FARES ACCOUNT G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

The rolling ocean with its boundless prospect is ever interesting; but at no time is it more enticing than during the month of September. The bathing is at its best. The sailing is ideal. The salt sea air is charged with increased invigoration, and there is a geniality about it unknown during the torrid days of summer.

Atlantic City, Ocean City, Sea Isle City, Avalon, Stone Harbor, Anglesea, Wildwood, Holly Beach, Wildwood Crest, and Cape May are all prepared to entertain with exceptional hospitality all guests who may come. The hotels are less crowded and more comfortable; the service is better, and in most instances the rates are lower.

The train service of the Pennsylvania Railroad to all these resorts will be found convenient and comprehensive.

Excursion tickets to Atlantic City will be sold at reduced fares on September 16, 17, 18, 19, and 20, on account of the G. A. R. National Encampment, good returning to reach original starting point not later than September 28. For stop-over privileges and extension of return limit, to October 28, consult Ticket Agents.

Unusual enjoyment awaits the September sojourner by the sea.

HIS NEIGHBORS DO HIM HONOR

People of Monongahela Valley Make Tener's Campaign Opening a Brilliant Success

PARTY LINES ARE OVERRUN

Democrats Plan a Hard Fight Against the Ambitions of "Divine Right" Berry and His Crowd of Place Hunters.

The Republican campaign in Pennsylvania was formally opened at Charleroi, the home of John K. Tener, the Republican candidate for Governor, last Saturday. The gathering, probably the largest ever assembled in any town in the Monongahela valley, was made up almost entirely from the friends and neighbors of Mr. Tener. Their evidences of friendship for the Republican candidate were substantial and convincing. The enthusiasm was almost unbounded and the dominating note arising from the very general applause was an emphatic notice to the voters of the State that Mr. Tener is held in highest esteem by those who know him best. No lines were drawn in the celebration which marked the opening of the contest. The Monongahela valley, with its great herds of industrious people, fairly spilled delegations into the Tener home town and all came singing the praises of the Republican candidate for Governor and his associates on the regular Republican ticket. Republicans, Democrats and representatives of other political organizations joined in the mammoth celebration, which lost much of its political significance through the non-partisan friendship manifested on every hand. In recognition of the general character of the immense gathering Mr. Tener refused to make a Republican speech. He talked in a neighborly way to his neighbors and he was simply overwhelmed by the generous greeting accorded him. His home town was always glad to have Mr. Tener as a resident. His neighbors were always proud of his acquaintance and his business associates were always sustained and satisfied at having his help and counsel. All of these joined without restraint in applauding his nomination for Governor, and all of them, without a single exception, united in making his campaign opening a brilliant success. Business places and homes, owned and managed by Democrats, were elaborately decorated, just as were the homes and business places owned and managed by Republicans, and all bore the significant motto: "He's good enough for us." No candidate in recent times ever received from his home and neighbors a heartier endorsement, and the message sent by Charleroi to the people of the entire State must of necessity inspire the voters to an overwhelming victory. From now up to and even after the November election the State will ring with applause for the Republican candidates and the principles they represent and likely the most stirring campaign song will be that recent parody on "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelley?" which created wild enthusiasm at Charleroi at the campaign opening and which runs as follows:
A wise old soul is Father Penn.
To keep things square and straight,
He picks the best of governors
To run the Keystone state.
He gave us Edwin Stuart
And he thinks "tis in the wood"
To give us now another one
That's every bit as good.
He'll land his man a winner.
If you ask the reason why,
He'll look you squarely in the face
And make you this reply:

NEW YORK'S POPULATION

United States Census Gives it 4,766,833 People.

According to the official count of the returns of the 13th United States census, the population of the city of New York, N. Y., is 4,766,833, as compared with 3,437,202 in 1900 and 2,507,414 in 1890. The increase from 1900 to 1910 therefore is 1,329,631 or 38.7 per cent, as compared with an increase for the preceding decade of 829,788, or 33.1 per cent.

The entire population of the United States in 1910 was 92,229,214. New York state having a total population of 349,120. The population of New York state in 1900 was 7,268,894. The total population of the United States in 1900 was 76,303,387 and an unofficial estimate places it somewhere in the neighborhood of 90,000,000 in the present year.

According to figures at the census bureau, the population of Greater London in 1910 at the official count was 6,881,372.

KILLS HIMSELF LIKE FIANCEE

One Used Pistol; Other Swallowed Poison.
Elizabeth, N. J., Sept. 6. — Within three months of the suicide of his fiancée, Miss Olga Yenny, Bernard Wagner, aged 21, shot himself through the heart with a small hunting rifle. Miss Yenny killed herself on June 17 last by taking poison. Opposition had arisen to the marriage of the pair because of their different religious faiths.

Shortly after the girl's death Wagner denied a rumor that there had been a suicide pact between him and the young woman.

DIES FOR LOVE OF MASTER

Collie Tries to Follow and is Killed by a Train.
Clinton, N. J., Sept. 6.—"Sandy," a handsome collie dog, lost his life for love of his master. He was owned by Benjamin N. Robertson, who left yesterday for South America, to be gone a year. During Mr. Robertson's preparations for his journey, "Sandy" was disconsolate and so far he would not witness his master's departure, the dog was taken to the home of a friend at Fairfield.

The dog bolted and ran to his home. He sniffed around the piazza for a moment, and then started for the Lackawanna station. A train was pulling out and the dog attempted to board the second coach from the rear, in which his master was seated. He jumped on the steps, lost his footing and fell to the tracks. The wheels passed over his body.
