PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION SUBMITTED TO THE CITIZENS OF THE COMMONWEALTH FOR THEIR APPROVAL OR REJECTION, BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, AND PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVIII OF THE CONSTITUTION.

Number One.
A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION Proposing an amendment to section twenty-six of article five of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the following amendment to section twenty-six of article five of the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby proposed, in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:— That section 26 of Article V, which reads as follows: "Section 26. All laws relating to courts shall be general and of uniform operation, and the organization, jurisdiction, and powers of all courts of the same class or grade, so far as regulated by law, and the force and effect of the process and judgments of such courts, shall be uniform; and the General Assembly is hereby prohibited from creating other courts to exercise the powers vested in this Constitution in the Judges of the Courts of Common Pleas and Orphans' Courts," be amended so that the same shall read as follows:— Section 26. All laws relating to courts shall be general and of uniform operation, and the organization, jurisdiction, and powers of all courts of the same class or grade, so far as regulated by law, and the force and effect of the process and judgments of such courts, shall be uniform; but, notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in this Constitution, the General Assembly shall have full power to establish new courts, from time to time, as the same may be needed in any city or county, and to prescribe the powers and jurisdiction thereof, and to increase the number of judges in any courts now existing or hereafter created, or to reorganize the same, or to vest in other courts the jurisdiction theretofore exercised by courts not of record, and to abolish the same wherever it may be deemed necessary for the orderly and efficient administration of justice.

A true copy of Resolution No. 1.
ROBERT MCAFEE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Number Two.

A JOINT RESOLUTION Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, so as to eliminate the requirement of payment of taxes as a qualification for the right to vote. Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby proposed, in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:— That section one of article eight be amended, by striking out the fourth numbered paragraph thereof, so that the said section shall read as follows:— Section 1. Every male citizen twenty-one years of age, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at all elections, subject however to such laws requiring and regulating the registration of electors as the General Assembly may enact. First. He shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month. Second. He shall have resided in the State one year or if, having previously been a qualified elector or native-born citizen of the State, he shall have removed therefrom and returned, then six months, immediately preceding the election. Third. He shall have resided in the election district where he shall offer to vote at least two months immediately preceding the election. A true copy of Resolution No. 2.
ROBERT MCAFEE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Number Three.

A JOINT RESOLUTION Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, so as to consolidate the courts of common pleas of Allegheny County. Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby proposed, in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:— That section six of article five be amended, by striking out the second, third and fourth paragraphs thereof, and inserting in place thereof the following:— Section 6. In the county of Philadelphia all the judges and justices now invested in the district courts and courts of common pleas, subject to such changes as may be made by this Constitution or by law, shall be in Philadelphia vested in five distinct and separate courts of common pleas, to be designated as follows:— one, number one, number two, number three, number four, and number five, but the number of said courts may be by law increased, from time to time, and shall be like manner designated by successive numbers. The number of judges in any of said courts, or in any county where the establishment of an additional court may be authorized by law, may be increased, from time to time, and whenever such increase shall amount in the whole to three, such three judges shall compose a distinct and separate court as aforesaid, and the several courts shall be designated as aforesaid. In Philadelphia all suits shall be instituted in the said courts of common pleas without designating the number of the said court, and the several courts shall distribute and apportion the business among them in such manner as shall be provided by rules of court, and each court, to which any suit shall be thus assigned, shall have exclusive jurisdiction thereof, subject to change of venue, as shall be provided by law. In the county of Allegheny all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the several numbered courts of common pleas shall be vested in one court of common pleas, composed of all the judges in commission in said courts. Such jurisdiction and powers shall extend to all proceedings at law and in equity which shall have been instituted in the several numbered courts, and shall be subject to such changes as may be made by law, and subject to change of venue as provided by law. The president judge of said court shall be selected as provided by law. The number of judges in said court may be by law increased, from time to time. This amendment shall take effect on the first day of January succeeding its adoption. A true copy of Resolution No. 3.
ROBERT MCAFEE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Number Four.

A JOINT RESOLUTION Proposing an amendment to section eight, article nine, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania. Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:— Amendment to Article Nine, Section Eight. Section 2. Amended section eight, article nine, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:— "Section 8. The debt of any county,

LARSON BESTS RAPIDS

Daring Navigator Goes Through Whirlpool in 18-Foot Boat.

Only Once Was the Brave Sailor in Danger of His Life, When the Frail Craft Struck a Rock and Was Hurled 15 Feet into the Air—Boat at One Time Turned a Complete Somersault—Victor Will Receive $10,000 and a $5,000 Cup.

Klaus Larsen, aged 41 years, of Cleveland, Sunday afternoon won his dare with death, when after 40 minutes in the swirling waters of the Niagara whirlpool rapids, his 18-foot boat The Ferro, in which he made the trip, was caught upon an eddy a few hundred yards below the Devil's Hole and drifted to the American shore. Only the fact that his engine broke down prevented the daring navigator from completing the full course of the rapids and landing at Lewiston, seven miles below, where he started from the Canadian Maid of the Mist landing. But Larsen rode through the wildest four-mile stretch of water on the continent, the two miles below where his little craft was carried ashore being calm water in comparison to the treacherous passage through the rocky bed, going. Only once was Larsen in grave danger of losing his life, that once being when the frail craft struck a rock, was tossed 15 feet into the air and landed on its side. For 50 yards the conqueror of the Whirlpool rapids crested the mountain-high waves, the greater part of the distance his head and shoulders submerged. Two or three times the little launch was up-ended, often it was caught in the conflicting currents and spun around like a top, several times it came perilously near mountains of rock that poked through the swiftly running waters and once, just as it shot over a fall above the Devil's Hole, it turned a complete somersault. But at no time was Larsen afraid. Calmly he met every emergency. Once when stuck on the ledge of rock, he worked his rudder until the bow of the boat wiggled into a breaker in the back current and like a flash the little craft was carried from the boulder, shot high on the white-capped crest of a wave, tipped on its side and, with keel visible, caught in an offshore eddy that carried it back again to the middle of the river. Again, just as Larsen neared the Devil's Hole, he was caught in an eddy that carried him among a number of rocks, visible only when the waves washed back and bared their jagged edges. But Larsen dodged them and the boat shot into less turbulent water. A cheer from 10,000 greeted the conqueror of the rapids. It was not until the most dangerous water had been traversed that Larsen's engine broke down. Throughout his trip in the upper rapids he was in complete control of the craft, The Ferro answering every demand to its especially constructed rudder. Deftly, Larsen evaded the swirling waters of the Whirlpool, keeping well toward the Canadian shore and never was he in danger of being sucked into the maelstrom. Some of the smaller pools caught The Ferro and turned it like a top, but the current in these was not strong enough to overcome the power of the propeller. To this fact that the engine remained true until the most dangerous water had been traveled Captain Larsen owes his life. Hardly had he got below the Whirlpool than the thousands lining the banks saw that something was wrong. The boat was not keeping its course in the middle of the river, but was drifting helplessly, buffeted by every wave and carried hither and thither by every current. Finally an inshore eddy caught The Ferro and carried it to the American shore a few hundred feet below the Devil's Hole. As the boat drifted ashore hundreds rushed to the river's edge and a mighty cheer arose from the thousands on the bank.

TWO WOMEN TESTIFIED

Swear That Mrs. Crippen Told Them She Had Undergone Operation on Abdomen.

London, Sept. 20.—The inquest into the death of Mrs. Cora Crippen, otherwise known as Belle Elmore, the actress, was resumed before Coroner Schroder. Two women, Mrs. Eugene Stratton and the wife of Dr. Burrows, testified that Mrs. Crippen had told them that she had undergone an operation on the abdomen. Inspector Dew of Scotland Yard complained to the coroner of the attacks on him in regard to the way Dr. Crippen had succeeded in eluding the police and getting away from London. The coroner ruled that this matter was outside the scope of his inquiry. A feature of the proceedings was the evidence given by Mrs. Jackson, Miss Leneve's landlady. She described a scene in Miss Leneve's room when the latter in great agitation confessed that she realized her position in the relations with Dr. Crippen. She added, however: "Belle Elmore has threatened to go away with another man. That is what we are waiting for. Then Dr. Crippen will divorce her."

WELLKNOWN BROKER

SUED FOR SEPARATION

Wife Charges Cruel Treatment and Incompatibility of Temper.

Albany, Sept. 20.—The action for separation on the grounds of cruel treatment and incompatibility of temper of Mrs. Grace A. Waterman of this city against her husband, Theodore Waterman, who is wellknown throughout the country for his dealings in wheat, is before Supreme Court Justice Betts at Kingston. Mr. Waterman's answer charges that the wife was guilty of cruel and inhuman treatment. She found fault with him, he said, nagged him, refused to speak to him, pledged his credit with merchants with whom he had forbidden credit, refused to place him in communication with their children when he called them on the telephone, refused to have meals for him and also had appropriated a certificate of stock which belonged to him. It was stated that Mrs. Waterman taught the children to disrespect their father.

WORLD'S LARGEST CHEESE

Will Be Made From One Day's Milk of 2,100 Cows—To Weigh 4,000 Pounds.

Appleton, Wis., Sept. 20.—The largest single cheese ever made in the world will be constructed on a flat car at the John L. Jacquot cold storage plant in this city this week, for exhibition at the National Dairy show at the Coliseum in Chicago Oct. 20 to 29. The cheese will weigh 4,000 pounds. It will take from 50,000 to 50,000 pounds of milk to produce the curd. That will mean all the milk for one day from 2,100 of the best dairy cows in the county, and it will take the entire output from 250 dairies in the county for that day. From 400 to 500 men will be required to do the milking, but the entire cheese will be made in one day by N. Simon of Neenah, assisted by six of the most expert cheese makers in this county and six helpers, which will be valued at from $1,000 to $1,200.

Supposed Spies Released.

Moscow, Sept. 20.—Lieutenants Helme and Wenzel, the two Prussian army officers who were arrested on a charge of spying on the Russian army maneuvers, have been released.

KERN'S FRIENDS DISTURBED

State Senator Shively's County Refused to Indorse Kern For United States Senator.

Friends of John W. Kern, the Democratic nominee for United States senator from Indiana, are greatly disturbed over the refusal of St. Joseph county, the home of Senator Shively, to indorse Kern in the convention that Saturday selected candidates for the legislature. A resolution pledging the nominees to support Kern was voted down and it is charged that intimate friends of Shively led the opponents. Kern and Shively have not been on speaking terms since Kern charged that Shively's nomination by the Democratic legislature caucus two years ago was secured by the purchase of eight Democrats who were pledged to Kern. It is said that the men nominated for the legislature Saturday will support Beveridge in preference to Kern.

FOR A MODEL SERVANT

Her Employer Gives Her a House and Lot as Reward.

Because she had been a model servant, Kate Brown has received from her employer, Mrs. Julia De Windt Thompson, wife of Dr. Thompson of Ferris Lane, suburb of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., a gift of a new house, free and clear of all incumbrances, on a lot of ample size, next to the Thompson property. The deed conveying the property from Mrs. Thompson to Kate Brown was filed in the Dutchess county clerk's office. Mrs. Thompson sent for Benjamin Brevoort, a surveyor, some time ago, and had him measure off a generous strip of land from her estate. She built a substantial and attractive house on the lot, and when it was all done she surprised Kate by walking into the kitchen and giving her the deed. The Thompsons have a New York city home.

ASHES NEARLY SINK SHIP

Matter Sent Forth by Volcano Foot Deep on Deck.

The codfishing schooner Joseph, Rush arrived at Port Townsend, Wash., from Hering sea with reports of a narrow escape from destruction under ashes and debris thrown from the crater of Mt. Shishaldin, on Unimak Pass. On June 8 Shishaldin was emitting a cloud of ashes which, carried 30 miles by a gale, compelled the Rush's crew to go below. When the vessel passed the downpour the crew had to break through the hatches, which were buried under a foot of ashes and pumice. The schooner was sunk low on her water line, and if the vessel had not sailed out of the danger zone she would have sunk.

Farmers in Washington Trying an Experiment in Honesty.

A consumers' company has been organized by the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative union at Medical Lake, Wash. The union had bought a general store, fully stocked with groceries and provisions and farm implements, and supplied each of its 100 members with a key to the establishment, the doors of which are not open to the general public. There are no clerks, cashiers and storekeepers; no goods are displayed in the windows, neither are there any handbills and catchy advertisements to tempt the housewife. The store is an experiment to reduce the cost of living. Officers of the organization believe with Tolstoi that it is as natural for a normal man to be honest as it is for a babe to breathe, and it is proposed to demonstrate the truth of the theory by giving each member access to the stock of unguarded provisions.

Gaynor Writes Sister Describing Incidents of Shooting.

Had Received Numerous Threatening Letters Through the Mail—Says That the Hearst Newspapers Unjustly Denounced Him For Not Stopping the Reno Prizefight Pictures, When He Had No Means of So Doing—Cranks Clipped These Articles and Sent Them to Him.

New York, Sept. 20.—The Evening Post publishes a letter given out for publication at Utica by Miss Mary E. Gaynor, a sister of Mayor Gaynor. The letter is from the mayor to her and was written Sept. 2. In it the mayor says he was glad to get home; (meaning after he was discharged from the hospital) that he still finds difficulty to talk, but his voice is coming back a little every day. The letter proceeds: "I have not read any newspaper since I was hurt. It is my intention never to read a line of what has been published in the newspapers about the matter of me since I was hurt." The mayor then relates his own knowledge, as he says, of the attempt to assassinate him and tells of the sensations experienced when he was shot. He says he was choking with blood and thought he was dying of strangulation. Was Not Afraid to Die. He adds: "I was not a bit afraid to die, if that was God's will of me. I said to myself, just as well now as a few years from now. No one who contemplates the immensity of Almighty God, and of His universe and His works and realizes what an atom he is in it all, can fear to die in this flesh, yes, even though it were true that he is to be dissolved forever into the infinity of matter and mind, by which he came." Much of what the mayor relates of the shooting and subsequent events materially differs from what was published at the time. The letters continues in part as follows: "Though the thing had not entered my head that morning, I was not surprised when I realized that I was shot. I had a feeling for some weeks that I might be assaulted on account of the anonymous threats I was getting by mail. "The matter of the pictures of the Reno prizefight had come up. I had no way as mayor to stop the theaters from showing them. They had been shown for years without objection. But the Hearst papers kept on denouncing me for not stopping them. I suppose you know the way they had belted me ever since I became mayor. Finally, one day they printed in large type that an officer of the Christian Endeavor society named Lowande had called on me at the mayor's office and asked me on behalf of that society to stop the pictures and that I told him he was a fool and was sent by force. Story Was Made Up. "I had never said such a thing, as you may well know. It was made up. But it made no difference. These newspapers went on repeating the falsehood and even tried to get up a public meeting to denounce me. "Meanwhile, people of wicked or disordered minds, of whom there are a large number in New York city, would cut these articles out and send them to me with a buzz and threats written on the margin or else with anonymous letters threatening me. Some of them said I would be killed. Probably they cared nothing about the pictures, but the particular disorder of their minds was inflamed by reading how bad a man I was. "Finally they printed that terrible cartoon of me entitled 'The Barker.' I was dressed up as a ruffian and standing outside of a prizefight ring twirling a cane and barking for people to go in and see the sport. Two men slugging each other, one of them down and bleeding, were exposed in the ring. "That was the object these newspapers had in view, although they printed all the pictures of the fight in the most revolting form, as they had been doing for years with all such fights. Some Ministers Believed It. "Even some sensational ministers wrote to me as though they believed it. It was during this time that it first entered my head that I might be in danger, especially in walking over the bridge, although earlier in the year I had received a few similar threats while the same newspapers published that we were discharging small employes, but taking on an expensive one."

TRAMPS A PEST ON ERIE

Thousands Returning to New York After Their Summer Travels.

Middletown, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Tramps are causing the detectives and employes of the Erie railroad all kinds of trouble just now, and are terrorizing farmers residing near the railroad. Thousands of them, who have been roaming through the country during the summer months, seem to be making their way back to New York and New Jersey. Not only do they steal rides on trains and make life miserable for the railroad men, but they are plundering freight cars, robbing farm houses, and holding up travelers on the highways. A number of cars have been broken open on the New York and Delaware divisions of the Erie within the last week, and a considerable quantity of goods taken. Several persons have been held up near this city. Detectives have landed a dozen or more tramps in jail, but the trouble continues.

BIG WELCOME FOR FOWNES

Pittsburg Golfers Plan Great Reception to New Champion.

Pittsburg, Sept. 20.—Pittsburg golfers have prepared to extend a great greeting to William C. Fownes, Jr., the new champion of the United States, when he returns to Pittsburg a few days hence from Boston. The The Oakmont Country club, of which he is a member, announces that it has prepared a special reception for him at the clubhouse next Saturday night. It is told that during the play the Oakmont club held a telephone line from the clubhouse to Brookline, Mass., all the afternoon, and had the play of Fownes transmitted stroke by stroke. After Fownes had won he was called to the Brookline club and given the 'phone to listen to his friends in the Oakmont club, at Pittsburg, cheering him.

ON THE TRAIL OF A SERPENT

Inspector Trying to Find Out How a Snake Got Into a Mail Sack.

Butler, Pa., Sept. 20.—It became known that for three weeks the federal government has been on the trail of a snake. Postoffice Inspector George W. Craighead of Pittsburg has been assigned to the case upon complaint of Miss Winifred Turk, postmistress at Hilliards, that she found the reptile—three feet long—in a sack which was thrown off the train here. Both Miss Turk and her young woman assistant fled from the post-office at the discovery, but later the postmistress returned and pluckily killed the intruder. Railway postal clerks are being examined, but declare their innocence and say the reptile must have crawled into the bag while it lay on the station platform.

PITTSBURG IS TOO PROFANE

Holy Name Societies to Make Demonstration Against Swearing.

Pittsburg, Sept. 20.—The widespread prevalence of profanity in Pittsburg having become marked, at a mass meeting of the Holy Name societies of the Pittsburg diocese of the Roman Catholic church, it was decided to make a formal protest against the profanity habit. Bishop Canavin spoke on the importance of doing something effective to check profanity, especially in public places. This was followed by a resolution calling for a street parade on Sunday, Oct. 12, of the male members of the several parishes interested in the Holy Name society. It is estimated that 50,000 men will be in the procession, which will march in the principal streets of the city.

Pastor's Resignation Accepted.

Pottstown, Pa., Sept. 20.—At a congregational meeting of the First Presbyterian church the resignation of the Rev. W. J. Wilkinson, the pastor, called from Glasgow, Scotland, was accepted with regret. Except that he expected to remain abroad for an indefinite time, Mr. Wilkinson has not given any reason for his unexpected resignation.
