Republican Ticket.

- STATE: Governor, JOHN K. TENER; Lieutenant Governor, JOHN M. REYNOLDS; Secretary of Internal Affairs, HENRY HOUCK; State Treasurer, C. FRED WRIGHT; County: Congress, PETER M. SPEER; State Senate, J. K. P. HALL; Assembly, W. J. CAMPBELL.

It is noted that Exonps, N. Y., is again in eruption, but the question is, can Judge Parker come back?

THERE are in this state 2,173 rural mail routes, with an average each of 23 miles; 48,179 miles are covered daily and 880,000 people are served at a yearly cost of $1,657,602.

THERE is something about the movements of those persons who go after Teddy that suggests those of a woman in a hobble skirt. Their kicking is ineffective—Blizzard.

It is essential that you pay your State or County tax on or before October 8, if you desire to vote in November. No Republican should neglect this important matter. Do it now.

THE Honorable William Lorimer's resignation of his membership in the Hamilton Club of Chicago may have some pertinence; but it is not so completely and convincingly cogent as a resignation of his membership in the United States Senate.

SOME nervous editors are asserting that Roosevelt is building a way by which he can again enter active politics, losing sight of the fact that he will be almost forced to flee again to African Jungles to keep his myriads of friends from forcing him into politics of the most active sort—that of again becoming President of the United States.

AS USUAL, the political prohibitionists in Maine had a ticket in the field to help defeat the Republicans, who gave them the prohibition law there, thus making it possible for the Democrats to take the first steps toward undoing the work of the past—Franklin New. Alas, how oft has this been the case. Complete prohibition is not what the professional prohibitionist wants. It ruins his business.

THE coining of a 21 cent piece is strongly advocated by William H. Short, a New York banker, who declares that its use would mean a saving of $39,000,000 yearly to consumers. The half-cent enters into the price of many commodities that are sold by the pound, quart or yard and when the purchase does not result in even money the half-cent is added. This practice it is estimated adds at least $2.50 per year in an ordinary family to the price of articles for which no equivalent is rendered. Exact justice certainly demands such a provision.

A GOOD recommendation from a good source is this which comes from Hon. W. O. Smith of the Punxy Spirit: "Peter M. Spear, of Oil City, a clean cut citizen and an able lawyer, is Venango County's choice for Congress to fill the place on the ticket made vacant by the refusal of Joseph C. Sibley to be a candidate. We remember Mr. Spear as a colleague in the legislature, when he was a young man who did credit to the people who elected him. He has no doubt continued to develop the characteristics which then distinguished him, in which case he is all to the good."

CALEB POWERS, the famous Kentuckian who was imprisoned for eight years and tried four times on a trumped-up charge of complicity in the Goebel murder, was nominated for Congress last week in the eleventh district of Kentucky over D. C. Edwards the present incumbent. His majority was over 5,000 and Mr. Powers regards the splendid victory as in the nature of a vindication, which it certainly is. Thousands of northern people are pleased to know that his reward is coming, and here in Tionesta where he lectured about three years ago, there is genuine rejoicing over the result. His nomination is equivalent to election as the district is overwhelmingly Republican.

THE things that Theodore Roosevelt says are not so much calculated to injure business as to wound the vanity of a lot of money hogs who have no concern for the country or the race, says the Punxy Spirit. As, for instance, statements like this: "There is not in the world a more ignoble character than the mere money-getting American, insensible to every duty, regardless of every principle, bent only on amassing a fortune and putting his fortune only to the basest uses—whether these uses be to speculate in stocks and wreck railroads himself, or to allow his son to lead a life of foolish and expensive idleness and gross debauchery, or to purchase some scoundrel of high position, foreign or native, for his daughter."

Teddy Turns Down Berry Men.

Probably the most disappointing incident of the state campaign to the managers of the Keystone Party was the failure of Roosevelt to comply with their request and make some reference in his Pittsburgh speech to Pennsylvania political conditions that would aid the Berry candidacy for governor.

A special committee of Keystoneers was delegated to get in touch with the ex-president as soon as he arrived and urge him to directly or indirectly help their cause in his speech. The committee got a complete turn down.

They quickly learned that Roosevelt was not going to be a party in any way to help along the campaign of a Democrat for governor of the stalwart Republican Keystone State.

He was perfectly familiar with Berry's free silver and Bryanite record before the Keystone committee men broached the subject, and not only did they get absolutely no encouragement from Teddy, but he gave them a body blow when he did make his speech by lauding the record of the Republican party in this state.

Mayor William A. Magee, who is at the head of the Republican organization of Allegheny, and upon whom devolved the duty of making the speech of presentation to the great Pittsburgh audience, was, with other stalwart Republicans upon the platform, greatly elated over the utterances of Roosevelt upon that occasion.

In touching upon Pennsylvania conditions, the former president in part said: "And now, friends, in closing, I want to call your attention to the fact that there is not anything at all to be depressed about in present conditions in America. We have got lots of good to our credit."

"You have some admirable laws on the statute books here in Pennsylvania. Take the way that you care for your schools—your compulsory law—your appropriations for the schools—your appropriations for school books, so that every boy and girl in Pennsylvania can get an education. And now, you are administering that law so that their parents and nobody else can cheat them out of the education. You have on the statute books the eight-hour law as regards the employes of the government. You have laws prohibiting child labor and minimizing the number of hours and regulating the labor of women—laws that have not in the past been always executed as they should be, but which I think are steadily being better executed, from all that I can hear."

"You have made excellent forestry laws, excellent conservation laws, in connection with your forests and waters. It is a great sum of positive achievement of which you should be proud. But it is better not to be proud of it than to feel that, because you have done pretty well, you are therefore to be excused from doing anything more. Do not forget that you won't stand still. If you do not go forward you will slip backward. Now, so it is about America as a whole."

These words of recognition of the splendid administration of the affairs of the commonwealth under Republican officials were sincerely and earnestly spoken.

"There is no reason whatever why Mr. Berry should receive a single Republican vote in this campaign," says the Scranton Truth. "He was an eager seeker for the Democratic nomination and is now a candidate because he didn't get it. In the dispute between William J. Bryan and Colonel Guffey, when the Nebraska tried to eliminate the latter from Pennsylvania control, Perry sided with Bryan and showed himself an enthusiastic supporter of the Bryan brand of national Democratic politics, although it is now well known that he should have stood by Guffey in that contest."

"At no time has Mr. Berry manifested any friendship for Republican principles or policies in state or nation, and he is not, therefore, entitled to Republican support, however zealously he may masquerade as an 'independent.' He must not be permitted to sail under false colors. He is a Democratic bolter from the Allegheny convention and a candidate because he failed to secure the nomination of that convention for governor."

"Mr. Berry's presence in the field can have no other result than the election of John K. Tener by the largest majority ever received by a Republican candidate for governor of Pennsylvania."

Citizens of Pennsylvania with a knowledge of what has been done by the Republican party and with the pledges of John K. Tener, the Republican nominee for governor, that he will seek to follow the policies and the methods of Edwin S. Stuart, it is predicted, are going to show their confidence and faith in the Republican party and its standard bearer by voting up a great Republican majority at the election on Nov. 8.

Porkey.

The National Transit Co. are beautifying their station lot here by repairing their tanks, repainting, and cleaning up the yard. They removed all the old out of one tank and put on a new roof and turned the oil into it, then cleaned out the other one. There was a lot of sediment in the bottom mixed with oil sand that came in when the field was new. It was reported that a lot of cow bells had been thrown into the last tank cleaned out, at different times by people who took them off the cows when their sleep was disturbed by the constant ringing at night. Several people had spoken to Rupert for a while when the tank was emptied, but not one bell was found. Somebody lied.

COUNCILMAN OBJECTED

Refused to Vote For Resolution Declaring Citizens of Cincinnati "Honorable and Love" the President.

Cincinnati, Sept. 20.—Councilman Reynolds refused at the meeting of the council to vote for a resolution extending a formal welcome and freedom of the city to President Taft on the occasion of his visit to Cincinnati today.

The cause of Reynolds' objection was a clause in the resolution stating that the citizens of Cincinnati "honor and love" the president.

"While I honor President Taft and welcome him as president, I do not love him and refuse to be a hypocrite and say I do," said Reynolds.

The resolution was passed despite his protest.

In order to prevent any misuse of my name in this connection I feel that I should deny this statement. I do not know Mr. Dupre and have not bought or ordered built a monoplane or any other type of flying machine."

SCARED BY WILD WOMAN

Beautiful Tyrolean a Fugitive in the Mountains.

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 20.—Tourists in automobiles and carriages have had several scares near Minersville when they were held up and scolded by a beautiful Tyrolean woman, who has been a fugitive on the mountains for several days. At times the woman became so angry with occupants of the vehicles that she tore off some of her clothing.

It is said the woman's mind was turned when her husband was run down and seriously injured by an automobile. The authorities are after her and will send her to the Harrisburg Insane Asylum.

"BACK to the farm" is the cry one hears as men grow tired of the rush and bustle trying to make both ends meet. What with high rents, gas, water, insurance and high taxes, eating canned goods, breathing rancid air, getting to bed at midnight because he cannot retire earlier, and then lying awake thinking how in the world he is going to make one dollar go as far as two, attending committee meetings, lodges and a score or more other "calls" he is drafted for during the course of a month, all these and more, are racking the nerves of town and city dwellers until they long for a life more quiet. It isn't work they want to shirk, but it is the pure air, free water and real vegetables fresh out of the garden they want. A good living is what comparatively few men succeed in making in village or city life, and yet nothing is more easy of accomplishment on the farm, so thinks the man who is not on the farm. Besides, there is a pleasure in cultivating and embellishing the earth, improving and increasing its products, and thus adding to human happiness.

—Bishop Neely, addressing a class of young preachers at the Erie Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, at Franklin, gave a list of "don'ts," which included the following: Don't preach partisan politics, for every man has the right to vote any ticket he pleases. Don't preach against amusements, for the churches are that you will only arouse people's curiosity and lead them to investigate. Don't become intemperate in preaching temperance. Intemperance is not alone overindulgence in liquor. Don't make long calls, for they are dangerous and may lead the neighbors to talk.
