GIRL FOUND SLAIN

Murderer Smoked a Cigarette After

He Had Committed the Deed, Savannah, Ga., Oct. 4. - With her skull crushed and several gashes on her head and face, Miss Catherine Burke of Wilmington, Del., and once a resident of Philadelphia, was found dead in the dining room of a closed house early yesterday.

The discovery of the girl's body followed a search of the premises by the police. The police are now hunting for Thomas Lewis, the last person known to have seen the young woman alive.

The girl was known to have been infatuated with Mr. Lewis, whom she attempted to kill with a revolver several weeks ago on account of jealousy. The murderer, after the deed, smoked a cigarette, the stump of which was found by the girl's side, before making his escape.

Although the Driver of Car 12 Is Lia ble to Die, Both His Legs Being Broken, He Requested the Doctors Not to Remove His Right Leg. Louis Chevrolet, Driver of Marquette-Buick Car, Still Suffering From Shock and Nervousness.

Of the more than twenty who were injured in Saturday's Vanderbilt cup race, three of those who were taken to the Nassay County hospital were said to be still in danger. Pive were able to leave the hospital.

Mrs. Ferdinand D'Zubia, whose husband was killed when the car he was driving containing his wife and four other men got beyond his control near Old Westbury and plunged in the darkness to the bottom, where it turned over, is one of those at the hospital who is still in extreme danger. Both her legs are broken. Thomas Summers and Edward Brown were in the car with the D'Zubia's and were hurt Their condition is not serious. They are still in the hospital.

Harold A. Stone, the driver of the car 12, is the second of those liable to die. His car lumned the Meadowbrook bridge killing the mechanician Mathew Bacon and throwing Stone clear. Both his legs were broken. It was first thought that his right leg would have to be amputated but it was not done at his own request, Theodore Gramucci, a chauffeur for Wilfred Taupier, of 542 West 112th street has slim chances to live. The car in which he was, was driven into a telegraph pole near the Garden City hotel and Grammucci received internal injuries. Four others in the machine at the time were also hurt. Of the four, Cornell Reid of 876 West End avenue was the only one who could not be moved from the hospital. His leg is broken, but his condition is not serious.

Louis Chevrolet, the driver of the Marquette-Buick car No. 29, is still at the hospital suffering from shock and ervousness more than anything else. # SEARCHING THE RUINS

Number of Dead Still Buried In the Wrecked Times Building,

Twenty-one persons, it is now known, lost their lives in the explosion and fire which destroyed the plant of the Los Angeles Times on Satur-day. Only five of the nineteen bodies buried in the ruins have been recovered when night fell, although scores of men worked all day removing the debris, while the police spent a hard day seeking clews to the perpe trators of the outrage.

One more arrest was made, but little real progress seems to have been made. The latest suspect, the third taken into custody, is Martin Egan, and he is an alleged Anarchis. The police declined to say on what cound they arrested him.

Eighteen thousand five hundred dollars reward is now offered for the arrest of the persons who blew up the Times plant. The city council raised the city's reward from $5,000 to $10,000. In addition to this the union labor leaders have offered $7,500 and the other newspapers $1,000.

Patrolman Breaks In Door and Finds Both Dead In Bed.

New York, Oct. 4. - With her arms tightly clasped around the form of her six-year-old son, Mrs. Mary Yaeger, 32 years old, was found dead in bed in her rooms at 238 East 89th street yesterday afternoon, a victim, with the little boy, of asphyxiation. She had turned on the gas, it is thought, and then lay down with her boy as her companion to await the death which, according to friends, she had sought twice within the last week.

A young woman living in the building smelled gas in the hallway. She traced the odor to the rooms occupled by Mrs. Yaeger. When no one answered her repeated knocks at the door she called in a patrolman, who broke in. Dr. Patten of the Presbyterian hospital said that the mother and child had been dead for several hours. Mrs. Yaeger had been suffering from pervousness for some time, and about a year and a half ago separated from her husband.
