—Misses Mildred Cronch and Caribel Kable left Friday afternoon for Philadelphia, where they are students of the School of Design for Women. Miss Kable, who had her arm badly broken in a runaway accident while visiting her grandmother in Forest county last July, has partially recovered its use.—Oil City Derrick.
 —The September issue of "Trust Companies," one of the leading financial magazines of the country, contains an elaborate and very interesting article on the Giro system of transferring credits by H. R. Merritt, secretary-treasurer of the Oil City Trust company. It is in very general use throughout Germany and was recently adopted by the Oil City bank. The system as introduced by the Oil City bank is somewhat modified, to fit American conditions, and saves considerable time and money to its customers. It has so far proved very successful.
 —Perhaps no present-day movement among the Protestant Evangelical Churches has created a wider attention and interest than the one characterized by the initials, O. A. B. C., which stands for Organized Adult Bible Class. The movement is connected with the Sunday Schools of the country and is endorsed by all denominations. A rally of the representatives of these classes will be held Friday, October 14th, at Altoona, in connection with the Annual Convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, October 12, 13, 14.
 —W. F. Burkett, of Centre county, ten years ago set a four-acre stony patch with peach trees at a total cost of $75. Twelve hundred bushels was the yield this year, and Mr. Burkett is handing the fruit out as fast as he can pick it at $1.50 a bushel. The orchard presents a beautiful sight, with the trees so loaded with fine rosy peaches that the branches have to be propped up. Here's a hint for some of our agriculturists. There is never a time that peaches do not bring at least $1.50 a bushel, and often the better qualities bring nearly double that figure.
 —The Kane oil company of which H. C. Zeller is the head, brought in their second good well last week on their lease just below Dawson station. The well is on Haslet island and was drilled through a good pay streak in the second sand at about 198 feet. The hole filled with oil to within a few feet of the top. The well was not shot, but since being tined has been flowing off about three times a day as it is opened, making a production of nearly ten barrels. The company's first well, on Dawson island, is being troubled by a strong flow of salt water.
 —In the Oil City Derrick's monthly report showing the operations during September in the oil fields east of the Mississippi, except the Mid-Continent, the figures show a decrease of 42 wells completed and of 1,694 barrels in new production as compared with the results for August. The same fields show an increase of 14 in new work at the close of September over the total at the close of August. Fields producing Pennsylvania oil show a decrease of 23 in the number of wells completed, 473, but an increase of 740 barrels in new production, the total being 4,042 barrels a day. Of dry holes and gas wells there are 27 less for September than for August.
 —The latest telephone invention is one of the meanest and most ungalant contrivances that we have ever heard of. It is called the telephonometer, and is nothing more nor less than a meter attached to the telephone which registers the amount of electricity consumed by the subscriber. It is intended to make the telephone user pay for current in the same way that he pays for light current. We say "he," but we really think of the pronoun of the third person and feminine gender. What will "she" say when she has her first bill to pay? She may say a great deal then, but then again she is likely to say a great deal less thereafter—at least over the 'phone. The telephonometer is a plain suppression of the feminine right of free and unlimited speech.—Erie Dispatch.
 —Mrs. Rebecca Reed, relict of the late Joseph Reed, died at her home at Kinsman, Ohio, on the 28th ult., of infirmities incident to old age, having nearly reached the 80th year of life. The deceased will be remembered by the older class of residents in this section, she having resided at Beaver Valley, Hickory township, where her husband was engaged in lumbering, and afterwards at Buck Mills, on Tionesta creek, where Mr. Reed conducted the Hall & May lumbering operations for a number of years. It is almost 40 years since the family moved to Kinsman. Besides a son and six daughters, she is survived by four sisters: Mrs. J. H. Smith of Luckingville; Mrs. S. M. Whitehill and Mrs. William Wilkinson, of Marienville, and Mrs. Charles Creed, of Dancoombe, Iowa.
 —George A. Morrison, a brother of County Superintendent D. W. Morrison of this place, died at his home at Antia, Jefferson county, Thursday morning, Sept. 27, 1910, from the effects of a paralytic stroke sustained two weeks prior, although for two years past he had not been in good health. He lacked but a few days of being 60 years of age, and had spent the most of his life as a teacher in the public schools of Jefferson county, and for 28 years had held the office of justice of the peace in McCalmont township. He is survived by his wife and six children; also five brothers and two sisters. He was prominent in the affairs of his community and sustained a good reputation as an upright citizen and a kind and helpful neighbor. Supt. Morrison attended the funeral of his brother, which was held on Sunday last in Mt. Taber U. B. church, of which the deceased had been a member from his youth.
 —David Burton Zuck, of Tionesta township, aged 21 years, died at ten o'clock Tuesday morning, October 4th, in the Warren Emergency Hospital. The young man had been employed in the lumber woods near Mayburg, this county, and a month ago contracted typhoid fever and was removed to the hospital. He was the son of David and Sarah Zuck, and was born and reared to manhood in Tionesta township, where he was esteemed as an honest and industrious young man. He is survived by his good friends back at home. They also asked to be remembered to all inquiring friends. Mr. Campbell enjoyed his busy trip immensely, especially the meeting with former Forest countians, and he will devote his time exclusively, from now till election day, to his canvass for the legislature, and of his election by an old fashioned majority there isn't a question or doubt.

 —Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Dunn, of Tionesta, and Mrs. W. C. Bazis, of Chautauque, who have been the guests of their daughters at the home of Miss Messner, East street, have returned to their homes.—Warren Times, Monday.
 —Roe Reisinger, Esq., of Franklin, came up Saturday to help open the woodcock season with a number of his sporting cronies. Although the little long-bills weren't plentiful, he didn't go home with entirely empty game pockets.

 —W. J. Campbell returned Tuesday evening of last week from a brief business visit to the Pacific coast states, having left here on the 10th of September. Mr. Campbell is interested with others in the manufacture of shingles, their plant being located at Sultan, Wash. At this place he met Archie Cropp, Henry Brady, Marion Squire and Jay Buzard, all former Forest county citizens, who were enjoying good health and contentment in their new home. A few days were spent at Seattle, where Mr. Campbell was royally entertained at the homes of Hon. John H. Robertson and Glenn V. Armstrong, who had many inquiries to make concerning old friends in Tionesta, to all of whom they sent kindest remembrances. These good people are nicely located in the bustling city of Seattle, and their happiness would be complete if they had a few more of their old friends in the east with them. A short stop was made at Portland, Oregon, on the return trip, where Mr. Campbell found Leonard Agnew nicely ensconced as landlord of the Princess Hotel, one of the leading hostleries of the city, and doing as much business as he cared to. Mr. Agnew and family were all enjoying good health and seemed happy and contented, but like all who have "gone west," they miss their good friends back at home. They also asked to be remembered to all inquiring friends. Mr. Campbell enjoyed his busy trip immensely, especially the meeting with former Forest countians, and he will devote his time exclusively, from now till election day, to his canvass for the legislature, and of his election by an old fashioned majority there isn't a question or doubt.

SERIOUS FIRE NEAR GILFOYLE.
 Large Farm Barn of Joseph Gregory, With all Contents and Fourteen Head of Cattle Consumed.
 Monday, about the hour of midnight, Joseph Gregory, whose farm is located about a mile from Gilfoyle, Jenks township, was awakened to find that his large farm barn was on fire. The family was quickly aroused and rushed to the scene, but so greatly had the flames progressed that they only succeeded in rescuing a span of mules and one heifer, the other livestock, consisting of fourteen head of cattle—milk cows and young stock—were consumed. Likewise the summer's crops, comprising 300 bushels of oats, 60 bushels of buckwheat, several bushels of wheat, 20 tons of hay, and a large quantity of straw; set of double harness, lanning mill and threshing machine, besides many smaller farm implements.
 The loss entailed will total fully $2,000, on which there was an insurance of $1,200 in the Farmers' Mutual company. Mr. Gregory has no idea whatever as to the origin of the fire, as there had been no fire about the barn in the evening, and when discovered the bulk of the flames seemed to be in the upper portion of the structure. Spontaneous combustion would seem to be the most plausible theory, and that is somewhat remote as the hay had been garnered several weeks ago.
 Mr. Gregory is one of the industrious and hard working farmers of his section, and this loss falls heavily upon him just at the threshold of winter. He has but the mules and heifer which he rescued, and fortunately about four acres of corn in the shock with which to winter them.
Cropp Hill Grange Hall Burned.
 The Grange Hall on Cropp Hill, Green township, four miles northeast of Tionesta, was completely destroyed by a fire which broke out about eight o'clock on Tuesday night of this week. The origin of the fire is a mystery, as no one is known to have been about the building during the day. When discovered by the family of D. J. Cropp, whose house stands near the place, the whole north end of the building was in flames and nothing could be done to save it. The hall was a two-story building, 24x40 feet, and was owned jointly by Forest Grange, No. 853, and William Cropp. The top floor was used as the Grange Hall and the lower floor was made into a store room. Mr. Cropp had buggies and farm machinery stored on the lower floor, all of which were gotten out and saved. The wind blowing away from the house and barn of Mr. Cropp no doubt saved those buildings from being devoured by the fiery elements. A granary nearby caught fire and was badly damaged, but was saved. The loss on the hall property is placed at about $900, on which there was an insurance of $450. The Grange also lost $100 worth of furniture. It is not known whether the hall will be rebuilt, but the Grange is in a flourishing condition with 44 members and will probably want a meeting place. The reflection of the fire could be plainly seen here.

Jury Could Not Agree.
 The noted timber land case of T. D. Collins et al vs. L. S. Clough et al, mentioned at length in these columns last week, ended in a failure of the jury to agree on a verdict after deliberating for nearly three days and two nights. At 7:30 p. m. Monday, after having received additional instructions from Judge Reed, of Brookville, before whom the cause was tried, the jury reported that it was impossible to reach an agreement and the court discharged them. The case was begun on Tuesday morning of last week and the entire time until Saturday evening was taken up in its trial. The question rested upon the location of certain warrant lines and the consequent ownership to about 450 acres of timber land in Howe township, valued at upward of $100,000. In the first trial the verdict was for the defendant, but the Supreme court set it aside and ordered a new trial, which was the one just finished.
 The jury fees alone in this case amounted to about $350.00.
Annual County Home Dinner.
 The annual dinner for the inmates of the County Home, given by the Tionesta W. C. T. U., on Friday, Sept. 30, was attended with the usual interest and success. The visitors were most cordially welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Hill, and were given the freedom of the Home. A splendid dinner was served in the large dining room, to which about sixty persons did ample justice. Following the dinner, Rev. Calhoun, of Tionesta, conducted a gospel service. He delivered an eloquent address which was aimed to be of special help to the people in the Home, but which was thoroughly enjoyed by all who had the privilege of listening to it. The County W. C. T. U. recently presented the Home with appropriate singing books, and these aided greatly in the musical part of the service. The hearty co-operation of those in charge, the appreciation of the Home family, and the beautiful autumn day, together made it a time long to be remembered. The members of the Union departed for their homes feeling they had not only given pleasure, but had received a full measure as well.
One by One They Cross the River.
 Mrs. Nancy Springer, wife of John Springer, who made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Beatty, of Endeavor, died at that place Sept. 27, 1910, in her seventy-fourth year. The deceased was taken ill about six weeks ago, her ailment being dropsy. At times she suffered intensely and all that could be done for her recovery was of no avail. She had been a member of the Methodist church for many years. During her long life she had a firm trust in Jesus. Her last testimony was: "Oh, welcome death. I have no fear, for I am going home." Rev. J. F. Scherer, of Endeavor, conducted the funeral services, speaking words of encouragement to the children, who went over a mother who for many years had been dwelling under the smiles of heaven, a mother who had built for herself a dwelling in the world of promise from that sacred volume of which she had been for so many years standing. Mr. Scherer spoke of the aspects of earthly things being subject to the vicissitudes of time; that the dearest friends and halcyon and happiest love will in the course of years be changed, and all earthly things must fade and die. And since God in His mercy has thought best to call the wife and mother from home, she can rest assured that she now can sing around the throne through everlasting day.
