For a Sane Halloween.
 Burgess J. D. W. Reck desires that a meeting of the citizens of Tionesta be held next Monday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Borough Council Chamber, for the purpose of arranging for a proper celebration of the approaching Halloween.
 Surrounding towns are preparing to celebrate the occasion on a more or less extensive scale, and while our town may not wish to go to the trouble of making very extensive arrangements in that direction, a little systematic effort will go far toward providing a lot of fun and amusement for everybody, old and young, at the same time guaranteeing safety and decency to all who care to join in the innocent revelry.
 So let there be a large turnout of all who care to join in the merry-making or who wish to merely witness it. Remember the date.

—J. B. Harmon, of near Lickingville, and a very early settler in that part of Clarion county, Pa., died on the 6th inst., from the infirmities of old age, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Young, at Alton, Pa., aged about 85 years. The funeral services were held at the Evangelical church and the interment took place at the Dehner cemetery, near his late home, on the 8th. He is survived by five sons, John, Fred, Edward, Daniel and Joseph, and three daughters, Mrs.
 John Young, of Alton, Pa., Mrs. S. W.
 Coleman, of Clarksburg, West Virginia, and Mrs. James Stover, of Johnstown, Pa.

—Myrl Kifer, aged 11 years, died at Mayburg on Sunday evening of diphtheria, and was buried in the cemetery at Whig Hill on Monday. This is the case reported in the REPUBLICAN last week, on account of which the schools at Mayburg were closed. Another case has developed in the family of John Fitzgerald, his son, Carl, being the victim, but the lad is not expected to develop a serious attack, and the home has been quarantined. In fact all the children in the village are quarantined, not being permitted to leave their homes while there are any cases in the town. A wise precaution.

—At Washington, D. C., Friday Henry Oliver Brown, a native of Warren county, Pa., was married to Eugenie Adams, a German girl who had advertised for a husband. Mrs. Brown, who is 34 years of age, had been left a considerable fortune by her uncle provided she would be married this week. She advertised for a husband, offering $200 bonus and a separation at the altar to the acceptable man and after looking over 100 applicants, chose Brown, whose chief attraction seems to have been a sweeping brown mustache, a record of five years service in the United States artillery and immediate need of the money.

—This is the greatest potato year on record in Pennsylvania, according to officials of the State Department of Agriculture. Never before has the yield of this necessary tuber approached the excellent crop of this year. The best yield reported is on the farm of Warren Fertz, of Brimminster, Bucks county, where 700 bushels of potatoes were taken from a patch of two and one-half acres. Noting like this has ever before been reported from a Pennsylvania farm. The potato crop, generally speaking, is better in western Pennsylvania than it is east of the Alleghenies. The corn crop throughout the state is also good.

—The men engaged in taking up the title supply line of the water company, which is being replaced by six-inch iron pipe they encountered a curiosity which baffles explanation. About half a mile below the intake at Tubbs run, when a joint of 4-inch iron pipe was taken up, imagine the men's surprise when a brook trout, fully nine inches in length, popped out, dopping vigorously to get back into his native haath. As the intake at the dam is double screened with wire the meshes of which are no larger than half inch, the question is, how did the trout get into the pipe? The only reasonable solution that presents itself is that the speckled fellow got through when he was yet a little cuss, and grew to "legal size" while confined in this narrow space.

—Next to a man's family and business nothing should stand nearer to a man's heart than the community in which he lives, says an exchange. It is home. It is the place in which he earns his competence and educates his children. If he wants to make it as popular, as thrifty and widely known as possible, he cannot afford to be indifferent to anything that will further these ends. It can be said that a town which is not worthy of the devotion of its citizens in making it widely and generally prosperous is the town in which it is not worth while to live at all. If a town is anything, it is worthy of our greatest energy, whether we receive an immediate dividend in dollars and cents or whether we merely take our share of the common benefit accorded our home town.

Whig Hill.
 Rev. F. M. Fox, the Free Methodist minister on this charge, delivered his first sermon here on Sunday, the 10th.
 Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hunter are the proud parents of a baby daughter, which arrived on Friday last. Miss R. Wolfe, of Kellettville, is the nurse in charge of Mrs. Hunter and babe.
 A number of our boys are enjoying a hunting trip and camping out on Chestnut Ridge for a few days. The boys without a doubt will cause game to be scarce in those parts for some time to come.
 Claude Terrill and Lloyd Price were Mayburg visitors over Saturday night.
 A couple of middle aged people living not far distant, on their way to Kellett-ville to market on Saturday last, seemed to realize the fact, ere going far, that some of their wares were not in fair condition to bring a good market price, therefore disposed of same along the highway near the Kribbs farm. When discovered by some urchins soon after it proved to be only a poor half starved kilten. The unfortunate feline was still alive at last accounts and being well cared for.
 Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Raiston, of Fleming Hill, were on the hill on Sunday last.
 Cornhuskings are still in vogue in this locality, the first of the season at Chas.
 Kifer's this Saturday evening.
 Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Albaugh, of East Hickory, are visiting with Mr. A's daughter, Mrs. S. Galbreath, at the home of Mr. Albaugh will try his hand with the boys at game while here.

 hill is progressing well toward recovery

Game Buyer Forced to Settle.
 W. P. Harper, the man who bought grouse and woodcock, killed out of season in this section last fall, yesterday agreed to the payment of a fine of $500 and the costs of the whole proceedings from the time that it started in the court of Alderman Robert A. Kerr. This information comes as a genuine surprise to that large majority who had supposed the case ended and that Harper had gone free. When Judge Prather discharged the case against Harper on a technicality of the indictment, another warrant was immediately issued for the man. This was kept a secret. But before it could be placed in the hands of Pittsburg officers for service Harper skipped the state and went to the fastnesses of Kentucky to reside. He returned to Pittsburg a few days since and with the assistance of his former employers, he effected a settlement. It will be recalled that Harper was arrested at the Pennsylvania Railroad station in this city a year ago this morning, charges of buying grouse unlawfully were placed against him and he was given a hearing before Alderman Robert A. Kerr. There was nothing for the alderman to do except to enforce the law and he assessed the fines amounting in the aggregate to $900. Upon a writ of certiorari the attorneys for the defendants carried the case before Judge Thomas J. Prather for an argument. They succeeded in convincing the court that the indictment was incorrectly drawn and the case was dismissed. It was then that the new warrant was issued and finally, almost upon the anniversary of his arrest, Harper and his employers have been forced to show down and compelled to settle. It is declared that the costs of fighting the case have been considerably more than the original fine, so that the punishment has been what the law considers adequate.
 Local hunters, who abide by the law, will be pleased to note that there is a chance for the punishment of offenders against the law.—Titusville Herald, 15th.

Adler-Rochester Clothes.
 Hand Tailoring in a coat means that it will hold its shape until worn out, hand tailoring means that buttons won't come off, seams rip and the dozens and one objectionable features of the ordinary ready-to-wear clothing.
 And while hand work is more expensive than machine made ready-to-wear clothes, the difference is small when done the Adler-Rochester way and the clothes more than repay the difference in price.
 Adler-Rochester Clothes are not expensive when quality is considered.
 $18 to $30 for Suit or Overcoat is not expensive when you get your money's worth, and we guarantee to give that or your money back.
 The Adlers, of Rochester, N. Y., have been making good clothes for forty years and never made anything but the very best.
 In the Adler-Rochester Suit or Overcoat you get exactly what you pay the good tailor for—hand tailoring.

Stetson Hats.
 Range that Hats should be so near together in looks, and so far apart in quality. You'll think of this when comparing our Hats with others at
