ACCUSED OF MURDER

Olean Woman Held for the Killing of Her Sister.

Victim's Body Was Found to Be in a Terribly Mutilated Condition. Brother States That There Was Considerable Ill-Feeling Between the Sisters—Accused Woman Indifferent to Frightful Description of Sister's Injuries.

Mary O'Connor, aged 65 years, of Olean, N. Y., who was found in a terribly mutilated condition by her sister, Mrs. Margaret Dean, on the evening of November 10th, died at the Olean General hospital Saturday morning, at 8:45. The autopsy revealed a much worse condition than was first thought. Two ribs were broken, six teeth knocked out, and her body from the waist up was one mass of bruises.

District Attorney George W. Cole and Chief of Police Thorne gave Mrs. Dean a searching examination but learned no new facts concerning the crime. Mrs. Dean, who is a sister of the dead woman, still holds firmly to her first story, that she was not home at the time of the crime.

Martin O'Connor, a brother of Mrs. Dean and Mrs. O'Connor, is authority for the statement that there was a quarrel at the house where the deed was committed, on Thursday afternoon, between him and his sister, Mrs. Dean when he requested that a third sister, Caroline O'Connor, who is a cripple, be brought from his home to live with the sisters at Olean.

During the quarrel, Mrs. Dean told Martin that he must take "that thing away ton," referring to her sister, Mary. Some months ago an action for an accounting was brought by Mrs. Dean against her brother, Martin O'Connor.

After two days of investigation by Chief of Police Thorne and District Attorney Cole, it was decided to have a warrant issued charging Mrs. Dean with murder in the first degree. Patrolman Allen read the warrant to Mrs. Dean in her cell and she said: "Is my sister dead?" She was brought before Justice Shaffer and asked for counsel. She sent for Attorney Allen J. Hastings.

Mrs. Dean was held for the grand jury by Police Justice Shaffer charged with the murder of her sister, Mary O'Connor. She remained indifferent to the terrible descriptions of the doctor and police officers and continually aided her counsel during the cross examination of witnesses.

BLACK HAND MURDER

Prosperous Italian Shot Down in Streets of Middletown.

Dominick Morone, a prosperous shoemaker in the Italian colony in Middletown, N. Y., was murdered in the streets of that city Sunday night by two strangers, who are believed to have been emissaries of the New York Black Hand organization.

Morone, who was 40 years old, has been in this country 15 years. He resided in New York for years, but several months ago left that city and went to the little country village of Chester.

It was stated by his fellow countrymen here that he left New York because he feared vengeance of some organization. After spending some time in Chester Morone removed to this city.

Sunday afternoon two strangers made their appearance in the Italian section and inquired where Morone resided. They were told and they went to a spot near Morone's home in School street. After the men had watched Morone's house for hours, he appeared and locking his door walked up the street. The two strangers followed him.

At the corner of School and Cottage streets, where a score of persons were passing, one of the strangers called to Morone. He turned around and as he did so the men pulled revolver and commenced firing.

Morone turned and ran up the street for 50 feet and then fell on the sidewalk dead. A bullet had passed through his heart and another through his abdomen.

The murderers ran in the opposite direction and no traces of them were found by the police, though it is believed they made their way back to New York by way of a freight train, which was passing near the scene.

NEGRO IS SUSPECTED

Known to Have Been in Vicinity Where Girl Was Murdered.

Little Marie Smith's Body Was Brought to Police Headquarters in a Closed Wagon and Laid Out in the Chief's Private Office, and When Suspect Was Brought In and Showed Corps He Broke Down, but Declared He Was Innocent of Any Wrongdoing.

Asbury, Park, N. J., Nov. 15.—Thom as Williams, alias Black Diamond, the negro arrested on suspicion of having murdered 10-year-old Marie Smith, the Asbury Park schoolgirl, made a statement to the police, which has been partly disproved.

In this statement he undertook to establish an alibi accounting in detail for his movements last Wednesday night, when the crime is believed to have been committed.

It was shown from investigation that Black Diamond was in the immediate vicinity of the wood at about the time Marie was trudging home from school Wednesday morning.

Williams was committed by Police Justice John A. Horde without bail. No date has been set for coroner's inquest.

At 5 o'clock last evening, the body of the murdered girl was brought to police headquarters in a covered wagon and laid out in Chief of Police Smith's private office. Williams was brought from his cell and taken to the room where his eyes fell upon the victim.

The negro broke down and declared before God that he had never harmed her.

Last night there was a big crowd about the jail in which Williams is confined. The guard has been doubled and a special cordon of officers remained on duty all night.

GIRL AS CAPITAL PRIZE

Wants to Sell 10,000 Tickets at $1 a Ticket.

Miss Livingston, of Tacoma, Wash., aged 20 years, who is recently from Petoski, Mich., and born in Virginia, offered herself as a capital prize in a lottery which she requests one of the local newspapers or some society to conduct. She says the law does not prevent lottery prizes offering themselves.

Getting her ideas from the play "The Lottery Man," Miss Livingston proposes to sell 10,000 tickets at a dollar each. The man getting the lucky number will be entitled to her and half the money.

If the winner be unwilling to marry her, he forfeits his half; if she be unwilling to marry him, she forfeits her half. If both are unwilling, they divide the money. She wants foreigners barred.

Should a married man win, she will be released from marrying the winner. The girl declares she is in earnest, her motive being "I need the money."

Her relatives are dead. Since leaving high school she has been employed as a bookkeeper. The girl has black hair, blue eyes, rosy cheeks and a trim figure.

HOSPITAL NOT OPENED

All Efforts to Obtain Water Supply Are Unavailing.

The opening of the county tuberculosis hospital at East Bloomfield, N. Y., again has been postponed indefinitely on account of the failure to locate a water supply.

A well-digger from Naples, after several days of futile effort threw up the job in disgust, and Pennsylvania well-diggers then were called in. A depth of 125 feet has been reached without results. If a depth of 225 feet is reached without result, the work will be abandoned. If water cannot be secured by digging, it will be necessary to pipe water from a spring over half a mile away. A right of way for a pipe line has been secured.

ROMEO AND JULIET

They Ask Forgiveness and All Is Happiness and Peace.

As a sequel to the elopement of Joseph Justino with Miss Jessie DeSain, a comely maid of seventeen summers, last June, the couple returned to Lyons, N. Y., to ask parental forgiveness, having been away nearly six months.

Miss DeSain was the belle of the Italian colony on Madison and Ashler streets. Her father was a prosperous Italian and did not look with favor upon the courtship of Justino. One dark night in June, Justino got a ladder and put it up to the bedroom window of his lady love. She came skipping down to meet him and away the pair went to Pennsylvania where they remained until Saturday.

MR. AND MRS. CHRISTY

Efforts to Effect Reconciliation Between Couple Have Failed.

Artist Says Efforts For Reconciliation Have Gone For Naught.

Zanesville, O., Nov. 15.—In spite of the hopes of relatives that a settlement could be effected between the two people, there is to be no reconciliation between Howard Chandler Christy, artist and illustrator, and his wife, Mrs. Maybelle Christy. Mr. Christy was seen at his home at Duncan Falls, near Zanesville, and asked when his wife was coming back home to live.

"As far as I know, and from the present indications, she will never return to Duncan Falls," said the artist.

"I will not join her in New York, nor will our daughter, Natalie. Mrs. Christy has made no arrangements at all for coming to Duncan Falls, and I am making no arrangements whatever for going away. My work is so heavy that I have to stay here if it is to be done."

"I do not know if she will be here for Thanksgiving or Christmas. She has written nothing about it. Like so many things undertaken with the best of intentions and with the sincerest of motives, those arrangements have gone for nothing."

ATTORNEYS CONFER

Will Decide Date For Preliminary Hearing in Schenck Poisoning Case.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 15.—At a conference of attorneys for the state and the defense to be held today the time of the preliminary hearing of Mrs. Farnsworth Schenck, charged with the attempted poisoning of her husband, John O. Schenck, the millionaire packer, will be decided upon.

Attorney J. P. O'Brien, chief counsel for the defense, stated that reported interviews with Mrs. Schenck appearing in out-of-town papers were absolutely false. He said that no newspaper man had seen her since her arrest and that she has not and would not give any statement for publication.

Dr. Gregory Ackerman, the physician who first attended Mrs. Schenck, who is now in Chicago, will return to his home here on the 21st instant. He is an important witness for the state and the defense will also put him on the stand. It is claimed that he prescribed medicine for Mr. Schenck, which contained a small amount of arsenic and that it was given with the knowledge of the patient.

It is said that the glass in which this medicine was given the patient was also used to give him water, and that when it was discovered that it contained arsenic after Dr. Ackerman had been discharged from the case, the water remaining in the glass was poured back in the bottle of lithia water and that was analyzed by the chemist at Johns Hopkins.

According to the reports from Mr. Schenck's bedside, he is very weak and his pulse remains very high. However, a gradual improvement is anticipated by the attending physician until finally he will once more have regained his strength and old-time health.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 15.—If the advantage gained in the recent election is used properly a Democratic victory in the next national election is to be expected, according to Mr. Bryan, but he will not be the fortunate presidential candidate. Mr. Bryan expressed these views at the Union depot.

HAS REVOLUTION WELL IN HAND

Colon, Nov. 15.—Reports reaching here declare that Western Nicaragua is in the grip of a new revolution. The trouble is said to have broken out Sunday in Corinto and Leon, where the Conservatives in political meetings denounced the new Estrada government because it has not granted all the reforms promised as quickly as the Conservatives think it ought.

In Leon and Corinto street fighting occurred between troops and mobs that formed when political demonstrations were ordered abandoned by the police. Many were killed and wounded in both cities. Leon is the seat of the Conservative party.

The outbreaks in Leon and Corinto have no definite aim or leader. It is presumed there will be no serious consequences. The politicians who started rioting were mostly leaders of the Conservative and Liberal parties who seek to "insurge" against the government, which has prohibited public political meetings until the reconstruction of the government has been completed. The troops have the situation well in hand.

President Estrada has been informed of outbreaks, but he declares there is no occasion for alarm. The reorganization of the government is proceeding rapidly. Crops are being planted and there will be a fair coffee yield, despite the ravages of the recent war.
