Supreme Court Ways.
When the supreme court of the United States assembled at 12 o'clock on each Monday the room is filled with lawyers, clerks, newspaper men and spectators. Routine announcements are made by the chief justice in a voice no one can understand. Decisions of great moment are rendered by other justices in mumbled words which are not heard. Lawyers, clerks, newspaper men and spectators stare hard at the honorable justice who may be talking or reading, some with hands curved into a round hand so that they can catch a few words if possible. But no one in the courtroom shouts "Loud!" No one would last very long if he did. And should a person be sentenced for contempt of the supreme court it would be the end. As an old colored employee said, "Dere ain't no appeal in de court."—St. Louis Star.

Swallowed and Climbed.
A woman newly rich was invited to an aristocratic dinner party. During the course of fowl and salad this woman noticed with dismay a fat, furry caterpillar on her topmost leaf of lettuce. Glancing up, she met her aristocratic hostess' eye. The hostess, too, had seen the caterpillar. Her gaze inquired the guest to save the dinner from catastrophe. The guest gave her hostess a reassuring smile. Then she doubled a lettuce leaf around the caterpillar and swallowed it calmly. The look of awe and gratitude that her hostess gave her was an assurance that her footing in society was at last firmly established.
"Did you think," said Mrs. New-ly-rich to her daughter afterward, "that I'd lose a chance of establishing the family socially for a little thing like a caterpillar?"

For the Boy As Well As His "Daddy."

When your Boy don't want to be a policeman—
When he has his eye on the Presidency—
When he feels that soon he can save like father—
When he looks proudly on himself as a big fellow—

Then you can rest assured that the spirit of manhood is working overtime. Then you want to be careful of his pride. Encourage him, especially in dress. Not to be extravagant, but to have him dressed so that he won't be ashamed of himself.

Buy Your Boys' Clothes Here.

We dress them correctly and the price is the least of a splendid proposition. Bring your Boy to us and we know that when they have boys of their own they will bring them here also.

BABES CHECKED AT CHURCH

Nursery Established for Presbyterians in Pittsburgh.
Pittsburg, Nov. 15.—Please check your babies' in substance, the notice given in the fashionable Second Presbyterian church of Pittsburg, with eleven hundred members, and the church has provided a nursery to take care of the babies while mothers attend church.
One of the floors of the Sunday school building attached to this church has been fitted up as a playroom and nursery for children up to the age of five years. One woman who had tried the nursery with one of her babes last week Sunday brought three Sunday.
"The nursery is just far enough away that the mothers cannot hear the babies cry—if they ever do," said the Rev. Dr. George Shelton, pastor of the church, who is responsible for the idea.

DOG GUARDS MASTER'S BODY

Tennessee Banker Killed by Own Weapon While Training Animal.
Johnson City, Tenn., Nov. 15.—With his faithful dog, like a sentinel, lying close to his head, Tate L. Earnest was found dead near the Hasbarger farm, a few miles from Johnson City, yesterday.
He had been out training the dog preparatory to the shooting season, which opens tomorrow. In passing through a fence he fell and his gun was discharged, killing him.
The Unaka National bank, of which Mr. Earnest was cashier, was notified and employees brought the body home. Mr. Earnest was treasurer of the Tennessee State Bankers' association and prominent in society. He was 51 years old and is survived by two sons and two daughters.

Blind 30 Years, May Gain Sight.

Blytheville, Ark., Nov. 14.—The Rev. J. M. Benton of Blytheville, who, though blind, has been preaching the gospel for thirty years and praying daily for recovery of his sight, has for several days seen rays of light, first with one eye and then with the other. He believes he will recover sight in both eyes and will consult specialists about an operation.

Drowned in Foot of Water.

Norristown, Pa., Nov. 15.—An unidentified man, 55 years old, was found drowned in a creek on Charles Murray's farm by Eugene Johnson, Coroner King's investigation disclosed that the man had been drinking and evidently stumbled and fell head first into the water, which is about a foot deep.

Woman Is Legally Dead.

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 15.—Judge Wilhelm of the orphans' court will declare Mrs. Mary McDonald of Cumbo legally dead. Mrs. McDonald left home eight years ago and has never been heard from, and court will declare her dead so her son can inherit her estate.

Deceiving the Widow.

A healthy looking woman dressed in deep mourning stepped on to the platform scales and requested the grocer's clerk to ascertain her weight. He looked and said, "One hundred and forty pounds."
"You made a mistake of twelve pounds in that woman's weight," said another man who had also watched the scales. "She weighed 152 pounds instead of 140."
"I know that," said the clerk, "but she never would have forgiven me if I had told her so. That woman's husband died about six weeks ago. She has gained seven pounds in that time, but to keep her in good humor with herself I had to make her think she had lost five. I don't know why it is, but anybody who has suffered bereavement seems to consider it a disgrace to take on flesh. That woman has been weighed three times since her husband died. She would be shocked if she knew she had gained right along. Fortunately she is too nearsighted to read the scales herself, so it is easy to make her think she is wasting away."
—New York Press.

Law and the Queen.

The quaintness of many provisions of British law is curiously illustrated in the status of the queen of England. So far as her majesty's private business is concerned, she is not regarded by the laws and customs of England as a married woman at all. She is the only woman in Great Britain who does not come within the scope of the married woman's property act. The idea in all this is that affairs of state consume all the time of the king, and therefore no responsibility for the queen's private business rests upon him. If the queen contracted debts in her husband's name he would not be responsible for them, as any other husband in the United Kingdom would. The king cannot be sued for debt, but the queen can be. Should the king die, some authorities hold that the queen could not marry again, in case she wished to, without the license of the king's successor.—New York Tribune.

Two Narrow Escapes.

An Irishman, seeing a vessel very heavily laden and scarcely above the water's edge, exclaimed, "Upon my soul, if the river was but a little higher the ship would go to the bottom!"
"See there!" exclaimed the returned Irish soldier to the gazing crowd as he exhibited with some pride his tall hat with a bullet hole in it. "Look at that hole, will ye! Ye see, if it had been a low crowned hat I should have been killed outright!"

His Temper.

"My dear," said a lady to her husband, "there must be a lot of iron in your system."
"Why do you think so?"
"Because you invariably lose your temper when you get hot!"

Discoveries.

So many famous discoveries have turned out to be re-discoveries that we become cautious about asserting that any event or achievement was the first of its kind.—John Disko.

Our Toy Department

Opened Tuesday in the Basement of the Store. Sale of $100 worth of Toys at Half Price and Less.

We shall offer in explanation of that rather anomalous statement the following: We carried over from last season a trifle over $100 worth of Toys. We have decided not to show a single old Toy in our Basement Toy Department. Everything displayed down there is new. The Toys carried over from last season will be up stairs on the center aisle tables.
