The first external revelation of the dry-rot in men is a tendency to lurk and lounge; to be at street corners without intelligible reason; to be going anywhere when met; to be about many places rather than any; to do nothing tangible, but to have an intention of performing a number of tangible duties tomorrow or the day after. - Dickens.

Up to date nearly fifteen hundred voters of Adams county, Ohio, have been disfranchised for giving and receiving bribes at the election in November. Doesn't this fact General Sherman's definition of war? One of our wide-awake Representatives at Harrisburg would make himself a name he should introduce a bill to provide for a law similar to the Ohio statute.

It cost the state $52,000 for special counsel in the capital graft cases. James Scarlett got $25,000, D. T. Watson, of Pittsburg, $20,000, and John E. Fox, of Harrisburg, $7,000. The $158,000 of unpaid warrants returned by Huston and Sanderson have been canceled by Auditor General Sisson and District Attorney Weiss entered up nolle pros. In thirty dropped criminal suits, the costs being paid. The total cost to the state in the prosecution of these cases is the snug sum of $164,964.62.

The plan of sending demonstration cars for lectures on agriculture has proved so successful in the last few years that the same plan will be adopted for popular education in the cause of improved highways. State College authorities, the State highway department and the federal bureau of good roads are arranging to have cars tour the State this winter in the interest of better highways. The cars will be equipped with seats for lecturers, with exhibition or views, and will carry models and data relative to good road construction.

The total acreage in important crops in Pennsylvania for the last year according to "The Government Crop Report" for December, 1910, was 8,384,000 acres, and the combined value of crops was $172,362,500. The total amount of bushels was as follows: Corn, 63,029,000; Wheat, 27,697,000; Oats, 25,130,000; Barley, 235,000; Rye, 6,460,000; Buckwheat, 5,555,000 and Potatoes, 29,180,000. There were 4,433,000 tons of hay and 49,500,000 pounds of tobacco produced. Pennsylvania is first in the production of Rye, second in the production of Potatoes, Hay and Buckwheat and sixth in the production of Wheat and Tobacco.

Of all the senseless agitation that we have heard in many a day, this talk about draping the groups of statues now being placed in the Capitol at Harrisburg is the most senseless. The less people know about art, or other things, and the grosser their moral ideals, the more likely they are to be shocked at nude statuary. If Pennsylvania wants to advertise itself as a hypocritical Rube, it could not do better than by covering the nudity of Sculptor Barnard's marble figures. - Fanny Spirit.

We are decidedly inclined to second the Spirits kick, and are positively opposed to this unseemly haste to cover up these graceful statues, at least until our critical friend Smith has had a chance to cast his connoisseurian eye upon the sculptor's masterpieces.

There is, as a rule, too much disposition on the part of the individual of the present day to grumble, or to be more nearly up-to-date, "knock." People, as a rule, have been living at airplane speed, and, unless they can keep up this gait, are apt to make a mighty "holer." This tendency induces a wise exchange to suggest the following resolution for 1911: Quit grumbling. Cheer up! It has become a business habit to talk the situation down. Ask a business man how business is, and the chances are that he will give you a melancholy answer. Ask him how his own business is, and the chances are that he will acknowledge that "just now" is pretty good, but that does not prevent the country going to the devil. When the years end and he foots up the results he finds that he has done well, better than he thought; but that does not stand in the way of kicking about the outlook. This is very largely habit. Some attribute it to dyspepsia and attribute dyspepsia to properly. They may have some foundation for their theory; but the plain fact is that, whatever the cause, the condition is not creditable.

Governor Tener Inaugurated.

With considerable splendor and great eclat our new Governor was inducted into office at Harrisburg yesterday, a large assemblage gathering at the State capitol to witness the important event. Mr. Tener delivered his inaugural address from the capital steps and in it gave many common sense and business-like hints of how he intended to conduct his administration and fulfill every pledge given by himself and his party in the campaign that ended in his election. At the conclusion of the ceremonies the new Governor announced the principal members of his cabinet as follows:

Robert McAfee, Pittsburg, secretary of the Commonwealth.

John C. Bell, Philadelphia, attorney general.

Thomas J. Stewart, of Montgomery county, adjutant general.

William H. Smith, Philadelphia, commissioner of banking.

Samuel C. Todd, Charleroi, executive controller.

Harry McDavitt, Philadelphia, assistant controller.

Walter H. Gaither, Pittsburg, private secretary.

WHAT saddened straits a man's wealth gets him into sometimes! There is ex-Senator Clark, the Montana magnate, who is to move into his $7,000,000 New York City residence about the first of the year. That house contains 121 rooms, thirty-one baths, the largest pipeorgan in the world, $2,000,000 worth of pictures, $500,000 worth of rugs, 500 tons of copper and bronze, and four picture galleries. From these items one can imagine what the rest of the mansion contains. What a load for one poor soul to bear! A man may take what view he pleases about spending his money, but there is a great mistake in supposing it is a guarantee against unhappiness. - Ohio State Journal

GAINS of millions in resource in a year are shown in the report made by State Banking Commissioner William N. Smith at Harrisburg, Pa., on the operations of Pennsylvania trust companies, State banks and savings banks for 1910. The report covers 289 trust companies, 139 state banks and 11 savings banks. The summary indicates the growth by a comparison between 1909 and 1910, as follows: Trust companies, total resources, 1910 $685,149,582; 1909, $672,933,658; total trust funds, 1910, $861,864,028; 1909, $783,256,851; corporate trusts 1910, $3,182,406,179; 1909, $3,000,477,715. Savings institutions, deposit accounts, 1910, $409,519; 1909, $456,540; 1910, total resources, $198,423,071; 1909, $187,306,046. Banks, total resources, 1910, $183,911,702; 1909, $175,949,393.

DEALERS in oysters will be interested in learning that the state pure food department is after those who sell oysters from receptacles in which ice or water has been placed with the bivalves. Under the pure food law it is illegal to sell oysters except such only as are placed in their own juice. The putting of ice or water into cans with the oysters is punishable under the statutes, and state agents have been instructed to look up offenders. Up to recently it was no uncommon thing to find a big chunk of ice in oyster tubs, but within the past year or so the bivalves are shipped without ice or water coming in contact with them, giving purchasers only solid meats in a natural condition. Of course such bivalves cost more, but the difference of price is offset by the improvement in taste and freedom from impurities that may be found in ice.

A FEW years ago a young man by the name of Farrell was compelled to leave high school in order to make a living. He found a job in a shop, at $4.50 a week, and took it, much to the disgust of some of his associates, who at present are earning $18 a week as clerks and bookkeepers. He was not particularly stuck on the job, nor the compensation, so he continued making himself valuable to his employers and saved some of his salary, while his companions were spending a little more than they earned and were complaining of too much work and too little pay, while they smoked cigarettes. The other day he was elected president of the largest corporation in the world - United States Steel - at a salary of $100,000 a year - a billion. The moral is no plain that the young wayfarer, fool and all as he may be, need not err therein.

The Suloway pension bill giving a substantial increase to all veterans of the Civil War has passed the house and there is every indication that it will be adopted. The bill as passed gives $15 instead of $12 a month to veterans of 62 years and under 65, of whom there are 93,989; $20 instead of $12 to veterans of 65 and under 70, of whom there are 184,577; $25 instead of $15 to veterans of 70 and under 75, of whom there are 101,778; $30 instead of $20 to veterans of 75 and over, of whom there are 63,461. The pensions committee which supported the bill, states that were the roll to remain stationary the pension payments would be increased $45,489,468 a year. But Speaker Cannon points out that the records of the pension bureau show that the old soldiers are dying at the average rate of 100 a day, or 36,500 a year, so that whatever the initial increase death would immediately begin to reduce it rapidly.

LITTLE GEORGE MELBER

His Mother Arrested For Administering Fatal Dose of Carbolic Acid.

ANOTHER FIRE IN BATH

Business Men Alarmed Over Mysterious Blazes in That Town.

The city of Bath, N. Y., was visited by another mysterious fire early Sunday morning, when a large barn on the property of M. McCaffery was destroyed and neighboring property saved with difficulty.

The fire clearly indicates that the village has a firebug and considerable alarm and uneasiness is experienced. The barn was discovered ablaze about 1 o'clock. It had not been visited for some time previous to the fire by Mr. Caffrey who had property stored therein and there is but one conclusion and that is the fire was of incendiary origin.

FRUIT FARMS IN DEMAND

Many Pieces of Property in Town of Cnill Change Hands.

Not before in many years have so many farms in the vicinity of Cnill Station changed hands as during the past few months. Some of the farmers have sold in order to move to the city, while others have purchased farms in other places. The prices paid have varied from $75 to $125 per acre, according to the fertility of the land, condition of buildings and location in regard to railroads and villages.

In most instances the farms containing the most fruit trees have commanded the highest prices. Many have purchased farms with the intention of setting out apple and peach orchards.

WOMAN GOES TO PRISON

Convicted of Killing Her Child by Forcing Ashes Down Its Throat.

Anna Stadelmyer, convicted of manslaughter, second degree, in killing her baby a few hours after its birth, Friday was sentenced by Judge Taylor to serve not less than two years and three months and not more than eight years and six months in Auburn prison for the crime. The offense was committed on November 5, 1910, while she was in the employ as domestic. She forced clinders and ashes down the baby's throat and then attempted to dispose of the infant. She was arrested two hours after the crime was committed and sent to a hospital.

Geneseo to Have Poultry Show.

Jan. 17, 18 and 19 the Livingston County Poultry association will hold its poultry show in Geneseo. First and second cash premiums will be offered for 150 different varieties of fowls. In addition to the cash premiums, over 80 special premiums are offered, ranging in value from $25 to $1, and there are also a large number of club specials. There will be a big pigeon department and in this department cash premiums are offered in over 100 different varieties.

Smith May Recover.

Edward B. Smith, who last week made a murderous assault on his wife at Little Valley, N. Y., by attacking her with a hammer and then cut his own throat with a razor, is living and the doctors think he is in a fair way to recover. An operation was performed on his throat, a tube inserted, and he is doing well. Mrs. Smith, whose head was bruised so that the doctor sewed up wounds measure from 12 to 15 inches, and the bones of both hands broken by his blows, is recovering.

Must Return Babies to Their Parents.

Mr. C. Krumbel, formerly of Rochester, is arraigned before Justice of the Peace Wheeler in Avon on the charge of keeping a baby farm. The woman admitted that she had four infants at her house, and that they were not doing as well as might be expected. She was given until Jan. 21 to return the babies to their parents, otherwise the matter will be referred to the Livingston county grand jury.

Going Like Wildfire

That's the way to describe the widespread demand for Walter Wellman's Great Book The Aerial Age

One critic calls it a "fascinating record of scientific adventure"; another compares it to "a swift sailing ship, with Science at the helm, and Adventure in the foretop"; still another says that "it bristles with adventure, and is brimful of education in aviation." Anyhow, it is a great seller, as each day's orders show.
