> Old Man May Die as Result of the Brital Attack-Old Woman Was so Badly Bruised That She May Die From Shock - Hundreds of Men Searching the Country For the

A negro walked into the home of James Duffy in Ontario street in Honeove Falls, N. Y., Saturday evening and attacked Mr. Duffy, his sister-in-law, Mrs. Webb, and his granddaughter, Verna Webb, after being refused mon- old. ey which he demanded. Mr. Duffy, tho is 73 years old, was beaten with a club and probably fatally injured. His skull is fractured and his scalp lacerated.

Mrs. Webb, who is 80 years old, was badly, bruised and may die from the shock

The granddaughter tried to defend Mrs. Webb and started across the street to obtain help. She slipped on the fcy sidewalk and the negro overtook her. He tried to drag her to a nearby piece of woods. In attempting to drag her over a fence he broke the girl's arm. Her body is a mass of bruises. The girl managed to get away from the negro and ran to neighbors, where she gave the alarm.

Citizens formed a posse and a hundred men searched the town and country during the night. Three strange negroes were found at the home of Jesse Hall in North Main street. One had on a different coat from the one he was wearing Saturday and an old parment which was stained.

The boys had been riding on Mr. Graves' sleigh, but jumped off, and ran back to catch on a cutter coming in the rear. As the cutter passed the horse on the cutter slid, sweeping young Chapman off, and under the feet of Mr. Graves' team.

Before he could stop the excited horses the front bobs were resting on the boy's body. Mr. Graves had to run some distance to get a heavy timber with which to pry up the sleigh and get the boy out. The boy's collar bone received a compound fracture. His head was severely cut and bruised from the horses' hoofs. He may be injured internally,

COMPROMISE OFFERED

Southern Pacific Would Pay Government Millions to Withdraw Land Suits

Hobson Says It Will Begin In Less Than Ten Months.

These Predictions Were Made by Alabama Representative on Floor of House When He Urged the Formation of a Huge Standing Army and Building of a Vast Navy Large Enough to Maintain Peace-We Will Eventually Conquer After a Prolonged Fight.

Washington, Feb. 21.-Japan and the United States will go to war in the near future. The conflict will begin in less than ten months. The war will last five years, perhaps ten. The Panama canal will be destroyed and in the end this nation will carry the war to Japan and conquer that kingdom. These are a few of the predictions made by Representative Richmond Pearson Hebson of Alabama, who used to be an officer in the navy, on the floor of the house of representatives.

"We will be struck," he cried, "and when we are-gentlemen may differ with me as to the time, but I firmly believe it can be counted in months on the fingers of my two hands, we will find ourselves practically powerless.

Nations Will Ask Us to Give Up. "The nations of the world will call on us to give up the war and not continue to disturb the peace of the world, just as we did with Russia in her war with Japan. Our own financiers will demand that we end an apparently hopeless struggle. "But we will not give up. We will fight on angered and humiliated until it becomes a mere question of resources. Ever since we went into Hawati, ever since we took possession of Philippines, declining to let Japan in there with us, ever since their citizens came to this country and received the treatment from our people, that the difference in race made inevitable, Japan has been preparing for war with us. And the Japanese in this country are helping her." Representative Gaines of West Vir ginia asked Mr. Hobson if Japan would find it possible to finance a war with the United States.

"Japan," Mr. Hobson replied, "is the only nation today that is clever enough to finance a war before it begins. She ready financed the war she will wage against us."

Urges Big Navy and Big Army. The Alabama member urged the creation of a vast standing army and the building of a great navy as the only solution of the problem. He contended that the navy of the United States is at present inadequate. At least four battleships instead of the two proposed by the naval committee should in his opinion be authorized. Then Mr. Hobson described in detail the terrible conflict to be waged. "We must not try to strike the enemy in the early stages of the war." he sold. "We will never have the use of the Panama canal. There will be a long struggle for the control of the waterway. "The Philippines, Hawaii, Guam, all our island possessions in the Pacific, Alaska, San Francisco and the Puget Sound region will be taken by the enemy. We will spend at least $60, 000,000 for transport service to the canal zone and millions to increase

"Having at last driven the enemy from the canal we will send our fleet into the Pacific and try to cut the enemy from his base. There will be a great battle. If we lose we will build a great new pavy and the war will be prolonged many years. If we win, we will send an army of our own to the Pacific coast and drive out the enemy." United States Will Retake Philippines.

Mr. Hobson then depicted the stand Japan will take at Hawaii, which he added, would be taken after a long seige and then, after five or six years of terrific international combat the United States would retake Guam and the Philippines, make a dash to Corea, confine the Japanese to their own island kingdom and then subjugate

"That," said Mr. Hobson, "is the future that we, as a peace-loving people, have in store for us, simply because we will not spend a very small proportion of our great wealth in preparation for war. The war may come on the Atlantic side. A European power may strike us too and if it does, the result will be practically the same as I have described on the Pacific."

Quite a number of members of the house heard Mr. Hobson's speech. They did not appear to be alarmed except over the elasticity of Mr. Hobson's imagination.
