Last Days of Congress.

Out of the turmoil of the parliamentary storm that raged at the national capitol during the dying days of the sixty-first congress the following results were attained: WHAT IT DID DO. Provision of $3,000,000 for the fortification of the Panama canal. Provision for two new battleships. Reorganization of the judicial code—regarded as most important for the amelioration of the law's delays. Creation of forest preserves in the southern Appalachian and White Mountains. Providing for the construction of embassy and legation buildings abroad. Requiring the inspection of locomotive boilers.

WHAT IT FAILED TO DO.

Failure of the Canadian reciprocity agreement. Failure of the permanent tariff board bill, which passed the senate but was killed by a filibuster in the house. Failure of the resolution to admit to statehood Arizona and New Mexico, killed by a filibuster in the senate. Failure of the proposal to increase the rate of postage on the advertising sections of the large magazines; but a commission is provided for to investigate the subject. Failure of resolution providing for the direct election of United States senators. Failure to act on Ballinger-Pinchot investigation reports. Failure of the effort to unseat Senator Lorimer by the narrow margin of one vote.

WHAT A RIDICULOUS thing it is when you think it over that the United States Senate, justly esteemed and greatest legislative body in the world, not even excepting the Pennsylvania Legislature, should at the very close of the session, when it is literally jammed with business of the greatest public importance, should tie itself up on the question of whether a notoriously rotten politician should retain a purchased seat in that body! Such things would be laughable were they not tragic.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

THE general impression, that the bill regulating the salaries of county officials now before the legislature at Harrisburg, is for the purpose of increasing the compensation of these officials, is erroneous. Should the bill be passed the effect would be precisely the opposite of that, providing, as it does, that when the fees received by any official do not reach the amount of salary fixed by the bill, then the said official shall receive just the amount of the fees. But in case the fees overrun the stated salary then the officer's compensation shall be no more than that named in the salary bill. By this method, as will be seen, the compensation is apt to be diminished rather than increased. It is one of those rules that doesn't seem to work both ways.

A BILL regulating barber shops in the interest of health was introduced along with a number of other bills which are to be included in the new health code. No barber shop shall be used as a sleeping apartment. All mugs, brushes, combs, razors and strops must be sterilized after each separate use. No towel used to dry one customer's face may be used on any other customer's neck. Alum or any other styptic must be in powder or liquid form. The barber is required to wash his hands after polishing off a customer; Lather brushes must be perfectly cleaned before being again soaped up for another operation. There is naturally some curiosity to know how a law of this kind would affect the fellow who uses a safety razor and lets his wife cut his hair.

Whig Hill.

Charley Berlin, wife and two children, of Kinzua, Pa., are on the hill visiting their brother, E. E. Berlin, and other relatives. We understand that Charley is expecting to depart for California in a few weeks, to make that state his future home. We wish him a pleasant journey and abundant prosperity.

We learn with pleasure that W. F. Weingard, of Tionesta, is moving back to his farm here and to stay. Rev. G. A. Barnard, of West Hickory, was on the hill last week making pastoral calls.

Elva D. Kifer, wife and son visited Mr. K's parents on Kifer hill, Sunday. Dorothy Shunk and Rosa Hullings drove over from Muzette on Friday for a visit with friends on the hill, returning Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Eugene Berlin is spending this week at Oil City at the home of her cousin, Mrs. George Steiger. The physical condition of Dr. E. W. Smith, of our hill, remains about the same.

We are having real old fashioned March weather. ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT. Master Delbert Decker and his friend Thomas Ritchey, of Tionesta, were at his home here over Sunday.

Everything seems to be quiet on our hill at present. The court is over and the jurymen have returned to their homes. No doubt this will be a quiet summer to a great many, especially those who were lucky enough to attend court. No doubt many people learned a great many technical points they never dreamed of before. It is too bad that some things have to be made known in court.

The roads are in splendid shape at present. People are beginning to stir around. We are looking for an early spring. The woodchuck has come out of his hole and no doubt he will have his eye on early vegetation.

NEW YORK'S GREAT PENNSYLVANIA STATION.

One of the greatest works of modern times was the construction of the concrete-lined steel tubes under the Hudson and East Rivers, the tunnelling of Manhattan Island, and the erection of the magnificent Pennsylvania Station at Seventh Avenue and Thirty-second Street, New York, bringing the through trains of the Pennsylvania Railroad into the heart of New York City.

An illustrated booklet describing this great work, and telling what it means to the New York passenger, has been issued by the Pennsylvania Railroad and will be sent postpaid to any address by George W. Boyd, General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, Pa., on receipt of a two-cent stamp. Send for it.

POLICE GET BUSY

Authorities of All Big Cities Notified of Robbery of Bancroft Bonds.

New York, March 7.—Negotiable securities to the value of about $85,000 at yesterday's prices were stolen last Thursday in this city. The fact did not become known until an envelope supposed to contain them was taken from the vaults of the Produce Exchange Safe Deposit company and opened at the office of George Bancroft & Co., brokers, where it was discovered that the envelope contained nothing but copies of an evening newspaper.

The case was reported to the police and the Pinkertons. From the story that was told by Aaron Bancroft, the senior member of the firm and now in his 86th year, it would appear that the robbery was committed in a corridor leading to the Safe Deposit vaults in which the elder Bancroft took the securities last Thursday.

Mr. Bancroft says that he remembered meeting two men in the corridor, one of whom bumped into him, causing him to drop the package and his hat. The two men helped him to his feet, he says, and one of them picked up the package. In that brief moment, he believes, the substitution was accomplished.

The Pinkertons were busy pretty nearly all day notifying the authorities in every big city about the loss and warning people against accepting securities as collateral.

Mr. Bancroft is a cousin of George Bancroft, the historian.

BIG INSURANCE CHECK

Family of Late Architect Carrere Will Receive $116,000 on His Accident Policy.

New York, March 7.—The family of the late John M. Carrere, the architect, who died last week as a result of a collision between a taxicab, in which he was riding, and a Madison avenue surface car, will receive from the Travelers Insurance company, a check for $116,000 on an accident policy which Mr. Carrere held, with the company. J. C. Batterson, resident director of the Travelers, said that the check would be mailed on Saturday.

Mr. Carrere took out the policy three years ago for $50,000. Owing to provisions for a certain kind of accident, the amount was doubled. The accumulations for three years came to $5,000 and the remaining $1,000 was allowed for hospital expenses.

WILL TAKE A GOOD SLEEP

Champ Clark Is Going to Leave For Parts Unknown For a Little Rest.

Washington, March 7.—Speaker-to-be Champ Clark does not intend to hang around the Capitol thinking up schemes to put the Republicans in a hole at the special congress session. He went to the White House yesterday to say goodbye to the president and intends to depart for parts unknown shortly, to get a little rest.

"I'm going to sleep for two weeks," said Mr. Clark. "I could not sleep two minutes here, and I'm going away somewhere."

Antonio Fogazzara Hopeslessly Ill. Rome, March 7.—The doctors have abandoned hope for the recovery of Antonio Fogazzara, the author of "The Saint," who was recently operated on at St. Vicenza for gall stones.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Great Criminal Mystery Solved.

It is an almost startling development that in delving for the facts of a great mystery the solution of it should be found. Such is the striking feature of work undertaken in preparing for publication the story of "The Lone Bandit of Lewisdown Narrows," which will appear in the Magazine Section of next Sunday's North American.

Two years ago a lone and unknown bandit started the country by holding up and robbing one of the fastest express trains on the Pennsylvania Railroad in "The Narrows," near Lewisdown. The very audacity of the performance stamped the robbery as one of the unique crimes of the age. From the day it was committed the criminal was a mystery until after the original manuscript story of the crime was prepared for publication in The North American. It was in checking up the incidents that inquiries were inspired the answering of which furnished the solution.

The story of the robbery is retold in fascinating style in the Sunday North American article, and the solution that goes with it is also furnished. Because of its wide and country-wide interest in the solution of the great crime mystery, the demand for The North American will undoubtedly be enormous. Those who desire to read it should order the paper well in advance of Sunday.
