Sudden Death of Charles Weingard.
Charles Weingard, one of the respected residents of Tionesta township, was found dead at his home on the Pigeon Hill road, Tuesday night at six o'clock. He had been in Tionesta during the day and seemed to be in his usual good health. He had gone out to chop some wood and when his wife went out a short time later she found him lying face downward and dead. His death was probably due to heart trouble or suffocation after a fainting spell, as he was lying in a pool of mud. Mr. Weingard was aged about 62 years. His sudden death was a great shock to the entire community. A more extended notice is necessarily deferred until next week.

—Hon. John Fertig one of Titusville's most prominent citizens died on Sunday morning last after an illness of only a few days at Los Angeles, Cal., where he had gone on a visit to his family, which has been spending the winter in that state.

—E. T. Beck, of Warren, who is well remembered as one of the contractors on our brick paving, went to Albany, N. Y., last week to bid on five miles of macadam road which the state will build this year between Brocton and Stockton. We hope he lands it and the state will be sure of a good job if he does.

—S. H. McWilliams, of Tionesta township, suffered a fracture of a bone in his right leg on Saturday, the 11th. He was working in the woods near his home and while lifting a tree became overbalanced and snapped off the outer bone just below the knee. In spite of the injury he was able to walk home. Dr. F. J. Bovard reduced the fracture.

—The Franklin High School basketball team will be here next Friday evening for a game with the Tionesta Athletics. Tionesta won the first game by a close score and the Franklin boys will try to win it back. As they are known to have one of the best teams in this section, our people are assured of seeing a fast game and some good clean sport. Don't miss it. The game will begin promptly at 6:30 p. m., in order to allow the visitors to return home at 8:30.

—Enclosed in short personal letter from our old friend, Nicholas Wiant, now a resident of Bakersfield, California, he sends us a clipping from a local paper describing the workings of the fire alarm system connected with the high school building in that young city. The school has over 400 pupils and on the top of the fire alarm the rooms were cleared in an orderly manner in 75 seconds. Two of Mr. Wiant's grand children attend the school. They are the sons of Arthur Wiant, all former residents of Nebraska, this county.

—Several letters have been received by the city clerk of Dunkirk, furnishing information as to the Gorman family. An estate in County Cork is to be divided and the heirs are being sought. The Gormans formerly lived in Dunkirk. The notice published attracted attention from several residents in Bradford who knew the family well. There are said to be some members located at Smethport and Pleasantville. New York relatives are looking them up so as to inform them of the estate.—Dunkirk Herald. The name is quite familiar to the people of this section, a number of families of Gormans being respected residents of Forest county.

—David Gustafson, aged 24 years, a resident of Sheffield, was stabbed and almost instantly killed at 11:30 o'clock Saturday night. Mike and John Pipik, natives of Slavonia, aged 21 and 18 years, respectively, are in the Warren county jail, charged with the killing. Louis Ross, who was with Gustafson at the time of the murder, is seriously stabbed and cut about the head, but will recover. The murder was the culmination of a scrap between Ross and Mike Pipik in which Gustafson was in no way concerned. After the row he and Ross were met on the street by the brothers when the trouble was renewed with the result stated.

—Mrs. Harry Maze, formerly a resident of Hallton, this county, was taken suddenly ill very early Thursday morning, while visiting at the home of her son, Henry Maze, manager of the hardware department in the store of the Hall, Kaul & Hyde Company, on South street. Mrs. Maze was preparing to go to Pittsburg on the early morning B. & P. flyer for a visit at the home of another son, and she was at the table taking a lunch before starting, when she suffered a stroke. A physician was summoned and he had her taken to the hospital for treatment.—Ridgway Advocate. Mrs. Maze is well remembered by many of our citizens, the family having resided in Tionesta about 20 years ago.

—Mrs. Adde B. Thomas, widow of Capt. Joseph R. Thomas, died at her home at Montrose, Delaware, Wednesday, March 15, 1911, aged about 60 years. Capt. Thomas, her husband died in 1880, leaving the widow and two daughters, Florence and Frances both of whom have of late years been visitors at the home of their aunt, Mrs. S. D. Irwin here. Capt. Thomas will be remembered by many of the older citizens of this county and borough, as the son of the late Hon. P. D. Thomas, and who lived here with his father several years in the early seventies. He will also be remembered as assistant county treasurer under Daniel Black during his last year, also as deputy prothonotary under the late J. B. Agnew. Capt. Thomas had a very honorable record in the civil war as a member of the famous Anderson Troop, serving in the Army of the Tennessee, and was an aide de camp to Gen. Sturgis.

—Recently the REPUBLICAN noted that Hon. N. P. Wheeler of Endeavor had donated the lumber which will go into the construction of the Y. M. C. A. at Franklin, a matter of some $2700, which statement was only partly correct as our modest friend Wheeler informs us. The firm of Wheeler & Dusenbury, as also did its predecessor H. Stow & Co., assisted nearly every church near them in this particular for many years back, and this being the firm's policy. Mr. Wheeler's partners were very willing to join him and have the firm furnish the lumber for the new Y. M. C. A. building at Franklin, our old county seat, and it was a pleasure for them to do so. Mr. Wheeler as a young man, has often ridden on horseback from Newtown Mills, their first location in this county, a distance of 40 miles to Franklin to attend to the firm's business, and he still retains a warm spot in his heart for the wide-awake old Nursery.

—John Gold and son Rolla, of Woodbine, W. Va., came up Monday and are visiting friends at Nebraska, their former home. For the past two years the family has resided at Woodbine, where Mr. Gold is running the locomotive of a steam log loader for Stitzinger Bros.

—Asa Walker, one of Erie's most prominent citizens and well known manufacturers, died at Cairo, Egypt, on the 13th inst., where he had been touring with his wife. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause. Mr. Walker was a cousin of our townsman, W. G. Wyman, and had with his wife been a visitor here.

—A. M. Ross, gauger for the Standard at West Hickory, was a welcome caller at the REPUBLICAN office Monday. Mr. Ross has lost two favorite dogs by poisoning recently, making five that have been killed in this way lately in that place. There is a heavy penalty for such despicable work, and it will not be well for the party who is engaged in it should be detected.

—Neal Snodgrass, the efficient and popular manager of the Wilcox Window Glass Company, was called away last Saturday to visit his father who is ill in the hospital at Bradford, Pa. He returned yesterday and has hopes of the improvement or recovery of his father, which consummation is most truly and sincerely desired by their many friends.—Wilcox Cor. Ridgway Democrat, 15th.

—The Warren Times of Friday gives this pleasing mention of one of Tionesta's gifted artists: "The friends who responded to the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blair and Miss Olive Lanson to attend a piano recital to be given by Miss Mildred Blair, assisted by Miss Ethel McCray, at the Blair residence on Fourth street Thursday evening, were very delightfully entertained. Miss Mildred, who is only 13 years of age, evinces marked musical ability, and was a great credit to her conscientious teacher, Miss Lanson, who has been her instructor for one year only. The first group of five numbers, played from memory, with many difficult trills and runs, were given with good form and the liquid tones displayed the advantage from such thorough relaxation of arm and hand as can be gained only through the method taught by Miss Lanson."

—Special courses in Methods, as well as the regular Normal Courses, are offered to students and prospective teachers at Edinboro Normal, Spring term opens March 28, 1911. John F. Bigler, Principal.

GOOD ROADS TRAIN IN TIONESTA.
Several Hundred Persons Present to See and Hear.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company's Good Roads Train arrived at the Tionesta station on schedule time yesterday morning and remained over two hours, during which time it is safe to say more than 300 people interested in good roads visited the train, heard the lectures and inspected the various exhibits, road making machinery and equipment in general which the train carries.

The attaches of the train took special pains to explain all the exhibits to the visitors, many of whom saw the workings of the machines for the first time and seemed greatly interested. The train consists of two flat cars carrying road making machinery; one baggage car which is fitted up as a demonstration car and contains numerous exhibits and models of country road construction, from the ordinary dirt road to brick paving. This car, which also has many views of roads "before and after" being treated to modern common sense methods of construction, proved a very interesting part of the exhibit. The next is a passenger coach in which the lectures and stereopticon views are given. The last is a coach for the accommodation of those accompanying the train.

Hon. C. A. Randall introduced his old friend and former legislative colleague, Col. John A. Woodward, who is no stranger to Forest county people, having lectured to them at the farmers' institutes heretofore. Col. Woodward is a very engaging speaker. He gave the principal lecture of the morning and his interesting talk was along the lines of good roads for the farmer especially and the whole state in general. Mr. D. H. Winslow, superintendent of road construction for the U. S. Government, illustrated his lecture with many stereopticon views, as did also Mr. J. T. Gephart of the highway department of Pennsylvania, and both were listened to with very attentive interest.

On the whole the visit of the train was a decided success and was greatly appreciated by the large number of farmers and others present, many of whom had come a distance of eight to ten miles to see and hear. Unquestionably this touring train will do wonders in awakening interest in and stimulating the good roads movement in this state.

The train is operated under the joint supervision of the United States Department of Roads, the State Highway Department, the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the Pennsylvania State College. The Government Department of Agriculture furnished the exhibits in the mail car and also two of the lecturers; the State Highway Department furnished three men and several of the stereopticon views; the Pennsylvania railroad company furnished the train and is operating it free of cost, and the College furnished the majority of the instructors.

The lecture force is composed of the following gentlemen, all specialists in their lines: Col. John A. Woodward, in charge of the lecture work and force; J. H. Dodge, road expert, and D. A. Isenberg, instructor in engineering from the Pennsylvania State College; D. H. Winslow and W. G. Wells, superintendents of road construction in the United States office of roads of the Department of Agriculture; J. T. Gephart and R. V. Haas, engineers of the State Highway Department.

RECENT DEATHS.

KAHLE.
Whereas it has pleased our Heavenly Father in His all wise providence to remove by death from Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Kahle their little boy, Vaughn, they nevertheless bow in humble submission to His will for He doeth all things well, and though they deeply feel the loss of their son and shall miss his cheery voice and smiling face, they now rest assured that he is one of the Master's jewels and is with the saints in glory everlasting. The lad was aged 8 years, 5 months and 28 days. L. G. STOVER, Siverly, Pa., March 20, 1911.

CARSON.
Ralph Carson died in New York City, at 6:30 Sunday morning, March 19, 1911, of pleuro-pneumonia, after a short illness. He was taken sick ten days before his death and within a few days was placed in the Flower Hospital. When his case became critical he was removed to the Rockefeller Institute, where he passed away, despite the best care of skilled specialists and nurses.

John Ralph Carson was the son of John T. and Anna (Sawyer) Carson, and was born in Tionesta, August 2, 1894. All his boyhood days were spent here, where he grew into a bright and manly youth. A year ago last November he went to New York and was living with the family at 150 Columbus avenue. During the past year he was employed as a window trimmer in the store of J. M. Gidding & Co., Fifth avenue at 46th street, importers of ladies' dress goods, and by them was held in high esteem. While in Tionesta he was a faithful student of the Presbyterian Sunday School. His last words to his mother were: "Mama, I am all right; don't worry. God bless you, mama, and Nellie." Besides the grief-stricken parents he is survived by five brothers and one sister, as follows: George Carson, of East Brady, Pa.; Mrs. Howard MacDougall, Harry, Charles, Richard and Meredith Carson, of New York. The body was brought to Tionesta Tuesday noon and taken to the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunter, where the funeral will be held this afternoon at two o'clock. The services will be conducted by Rev. H. A. Bailey, assisted by Rev. W. O. Calhoun. Interment in Riverside cemetery.

A Sorely Afflicted Family.
The family of N. B. Host, near Newmansville, has been called upon to pass through deep waters of affliction during the past three months. A daughter, Miss Bertha died on the 11th inst., from typhoid fever after an illness of three weeks' duration, hers being the second death to occur in the family from that disease within the past six weeks, the mother being taken about that time. Miss Bertha was one of the bright and highly esteemed young ladies of the community, and a school teacher of much promise. The father is the last victim of the disease but is reported to be growing better, and is expected to recover. Nine of the family were stricken with the disease at one time.

Another victim of the disease was Forest Alexander, whose death occurred on Thursday last, 16th inst. Mrs. Alexander is a daughter of Mr. Host and a near neighbor. She and her husband had been at the Host home to assist in the care of the sick, and he was stricken only a few days prior to his death. He had been troubled with a weak heart and it was this weakness which caused his death as he had been able to be up and around only the day before. Death came suddenly while he was talking with his wife. Feeling faint he sat down upon the edge of the bed and expired almost instantly. His age was 35 years, 2 months and 3 days. He was united in marriage with Miss Nellie Host six years ago, who survives him, also his father and a half brother. They had no children. The funeral, which was private, was held on Friday, Rev. M. B. Riley officiating, and interment was made in the Washington cemetery.

The people of the community in which these families reside have been very sympathetic and kind in their ministrations to the afflicted ones, and have done much to alleviate the sorrow and distress that has come upon them, and it is pleasing to note that the kindness thus shown has been and is greatly appreciated. It is also a matter of gratification to learn that all the afflicted members are again able to be up and around with the exception of Mr. Host himself, who, though still in a critical state, bids fair to recover.
