JUDGE O'GORMAN

Newly Elected Senator From New York in Washington.

O'GORMAN ELECTED SENATOR

Is Named Dewey's Successor After a Three Months' Struggle.

The Hon. James A. O'Gorman, supreme court justice for New York county, was elected United States senator in place of Chauncey M. Dewey, whose term expired March 4.

Senator O'Gorman received 112 votes, while Mr. Dewey received 87 votes. Necessary to choose 97. Senators Cobb and Cronin were paired, also Senator Floro and Hewitt, also Senator Newcomb and Grady. There were no pairs in the assembly and there were three absentees, Hollman of Nassau, Chanler of Dutchess and Cheney of Cattaraugus, who had been excused.

DOG SAVES NOVELIST'S HOME

Fox Terrier Awakens Robert Shackleton as Fire Rages in Author's Library.

Philadelphia, April 4.—Only the persistent efforts of a pet dog to awaken his master, Robert Shackleton, the novelist, saved his residence at Meadowbrook from destruction by fire, which had originated in a library well filled with antiques, perhaps the master's life.

Mr. Shackleton is greatly attached to the dog, which is a fox terrier, and it was permitted to sleep in the house. Shortly before dawn the dog attempted to awaken his master by scratching and whining at his door.

The novelist paid no attention until a half hour later, when the dog succeeded in thoroughly arousing him. Throwing open his bedroom door, he was almost overcome by the thick volume of smoke which filled the hallways.

After sending for the Jenkintown fire company, Mr. Shackleton fought his way to the library and succeeded in extinguishing the blaze before the arrival of the fire company.
