It appears that neither the Mexican nor the Lorimer situation can entertain much hope of permanent peace.

SPEAKER CLARK is now in a position to sympathize with a fellow who once made his living walking across Niagara on a tight rope.

TEXTOR'S famous poem "Crossing the Bar" was written said his son, in the poet's eighty-first year, on a day in October when we came from Aldworth to Farringford he had had the "mossing of the bar" in his mind, and after dinner he showed me the poem written out. "That is the crown of your life's work," said his son, who was the first man after the poet to read "Crossing the Bar" and who passed the first criticism upon it in such fitting and generous language "It came in a moment," said the poet and he explained the poet as the Divine and Unseen, who is always guiding us. A day or two before he died the poet, calling his son to his bedside said, "Mind you put 'Crossing the Bar' at the end of all editions of my poems."

The Excise Commission bill now before the legislature proposes to remove the granting of liquor licenses from hands of the judges and place that power with the commission composed of three persons appointed by the Governor. As at present proposed the bill applies only to counties having between 100,000 and 250,000 population, but this provision could easily be extended to other or all counties by future legislatures. The bill provides for $2,500 salary to each commissioner. A pretty fat "take" when it is remembered that their duties would keep them busy about ten days or two weeks in the year. It looks like a measure purely in the interest of the liquor traffic, and one calculated to stimulate the graft industry and promote a growth of conditions not now tolerated. It is one of those "snakey" pieces of legislation which should be very promptly killed not alone in the interest of good morals and temperance, but for practical and economic reasons as well.

WHY WE ADVERTISE IN THE NEWSPAPERS

Because we want you to know of the class of work turned out in our establishment. Because we cater to the intelligent class and they read the papers. Because we can talk to more people through the newspapers, at a greater distance, in less time and at a more reasonable price than in any other way. Because newspaper advertising brings the best results when placed in a first-class medium. Because we know it is seen and read by almost everyone in the house where the paper goes.

First National Bank Building. Lenses for the Eyes Exclusively.

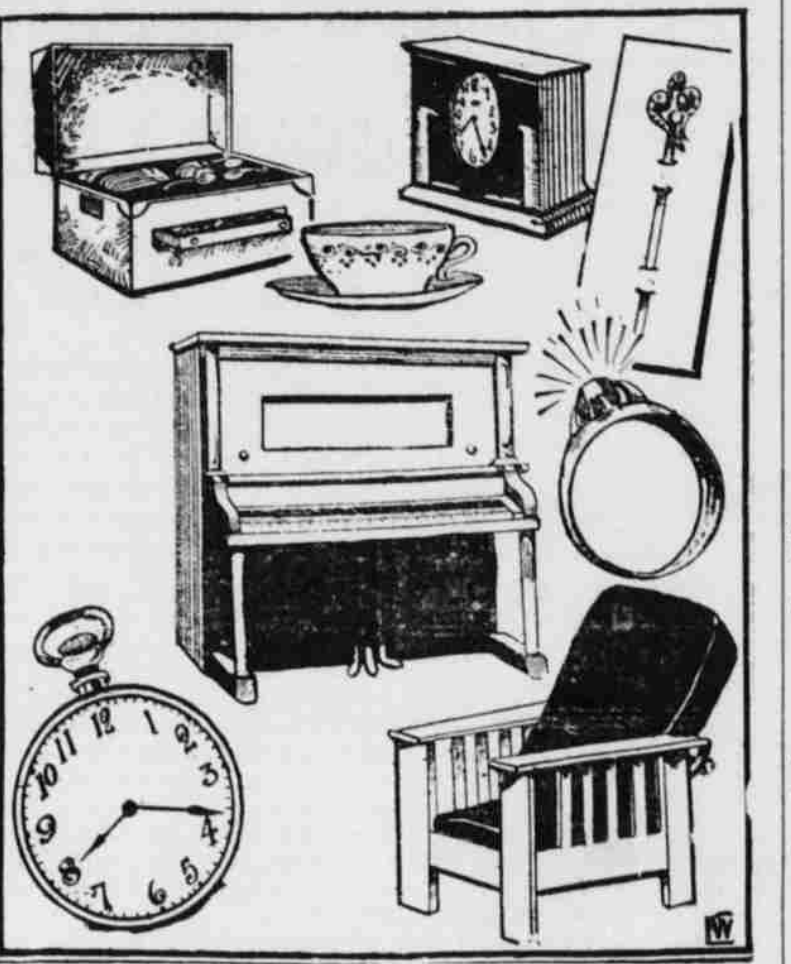

This Woman is no "Gadder."

To live within five squares of the court house and to pass that building not more than 20 times in 40 years is a record that is hard to beat. But that is the case with Mrs. David Dugan, who lives at the corner of South street and Second avenue. Last week one day Mrs. Dugan was compelled to visit the First National bank, and not knowing where it was, borrowed one of the neighbor's children to act as guide. Meeting Harry Stratton, teller of the bank, on the street, she was introduced and for the first time in her life was conducted into a bank. The officials upon learning who the visitor was, conducted her behind the railing and into the large vault displaying to her wondering eyes the sacks of gold and silver and packages of paper money, and explained to her the banking system and why they kept so much money on hand. This was her first visit across Fifth avenue in 40 years except last summer when by the kindness of Mrs. F. S. McCombs she had her first automobile ride over the town. During these years Mrs. Dugan had attended the Lutheran church about 18 times. She was born in Shannondale and is 63 years of age, and with her husband came to this place about 43 years ago. While she has been sick some of the time still she desires to visit the business section was not strong enough to induce her to make the trip down town. The only business houses with which she is acquainted are the stores of C. A. Rankie & Son and G. V. Phillips & Son. The rest are all new.—Clarion Republican.

1,000 Pieces of Beautiful Chinaware and $3,500 in Credit Purchasing Orders to be Distributed Among Successful Participants for Solving this Historical Puzzle.

Can You Find Seven Faces in This Picture? It Can Be Done.

DIRECTIONS—In this picture are ten faces. Can you find them? Outline each face on this or on a separate sheet of paper or other material and number them 1, 2, 3, etc. To the nearest correct answer we will give, absolutely free, one Upright Grand Piano; next nearest correct answer, one beautiful diamond ring; next five nearest correct answers, will receive in order, one morris chair, one chest of silver, one gold watch, one handsome clock, and one gold scarf pin. Next 1,000 nearest correct answers will receive, in order, an artistic piece of chinaware, and to every one who finds 6 faces we will give a valuable prize and a credit purchasing order given by the Piano Manufacturers whom we represent. Only one answer will be accepted from each family.

The Reason:

For years it has been a question where advertising money would bring the best results and after expensive magazine write-ups and large sums spent annually with traveling artists to play certain makes of pianos, we have made special arrangements with a number of manufacturers whom we represent to spend $3,500,00 with the people in this vicinity and give the money direct to piano purchasers. In event of a tie, identical awards will be made.
