Roosevelt Again Hits Nail on Head. Former Pre-ident Roosevelt has an article on "The Arbitration Treaty with Great Britain," in the Outlook. He says

But it would be absolutely intolerable to bind ourselves to arbitrate the questions raised by such invasions. If, for instance, instead of its being Mexican troops firing into our inland towns and killing our citizens. it happened to be an English or German or a Japanese fleet which, not once but again and again, fired into our coast towns, killing and wounding citizens, this nation would immediately demand, not arbitration, but either atonement or war. In the same way if a dispute arose between us and another nation as to whether we should receive enormous masses of immigrants whom we did not desire from that nation, no one who M. This is the sort of "hitting right from the shoulder" that appeals to the American people. It's the kind of policy that breeds respect for the greatest earthly nation and "keeps peace in the family." As usual Mr. Roosevelt strikes the nail squarely on the head.

But by great tact and good judgment the men got it completely extinguished in spite of the dry conditions that existed at that time. This same fire traveled up the creek and back over the hill causing no small amount of concern to the people having property in its possible path, until Monday of the past week it crossed Blue Jay creek and devoured some chemical wood for the Forest Company, A. D. Goal at Lynch lost two rigs, and the South Penn Oil Co. lost one near Blue Jay creek. Near Cooper Station over the hill was a lot of chemical wood that was cut by Brown of Mayburg but was prevented from removing the same by the late J. M. Clapp two years ago. This wood was licked up by the fire and made the best kind of a fire. The rain that followed was a very welcome thing and by some appreciated as a blessing from the Creator. Collins camp was in great danger just before the rain but the fire at that point was soon put out after the shower.

The S. & T, freight had a wreck near Hastings on Saturday evening on its return from Sheffield. In the train were two cars loaded with the mill machinery and connections from Henry's Mill going to Kellettville, and when the last car mentioned struck the frog at the log switch going up into the woods the car left the main track and went up the hill switch.
