While these words of a great man may be true concerning many men, even most men, we have a very notable exception in the case of the subject of this sketch, for his work, his life, his example are such that they cannot be forgotten. He was a most exemplary man; quiet, reserved, unassuming, unostentatious; but faithful and trustworthy, capable and efficient, filling many places of trust and honor within the gift of the people to bestow upon him. General manager and superintendent of the large interests of Wheeler & Dusenbury at Endeavor, Pa., township treasurer, and connected with the bridge, the roads and the schools of Hickory township, charter member and elder in the Presbyterian church, first and only superintendent of the Sabbath school, first president of the C. E. society, teacher of C. L. S. C., indeed, identified with everything intended for the betterment of men, his loss falls heavily upon the entire community. No wonder a this morning, where he will join Frank gloom fell over the whole village when the wires flashed out early Monday morning, "Mr. Warden passed away." Though gone from us, he shall live in the thoughts, York City, arrived here Saturday for an and memories, and minds and hearts and lives of those who knew him always; for to know him was to honor and esteem and love him.

> The following telegram received from one of his business associates now living in Portland, Oregon, is a proof of the estimation in which he was held by those who knew him best:

George W. Warden was born in Portville, N. Y., Dec. 27, 1854; married to Miss Sue Evans, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Evans, of Tidioute, Pa., Aug. 17, 1882, who survives him, together with three sons, George H., Gus E., Alton T., and one daughter, Mary Alice. His end came peacefully on June 12, 1911, after his last and only illness covering a period of several weeks.

Simple but most impressive services in memory of the deceased were held at his late home at Endeavor Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. These were conducted by his pastor, Rev. J. F. Scherer, who was assisted by Rev. S. F. Marks, pastor of Tidioute Prespyterian church and an old triend of the family. Both ministers spoke most eloquently of the beautiful life of Mr. Warden, and among the great company of friends that had gathered to pay their last tribute of love and esteem there was none but whose heart was touched with keenest sadness. A wealth of floral offerings hid from view the casket in which so peacefully reposed the slumbering form, attesting again how greatly his memory is cherished and revered. This morning the remains will be conveyed to Portville, N. Y., and after further services, will be laid to rest in the cemetery at his native home, by the side of his parents gone before. When it became known that Mr. Warden had passed away the hum of industry in the village was hushed, not a wheel in the mills turned and every kind of business was suspended, and will so remain until the closing of this day. CANFIELD.

Mary Ann Johnson was born in Glasgow, Scotland, Dec. 5, 1848. At the age of three years, she came with her parents to Neilltown, this county, and a brother of New York City, where she grew to womanhood. During the early days of the oil excitement, her parents were atyounger days. Mr. Carson emigrated to tracted to western Pennsylvania and found a new home at Petroleum Centre. Here their daughter Mary met Shelton S. Canfield, a young, attractive soldier, whom she married July 22, 1866. In 1880, Mr. and Mrs. Canfield came to Tionesta, where they won the respect and esteem of our citizens. In the home life Mrs. Canfield excelled as wife and mother. She Mayburg, and Miss Olive M. Whitehill, was traly a help meet to her husband, and fought the battle of life bravely at his side. They lived to enjoy the fruit of their labors and gather about them a fair competence of this world's goods. They were also blessed in seeing their two sons James and Harry, and five daughters, Kate (Mrs. G. T. Anderson), Lucy (Mrs. graduated from the Maryland Medical Frank Thomson), Janet (Mrs. Harry Bruner, of Oil City), Minnie (Mrs. Fred Davis, and Miss Maude grow to manhood and womanhood surrounded with the comforts of life. Although a respected member of the Methodist Episcopal church, her sympathies extended far beyond denominational barriers, and she found sweet fellowship among christians of all denominations, and enjoyed to worship with them. Bailey, of the Presbyterian church. The floral offerings were beautiful and abundant, which attested the esteem in which Mrs. Canfield was held, as well as by the large number of friends who had the privilege of attending her funeral. And, as the peaceful shadows were falling over the western hills, the remains of the beloved mother and friend were laid to rest in our beautiful Riverside cemetery to await the coming of our WHITNEY.

Mrs. Christiana Whitney died Sunday morning, June 11, 1911, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. N. Gilbert, in West Hickory, Pa., after an illness of four months, of dropsy. The deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs, Thomas McFadden and was born in the month of July, 1822, near Meadville, Pa. With the exception of about twelve years which she spent with her daughter in West Hickory, almost her whole life was passed in Crawford county. Early in life she was united in marriage with Noah Whitney, with whom she lived happily until his death twelve years ago. She was a woman of kindly christian character, beloved by all who knew her. Four daughters survive her, as follows: Mrs. M. N. Gilbert, West Hickory; Mrs. W. H. DeHart, Findlay, Ohio; Mrs. Margaret Beeman and Mrs. J. D. Gilbert, Tryonville, Pa. A short funeral service was held at her daughter's home in West Hickory, conducted by Rev. G. A. Barnard. The body was taken to Tryonville, where services were held at the home of Mrs. J. D. Electric Storm's Havoc.

The large farm barn of A. W. Albaugh on Albaugh hill, Hickory township, was struck by lightning about five o'clock Sunday evening during the heavy storm prevailing at that time. A valuable horse and a calf, the only livestock in the barn at the time were burned up, as were also all other contents of the building, including about all of the owners farming machinery and implements. The building was a fine one, 36x48 and 18 feet high. Almost instantly after being struck the entire structure seemed to be aflame and nothing could be sayed. Mr. Albaugh estimates his loss on barn and contents at $1,000, and there was an insurance of $500 on the structure, and a small amount on the contents. The loss falls very heavily on Mr. Albaugh just at a time when there is so much need of farm machinery.

Over in the lower end of Harmony township the storm was exceptionally severe. Charlie Emick's orchard was well nigh rained by the wind which stripped several apple trees and destroyed almost every peach tree on the lot. His garden was terribly hammered with bail stones, some of which were near the size of hen eggs. At the Donovan home, near Emick's, about all the outbuildings were blown over, and at the barn where most of their furniture has been stored since the burning of their house last winter, a large door was blown in, smashing the flying glass struck James Donovan on the arm cutting a deep gash on the wrist and causing much loss of blood before it twisted and bent out of shape. In the storm of Monday morning a bolt of lightning struck the residence o William Killmer, in this borough, tearing off some weather boarding and on the inside knocked over a curtain pole and broke some moulding on the baseboard in the reception hall. Mrs. Killmer sat a few feet from where the bolt entered, but aside from slight shock, was not injured

The barn of Henry McEnany at President, a short distance from the hote there, was fired by lightning Sunday evening. Fishermen and others came to the rescue and succeeded in getting out most of the machinery, but the building was destroyed. So were about two tons of hay, two bushels of oats and a calf was cremated.

The Ellis Hall nitro-glycerine magazine, near Edenburg, was struck by lightning exploding a large quantity of the glycerine and demolishing the buildings. There was no one near the premises at the time, but in many of the house in the town windows were shattered by

A team of work horses, eight milk cows, three calves, a number of pigs, 300 bushels of oats, about 150 bushels of wheat and a lot of other property were burned with the barn. Mr. Hoover's $3,000, on which he had an insurance of price of $5 a suit.
