REMNANT SALE.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 20, 21 and 22.

No single feature of the James Store Merchandizing System met with greater or more popular favor. Twice a year only were these Remnant Sales held and so extraordinary were the values offered that women who knew or their far-reaching economy waited for them each year. The Kinter Company will continue these Remnant Sales. The method of conducting them will be similar to that followed by the James Store. Those who come will note this difference- There is fully a third more remnants-those that have accumulated since James' last February Sale and those from The Kinter Company's $10,000 Sale of the James Stock. The fact that there's so many more Remnants will necessitate greater reductions in price and we predict the lowest prices of any Remnant Sale ever held in this city.

Remnant Sale Prices in the Millinery, Cloak and Suit Department.

This is in the nature of a distinct departure from the former methods of conducting Remnant Sales. Then the principal effort was put forth to sell Remnants. Now the Remnant Sale prices in the Millinery and Cloak and Suit Departments will be as effective and as forcible as though the article to be sold was a Remnant of Calico or Gingham. Read about Remnant Sale prices in the Millinery, Cloak and Suit Department. Every day since July 1 the salespeople have been busily engaged in measuring, ticketing and sewing Remnants, a task justified only by the important results attained.
