County Auditor. We are authorized to announce Bailey and LaFollette should go on the road and exhibit themselves in a tent. They might pass themselves off as a double headed calf.

County Auditor. THE Democratic party of Pennsylvania was never more hopelessly divided. In the recent past it was able to get a few offices through the help of the Keystones but now the Keystones have become disgusted and will refuse longer to flock with the minority wing of the Democracy.

County Auditor. A FIGHT between Jack Johnson, the big colored champion, and Bombardier Wells of England for the world's championship and $40,000, the battle to take place in England before September 30, has been arranged. Most Englishmen consider that Wells will have small chance against the heavyweight champion.

County Auditor. THIRTY-ONE state legislators have passed the resolution ratifying the proposed amendment to the Federal constitution providing for an income tax. Out of the 46 states 35, or two-thirds, must ratify the amendment before it shall become a part of the constitution, and as no state legislatures will be in session before next year, the proposition will go over till then.

County Auditor. THE word "Yiddish," the name of a language used by German and other Jews, being a middle German dialect developed under Hebrew and Slavic influences, is an evolution from the word "Judah," or "Judea." When the Hebrew race settled in Palestine a portion of that country was known as Judea, or in Hebrew, "Yehudah." The people were frequently referred to as Yehuda, and eventually the Jew in general was called a "Yud." Later, after the exile from Palestine, this was corrupted to "Yid," and the language, as well as other characteristics of the Jews, was described as "Yiddish." Recently the word "Yiddish" has come into general use and is now recognized as a permanent acquisition to the English language.—Punchy Spirit.

The democratic factions of Pennsylvania will gather at Harrisburg next Wednesday and will take another step in the direction of wrecking their party. The regular organization Democrats have gone their full length in advocating peace but the other fellows will hear to no peace proposals which will not guarantee their going as delegates to the next Democratic national convention. The regulars refuse to hear such unreasonable demands and of course if they should give ear to their selfishness they could not deliver their people to any bargain so palpably unfair.

The county commissioners of Carbon county, this state, have officially notified all candidates for nomination for ward, borough, township and election district offices, including school directors, that they will not be voted for at the September primary. The commissioners say that all nominations for such offices will be made by primary meeting of electors, caucus or convention of delegates held under the rules of the several parties and certificates of nomination therefrom duly filed in the office of the county commissioners at least eighteen days before November 1, or by nomination papers filed fifteen days before.

The people of the United States are steadily deserting the country and the farm for turmoil and delights of city and town, according to statistics made public by the census bureau. During the last ten years the percentage of people living in cities or other incorporated places of more than 2,500 inhabitants increased from 46.5 to 48.3 of the total. Twenty years ago only 36.1 per cent of the total population lived in such incorporated places. In classifying the 1910 census returns the bureau calls that portion of the population in the incorporated cities or towns of 2,500 or more inhabitants urban and the remainder rural. On this basis, in 1910, 42,823,383 or 46.3 per cent of the total, lived in urban territory, and 49,345,883 or 53.7 per cent in rural territory.

Election of School Directors. Candidates for nominations for school director under the provisions of the new school code will be required to specify on their nominating petitions this fall the term which they aspire to be elected and when nominations are made the length of term will be placed after the name of the office on the general election ballot in November. This ruling was made at the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth in response to inquiries from a number of counties as to the manner in which length of term for which men are to be nominated is to be determined. Under the provisions of the school code, directors will be elected in groups: For six, four and two years' terms. Each aspirant for a nomination must decide and announce the term for which he will be a candidate and cumulative voting or consolidation of votes a man may receive will not be permitted, it being the opinion of the state officials that each term constitutes a separate office.

Kellettville. Mrs. W. A. Kinch, son and daughter, Orin and Amy, who have been visiting relatives near Newmansville, returned home Monday.

Mary Henderson of East Hickory is the guest of Mrs. F. J. Henderson.

Martha and Harry Weber are visiting relatives at Oil City.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Watson spent a few days at Erie and Mill Village last week.

Mildred Weller of Newtown Mills was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Will Watson, over Sunday.

The Sunday School picnic held in the grove Thursday evening was well attended.

Jay Catlin has purchased the property belonging to Ed. Bauer, just below town. Mr. Catlin and family expect to move this fall.

The Y. W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mary Sizle Wednesday evening. After an interesting program had been rendered a chicken and ice cream supper was served by May Showers, Lauretta Dunkle and Anna Lease.

"King Burdo," one of Kribbs & Ray's most valuable horses died Monday evening.

For Lice on Poultry. From a poultryman in Chester, Pa., State Zoologist, H. A. Surfan, received at Harrisburg a letter, stating that his poultry is infested with lice of different kinds, and asked what to do to destroy them. The reply was as follows:

"There are two distinct groups of chicken lice, the little red ones which are mostly on the fowls at night, and remain during the day on perches or in the nests, or elsewhere in the poultry house, or near their roosting places; and, second, those which remain on the fowls practically all the time. These are generally larger and gray in color.

"For the former, the best thing to do is to spray the poultry house thoroughly with kerosene or kerosene emulsion, or strong lime-sulfur-solution, or strong soap solution, or perhaps best of all a five per cent. kerosene solution. One part creolin in twenty parts of water will destroy every one that it touches, and will act as a fungicide to destroy disease germs, as well as destroying the lice. At the same time, change the straw in the nests, burning the old straw, and spray or wash the empty nest boxes.

"For the lice on the fowls, you should just them with a mixture of flowers of sulfur, hellebore, tobacco dust, and pyrethrum, about equal parts, holding the fowls by the feet head downward, and rub this dust well into the feathers. I can give you some literature on this subject from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C."

—There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly falling to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Cheats the Gallows

Charles Hickman, who was to have been hanged in Beaver county yesterday for the brutal murder of his wife, was found dead in his cell in the Beaver jail yesterday morning from strychnine poisoning. He had always contended that he would not hang, and twice escaped from jail, but was recaptured.

Whig Hill.

After an absence of several days with friends "across the line," we return to find things going about the "same old way."

The glorious old holiday so much heard of must have settled hard on some persons seemingly, by reports of recent days, no doubt physically as well as financially.

The Rev. Barnard was on the hill on Sunday afternoon.

Some boys seem to pick berries, some days ago, became fatigued with the tiresome task, thought to fill their pails hastily and make tracks homeward. Therefore they played the part of Tom the Piper's son, only berries instead of piggy were their game. A bad practice, boys, take warning.

Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Delo of Erie are visiting at the home of the latter's brother, J. B. Shunk, Mr. D's. first visit back with his old home friends in ten years.

A number are preparing to attend camp meeting at Pleasantville, commencing the 27th.

Charles Smith of East Hickory visited his father here on Sunday last.

Misses Ariel and May Atwell of Church Hill spent last week with their aunt, Mrs. A. Emer.

Miss Zeida Hopkins of Kellettville was on the Hill on Saturday evening.

Mrs. B. Rudolph of Otter Camp spent Sunday at the home of her brother-in-law, Ed Rudolph.

A Pie Graveyard.

A story to this effect, and which we don't more than half believe, comes from Tidouote:

In the absence of a prominent young pastor the unlooked for fate of the pies and cakes which his fair parishioners have been showering on him for months has been discovered, and may heaven help him when he returns.

An oversupply of cakes, pies, tarts, muffins and the like, accumulated in the parsonage pantry, and a problem confronted the pastor. An athlete, he dared not eat the smallest gem of the lot; he could not give them away for fear of offending his parishioners, nor could he refuse to accept them for the same reason.

Tactfully he presented the matter to his housekeeper, who had been much annoyed at the frequent visits to the parsonage of women and girls bringing their baskets of pies and cakes. The housekeeper did not know what to do, so she called in her husband, the sexton. He said the only thing to do was to dig a hole in the far end of the garden and bury the pastry.

The minister readily agreed to this idea and binding the sexton to eternal secrecy instructed him to wrap the picnic provender in heavy paper and bury it at dead of night. The housekeeper's husband each evening after that would call for such pastry as had been brought during the day.

This had been going on a long time. The other day some telephone men who had been digging up an old pipe discovered the pie graveyard, and trouble now awaits the minister when he gets back.

The Tombigbee.

"Do you know the origin of the name of the Tombigbee river?" asked the well informed man. "Well," he went on, "it is Choctaw, every syllable, only the word is not 'Tombigbee'; it is 'Tom-bi Ik-bi' two words, the 'T' being short in each instance. Long ago Choctaws inhabited the section now embraced within the states of Mississippi and Alabama and traversed by the stream that song was about. Nearly a century ago a white man—a carpenter—came among the Indians. He lived on the banks of the stream and among other things made rude coffins for burials. Indians at that time 'buried' their dead upon an arbor supported by poles, but they gradually came to the white man's custom of burying in earth and went to the white man carpenter to get their boxes. From this incident, I am told, the stream received its name, 'Tom-bi' meaning box, and 'Ik-bi' meaning make or maker, only they added the word 'bi,' which signifies river or creek, so, literally translated, the combination means 'the river where lives the man that makes boxes.' Time as well as the Anglo-Saxon disposition to round corners in pronunciation Anglicized 'Tom-bi Ik-bi' into 'Tombigbee'—Wichita Eagle.

Happiest Girl in Lincoln.

A Lincoln, Neb., girl writes, "I had been ailing for some time with chronic constipation and stomach trouble. I began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and in three days I was able to be up and got better right along. I am the proudest girl in Lincoln to find such a good medicine." M'GINNITY WANTS $75,000

Newark Sporting Man Offered $60,000 For Club, but It Was Refused.

Newark, N. J., July 18.—Joe McGinnity has raised the ante on his Newark Eastern League Baseball club and Frank Miblon, the local sporting man who was ready to purchase the franchise, will not see him, so that it appears as if McGinnity will retain his club.

When an agent of Miblon, whom McGinnity had given a verbal option on the club for $60,000, sought to accept it the "Iron Man" jumped the price to $75,000. Miblon stood pat on the original offer and negotiations are at a standstill.

McGinnity also backed up on the option, declaring in an interview upon his return from Baltimore Sunday that the club was not for sale. Yesterday he said that if $75,000 was given and his partner, H. Clay Smith of Chicago, would agree to sell, why he would let go.

McGinnity's action in offering the club for sale on Wednesday last is believed to be due to pique as the result of the defeat of the Indians on that day by Providence.

CLASH EXPECTED ON MEXICAN BORDER.

Maderista Soldiers Refuse to Be Mustered Out of Service.

Washington, July 18.—Several dispatches which reached Washington from representatives of the government in Mexico and along its border indicate the situation between the federal authorities and the followers of Madero is increasing in seriousness. Consul Dye at Nogales reported that the conditions in that district were growing worse and that a clash between the federals and the Maderista soldiers was threatened at Guanaca over the attempt of the federal authorities to muster the Maderistas out of service.

Accordingly orders were telegraphed to General Duncan, commanding the department of Texas, temporarily suspending the order issued ten days ago for the withdrawal from the border of a portion of the troops now stationed along the Rio Grande, opposite Nogales.

LIGHTNING DOWN CHIMNEY

Fills House With Soot, Shocks Occupants and Blinds Woman.

Altoona, July 18.—A thunderbolt passed down the chimney of Joseph E. Hufford's home during a severe electrical storm yesterday afternoon and, in addition to filling the house with soot, Mrs. Hufford and her three children were shocked.

Mrs. James Burnett was sitting on her porch front across the street, engaged in sewing. The lightning knocked the needle from her fingers and temporarily blinded her.

You reap what you plant. plant some money in Our Bank AND REAP A RICH HARVEST. An Unsafe Savings Bank.—An Uister county farmer made a savings bank of the summer kitchen stove during the winter, and every spare one dollar or five dollar bill William got he stuffed into a tin box which he kept in the oven. When the hot weather finally came his wife concluded to start up the fire in this stove, with no suspicion of what might be in the oven. When she called her husband to breakfast and he discovered the hot stove he clamped the hot box out of the oven to find that his money was burned to a crisp.—Edmeston, N. Y., Local.
