The heat wave has reached Europe at last. Our multimillionaire tourists abroad, who ran away from it, are learning even in this world that intense heat can not be escaped by those to whom it is coming.

PRESIDENT SIMON of Hayti has taken to bed with nervous prostration because some of his policies were not acceptable to the people.

THE Cannonsburg Notes quotes our remark that more attention ought to be paid to securing safe and sane outdriving, and closes the editorial by saying that cheap red whisky causes more accidents than the average person suspects.

SAYS the New York Tribune: "President Taft's message to the Senate, giving in detail the history of the elimination from the forest reserves of 12,800 acres on Controlling Bay, Alaska, puts a quietus on one of the most remarkable 'near' scandals ever fabricated in American politics.

The profanity with which an alleged postscript to a letter on the files of the Interior Department was thrown to a credulous public and even offered to a committee of the House of Representatives, anxious to unseat sensations in its scrutiny of the work of the departments, has had few parallels in our history."

Just Playing Politics.

Politics is just now running riot in the United States congress. The best interests of the country at large have been forced aside with a view to promoting Presidential ambitions.

Republicans are having precious little to say in the work. They are suppressed. The insurgents or Progressives and the Democrats are in command.

These political elements unite and accomplish something that for the instant promotes the purposes of one or other of the many Presidential possibilities, but as a general rule they spend the time fighting.

They are simply sparring for time and position and all at the expense of the people. The Progressives are determined that La Follette shall be the candidate for the Presidency and are busy bringing grist to his mill.

The Democrats are just as determined that Mr. Underwood, or Speaker Clark shall be the candidate to succeed Mr. Taft. In the meantime the fight between these elements goes on with much bitterness.

Senator Boies Penrose, the accepted leader of the regular Republicans in the Senate, has announced that the interests of the whole people may best be served by an early adjournment of Congress.

He contends that no matter what bills are ground out through the selfish combination of the Democrats and Progressives the President will veto them. If Senator Penrose is able to force his judgment upon the warring factions Congress will adjourn finally within 10 days.

In the Nebraska Republican State convention last week President Taft's administration received the most unqualified endorsement, contrary to the boasts of La Follette and his insurgent following that it would be turned down. The convention advised the people to not countenance La Follette until it had a fair trial. The LaFollette didn't so much as get a look in with their presidential boomlet.

Cooksburg.

We are sorry to report that Jay Custer is very ill with typhoid fever. He is being attended by Dr. Brewer.

The story and song service given at Greenwood Sunday night was well attended and every one was well pleased. The story was well read and the singing was splendid. D. E. Wilson, under whose supervision it was given, can certainly be congratulated on this pleasing service.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Kurtz of Clarion visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Braden last week.

Miss Elizabeth Wray of Grove City is visiting friends in this vicinity.

A party of surveyors are making a survey down the Clarion river and we understand it is for a railroad. We certainly wish this to be true and hope to see Cooksburg a booming place in the near future.

Several of our people attended quarterly meeting at Clarion last Sunday.

Mrs. T. B. Cook and daughter Mary Louise left Friday for Atlantic City, where they expect to stay for a few weeks.

The blackberries are very plentiful in our vicinity and quite a number of our people are busily engaged in berry picking.

Harry Knight, who is employed at Mayburg, spent Sabbath with his parents.

The well that is being drilled on A. J. Cook's farm, had to be shut down on account of some break in the machinery.

Our people were surprised to learn of the marriage of Mrs. Knapp, of this place, to Mr. Miller, of Kingsville. We join their many friends in wishing them much happiness in their walk through life.

Mrs. Clarissa Paup of Kane is visiting friends here this week.

A great number of our people have been suffering from an attack of grippe, but we are glad to report them to be better.

Roy Braden went to Mayburg last Friday, where he will be employed on the planning mill.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Will Harte were pleased to get the announcement that a young son had arrived in their home. They were former residents of this place.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

"Billy" Cole Succumbs to Heat Stroke.

William Cole, with whom almost everybody in this community had been familiarly acquainted for many years past, is no more. His dead body was found beside the road leading from Pleasantville to Tionesta, a mile or so from the former place, Monday afternoon. Some children first found the body and gave the alarm. He had been at Pleasantville during the day and had evidently started for his home which he made with his brother, Andrew Cole, near the Bean farm, and when between the homes of Ernest Holtz and J. H. Botsford was either overcome by the heat or had heart trouble. He was taken to the latter's home and the county authorities were notified.

William Cole was born in Woodcock township, Crawford county, Jan. 12, 1846, and was therefore in his 65th year. His parents were Michael and Sarah Jane (Ryan) Cole, and his mother is still living, as are also the following brothers and sisters: Andrew, Frank, Ernest, Wesley, Alex., Charles Elmer, and Mrs. George Davis, of Shamburg, Pa. "Billy," as he was familiarly known in this community, was perhaps one of the best known characters in this section. Quite eccentric in his ways, but always good natured and contented with his lot, and everybody had a kindly feeling toward him, and many were the kindnesses shown by them in extending the little creature comforts upon his frequent visits to the community.

Peace to his ashes.

Whig Hill.

Mrs. Ellen White of Erie, Pa., is visiting her daughter and family here, Mrs. Chas. Price.

Mrs. Rachel Barber and grandson, Jay Barber, of Falls Creek, Pa., are spending a few weeks on the hill and attending campmeeting.

Miss Ethel Douglas and brother of Kelly Hill were on the hill on Sunday last.

W. F. Weingard is employed at Kellewille for a few weeks.

Boys, what about the serenades? All the musical apparatus or what not must have been in use. Sorry to disappoint, but better days will surely come.

Miss Dorothy Shunk spent several days at Niagara Falls the past week, returning Saturday.

With six ministers in attendance at the campmeeting, there is truly no excuse for not hearing the word expounded.

How to Recognize Mushrooms.

Never gather or eat fungi that grow in woods or that have white gills. Avoid all those that you cannot positively identify as the common or edible mushroom that is known to the scientists as agaricus campestris. In all parts of the world in which this fungi grows, it is known and used as a food. If its characteristic and habit are memorized there is little danger of its being confused with the poisonous growths. Its stalk is from two to six inches in height and never more than an inch in diameter. On the upper end of the stalk is an umbrella-shaped cap, the color and thickness of which varies. The cap may be white or cream color or running the gamut of shades down to deep brown. The stem is usually of a cream tint and has near the cap a ring of material sometimes called the annulus, which forms a protection for the delicate under-surface of the cap. On this under-surface are the gills or lamellae. In the early stages of the growth of the mushroom these gills are pink; later they turn brown or even brownish black. The agaricus invariably grows in open fields and meadows. It is never found in woods or shaded places. If the casual visitor to the country will remember this he can eliminate ninety per cent. of this danger.—From Physical Culture for August.

Seemed to Give Him a New Stomach.

"I suffered intensely after eating and no medicine or treatment I tried seemed to do any good," writes H. M. Young, Editor of The Sun, Lake View, Ohio. DOG SAVES WHOLE FAMILY

House Ablaze and Stairway Cut Off When Barking of Animal Rouses Sleepers.

Baltimore, Aug. 1.—A collie saved the family of Moses Fedder from death early yesterday morning. While the family slept fire started in the house and the dog went about barking until finally Mrs. Fedder was awakened to find the rooms filled with smoke. By the time she had aroused the others the flames had cut off the approach to the stairway, and the members of the family were forced to crawl out the windows to the cornice and then to the adjoining house, whence they were taken down on ladders.

One of the Fedder boys was missing and firemen, rushing back into the house, found him unconscious. He was revived with some difficulty.
