—Mrs. Katherine E. Watterson, of Muzette, this county, was lately granted a widow's pension of $12 per month. Just five days elapsed between the date the evidence necessary to establish her claim was filed in the pension office and the date of granting the same.

—Rev. Father Geo. Meyer, for a short time located in Titusville, for seven years pastor of St. Agatha's church, Meadville and for 20 years thereafter pastor of the Fryburg, Clarion county church, died recently in Germany, aged 65 years. About three years ago he went to his old home hoping to improve his health but received no relief. Many older residents about Fryburg remember him.

—The borough school opened Monday for the term with a very good attendance for the first day, the enrollment being as follows: Primary, No. 1, 32; No. 2, 31; No. 3, 29; No. 4, 24; No. 5, high school, 41. The teachers of the rooms in the order named are: Miss Blanche Pease, Miss Katharine Osgood, Miss June Herman, Miss Ida Paap, Harry A. Smith, assistant principal, F. W. Gill, principal.

—Preliminary surveys are being made on Johns run for the proposed railroad of Coleman & Watson with a view to reaching their timber on the Clapp tracts. The engineers believe that they can get over the hill on a fairly good grade that will cross the public road out on Smokey hill beyond Fild Wentworth's place, and from there a nice grade can be obtained down the other slope and into the big timber.

—The catalogue and premium list of the Brookville fair, which is to be held Sept. 12, 13, 14 and 15, has reached this office and is a handsome specimen of the printer's art from the press of the Brookville Republican, covering about 70 pages of matter. This association's fairs are always attractive and up to date, and this year's effort promises to eclipse all others in the matter of interesting exhibits and attractions.

—Wanted.—Good Housekeeping Magazine requires the service of a representative in Tionesta to look after subscription renewals and to extend circulation by special methods which have proved unusually successful. Fairbanks, Good Housekeeping Magazine, 381 Fourth Ave., New York City. 24

—The incessant rains of the past few days, aided by a few cloudbursts toward the head of the river, has set the old Allegheny on a rampage, and we are having the highest August flood in years. High tide was reached last evening when the banks were full and running over in many places, but this morning finds the water receding. Barges and boats that have been awaiting a rise, will have fine sailing for the lower market as soon as the water drops a few feet.

—Veterans of this section who had intended going to Erie to attend the reunion of the 83d Reg't, should bear in mind that the date has been changed from the 16th to 15th of September. The 15th falls on Friday, thus giving those who desire to do so an opportunity to return home on Saturday. Doubtless a number of the survivors of this famous old regiment will attend from this section where Co. G was recruited, and where quite a number of its survivors still reside.

—The A. Cook Sons Lumber Company have been extensively manufacturing lumber at their saw mill at the mouth of Millcreek, on the Clarion river, for several years past, the lumber so manufactured being obtained from the R. Rulofson tract, the standing timber on which was bought by that company. It is reported that they will exhaust the timber on the tract within the next six weeks, and that thereupon they will tear down and remove the saw mill at the mouth of Millcreek.

—Students who attend the Lock Haven State Normal School are always well pleased with their choice. They not only have home like surroundings and more than ordinary conveniences but they receive the personal attention of the Principal and faculty. Their health is safe guarded as well as their morals and parents can always feel that their children are well cared for at this school. The management of the school invites visits from parents and those interested in the great cause of education. Write for its catalogue. It —A handsome catalogue has just been issued by the State Normal School at Clarion, Pa. It is beautifully illustrated and gives in detail important information concerning the moral, intellectual, social and physical activities of the School. The frontispiece is a beautiful panoramic view (nine by twelve) of the campus and its seven buildings. Full and complete information is given concerning the new course of study which goes into operation this Fall. The register of the School shows nearly eight hundred students in all of its departments. The Training School connected with the institution will have one of the best equipments in the state.

—There is a strenuous objection on the part of many residents of Warren over the fee charged by the doctors for vaccinating. When the law was first enforced the process was done for 50 cents and some physicians would do it for 25 cents, but now they are not satisfied with less than a dollar, and it pulls pretty hard on the workingman whose wages are little better than enough to allow him a hand-to-mouth existence, leaving out of consideration his efforts to give his children an education. It is little less than outrage that the state forces parents to submit their children to the uncertainties of vaccination and then allows the doctors to hold them up to the tune of a dollar per head.—Mirror.

—Messrs. P. W. Lindsay and Jas. A. Whalen, attaches of the Pittsburgh Dispatch, who have been rusticated at the old camping ground on an island near Jamestown station, haven't had the smoothest of sailing since pitching their tent, having been driven from home several nights by almost incessant wet weather. Monday night the flood reached their tent, the floor of which was under a foot or two of water, and they were obliged to desert it altogether until the weather man gets over his tiff and does out a decent article. The young men are not inclined to knock on their luck, however, but are finding congenial company in the town to help break the aquatic monotony.

—At a prettily appointed function at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Fitzgerald, Marienville, Pa., their daughter, Miss Jennie F. Fitzgerald was united in marriage with Fred J. Bortzer, in the evening of 22d inst., the officiating clergyman being Rev. H. E. Phipps of the M. E. church. Only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony in which the pretty ring service was employed. The bride is one of Marienville's most estimable young ladies and has many friends in that community, while the groom is a worthy young business man of that place who stands high in the estimation of its people. The best wishes for a long and happy life is extended by all who know them.

—If you have not yet made up your mind as to the choice of your school for the fall term, write to the Lock Haven State Normal School for a catalogue. There are still a few rooms that can be secured, although the coming year promises to be the largest in the history of this school. It has an ideal location, fine location, fine equipment, and in some respects the best Training School in the state. Its library is also one of the most attractive, is carefully catalogued and is made up of a fine collection of books. Students are taught how to use the library and when they graduate they are capable of organizing small libraries in the public schools. Its laboratories are arranged in such a way that each individual student has a table to himself. It has organized a working museum which is both attractive and useful. The fall term begins September 11th. It —The item in last week's News regarding the twenty six men who went from Tidoute to Jamestown in '61 to join Capt. Cloney's company, James E. Smith writes from Jamestown, N. Y., that he is one of "the boys," but that he knows of only one other survivor—Wm. R. Reck, living near Bradford. Perhaps there are others, and if so let us know. We are certainly glad to hear from Mr. Smith.—Tidoute News. It is with sorrow we correct Mr. Smith by the announcement that Mr. Reck has also responded to the last roll call, having passed away at his home in Bradford just one year ago this month. We believe if the News will correspond with Hon. Oliver Byerly, of Ostrander, Washington, it will find one of "the boys" who was with the company referred to. Six or eight young men from East Hickory, or Beaver Valley, went out together, but all now are gone excepting Mr. Byerly, who, we hope, is still hale and hearty in his western home.

—Peter Curcio, an Italian, aged 31 years, was brought to jail last Wednesday by Constable J. W. Grove, of Kingsley township, under a very serious charge preferred by Mrs. M. L. Hoover, of Hastings. Curcio was employed as a section hand on the S. & T. railway and on Tuesday about noon appeared at the Hoover home. He enticed Mrs. Hoover out of the house by saying that one of her family was lying in the yard and needed her help. As she stepped outside he made a felonious attack upon her and threw her to the ground. He had a large knife in his hand and threatened to kill her if she made an outcry. Mrs. Hoover screamed lustily and several neighbors heard her cries and came to the rescue, frightening Curcio away before he did her any harm. In the evening the constable placed Curcio under arrest at Buck Mills and at a hearing before Squire George Zuendel at Kellettville he was bound over to September court without bail. Curcio has been in this county about three years and had been employed at Hastings for two months.

Dwelling House Burned at Nebraska.
A dwelling house at the railroad town, above Nebraska, occupied by Roy McCanna and family, was destroyed by a fire which broke out about 9:30 Saturday morning. Practically all of the household goods were burned with the house, only a few small pieces of furniture being saved. The family was absent from the house and the origin of the fire is not known. The loss is a heavy one to Mr. McCanna, as he had no insurance. The house was owned by Mr. Collins and the loss will be small, as the house was a small one.

—Mrs. R. L. Haslet and twelve members of the Juvenile Thimble Club, of which she is president, called at the M. E. parsonage on Saturday evening, and after a pleasant social hour, presented Rev. and Mrs. W. O. Calhoun with a set of solid silver teaspoons. It is needless to say that the kindness of the club was greatly appreciated.

—Cashier A. B. Kelly of the Forest County National bank returned last week from a two weeks' visit with friends in Chicago. While in that city Mr. Kelly witnessed the aviation events in which two of the birdmen lost their lives, and from a window in one of the high buildings had a good view of Wm. R. Badger of Pittsburg, when his machine careened and fell to the ground in front of the grandstand. The sight was a most shocking one to the thousands who witnessed the death plunge.

Water Rights Outrage Likely to Go Through.

Hon. N. P. Wheeler of Endeavor, Hon. F. K. Kreidler of Nebraska, with their attorney, T. F. Ritchey, Esq., appeared before the board of Water Commissioners at Harrisburg, last week, to further protest against the granting of charters to a private corporation for taking over the water rights of Tionesta creek and Clarion river. Clarion county was also represented at this meeting by able counsel. Judging from the line of argument advanced by the Commission the protesting parties were led to believe that the charters will be granted and the privileges which now are vested in the citizens as a whole will be given over to a corporation to do with as it pleases. It doesn't seem possible that such an outrage could be perpetrated on the community, but unless a protest such as will expose the scheme in all its hideous phases is presented, that is just what will happen. When the Water Commission was first created it was for the purpose, as every-body supposed, of conserving the water rights of the state to its people, and to prevent the grabbing of these rights by private individuals or scheming corporations, but it seems that the very opposite of this is likely to be carried out by the Commission.

If, as these incorporators propose, dams three hundred feet high are placed in Tionesta creek and the Clarion river, vast portions of Forest, Clarion, Jefferson, Elk and Warren counties will be completely drowned out, and property to the extent of many millions of dollars will be utterly destroyed. Besides this, such a stupendous volume of water would be a constant menace to the lives of people living in the Allegheny valley between this and Pittsburg. Should a dam of such proportions burst—and there is always danger of such a thing—such cities as Oil City, Franklin and others would be submerged in fifty feet of water and not a building would be left standing.

The two Clarion papers cover the points in this scheme so fairly that we give below what each has to say. In the meantime let our people get busy and stop the outrage:

The Clarion Republican: "The Water Commission at Harrisburg held another hearing last Tuesday on the granting of the Clarion River charters. Don. C. Corbett, Esq., was present and with A. L. Cole, Esq., of DuBois, and the Forest county people protested against the granting of these charters. From the indications it is taken that these charters will be granted in the near future. The law has been such that where these charters have been granted that the applicants were to begin operations within two years and if not the matter was then brought before the Judge of the county wherein the property was situated and it was his duty to either extend the charters or declare them null and void. During the last legislature a bill passed through that body very quietly taking this power out of the hands of the local Judge and placing it in the hands of the State Water Commission. Had these charters been granted and no work done within two years there is little doubt but that a local Judge would have revoked the charters but in the hands of the Water Commission it will be different. The indications are that the charters will be granted, possibly a little work done, then the United States government will be rushed along in the matter of their building of flood dams and these charters with their holdings will be for sale. Should two years not be sufficient time to get the government fully started then the charters will be renewed. These conditions are hard on business people in this section who have been working in the coal matter as they do not know whether to go ahead and open the coal fields or wait, not knowing as to whether they will get their money out or not. But the indications are that the charters will be granted and the Clarion river harnessed and furnishing a great power for manufacturing plants on paper at least.

From the Clarion Democrat: "A very short notice was served Monday upon the attorneys in Clarion, who represent parties opposed to the granting of the water rights along the Clarion river and Tionesta creek, to parties who want to use the charters for speculative purposes, that another hearing would be granted on Tuesday by the Water Commission of the State. To say the least, it looks very suspicious for the Water Commission to appoint hearings at such short notice. It makes it appear that they would like to catch the opponents of the charters off their guard, or wear them out with hearings and because none were present to protest, proceed to grant the charters, in spite of the fact that practically every land owner along the Clarion and the Tionesta and many citizens to the number of 2300 in Clarion county alone, have filed a standing protest against the charters. If the state of Pennsylvania wants to conserve the water resources of the Clarion and Tionesta and will take possession of them to develop them under state control, as it is now doing with forest reservations and good roads, the people will probably very readily consent. But to have their rights taken from them to be conferred upon a select few, as a special privilege by which they can and will exploit the masses of the people for their own personal benefit, will meet with a most determined opposition. It must be remembered by the state Water Commission that it has no right to arbitrarily favor the granting of these charters. It was formed to conserve the resources and protect the rights of the people, and it must do so in good faith, or it will be held into the courts to answer for its actions. Just because three or four men can raise $50 to pay the bonus on a charter for a company with a capital stock of $5,000, or a like amount on a dozen such charters, is no just reason why they should be given the right to take over to their own use and benefit hundreds of thousands (if not millions) of dollars worth of property belonging to individuals and the people at large. The State Water Commission's job is precisely to prevent any such deals, and it ought to get 'onto its job.' The people of Clarion and Forest counties are solemnly warned that they must be wide awake on this matter or the very ground and water (possibly the very air) will be filched from them before they are aware. Have the people not suffered enough or are they not suffering enough now, the oppression of corporations without giving them the right to speculate upon the very sources of life?"

My Kingdom for a Raincoat

How often one has felt that way on a rainy, windy day. Raincoat comfort is worth almost any price at such a time. But the modern raincoat does not confine its usefulness to rainy days. Any day that is not too warm is a good raincoat day and the coats have a style and dash that is in perfect harmony with the clothes of the well dressed man. Light and windproof, they are less cumbersome and more comfortable than the heavier overcoat and answer its every purpose except in the extreme below-zero weather.

Raincoats

That are made and tailored to stand up under the hardest kind of service at $15, $16.50, $20 and $25. The $25 coat is lined through the shoulders with Skinner's guaranteed satin and is made by one of the finest raincoat makers in the land.

Slip-ons

Were manufactured to start with as a strictly wet weather coat but have been put to so many other uses that they are now an all-round garment for either wet or dry weather—$5, $10, $15 and $20.
