—Work of widening the narrow gauge road of the B. & O. railroad is progressing rapidly and the rails have been laid as far as Sheffield Junction south. —Dr. Nelson W. Shugert, of Tidoute, died suddenly in that place Tuesday morning. He was aged about 52 years. Two sisters, Misses Mary L. and Gertrude Shugert, survive him. —The burning of the A. Cook Sons Co. saw mill at Bond, Md., Aug. 31, briefly mentioned last week, caused a loss of $50,000, with an insurance of $90,000. The mill had been running only a short time since it was rebuilt. It is quite likely that it will be rebuilt at once, as the firm owns a large tract of timber in that section.

—Harry Wertz, of the borough, has settled to his satisfaction the fact that spraying of fruit trees pays. While the blossoms were falling in the spring he sprayed an apple tree standing in front of his house and this week handed us a sample taken from this tree, which proves that just as large and perfect fruit can be raised here as in Oregon or any other state.

—Two pens of homing pigeons from Rochester, N. Y., were received here by Adams Express Saturday noon and were liberated by Agent W. C. Inel Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. The birds wasted no time in striking the northern course, directly up the river, and in a few minutes were out of sight. There were 65 birds in the two pens and they were shipped here by John Stewart, of 37 Nellis Park, Rochester, N. Y.

—Miss Lena Anderson, of Brookston, left Friday evening for Atlantic Highlands, N. J., where she has been re-elected to teach at an increase of salary of seven hundred dollars.—C. A. Anderson, of Brookston, left the last of the week for Big Run, where he is principal of the schools. This is his third term as principal of the schools of that place, indicating that he is giving satisfaction and is successful.—Sheffield Observer.

—One of the Italians employed on the extension of the S. & T. railroad at this place, narrowly escaped fatal poisoning by eating toothpicks in mistake for mushrooms, last Wednesday. The man gathered and ate freely of the supposed mushrooms for his supper and when Dr. Dunn was called to see him Thursday morning was suffering intensely. He was unconscious and delirious for nearly twenty-four hours, but is now able to be back at his work.

—Jay Range, of Stewart Run, cut a bad gash in his left foot last Thursday while making ties. The tendons of the big toe and the arteries were severed and he will be laid off from work for a number of weeks. He came to town and Dr. Dunn gave him surgical attention. A somewhat similar accident happened to Matthew Elliot, of Stewart Run, the same day, who cut a gash in the ball of one of his big toes while splitting wood. He came to town and Dr. Dunn gave him attention.

—At a meeting of the official board of the Methodist Episcopal church Monday evening a unanimous vote was had in favor of the question of the return of Rev. W. O. Calhoun to the churches of Tionesta and Nebraska. Hoo, F. X. Kreitler, of Nebraska, G. F. Watson and Dr. J. C. Dunn of Tionesta, were appointed a pulpit committee to present the wishes of the congregation to the conference and they will go to DuBois the last of the week, T. D. Collins, of Nebraska, will also be present.

—John Anderson, a well known contractor, died suddenly Saturday morning, Sept. 10th, at his home in Oil City, following a brief illness from cholera morbus. He will be remembered by our local readers as one of the firm of Anderson & Putnam, who laid part of the brick paving on Elm street, in this borough, during the past two years. He was a native of England and was 47 years of age. He is survived by his wife, two sons and three daughters. The funeral services were held Tuesday morning at St. Joseph's church.

—Hon. Willis B. Benedict, aged 73 years, one of the most widely known citizens of Titusville, a former member of the legislature, once mayor of Titusville, and one of the few men engaged in the oil business since 1859, died suddenly at 10 o'clock Sunday morning at his home in that city. His wife, four sons and one daughter survive him. He was a brother-in-law of Judge Samuel D. Irwin, of Tionesta, his second wife being Jennie Irwin, who died in April, 1877. Mr. Irwin attended the funeral, which was held at the family home Tuesday afternoon. Interment was made at Enterprize, his birthplace.

—Mrs. Stella Hodge, who made herself notorious by her numerous "confessions" in the Emile Amanan murder case, was released from the Warren jail last Wednesday and quietly slipped out of town, going to East Smithfield, Bradford county, Pa., to make her home with a brother. The grand jury did not believe her confessions and refused to indict her for murder, and the authorities decided not to prefer any other charges against her. A charge of perjury might have been made and the question of her sanity could also have been raised. In her last statement to a reporter, just before her release she stated that she did not know anything at all about the case and that's more likely to be the truth than any other statement she has made.

MRS. JENNIE McANINCH, LAMARTINE, PA.

LAMARTINE, PA., September 7, 1911.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—Mother wishes me to say to the people of Tionesta that she appreciates very much their kind remembrance of her on her ninety-second birthday, which occurred recently. She feels very grateful for this mark of respect, for it calls to her mind the many pleasant visits she made in Tionesta during the time her son was pastor of the Presbyterian church. At present she is well and is able to take care of her room. She can walk about the house and goes to church frequently. She can read an hour at a time without becoming weary. She seldom ever misses a meal at the table and is contented and happy. Time is dealing very kindly with her and we scarcely notice that she is growing older. She bids fair to round out the century but we do not know what a kind providence may have in store for her.

Her son,
D. L. McANINCH.

No New Trial for Andrews.

In an opinion handed down in court at Warren, Saturday, Judge W. D. Hinckley refused a new trial to John M. Andrews, convicted of the murder of Emile Amanan on the night of January 27th, last. Judge Hinckley said in part that "the crime of murder in the first degree, was so clearly and absolutely established by the evidence on the part of the commonwealth that there was not a suggestion of any lack of such proof and no evidence was offered on the part of the defendant to controvert it." * * * The trial was conducted fairly and impartially. * * * We discover no substantial grounds for basis of the reasons for new trial, most of which are of purely technical nature. Neither do we think that the alleged reasons based upon after discovered evidence have been made out as shown upon the hearing. The alleged confession of Stella Hodges is of such a character and made under such circumstances that it must be discredited."

The sentence of death will be pronounced upon Andrews some time this week. His attorneys will then begin their preparation for an appeal to the supreme court. They will have twenty days in which to make the appeal and afterward five weeks to prepare their paper book, carrying the evidence, and make their argument before the higher tribunal. The final decision in the case will come late in the fall or possibly not before the first of the year, as there is an immense amount of testimony for review.

RECENT DEATHS.

DOWNING.

Andrew Humphrey Downing was born Jan. 1, 1839, in Cranberry township, Venango county, and died Sept. 7, 1911, at his home in Kellettville, Pa., aged 73 years, 8 months and 6 days. In the year 1864 he enlisted in Co. L, 4th Pennsylvania Volunteer Cavalry, Captain John P. Barr, for one year, and received an honorable discharge July 1, 1865, having served his time. The first captain of this company was Allender S. Duncan, and the second was Wm. B. Mays. Our fellow citizen, Hon. R. B. Crawford, and S. W. Pryor, of Tionesta township, were also members of this company. Our subject was a good soldier and his military career was an honorable one. He took part in several of the most decisive battles of the Civil war, among which were Hatches Run, Petersburg and Malvern Hill. He was married Feb. 12, 1877, to Rebecca Watson, of Red Brush Mills, where he was employed at the time, to which union two sons were born, both deceased, one being taken when only a small boy, the other after he had reached young manhood. In their early married life they moved to Kellettville and lived on a farm about town for a number of years. On selling the farm they bought a house and lot in town, where they resided at the time of his death. His parents died when he was only a small boy and he was left to depend largely upon his own resources through his entire life. Since leaving the farm he has been employed on the mill, where he worked until failing health compelled him to give up work about one year ago. His was a quiet unassuming nature. He had the respect and good will of all his fellow workmen and counted a friend with every acquaintance. He was a good neighbor and an indulgent husband and father. During the last year of his life he sought and found God to the salvation of his soul, departing this life with a firm faith in the realities of a christian life. He was a member of the United Workmen and of Capt. Geo. Stow Post, G. A. R., at the time of his death. Funeral services were held in the M. E. church at Kellettville, Sunday, Sept. 9, Rev. W. O. Calhoun officiating. Interment in the Zuendel cemetery, on German Hill. The floral offerings were beautiful, among them being a large standard wreath presented by his fellow workmen on the mill. He leaves his wife to mourn his loss.

WHITMAN.

Seldon W. Whitman was born at Lockport, N. Y., December 15, 1815, and died from the infirmities of old age on Friday morning, Sept. 8, 1911, at the home of his son, Charles Whitman, of Ackley, Warren county, Pa. He was a son of Daniel and Rebecca Jane (Butterfield) Whitman early settlers near Sugar Lake, Crawford county, Pa., where the subject of this sketch grew to manhood, and where in the year 1843 he was married Lavina Sterling, whose death occurred some eight years ago, since which time he has made his home with his two sons in Warren county. Some sixty years ago he secured a patent on a vacant strip of three hundred acres of finely timbered land located in Tionesta township, this county, where he erected a cabin and cleared the land, and which today is one of the finest and best kept farms in the county. The apple orchard on this farm is famous both far and near for the excellent quality of its fruit, and has frequently been referred to at the Farmers' Institutes held in this place. During the early oil excitement he manufactured his timber into rig stuff, which he floated by waded to the lower markets and sold at good prices. He also manufactured and sold and delivered by water to the Allegheny Valley Railroad company, then building between Oil City and Pittsburgh, four thousand white oak railroad ties and other timber for trestles and bridges. When the court house and jail were being built here he donated free of charge all of the timber that went into the jail building. He was an honest, industrious, energetic citizen, in whom there was no guile, kind and gentle to the weaker ones, but stern and very determined in everything which he undertook. He was always hopeful, cheerful, buoyant, and his happy disposition, no doubt lengthened his days and made him the happy old man that he was. He was the father of fourteen children, nine of whom survive as follows: William H. and George W., of Kiefer, Oklahoma; John K., of Salina, Kansas; Mrs. John Wolf, of Newmansville; Mrs. John Weant, Mrs. Eimer Mealy and Simon P. Whitman, of Tionesta; Perry J. and Charles, of Ackley, Warren county, Pa. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Mary Evans, and one brother, Daniel Whitman, both residing in the State of Michigan. The body arrived here on Saturday and was conveyed to the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Wolf. At ten o'clock Sunday morning impressive funeral services were conducted by Rev. G. A. Garrett, before a large assemblage of people in the Free Methodist church at Newmansville, followed by the interment in the Lutheran cemetery near that place.
