-Mr. and Mrs. Ray A. Cole, of Nebraska, were called upon to mourn the loss of their baby son, aged 2 months and 16 days, whose death occurred on Saturday after an illness of but a few hours. The funeral was held Sunday, with interment in Riverside cemetery. The parents desire to thank their friends and neighbors for kindness shown them in this bereavement.

-Relatives in this county have been apprised of the death, some three weeks ago, of John V. Woodford, at the home of his daughter in San Diego, California, where he had made his home for several years past. Mr. Woodford was aged about 81 years, and was for many years a prominent and honored citizen of Hickory township, and as such is remembered by a large portion of the residents of this community.

-Peter Hedges and Harry Knapp, both of Warren, were burned in an explosion of gas on the lease of Mr. Hedges at Blue Jay, this county Sunday. A drilling well had been drilled to the sand and opened a pocket of gas which ignited from the fire in the forge, enveloping both men in the flames. They were taken to Warren for treatment. It will be weeks before Mr. Hedges will be able to leave his home, but the injuries of Knapp are less serious.

-The Prohibitionists of Hickory township have nominated the following ticket: Judge of election, Guy Hilliard, 2 years; inspector, D. E. Wright, 2 years; supervisor, S. E. Church, 4 years; assessor, J. L. Klimesitter, 4 years; school directors, Miss Leona Bowman, 6 years, Mrs. Mary Enert and Mrs. Minerva McCullough, 4 years, Mrs. Arley Lynch and Mrs. Kate Albaugh, 2 years; auditor, W. O. Hazelton, 4 years; constable, Wm. Stover, 4 years.

-Attention is directed to the ad. of D. H. Blum, representing the extensive tailoring establishment of J. L. Taylor & Co., New York. Mr. Blum is prepared to take your order for anything in his line, with a fit, style and workmanship guaranteed behind every garment, and at a price which cannot be duplicated by any other firm, quality of goods and workmanship considered. Step in and allow David to show you his stock, corner of Elm and Bridge streets.

-Mike Pipik, the Sheffield youth who, with his brother John Pipik, was charged with the killing of David Gustafson last March, was acquitted by a jury in the Warren county courts last Saturday after 45 minutes' deliberation. Thus both have been adjudged guiltless within a week and will be released from custody, although the charge of assault with intent to kill still hangs over them. Much surprise and indignation is felt in Sheffield, where the murder was committed, over the verdict rendered.

-Honorable Peter Berry, of Plumer, has demonstrated that with a little attention and scientific treatment that section of Conrail township is capable of growing the finest grapes. He brought a few samples, in color, size of each individual grape and the number in the cluster, the exhibit will compare favorably with the besthouse fruit known as Malaga. In making his offering Mr. Berry attached a note that they are "home grown" and it is not proud of them he has reasons to be--Derrick.

-Sam Haslet played ball with Sheffield last week and the Observer compliments his work in the following language: "With Cochran and Slesnick gone it was necessary to have a man to cover first. Haslet, of Tionesta, was secured, and he is on the job every minute. Haslet is all right." We know that all the time. Sheffield defeated Warren Tuesday 5 to 1, and Warren went down again Saturday 9 to 7. Haslet is playing with Sheffield again this week. They play Warren Thursday at Sheffield and at Warren, Saturday.

-State Economic Zoologist H. A. Surface has announced the schedule of the fall demonstration meetings in 92 model orchards throughout Pennsylvania. That for Forest county will be given at the orchard of John T. Henderson, East Hickory, tomorrow, Thursday, Sept. 21st. Meeting will begin at one o'clock p. m. Lectures on the best methods for producing good crops of second fruit which can now be examined on the trees will be delivered by representatives of the Department. All persons interested in the production of the fruit, and the care of trees, are cordially invited to attend.

-Harrison Swab, of Hunter Station, had an experience with a cross bull Tuesday of last week which he doesn't care to have repeated. The animal is a stray three-year-old Jersey which had been staying about his farm for a number of days. While he was driving his cow to pasture in the morning he was attacked by the bull, which suddenly became cross and butted him through a barbed wire fence, tearing off most of his clothes and considerably bruising him. The fact that the fence was near probably saved Mr. Swab's life as he had nothing with which to defend himself and the maddened brute could not get through the wires. Mr. Swab and his father, Geo. Swab, drove the animal away with pitchforks. The owner had better look after the critter before he does any other damage, as he is certainly dangerous while at large.

-J. R. Rose, chief engineer and one of the incorporators of the proposed water tionesta creek, made a visit to Tionesta Thursday, in an endeavor to convince the County Commissioners and the people in general that the scheme was not so bad as painted. He failed, however, to remove any doubt from the minds of our people as to the serious aspect of the proposition, or to convince them that they should withdraw their opposition. On the contrary the public is more aroused than ever over the dire results that would accrue from such a stupendous outrage. On the same day both of the National banks in this place took up the matter and passed strong resolutions against the scheme, which have been forwarded to the Water Commission. In the meantime the citizens of Oil City have become thoroughly aroused over the project, and several drastic editorials have since appeared in the Derrick condemning the proposition and calling on the public to fight it to the bitter end. Surely the Water Commission at Harrisburg cannot ignore these protests, and it is hoped and expected that it will very promptly squelch any further efforts on the part of the incorporators to further their ends.

-The Billikin-Oil Co. struck a big gas well on warrant No. 2527, the Clapplands, in Tionesta township, yesterday. The well is on the eastern end of the tract and the gas was found in the Clarion third sand at 981 feet. It is estimated to be good for several million feet per day. It is located about a half mile from wells of the Tionesta Gas Co. The company had several oil wells on the lease but no gas heretofore. Drilling was stopped yesterday when the well was ten feet in the sand, to move the boiler back.

-A number of oil operators in the vicinity of Plumer, this county, have joined together to drill a deep well. The location is on the Oberly tract of land, on the road from Plumer to Pitchole Creek, and about half way between the two places. The rig has been built, and everything is on the ground ready for work with the exception of the boiler. The work will be done by the Rousseville Drilling Co., and it is the intention to sink the well 3000 feet, unless oil is found in paying quantities at a lesser depth--Oil City Derrick.

-In the conference appointments made at DuBois last week, Rev. W. O. Calhoun, who has so acceptably filled the pulpit of the M. E. church in Tionesta for the past seven years, was transferred to the Meadville district with Linesville and Harmonsburg as his charges. The worthy parson will be much missed by our people, not only as an able divine but a genial, useful and all round good citizen as well. The REPUBLICAN joins his many friends in wishing him abundant success and complete happiness in his new field of labor.

-With the calm, cool demeanor that has characterized him since his arrest for the murder of Emil Amann, on the night of January 27, John M. Andrews received the death sentence in the Warren county court Friday afternoon. There were few in the court room when it was imposed. D. U. Arrid, Andrews' attorney, at once filed an exception to the sentence and an appeal will be made to the Supreme Court. When asked if he had anything to say, Andrews replied: "Nothing that I think of, your honor, under the circumstances. I think everything will come out all right."

-Eric royally entertained the veteran survivors of the famous old 83d Regiment at their reunion in that city last Friday. Out of an enrollment of 273 members of this magnificent organization 89 were present on this occasion, every company being represented. Company G, recruited at Tionesta by the late Capt. Knox, in 1861, was quite well represented, as the following list will show: Capt. Peter Grace, Robinson, Ill., the last captain of the company; Jonathan Albaugh, William Albaugh, East Hickory; John H. Berlin, George S. Hindman, Whig Hill; Daniel W. Clark, William Lawrence, Tionesta; Thomas Collins, Titusville; James M. Knox, Olean, N. Y.; W. P. Siggins, West Hickory; Charles C. Van Giesen, President. Jonas Shukoff of Whig Hill, also a Forest county veteran, but not a member of Co. G, was with the "old boys" from this section, who speak very highly of their entertainment by the people of Erie, where the regiment was organized by Col. John W. McLane, and from which place they left for the front just 50 years ago on the day of the reunion. Corry will entertain the veterans at their next reunion.

-Chester Hollister Fatally Injured. Chester Hollister, who resided on his farm at the mouth of Sowers run, on the west side of the river, one mile above town, was struck by a northbound Pennsylvania railroad freight train, about one o'clock Sunday morning, Sept. 17th, and so badly injured that his death occurred at 2:30 Monday morning. Mr. Hollister and his brother, Elisha, had been in town Saturday and started for the former's home about ten o'clock, walking up the railroad track, which has been made a thoroughfare for years by persons residing in that vicinity. They had covered more than half the distance when Chester sat down beside the track to rest. Elisha went to the house for a lantern and came back for his brother, but could not find him. He returned to the house thinking his brother had returned to town. A train went north in the meantime and it is evident that Mr. Hollister was struck by it or that he fell against the cars. Mr. Hollister states that he heard several warning blasts from the locomotive whistle. The injured man was not found until after nine o'clock Sunday morning, the discovery being made by Louis Rodda, who found a pool of blood, a tobacco pouch and a pencil beside the track. Hearing groans he investigated further and found Mr. Hollister lying unconscious at the water's edge, fully twenty-five feet from the track. It is not thought that the force of the blow knocked him over the bank, but that he rolled over the steep bank after lying beside the rails for some time. The unfortunate man was removed to his home and Dr. J. C. Dunn was summoned, who found five bad scalp wounds, the most serious being a gash extending from the right ear clear around the back of his head. His left arm was also cut and fractured just above the elbow. The railroad company also sent up its surgeon, Dr. F. J. Bovard, but nothing could be done to save Mr. Hollister and he died at the time stated above, without regaining consciousness.

-Chester Hollister was born Jan. 16, 1841, in Dansville, Livingston county, N. Y., his parents being Daniel and Roxana Hollister. In April, 1861, he enlisted in Dansville in Company E, Thirtieth New York Volunteers. He was a good soldier and served his country faithfully until the second battle of Bull Run, where he was severely wounded, a fragment of an exploding shell carrying away the first three fingers of his right hand. After being in the hospital for three months he received an honorable discharge on account of disabilities. Mr. Hollister was twice married, his first wife being Margaret Fellows, who died twenty-nine years ago, March 3, 1891, he was united in marriage with Mrs. Nancy (Collins) Eddy, who survives him. The family resided in Kinzua, Warren and Garland and came to Tionesta seven years ago. A few years ago they purchased the small farm up the river. Mr. Hollister is survived by a son, Claude Hollister, of Meadville; also by one brother and one sister, Elisha Hollister and Mrs. James McIntyre, of Tionesta township. The body was taken to Kinzua, where the funeral was held Tuesday afternoon in the Gospel Workers church, the services being conducted by Rev. Henry Colburn. Interment in the Kinzua cemetery.

PERSONAL.

-J. W. Barlett, of Kane, was a business visitor in Tionesta Thursday. -Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hopkins visited the family of H. J. Hopkins in Erie last week. -Miss Valerie Jenett, of Franklin, was a guest of Mrs. J. B. Muse over Sunday. -Charles Flick left Monday for Meadville, where he will attend Allegheny College. -Mrs. Howard Thompson, of Oil City, was a guest of Mrs. Mary Thomson over Sunday. -L. E. Osgood of Endeavor was a pleasant Monday afternoon caller at the Republican office.

-Mrs. Charles Kenniston and children, of Oil City, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mays. -Harry Carson, of New York, visited Tionesta relatives over Sunday, while returning from a trip to Ohio. -Richard Carson returned to New York City Monday morning, after an extended visit with relatives here and in East Brady, Pa. -Miss Ethel Clark went to Meadville, Saturday, where she has a good position as a bookkeeper and stenographer in the store of F. A. Sutton.

-Mrs. D. W. Clark is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Hinkle, in Erie, going up with her husband last week for the soldiers' reunion. -Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Weaver and son Clitus visited Joseph Weaver at Cattaraugus, N. Y., last week and attended the Cattaraugus county fair. -George S. Hunter left Monday morning for Sheffield, Pa., where he has accepted a position as bookkeeper in the large store of the C. H. Smith Co.

-Mrs. Wm. Lawrence, Miss Bertha and Edward Lawrence accompanied Mr. Lawrence to the soldiers' reunion in Erie last week, making the trip in the auto. -Mrs. J. A. Small of Nebraska accompanied her daughter, Miss Marie, to Edinboro last week where she will be a student at the Normal for the winter term. -Friends of Mrs. J. L. Hepler, who has been seriously ill for the past three weeks, will be pleased to learn that her physician reports some improvement in her condition in the past forty-eight hours.

-Rev. W. S. Burton, the new minister assigned to this charge by the M. E. conference is a son of the late Rev. S. S. Burton, whose ministry in Tionesta, 40 years ago, is well remembered by our older citizenship. -Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wagner, of Tionesta township, Sept. 15th, a son; to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Shaffer, of Tionesta township, Sept. 15th, a son; to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Henry, of Tionesta, Sept. 19th, a daughter.

-The fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Shadlerline, of East Hickory, was celebrated in that village Wednesday. About twenty guests from Pleasantville were present and a very enjoyable period was spent. -At the meeting of the Erie Conference in DuBois Hon. F. X. Kreitzer, of Nebraska, was elected one of the five lay delegates to the General Conference of the M. E. church which meets in Minneapolis next May. An honor worthy bestowed.

-Isabel Osten, the nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Osten, of Harmony township, is seriously ill at the home of her uncle, Axel Aronson, on Bridge street, her ailment being in the nature of abscesses on her left hip and right ankle. -Subscriptions from the following persons are thankfully acknowledged: J. M. Ault, Kellettville; L. G. Weidner, Dunkirk, N. Y.; J. A. Dawson, Collingswood, N. J.; John Thornton, (new), Trueman; Mrs. R. R. Shimmel, (new), Flagstaff, Arizona; L. E. Osgood, Endeavor.

-Geo. L. Scott, a former Forest county boy, writes to have his address changed to 120 E. Madison Ave, Collingswood, N. J. Mr. Scott incidentally notes that his son, Walter, has gone to Easton, Pa., to enter Lafayette college for a four years' course, having won a scholarship in that institution as a reward for high standing in his graduation from the Collingswood high school in June.

-The Forest Barge Co., of Hickory, and Collins, Darrach Co., of Nebraska, were heavy losers in a flood which amounted to almost a cloudburst in Pittsburg last Friday night. The former company had 12 new barges moored near the 43d street landing, and the latter had 4. All were torn from their lashings by the terrific rush of waters, and the strong cables were snapped like mere bedords and in the drift and debris came banging against them. Some of the big boats are known to have saddle-bagged upon the bridge piers and broken in two, while others were carried on down the Ohio, and all more or less damaged. At last accounts 14 of the 16 barges had been accounted for, but just what condition they were in could not be learned. In any case the loss which the owners will sustain is likely to run into the thousands.

RECENT DEATHS.

-Johnston N. Dunn, well and most favorably known to the people of Tionesta as the father of our townsman, Dr. J. C. Dunn, died suddenly and very unexpectedly at the home of his son, at Troy Centre, Crawford county, yesterday morning. He had retired in the evening in his usual health, having said nothing about feeling ill, and in the morning, as usual his son had called him for breakfast, but getting no response went to his room, where he found his father reclining on the bed, cold in death. Just when the separation took place could not be determined, but it must have been several hours earlier, as the body was cold. Mr. Dunn was one of the most genial of men, always good natured, pleasant and full of dry humor, whose companionship was sought by all who knew him. A veteran of the Civil war, he had a fine record as a soldier, being a member of the 103d Regt. Pa. Vols. He was also a member of Stow Post, G. A. R., of Tionesta. He was born near Tarentum, Pa., Jan. 11th, 1835, and was therefore aged 75 years, 8 months and 8 days. Surviving him are six sons and one daughter, J. L. Dunn, of Troy Centre; R. W., of Titusville; Dr. J. C. Dunn, of Tionesta; W. L., of California; B. W. and E. C. Dunn, of Iowa, and Mrs. J. M. Shearer, of Sioux City, Iowa. Two brothers, J. C., of Tarentum, and R. M., of California, also survive. The deceased had for years been a faithful member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and for some years back had held his membership with the Tionesta church. Funeral services will be held tomorrow, Thursday, afternoon, in which his former pastor, Rev. W. O. Calhoun, will assist. The interment will be in Troy Centre cemetery by the side of his wife, who preceded him in death many years.

-Julia Ann (Noble) Hunter was born in Pinegrove township, Venango county, Pa., October 11, 1841, and died at her home in Tionesta, Pa., on Saturday morning, September 16, 1911, at about 4:30 o'clock, aged 69 years, 11 months and 5 days. She was the fourth daughter of a family of nine children born to Daniel Drake Noble and Rosannah (Bush) Noble, the former having been born in Massachusetts and the latter in this state. The name of Noble is of great antiquity in Great Britain. In the works of the court at the close of the reign of King Richard I, 1189, appear the names of Roger and Robert Noble. In a printed history and genealogy of the Noble family the name of Thomas Noble, of Westfield, Massachusetts, of the second generation, appears. After the settlement of America we learn that there were in the year 1875 eight thousand of his descendants residing in different parts of the United States, divided into eight generations. Men prominent in all professions and walks of life appear in this list, including rectors of parishes, ministers of the gospel, and all the known professions and higher callings in life. At all periods of our country's history the Nobles have been noted for their patriotism, both as officers and privates. When danger was threatened they were among the first to take up arms to resist foreign invasion and suppress domestic treason. Although the record is incomplete, this volume gives the names of seventeen who took part in the French and Indian wars, fifty-one in the war of the American Revolution, thirteen in our late Civil conflict. Daniel Drake Noble, the father of the subject of this sketch, was also a direct descendant of Sir Francis Drake, the first Englishman to circumnavigate the globe in the years 1579 and 1581. When the subject of this sketch was sixteen years of age the mother died, leaving a family of nine children. In the year 1865 Mr. Noble moved his family to the Wolcott property, now known as the County Home farm in Hickory township, he having a short time previous married Catherine (Wolcott) Myers, a resident of the latter place, who for many years was a good mother to the motherless. It was here the deceased grew to womanhood and where on December 2, 1872, she became the wife of William L. Hunter, square James Green, a former well known justice of the peace of Hickory township, performing the ceremony. Four children were born as a result of this union, three of whom with the aged father survive, as follows: Mrs. Ross Hunter Smith, engaged in mission work in East Africa, now home on a vacation, William D. Hunter, of North Warren, Pa., and Miss Blanche J. Hunter at home. She was a faithful wife and a tender, loving, conscientious mother. Blessed with a Godly mother, her heart was early turned to the Lord and at the age of eighteen she was clearly converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal church. From the beginning she was an earnest worker and especially gifted in prayer, so those who knew her as a girl testify. For fifty-two years she was faithful to her calling and ready to reach out a helping hand to humanity everywhere. In after years she joined the Free Methodist church, of which she continued a consistent member to the last. She will be keenly missed in her home, in the community and in the church, where her prayers and testimonies were always an inspiration to those who heard them. Funeral services in her memory were held Monday afternoon in the F. M. church, Rev. G. A. Garrett officiating, following which her body was laid to rest in Riverside cemetery.

-The Marienville Gas Co. brought in a good gas well on the Geo. Forrester farm last week, and within the past two weeks four other good gas wells have been struck in Jenks twp. The Enterprise Co. has two on the Rose farm; Snyder & Carnahan on the Karl Klatsatz farm, and Eisworth & Co. on the Harry Murray lease at Gilfoyle.
