Some people claim that the last Friday of each month indicates the kind of weather during the month succeeding. But that sort of prognostication is perhaps no more reliable than the old goose-bone theory, with special emphasis on the goose.

Dr. M. W. Easton, Osteopathic Physician, of Oil City, will visit Tionesta every Wednesday. See him at the Central House. Setting bones and the treatment of nervous and chronic diseases a specialty. Greatest success in all kinds of chronic diseases.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will gather magazines, old books, newspapers, waste paper, cotton and woolen rags and rubbers Thursday, Nov. 16th. Keep each kind separate except rags, which may be packed together, marked plainly. Waste paper in bags marked plainly. Please have all tied securely with strong cord and ready for the drayman at 12:30.

Nov. 9th the Nebraska W. C. T. U. held a "mother's meeting" at the home of Mrs. Alice Neal. The topic was mothers of the bible, which was very interesting. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Alice Neal, Mrs. Bessie Johnston and Mrs. Annie Thomson served a fine lunch.

Sheriff S. R. Maxwell has purchased the Bigony property, on Elm street, from Mrs. Sarah M. Tremaine, and will occupy the same when he retires from the Sheriff's office January 1st to assume the duties of the Prothonotary's office, to which he was chosen at the election last week.

The postmaster at Tidouite has been notified that his office has been selected as a postal savings bank, and that the system will shortly be installed there. The citizens of the town are also establishing a canteen to take the place of the one which recently pulled up stakes and left the town.

Return Judges Hon. R. B. Crawford, of Tionesta, and U. S. Rodgers, of Warren, met in Warren yesterday and canvassed the vote for President Judge of the 37th district. The total vote in the two counties was: W. D. Hinckley, R., 3,908; D., 808; Charles E. McConkey, P., 1,106; J. J. Kintner, S., 485.

The old fashioned blizzard of Sunday brought winter sleety and the strongest kind has hovered in our midst since. Monday morning thermometers registered 3 degrees above zero, and that's going some for the 13th of November. Milder conditions are promised for the balance of the month to which no one will object but the gas man.

Oil City elected a mighty good Mayor at the recent election, notwithstanding he is a Democrat, in the person of Dr. J. B. Siggins. All Tionesta and a good share of Forest county, where he was born and raised, will be tickled to learn of the Doctor's win-out, and will congratulate the Hub on its good eyes in recognizing a big broadminded man when it sees one. Dr. Siggins will grow in popularity with his people in his capacity as the city's executive, and we predict his administration will be a clean and honorable one.

Postmaster Jamieson has received notice from Washington to the effect that the Tionesta office has been designated a postal savings depository, and ordering that business in that line shall begin on December 7th prox. Mr. Jamieson has all the needed paraphernalia, such as blanks, certificates, stamps, etc., and will be prepared on the date stated to receive deposits, nothing less than one dollar being accepted, although 10-cent stamps may be procured and affixed to a card until the amount has reached $1.00, which will then draw interest at the rate of 2 per cent. per annum. Who'll be the first depositor?

On Thursday night while Hon. Peter Berry, of Plummer, was driving home on his return from a business trip in Oil City his buggy was struck by a south-bound automobile on Seneca street near the Independent refinery. The Berry buggy was demolished and the owner thrown to the roadway. He was brought to town where he received surgical attention and he was then taken home in an outfit hired from the McGuigan livery barn. Apparently the hurts he sustained were not of a serious character but Mr. Berry is not so young as he was once and his weight is enough over that of an ordinary man to make such a fall as he suffered liable to be followed by ill-results that would not appear immediately.

Glenn Reib, the eleven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Reib, of Tionesta township, was accidentally shot through the right arm Saturday morning by his thirteen-year-old brother, Roy. The two boys and Leslie Childs were hunting on the hill a short distance above the Reib home and Roy was carrying a .32 caliber rifle. While he was loading the gun it slipped from his hand and as he made a quick grab for the weapon he caught hold of the trigger and the load was discharged. The ball struck Glenn just below the right elbow, passed through the arm and came out above the elbow. The boy was quickly brought home and Dr. J. C. Dunn was summoned, who could not find that any bones were broken. The young man has a very sore arm but is resting as easy as could be expected under the circumstances.

Messrs. Coleman & Watson yesterday struck the first axe in the clearing of the permanent right-of-way for their logging railroad which shall connect their timber lands on Hemlock with their mill plant at the mouth of John's run. The privilege of going over the land intervening has been amicably secured, after much delay on account of the many interests involved, but it is hoped to still do much in the way of getting a good start on the work, so that at the spring opening the work of grading and laying ties and rails can be rapidly carried forward. All the equipment for both the road and the mill plant has been ordered and will be here as fast as needed, and it is expected the plant will be in full operation early next summer, possibly by the first or middle of June. This enterprise is bound to give Tionesta a prosperity spurt which will continue for the next half dozen years or longer, a consummation which we shall all gladly welcome.

From present indications it appears as though the two proposed amendments to the constitution have been defeated in the State, which impels the Pennsylvania Spirit to remark: "It does tend to make a man lose confidence in the referendum when two innocent and perfectly proper amendments to the constitution, one permitting Philadelphia to borrow money for public improvements and the other authorizing the consolidation of the courts of Allegheny county, are defeated by the voters of the State at large. No man could pretend to the excuse that he did not understand, for the amendments were published in the newspapers repeatedly, explained and commented upon many times, and even printed on the ballot. And they were so simple that a child could understand them." The country vote on these propositions also indicates that the people are not inclined to favor the two big cities in their propensity to lord it over the country districts and hog everything in sight. The country seems to be of the opinion that it is pretty nearly safe to vote against what the cities want—on suspicion.

It is a pleasure to tell you that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best cough medicine I have ever used," writes Mrs. Hugh Campbell, of Lawsonia, Ga. "I have used it with all my children and the results have been highly satisfactory." For sale by all dealers.

PERSONAL.

Seth Hasson, of Utica, Pa., visited his cousin, Wm. Hood, last week.

Mrs. W. W. Dale, of West Hickory, was a guest of Mrs. F. R. Lanson a few days last week.

Mrs. J. N. Rathfon and Mrs. Willis Wolfe of Lickingville were shopping in Tionesta Saturday.

John Carr, of Lottsville, Pa., is spending the week with the families of F. R. and C. A. Lanson.

Bert Enninger, return election judge from the Duhring precinct, gave us a pleasant visit while here Wednesday.

Mrs. Bloomer of Endeavor was brought to Warren Emergency hospital Friday evening for treatment.—Warren Mirror.

Dr. C. P. Stahr of Lancaster is here to enjoy a few days' recreation in the pursuit of the frisky bunny and the wily grouse.

Miss Blanche Smith, of Starr, Forest county, was brought to Emergency Hospital for treatment today.—Warren Times, 11th.

Harry A. Smith, assistant principal of the Tionesta high school, and John Thomson spent Saturday and Sunday at the former's home at Mayburg.

Capt. J. M. Kopter of Pine Grove, Center county, is here on a ten day's visit at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James D. Davis, and meeting many of his old Tionesta friends.

H. H. Haseltine, of Winter Haven, Florida, and son Hubert Haseltine, principal of the West Hickory school, were over Sunday visitors at the home of their cousin, G. G. Gaston.

H. V. Matthews and H. H. Donley of Mayburg were transacting business at the county seat Wednesday and found time to make the REPUBLICAN a pleasant call during their stay here.

Rev. and Mrs. E. L. Monroe, of New Castle, Pa., who were welcome guests of Tionesta friends over Sunday, left Monday afternoon for a visit at their old home in Potter county.

Married, at the parsonage of the First M. E. church Saturday evening, Arthur McDonald, of Endeavor, Pa., and Miss Lulu E. Stoum, of Lynch. Attended by Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, brother of the groom.—Warren Mirror.

Dr. Karl E. Wenk of Kane spent the past week at his old home here and tried his luck at the game, with the result that his appetite was greatly accelerated, while the wild animals continued to gambol merrily in their native haunts.

Subscription renewals from these friends are acknowledged: H. V. Matthews, H. H. Donley (new); Mayburg; Bert Enninger, Duhring; Dr. W. W. Scerril, Kellettville; Harry Shearer (new); Elmira, N. Y.; F. R. Lanson, Tionesta.

Mrs. F. Wenk gave a nicely appointed dinner to a limited number of her lady friends last Friday. Those present outside of the Hill were, Mrs. J. D. Frisese of Buffalo, N. Y., Mrs. Anna Stitzinger, Mrs. J. D. Wert, of Nebraska, Pa., Mrs. Jessie Yakely, of Indianapolis, Indiana.

Miss Sarah McCool celebrated her third birthday Saturday evening with a party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCool. Twelve of her young friends were present and a very enjoyable evening was spent with games and refreshments. The young hostess received a number of gifts as mementos of the occasion.

Rev. J. W. Cochran, D. D., of Philadelphia, Pa., General Secretary of the Board of Education of the Presbyterian church, was a guest of Rev. H. A. Bailey over Monday night. Mr. Cochran gave a lecture in the Presbyterian church Monday night, which was not alone a scholarly address but a powerful plea for a more consecrated laity in the church in this age of materialism. He also gave an address to the high school students Tuesday morning. He is making a tour of the state in the hope of awakening a deeper interest in the christian colleges of our land, that more young men may be brought into the ministry.

A card from Elmer L. Densmore discloses the fact that he has migrated to the golden west and is now located at 910 West 8th St., Los Angeles, California, to which address he would like his paper sent. He says, "I would like to know how the election went, and the paper might as well be here as at Pitohole, my former address. I arrived here the 18th of October. I have been sight-seeker ever since I came and have not got through with the job yet. Los Angeles begins about 50 miles back in the country and ends in the Pacific ocean. Weather just right with a nice breeze from the ocean. Saw Kory Heath and Will Craig. Both well."

Tionesta Wedding.
A beautiful wedding was solemnized in Tionesta, Saturday, November 11th, 1911, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. McGee, when their only daughter, Miss Susie O. McGee, was united in marriage with William E. Sharp, of Enterprise, Pa. Promptly at twelve o'clock the wedding party appeared and took their places in the parlor under an arch of green and white, where they were met by the Rev. E. L. Monroe, pastor of the First Free Methodist church of New Castle, Pa., who read the solemn and impressive service in the presence of twenty-five relatives and friends. The bride was neatly and becomingly attired in a navy blue gown of messaline, and the groom wore the conventional black. Many and sincere were the best wishes and congratulations extended to the young couple. The bride was one of Tionesta's most beautiful characters, whose popularity was shown by a number of beautiful and useful gifts of silver, cut glass, china and linen. After an elegant breakfast was served the young couple, accompanied by the groom's parents, drove to Enterprise, Pa., where they will make their future home. The groom is a public school teacher, is a young man of fine christian character and highly respected wherever known. The out-of-town guests present were, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. McGee and Mrs. E. R. Thomas and daughter, Mabel, of Tidouite; William Barker, of Tidouite; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sharp, of Enterprise; Rev. and Mrs. E. L. Monroe, of New Castle.

Don't waste your money buying strengthening plasters. Chamberlain's Liniment is cheaper and better. Dampen a piece of flannel with it and bind it over the affected parts and it will relieve the pain and soreness. For sale by all dealers.

Banquet at M. E. Church.

The men's banquet at the M. E. church Friday evening brought together fully one hundred of the men of Tionesta and was all that its promoters could wish for it. The large dining hall of the church was prettily decorated and the tables were most tastefully arranged, covers being laid for an even hundred, and we believe nearly every place was occupied. An elegant four course dinner was served by the Ladies' Aid, and the service was well nigh perfect. At the conclusion of the splendid repast, S. R. Maxwell, president of the Brotherhood, called the assemblage to order and announced the Toastmaster of the evening, Dr. J. C. Dunn, who presided with grace and dignity in that capacity. The male quartet, consisting of T. F. Ritchey, F. R. Lanson, Linus Shriver and Jeff Henry, with Miss Lenore Ritchey as organist, rendered a fine selection, and then Dr. Dunn introduced the speakers of the evening, the first three being limited to five minutes. Mr. Ritchey's theme was "The Bible, which was well handled for the limited time he had at his disposal. Rev. Mr. Bailey gave a toast to The Ladies, those present having been invited to the banquet hall. The reverend gentleman did himself proud in his eloquent tribute to the fair sex. Rev. Mr. Burton spoke on the Men in Religion Forward Movement, and he brought out many excellent points in the few moments allowed him, his subject being one which should occupy a whole evening's talk. That the speaker believes in getting the men into the work of the church was not doubted when he finished. The set speech of the evening was delivered by Rev. Robert E. Brown, pastor of the M. E. church of Franklin, and it was a scholarly address on The Marks of a Man. In part he said: "Tonight I desire to bring a fundamental message. My theme might well be put in the form of a question, 'What is it to be a man?' That ought to be the supreme question of every life. One thing alone counts; that thing is manhood. In our best moments we are at one in that opinion. And yet how many failures there are. We began life with a passion for manhood. Why have so many of us disappointed others, ourselves and most of all, God, in the thing we have come to? It is not a complete answer to that question to say that it is because of false ideas of manhood, but it is one that contains a truth of almost measureless meaning. It is in this which inspires me tonight to exhibit once more the elemental qualities of the highest manhood. In such an address some things must be taken for granted. It must be assumed that the highest manhood needs for its foundation a clean, healthy body, and a clear eager mind. The man who for any reason does not possess these begins life seriously handicapped. Nevertheless all do not have them. Then the problem is simply that of pursuing the highest moral ideals and building manhood in spite of all bodily and mental hindrances.

"I wish tonight then to place the emphasis upon four great principles: The first is moral strength. Nothing is so pitiable as moral weakness. No wastage is so expensive as moral wastage, no defeat so terrible as the defeat of the soul. Moral courage is the basic quality of all worthwhile manhood. The great battles are inward. There are near a hundred battlefields represented in this room, any one of which is more significant than Marathon Moor or Gettysburg. Moral strength is the power to win in the struggle for pure thinking, clean emotions, and high living. In seeking it we need not lack the inspiration of a great example. Jesus Christ stands before us clothed with imperial manhood. He never lost a battle. Follow him, trust him and success is sure.

"The second quality needing emphasis is simple brotherliness." Here the speaker with great earnestness plead for a real love of fellow men and christianity in most searching terms that christianity that masquerades in a mantle of solemn piety, but is devoid of sympathy and helpfulness for the man who is in need. He said: "The world will never be led to believe in the love of God until it is brought in touch with a church surcharged with the passion of brotherhood. If a man love not his brother whom he hath seen how can he love God whom he hath not seen?" Become big brothers of mankind."

The final emphasis was placed on the religious element in human life and on what the speaker called the consciousness of immortality. "Man," he said, "is measurably religious. No amount of speculation can change the soul's essential need of God. Everywhere you go along the track of the centuries you come upon the pathetic memorials of man's religious hunger. Every ruined temple and wasted altar tells of his longing for the divine fellowship. The man who fails to rise in the experience of religious faith has not come into his own. The upper and diviner half of life is lacking. The blossom and the fruit of true manhood are blighted."

In closing the speaker pointed out the fallacy of supposing that a man could be all he ought to be in this life without the hope and desire for immortality. We can never serve our fellows in all the highest ways until we serve them as immortal beings. He closed with an illustration of a woman who before her death said that after seeing and speaking to Jesus her only wish was that she might be permitted to return in spirit and be the guardian angel of the feet of those who were spending their lives in rescuing fallen humanity such as she had been.

Banquet at M. E. Church.
Those who like a change certainly had their desire Sunday. Those who went to services in the morning in an April shower were permitted to attend service in the evening after facing a January blizzard.

Dr. Detar and Scerril tapped one of A. L. Weller's lungs Wednesday and a considerable amount of pus formation was removed.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Murphy left Friday for Sheffield where they spent the day with the latter's brother, going to North Warren Saturday to spend Sunday with friends there, returning home Monday.

Mrs. Geo. Kilmestiver and son visited friends in Nebraska Wednesday.

The conundrum tea given by the Y. W. C. T. U. Saturday evening netted the Union about twenty dollars.

June Spencer is suffering with an attack of quinsy.

Mrs. John Littlefield of Porkey was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Spencer Wednesday.

Mrs. Geo. Parker visited friends at Hastings Thursday.

The carpenter work was commenced during the week on a house which is being erected for Mr. Tomadison's family.

The S. & T. R. R. had quite an unfortunate day Thursday. The freight was laid up for repairs at Sheffield and when the passenger train was making the return trip at noon the cylinder head let go in the engine and they were unable to make town. No. 10 was commissioned to bring passengers and mail to town and look after the work for the day. On their return trip to Nebraska in the evening the rails spread and they were compelled to send another engine to help them out. The freight came through about four o'clock next morning and by noon next day every thing was in order and trains were running on regular time.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Watson were Warren visitors Wednesday.

The young men had a ring hunt Saturday with P. A. Frost and Alva Watson as captains. After spending the day in the woods it was found that the latter had with his chosen companions succeeded in bagging enough game to give their side 307 points. The other side had only 309 points and were therefore compelled to set up the price for the chicken supper which was prepared for them at the Phillips boarding house. Everal Grove, who was on the winning side, secured the largest count for the day, having 107 points to his credit.
