State Engineering Corps Here.

State Engineer W. A. Wynn of Warren is here with a corps of engineers and has started on the survey of the state highway which is to connect Tionesta with Warren. Monday they went over the state macadam road as far as the Hopkins farm and it is thought before the week ends they will have covered ten miles or more, depending on the weather. The route, which is known as No. 93, follows the east side of the Allegheny river to Tidioute where it crosses the of Tionesta two.: Mrs. Jas. November Court Minutes.

There was but one day of November court, all jurors having been notified not to attend, and the business transacted consisted entirely of motions and arguments. Judges Hinckley, Hill and Aul I'wo petitions under the new road law, which consisted of the vacating of parts of two public roads in Jenks township, were confirmed nisi.

On motion all redemption bonds given by both sides in the Collins vs. Clough electment case were withdrawn. In the case of the Commonwealth vs.

Amel Carlson, charge f. and b., a bond in the sum of $500 was renewed until the next term of court, J. A. Grubbs, of Marienville, becoming the surety. J. E. Chitester, guardian of Ethel Paterson, filed his final report and was discharged, his ward becoming of full age. W. H. Hood, administrator of the estate of Sarah Walters, deceased, also filed his final report and was discharged and bond cancelled. J. D. Davis was appointed court auditor. This makes the twenty-second consecutive year that Mr. Davis has acted in this capacity.

A widow's inventory and appraisement was allowed in the estate of Solomon Mitchlen, deceased.

The constables made their returns, after which A. C. Shannon, constable-elect of Kingsley lownship, was administered the oath of office and his bond in the sum of $500 approved.

The bond of Jonah Gadley, constableelect of Barnett township, was also approved. On the civil list the cases of Collins vs.

Clough and United States Merchants Mutual Fire Insurance Co. vs. the Marienville Lumber Co., were both reported settled out of court. All other cases on the civil list were continued until the February term of court.

On Monday afternoon arguments for a new trial were made in the case of the Road Supervisors of Tionesta township 11:30 Sunday morning, the services being vs. Jesse S. Carson, T. F. Ritchey ap- conducted by the Rev. W. S. Burton, thirty-five or eight years ago, and there pearing for the defendant and A. C. pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, Brown for the plaintiff. The court took the papers in the case.

The court handed down an order allowing the permanent board of road viewers, appointed at the last session of court, pay at the rate of $5 00 per day each, and all necessary expenses, while in the performance of their duties. Court adjourned until the third Monday

Portland, Oregon.

From a personal letter from our old friend and former townsman, Leonard Agnew, under date of Nov. 13, we take the liberty to print the following extracts:

Portland, Oregon, Nov. 13, 1911. The girls and I are sitting in our apartcent at Hotel Houston, and talking over old times. Alice just returned from the east on Friday night, and we have kept her busy answering questions that we have asked about you all. After spending ten months in the east, she thinks that Oregon is a pretty good place after all, and thinks now that she can be contented here. Mrs. Agnew is up on the Ranch with her mother, while the girls are baving a visit together. Gertrude and Sarah were so anxious to hear all about their eastern friends. We are all well and at present are enjoying the beginning of the rainy season. I think Alice must have brought the snow with her from the east as we have had a little snow for a day or two. I never have been really homesick, but often think of my old friends and acquainiances of the east, and think if I had them here I would be perfectly happy in Oregon, for I certainly think that Portland and the Willamette Valley has the finest climate there is in America. One thing I do know though, is that in a city of 225,000 inhabitants one doesn't get acquainted like he would in Tionesta. You meet a great many people from all over the United States, but the most of them are from "Missouri", and you know what that means, you have to "show them." I think I will soon be on your delinquent list, so think I had better send out the old FOREST REPUBLICAN even if we are becoming Oregonians. Enclosed find a check for the price of two subscriptions. Send one of them to Sarah Ellen Agnew, Pacific University, Forest Grove, Ore. She said she wanted one of her own home paper, and we sometimes neglected some good old Penusylvania apples and chestnuts that Alice brought home with her. One man said that was the best apple he had tasted in ten years. How's that for Pennsylvania apples? Kindly
