—There was fine skating on the creek the first of the week, but the heavy snowfall has spoiled it for the present.
—FOR SALE.—A good house and two lots in the upper-end of Tionesta. Inquire of Thos. Snodgrass, Tionesta, Pa.
—WANTED.—Railroad Cross Ties. We buy all kinds and pay cash. The Berry Co., Oil City, Pa.
—L. A. DAVIS, Agt., Tionesta, Pa.
—Remember the birds these cold winter days to throw them a little feed. Even the saucy little sparrow should not long be compelled to beg for a crumb at your back door.
—Oleomargarine always fresh, always the same price and making new friends each day, at 20c per pound in nine pound lots, at the Salmon Creek Mercantile Co., Kellettville, Pa.
—When you want a reliable medicine for a cough or cold take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all dealers.
—At a meeting of the Erie Presbytery held yesterday in the First Presbyterian church at Oil City, Pa., Rev. J. T. Brennan of this city was duly received as a member of that body.—Warren Times, 3d.
—Jerry Hepler gave one of his teams an icy bath in the waters of the Back Channel Tuesday afternoon while hauling ice. The horses went through the ice into deep water and were rescued with considerable difficulty.
—Dr. M. W. Easton, Osteopathic Physician, of Oil City, will visit Tionesta every Wednesday. See him at the Central House. Setting bones and the treatment of nervous and chronic diseases a specialty. Greatest success in all kinds of chronic diseases.
—Many 1912 calendars have been received at this office, among the pretty ones being: Derrick Publishing Co., Oil City; David Edwards, Jeweler, Sharon, Pa.; C. M. Arner & Son, Insurance, Potter & McCoy, Iversymore, L. J. Hopkins, merchant, Tionesta.
—It's the same old story wherever you hear from: In renewing his subscription our old friend and former townsmen, James H. Hulling, of Parsons, W. Va., says: The REPUBLICAN to us reminds me of the little boy after the ivory soap—"he won't be satisfied till he gets it."
—Saturday afternoon at Franklin Geo. S. Arno, aged about 32 years, was found in a bathroom at his home with the top of his head blown off by a heavy pistol bullet. At his side lay a .44 caliber Belgian revolver with an empty shell in one of the chambers and all the others entirely empty. Financial difficulties of which his parents were not aware is supposed to have been the cause of the rash act.

"If I knew that a word of mine, A word not kind and true, Might leave its trace On a loved one's face, I'd never speak harshly, would you?"
—Mrs. H. H. Cummings, of Tidoute, State Regent of the D. A. R., slipped and fell at her home Tuesday last week, breaking the radius of her left wrist and dislocating the wrist. She was otherwise badly bruised and will be confined to the house for some time.
—Thirty-one cases of smallpox were reported in Olean, N. Y., during the months of November and December, 1911. Of these 27 have been released and 11 are still in quarantine. Twelve homes were quarantined during the present epidemic and of these seven have had the quarantine. There have been no deaths in the city from the disease.
—The REPUBLICAN and other Tionesta friends have received the "boom" edition of the Portland, Wash., Oregonian through the kindness of former townsmen L. Agnew. The big paper is made up of 72 pages of matter mainly exploiting the greatness and grandeur of that wonderful city, and the many resources of the country surrounding.
—Another advance of five cents a barrel in the price of Pennsylvania crude oil which took place Monday, brings the price up to $1.40 per barrel. A corresponding advance was also made in Illinois and Ohio oil. This is happy news for the producer, but he is looking for still higher prices to come, and there is no reason why such hopes should not be realized.
—James Haslet does not lose his interest in nor ownership of good poultry and at the recent poultry show at Youngstown, Ohio, his pen of single comb white orpingtons won second prize in a class of seven pens of five birds each. There's some class to that and Jim's chickens are always found pretty well at the head of the list. The Youngstown show was a very large one.
—J. J. Landers shipped two car loads of automobile spokes from his mill on the Kelly farm at Oldtown, to Philadelphia, the last of the week. There were about 13,000 pieces in each car. This is a comparatively new business in this section and promises to be a paying one, as landowners can use up almost any size of hickory trees which heretofore were considered of no value whatever.
—Having learned a thing or two by bitter experience those of our citizens who just have to have it, have been harvesting some ice this week. They are not taking any chances on a later crop, and while the quality is not of the best for mixing "toddies," it is heavy enough and cold enough for most purposes and will keep a beer keg at about the right temperature. And what more could you ask?
—Silas Shriver had the little finger of his right hand badly crushed and lacerated by getting it caught in the "jack," while working on a well near Golliza Monday. The finger may have to be amputated. This is the second accident that has overtaken Silas within the past two months, he having had one of his legs severely wrenched by being caught in a cable coil while "snubbing" a boiler down a steep grade.
—Chas. Emick is arranging to run a milk wagon to Tionesta, and with that end in view has stocked his farm, over in Harmony township, with a fine herd of cows, sufficient to supply the entire town if need be with an excellent quality of milk. This has been a long felt want in Tionesta, and there is no question but Mr. Emick will fill it to the satisfaction of the large list of customers who will be glad to patronize him.
—The license of the Hotel Weaver was transferred in Warren Friday by Judge Hinkley, and the new proprietor, J. B. Pierce, of Elkton, Ohio, took charge of the hotel Sunday morning. Mr. Pierce is an affable landlord and takes hold like a veteran at the business. He promises to conduct a first class hotel in every respect and solicits a share of the public patronage. Mr. Rens and family left Monday for their home near Elkton.
—One of the handsomest pair of dapple grey draft horses that has been seen in these parts in many a day arrived here last week and were consigned to Coleman & Watson, and will be employed in their lumber operations the coming season. They tip the beam at 3,200 pounds and are model specimens of splendid horseflesh, and the teamster who handles them will doubtless be as proud of his prizes as the boy and his red top boots.
—The "week of prayer" is being observed at the Presbyterian church, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Bailey holding services each evening during the week, preaching to good congregations. Next week will be the week following union services will be held, the first week at the M. E. church and the second at the Presbyterian church, Revs. Barton and Bailey officiating. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend all of these meetings.
—The January term of the United States District court for the western district of Pennsylvania convened at Erie Monday with Judge Charles P. Orr on the bench. The trial list is short, the principal cases being those of Frank Winecki and John Trinovsky, charged with holding up and robbing a Philadelphia and Erie Railroad train last June at Wintergreen Gulch near that city. Postmaster Jamieson and Wm. Wolcott are jurymen at this session from Tionesta.
—The old Allegheny at this point and for several miles each way, is frozen up "lighter'n billy-bee-ding" and with the weather sharks predicting a continuance of the present cold spell it's likely the ice bridge will stay a bit, affording easy crossing for loaded teams at many points where there are no regular bridges handy. The closing process happened Monday night, the sudden turn in temperature being accompanied by a heavy fall of snow, making the sleighing all that could be desired.
—Guy McCalmont of Eagle Rock is showing as his prowess as a hunter the pelt of a great lynx he shot and killed on New Year's day in the big woods of that locality. McCalmont went out with his gun and dogs looking for foxes when of a sudden the bounds gave a yelp and started upon a trail which ended in the scurrying of a lynx. Mr. McCalmont up with his gun and killed the animal, which is unusually large for this section. The animal measured four feet in body between the fore and hind quarters.—Venango Herald.

—Unless something is done to rehabilitate turkey growing there will be no such thing as Christmas or Thanksgiving turkeys in the United States within 10 years. The census bureau has issued a bulletin showing that in 1910 there were only 3,688,708 turkeys on farms in this country while in 1900 there were 6,594,095. At this rate the turkeys will be in the dead class in 1920. There was also a reduction of about 50 per cent. in ducks during the 10 years and the number of geese dropped considerably.
—Brookville is the first town in this part of the State to take advantage of a recent law that allows municipalities to take over the town's water supply from a private corporation and issue bonds to finance the plant to pay for it when the amount necessary to purchase would exceed the debt limit allowed by law. At a recent meeting of council bids for the water bonds, amounting to $116,000, were opened and the bonds disposed of at par and a small premium. The town took over the water plant January 1.
—Dairy and Food Commissioner James Foust stated today that persons found selling oleomargarine without 1912 licenses would be arrested forthwith says the Harrisburg Telegraph. The law prescribes that new licenses must be obtained on the expiration of the license period, and as all licenses expired on December 31, trouble is brewing for some people. The dairy and food division is issuing licenses at a rapid rate to people all over the state and agents of the division are watching closely the sales of oleo.
—The weather of the past week has been reasonable enough to satisfy the most exacting knocker we should say. Saturday morning thermometers registered all the way from zero to 6 and 8 below, according to location in this place. Sunday night started in harsh and frigid, with mercury running as low as 10 to 14 degrees below the zero at 10:30 o'clock, at which rate it must have been close to the bulb before morning had not the weather works boss thought better of it and let up a trifle, so that by daylight 10 degrees above was indicated by the most reliable thermometers.
—Estimates have been at work during the past few weeks making an estimate of the timber lands of the Cook estate in this and Clarion counties. The work is being done under the direction of the State with a view to purchasing the land for a State reservation and public park. The project will be taken up by the next legislature and if found to be feasible it is altogether probable that an appropriation for the purchase of the two or three thousand acres will be passed. Much of the property is covered with virgin pine and most of it is still heavily timbered with other woods.
—William M. McKim, one of O. C. City's best known and most highly esteemed residents, died at his home in that city Saturday afternoon last, after an illness of two years from diabetes. He was born at Curwensville, Clearfield county, Pa., March 25, 1853, but had resided in Oil City since he was ten years of age. In 1879 he entered the railway mail service, and in 1880 was appointed postmaster of the city by President Harrison, and again in 1900 by President McKinley. Mr. McKim was well and most favorably known in Tionesta and vicinity and many friends here will bear of his death with sincerest regret.
—Rev. Carroll Smith and wife, who spent a number of years in Africa as missionaries, will hold a farewell missionary meeting in the F. M. church; Newmansville, January 14th, at 11 a. m.; and in the F. M. church, Tionesta, on the same date at 7:30 p. m. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be glad to attend these services and give them a farewell handshake and bid them God speed as they return to their field of labor. They leave Tionesta January 17th. An offering will be taken at each service for Mr. and Mrs. Smith. Let us come and hear the farewell addresses of the devoted missionaries.
—Among the final opinions handed down by Judge Fanning before leaving the bench in Bradford county with the old year to make way for his successor, is one of state-wide interest to agricultural counties.—R. J. Brink, of Rome, brought amicable action to recover bounty on two foxes he killed. The Bradford county commissioners declined to pay, as the state legislature had made no appropriation. The plaintiff contended that the county should pay him and look to the state for reimbursement, but the court holds that the county is only the agent of the state, and in the failure of the commonwealth to provide funds, is not liable. Outside of the big populous centers, every county in the state has a long list of unpaid claims for bounty, and when the legislature fails or refuses to make an appropriation covering this account it simply means that the State repudiates an honest debt.
—Harry M. Shafer, the new principal of the Clarion State Normal School, is a native of Illinois and is of German-English descent. He began his schooling in the rural districts and later attended Eureka college in Illinois from which he graduated in 1888, and in 1889 graduated from Harvard University. For some time after this his services were given to educational work in California, Oregon and Washington states. His next work was as Professor of History of Education and Philosophy in the University of Pittsburgh. When the new Bureau of Professional Education was organized, State Supt. Nathan C. Schaeffer selected him as one of three members. He leaves this Bureau in order to come to the Clarion Normal. The winter session of the school has just opened with an attendance of four hundred. Miss Williams, of Syracuse University, has been added to the faculty as assistant in the English Department.
Curios For Sale.
Rev. and Mrs. Carroll Smith, who are intending to depart for Africa again soon, now offer for sale their collection of curios, including, among other things, a native piano, a bark blanket, a woman bear mug (holding 94c), a beautiful bread basket, etc. Anyone wishing to obtain any of these curios can see them and learn prices by calling at the home of William L. Hunter.

—Harry H. Smith, of West Hickory, is visiting over Sunday with relatives in Ridgway. Mrs. Smith has been in Ridgway for several days enjoying a visit.—Leonard Wilson, who is employed at West Hickory, returned to his work Tuesday after enjoying a week's vacation during the holiday season at his home here.—Ridgway Advocate.
—Miss Dora Henshaw celebrated her thirteenth birthday in a "grandma party" Saturday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Henshaw. The guests included the ten members of her class in the Presbyterian Sunday school and all came in costume to represent the dear old lady. After a pleasant evening with games a fine supper was served. Miss Dora received a number of gifts as mementoes of the occasion.
Looking Backward.
In the number of the bulletin issued by Washington and Jefferson college are a few notes which will remind some of our readers of olden times: Rev. F. G. Condit, class of '58, died at his home in Fairfield, Ia., October 15, at the age of 82. He was classmate of our townsman A. B. Kelly, cashier of the Forest County National bank. Rev. Andrew Virtue, class of '42, died at the home of his son in Elizabeth, W. Va., July 30, last, aged 87. He will be kindly remembered by many Tionesta people as a former pastor of the Presbyterian church here and at Emlenton in 1871-'2. Dr. Daniel W. Fisher, who has just finished a biography of Calvin W. Mateer, a noted Chinese missionary, was a classmate of our townsman, Judge J. C. Irwin, class of '57. The bulletin also notes that Rev. J. C. Struble, class of '02, of Lisbon, Ohio is Moderator of the '02 of Lisbon, Ohio is Moderator of the ensuing year. Mr. Struble, it will be remembered, preached on two occasions in the Presbyterian church here. He was reared in Clarion county, and is noted as a fine Greek scholar and linguist.
Sunday School Rally.
The officials of the State Sunday School Association have arranged for a thorough canvass of the State, during the month of January, for the purpose of arranging for more efficient and systematic work, that this may be the "jubilee" year.
Thursday, January 18th, has been fixed for the rally in Forest county. The meetings will be held in the Presbyterian church, Tionesta, at 2 o'clock and evening at 7:30 o'clock. The afternoon session will be principally devoted to a conference as to how we can best do better work in the county and keep it in the "front line." The Sunday school work in the county has been progressing finely but we can do better if we all pull together with unity in this great cause.
The officers and executive committee of the County Association are earnestly urged to be present at these meetings, as important business will be transacted. All superintendents, teachers and those interested in the building up of the Sunday schools should be present.
Mrs. Baldwin, State Field Worker, will have charge. The subject for her evening lecture is "Working Together with Wit."
Let us have a full house at 2 and 7:30 o'clock p. m., Thursday, Jan. 18th, next.
T. F. RITCHIEY,
Pres. Forest County S. S. Association.

PERSONAL.
The severe weather of the past week has caused considerable inconvenience and suffering among the people. There is a scarcity in the gas supply and those who have no other means of lighting and heating their homes huddled around the stove in semi-darkness, sometimes not having enough fire to cook their meals. There has been considerable suffering among the school children and several times they were compelled to dismiss on account of the cold rooms. No services were held in the different churches Sunday. The thermometer registered eleven below Sunday evening a number of the people are fitting up coal stoves in order to keep their houses warm and many more will have to follow their example if the cold weather lasts, as the gas seems to be getting weaker.
Wm. and Charles Dotterer, who are home from Meadville spending vacation with their parents at Gaitonsville, spent Wednesday with their grand and other relatives in town.
Some time ago an order was issued by those in control of the Tanning Co. that no more hides be placed in the vats, as there would be an indefinite shut down when the work already begun is all finished, which will take till some time in June. It is feared there will be no work for some time at least and several Hungarian families have moved away. With the exception of seven families those employed are all foreigners.
Ray Weller was a business visitor in Warren and Tionesta during the week.
Mrs. M. F. Catlin has been confined to her bed for the past week with grippe, which has affected the bronchial tubes. Mrs. Stephen West and daughter Gladys are visiting the former's parents in West Virginia.
The young people gave a farewell party for Mildred Carson in the school hall Friday evening.
Pearle Detar entertained several friends at a six o'clock dinner Saturday evening.
At a meeting of the Sunday school board Tuesday evening the following officers were elected for the year: Superintendent, H. B. Dotterer; assistant superintendent, H. E. Murphy; secretary, W. A. Kline; treasurer, Mrs. H. B. Watson; librarians, Mary Dunkle, Marjorie Nash, Ruth Wilson; organist, Bessie Porter; assistant organist, Mrs. C. P. Cloak. There being no Sunday school Sunday the teachers have not yet been appointed.
Rev. C. A. Arters of Byromtown and Rev. A. R. Rich were guests of Rev. W. E. Frampton Thursday evening.
The Passion Play was given in Johnson's hall Saturday evening.
Corra Byler is visiting her brother, James Byler.
Truman Daubenspeck has been on the sick list the past week.
