—The danger of coasting on the Bridge street hill was illustrated last evening when a swiftly running sled collided with a slower one. Little Donald McCoy was thrown out into Elm street at the crossing and had his right leg considerably bruised, but no serious damage resulted.

—The prohibitionists held a district convention in Warren last Wednesday and endorsed C. E. McConkey of Grove City for member of Congress from the 28th district. Delegates to the national convention at Atlantic City, July 10th to 12th, were selected from Warren, Elk and Forest counties. F. E. Allison, of Nebraska, was selected as delegate from this county, with C. A. Lanson, of Tionesta, as alternate.

—The second quarterly meeting will be held at the M. E. church at Tionesta, Feb. 15 to 18. The pastor will preach on Thursday evening the 15th, and on Saturday evening the 17th. Rev. A. R. Rich, D. D., of Oil City, will preach on Friday evening the 16th, and Sunday evening the 18th. Communion services Sunday evening at 7:30. Men's meeting Sunday afternoon at 3:30. These services will be evangelistic in nature. Special music by the chorus choir.

—A. J. McCalmont met with an accident Thursday which may cripple him for life, we are sorry to learn. While hauling some wood to his home, which is located on the east side of the river opposite Baum station, he slipped and fell heavily upon his hip, and it is feared he may have sustained a fracture of one of the bones. The injury, strange to say, is not giving him much pain at present, but is destined to confine Mr. McCalmont to his home for some time.

—The Spear bowling alley in the Freedman building has changed hands, the new proprietor, T. D. Foutz, of Meadville, having taken charge and completely overhauled the alleys. The room will be conducted in an orderly manner, so that those who enjoy bowling can go at any time during the day or evening knowing that there will be no rudeness or disorder. Mr. Foutz invites the people to his rooms assuring them that they shall receive courteous treatment.

—Charles Martin died suddenly last Wednesday night, Feb. 7th, at the home of his sister, Mrs. Lizzie Mays, at Eudeavor, with whom he had made his home for the past five years. He had been employed by J. D. Westcott & Son in the handle factory until about two years ago, at which time he had one of his hands badly lacerated, from which injury he never fully regained his health, but his sudden death came as a complete surprise to his family and friends. The sympathy of the entire community is with the bereaved family.

—The two oldest nights of the season have fallen on Friday, the first, on Jan. 12, being the coldest ever experienced in this latitude, when thermometers in this place registered all the way from 32° to 38° below zero. The next was last Friday night, Feb. 9, when a temperature of 25° below was registered here. Of course it is understood that the registrations were taken on the Saturday morning following, Jan. 13 and Feb. 10, respectively. And if there is anything in indications or the woodcock theory, the end is not yet, for yesterday morning was another "stinger," thermometers registering 18 to 20 degrees below the cipher.

—If the hard winter is causing rabbits to nibble the bark of trees, such actions can be very easily prevented, according to Dr. H. A. Surface, the State Zoologist, who has been getting letters from farmers all over the state about injury to their young trees. Dr. Surface declares that the best way to treat such pests is to kill them, but that if it cannot be done a strong solution of lime and sulphur should be sprayed over the trees. Pure white linseed oil painted on the trees will also make the rabbits so sick that they will leave the trees alone. Of course the Dr. doesn't mean by this that bunny should be destroyed on mere suspicion.

—E. E. Norton, of Titusville, was a business visitor in Tionesta Monday and gave us a pleasant call. Mr. Norton is making good use of the present fine sleighing in getting logs to his mill in Tidoute and reports that on account of the ice on the river he was enabled to market a lot of logs which otherwise could not have been taken out of the woods. Of his operations there the Tidoute News says: For the first time in a number of years the ice on the river is being used as a highway for hauling logs. Loads are coming up from Grove Run and from the Irvine tract in Limestone, from the properties lately bought by E. E. Norton, who has bought the Dunn mill on Tidoute creek flat, and is stocking it.

—The Nebraska W. C. T. U. met with Mrs. Malissa Combs, Superintendent of Social work in this Union. She was assisted by Mrs. Jane Nichols and Mrs. Ada Wiant. The time was pleasantly spent in discussing many live questions of the day. It is the duty of every lady belonging to the W. C. T. U. to inform herself regarding political questions of the times, that she may be an influence for right and temperance. After the meeting the ladies in charge served oysters, cake and coffee. The Mercy and Help department of this Union sent four dollars to the Austin flood sufferers. Also $25.00 in groceries to the suffering family of Henry Bush, and many articles of ready made clothing for each one of the family, amounting in all to one hundred and forty pieces.

Robert Fitzgerald Drowned in California.

Patrick Fitzgerald on Monday received telegrams from his brother, William, conveying the startling news of the drowning of his eldest brother, Robert Fitzgerald, at or near the town of Bay-point, California. The messages were dated Feb. 11th, evidencing that the accident occurred on the previous day. No particulars were given. About two years ago the unfortunate man left Tionesta in company with William and Pur Fitzgerald and Selden McCrea to be employed in pipe line work for the Standard Oil Co. Robert had become expert in this business and was at the head of a gang of men, he being the "steersman." His brother is of the opinion that the crew was laying a line across a stream at the time of the accident.

The deceased was 45 years of age and single. He is survived by his father, Michael Fitzgerald, of Tionesta township, four brothers, Patrick at home, William and Forest P., of Mandota, California, and John, of Kendall, Montana, and one sister, Mrs. George Kennedy of the Township. The burial will take place at Bay-point where the deceased had his residence. Robert Fitzgerald was a man of quiet peaceable manners, and had many friends in this community who will regret to hear of his tragic end.

Observed Lincoln's Birthday.

A very high tribute was paid to Abraham Lincoln, Monday afternoon, Feb. 12th, by the Tionesta High School students, assisted by Prof. Smith and Gill, in the form of a literary exercise, in which the following program was presented in a most interesting and pleasing manner:

Song, "Star Spangled Banner." School Biography of Lincoln. Edith Arner Quotations from Lincoln. School Lincoln, the Man. Arthur Carson A Hero of a Lost Cause. Glenn LeDehur O. G. U. S. By Us. For Us. Eddie Shaffer Lincoln as a Humorist. Marjorie Carson Gettysburg Speech. Robert Sigworth The Perfect Tribute to Lincoln. Prof. Gill Song, "America." School

—The United States Civil Service Commission has announced a stenographer and typewriter examination to be held at Sharon on April 10th. The stenographer and typewriter tests may be taken separately or combined, and are for positions in the departments at Washington, D. C., the Philippine Islands and the Isthmus of Panama. Those inquiring for application blanks should state which branch of the service they wish to enter. The Commission states that stenographers and typewriters are in demand, and those who are competent have much greater prospects for appointment than applicants for other clerical positions. On the above date will also be held a subliterary examination, including watchmen, messengers and skilled labor. Further information regarding any of these examinations and the necessary blanks may be obtained by addressing E. P. Dresch, Local Secretary, at the Sharon postoffice.

—T. D. Collins, who appeared on Tuesday before the State Water Supply Commission in the Tionesta Water power project, is one of the most remarkable men in his section of the state. Mr. Collins, to begin with, is worth some $2,000,000 and dresses like a man who tills the soil, and a not very prosperous one at that. Fifty-eight years ago he went into Forest county, when it deserved its name, and is one of the men who have become wealthy through lumbering. In the course of his objections to the projects, which he claimed would submerge his lands and many others, he used vigorous language and did not spare the men back of the schemes to create a great power plant. In fact at one time the remarks of the picturesque lumberman resulted in his being cautioned by Chairman Birkinbine. What astonished everyone, however, was his declaration that he was carrying out some reforestation and planting trees himself. He is 81.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

—Oil City experienced a bad shaking and still worse scare about 7:30 o'clock last Thursday evening when a quantity, supposed to be about 20 pounds, of dynamite let go in an old office building located near the end of the new river bridge on the South Side. The dynamite had been secured for use in blowing up the old stone piers and had been stored in the building mentioned only a short time before. What caused the stuff to explode is still a mystery, as the party having it in charge says it was not near a fire. The building was blown into splinters, and nearly every building within a radius of several rods was more or less damaged by broken windows, many of them costly plate glass. Only one person, John Hurst was injured, receiving a cut on the face by a flying piece of wood. The strange and lucky part of the whole affair is that there were no fatalities, and that no one was even seriously injured is little short of miraculous. The damage to property in the vicinity will run up quite well toward the $25,000 mark. Where the responsibility will fall is yet to be determined.

—Dr. Lee O'Dell, of Tylersburg, sustained a broken leg and underwent a rather harrowing experience in an upsetting of his sleigh while returning from Clarion last Thursday evening. The doctor and John Grolemond, who had recently been appointed constable of Farmington township, had gone to Clarion to secure the latter's papers. On the return trip they had reached a point a short distance this side of the Clarion river when they upset, throwing out both men. The horse bolted and ran away. Mr. Grolemond jumped up and started after the horse, not knowing that the doctor was injured and supposing that he was following after him. In the fall a log was broken in Dr. O'Dell's right leg just above the ankle. Finding himself alone he was obliged to crawl for a mile through the snow to the nearest farm house. The accident occurred shortly after six o'clock and it was 9:30 before the doctor reached shelter, being compelled to travel the entire distance on his hands and knees. The doctor performed the surgery for himself in reducing the fracture and it spite of his severe experience is now at home and doing well. The runaway horse was caught two or three miles from the scene of the accident.

—Do you know that more real danger lurks in a common cold than in any other of the minor ailments? The safe way is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, a thoroughly reliable preparation, and rid yourself of the cold as quickly as possible. This remedy is for sale by all dealers.

—Charles Amann, who for the past several years has been employed by Sebelhammer & Son as a plumber and tinner, has accepted a position with the E. D. Everts Hardware Co., and will have charge of the plumbing and tin shop of that concern.—Warren Times.

—Miss Helen Smeaarbaugh, R. J. Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Fulton, Miss Blanche Pease, Harry T. Klinefiter, Benjamin Wenk and Cyril Danie's, of Tionesta, were in the city Saturday evening to attend the performance of "Marmalade" at the opera house.—Titusville Herald.

—Monday Dr. Woshner, a noted Buffalo specialist, was called in consultation upon the serious illness of Mrs. N. P. Wheeler, Jr., at her home at Eudeavor, and yesterday she was taken in a special car to Buffalo, where her complete recovery is confidently expected by her physicians.

Rev. J. P. Hicks Dies Suddenly.

Rev. John P. Hicks, for forty-five years a member of the Erie conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, and at different times holding charges at Tionesta and Clarion, this county, died on Saturday night, Feb. 3, 1912. He had attended a revival meeting in the evening, and death came suddenly a few minutes after reaching his home at Big Run, Jefferson county, Pa., where he had been living a retired life. Mr. Hicks was in his seventy-second year and for many years was quite active in the Methodist church work, being quite well known all over the conference. At the time of his death he was on the superannuated list. The deceased is survived by his wife. One child was born to their union, a girl, but she died about two years ago. Funeral services over the remains were held on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at Big Run, District Superintendent Rev. Dr. J. Bell Neff presiding and assisted by several other pastors. Interment was made in Big Run and a large number of ministers from all over the conference were present. Rev. Hicks was pastor of the Tionesta church in the years 1881, 1882 and 1883, and made his last visit here on August 25, 1908, at the time of the laying of the cornerstone of the new M. E. church. In Rev. J. N. Fradenburg's history of the Erie conference we learn that Rev. John P. Hicks was sent to assist Rev. A. J. Mercant on the Tionesta circuit in the year 1868, which at that time consisted of Tionesta, Asbury Chapel, East Hickory Beaver Valley, Whig Hill, Minister Mills, Newtown Mills, Ross Run, Gultonville and Nebraska. He also endured some hardships serving without salary and traveled from place to place on foot the greater part of the time. He boarded around with the people and told the writer that the home of Mrs. A. B. Root at Newtown, was always open to him. Hon. N. P. Wheeler was the choir-master at Newtown. He conducted revival meetings with more or less success. T. D. Collins and some forty others were converted and united with the church at that time. It required three weeks of constant traveling to fill all of his appointments on this charge. Rev. Hicks was beloved and respected by his parishioners in every town in which he had served. No death could have been more widely mourned throughout the district over the vitality and piety of the man than that of this man, who gave forty-three years of his life to the work in this section.

—This is the season of the year when mothers feel very much concerned over the frequent colds contracted by their children, and have abundant reason for it as every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for the more serious diseases that so often follow. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures, and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all dealers.

No Decision in Charter Cases.

Up to the hour of going to press the State water commission at Harrisburg had announced no decision as to its course in the matter of the attempted steal of the water rights on Tionesta creek and the Clarion river, and what its intention is can only be conjectured. The committee of representatives which was sent down from this section to protest against the granting of such rights to a few individuals, came away impressed with the thought that, inasmuch as the two members of the commission who held the hearing were arguing in favor of the charter applicants, there must be some understanding that the water commission would finally recommend the granting of the horrible privileges.

Can this thing be?
Is there not decency enough left at the State Capitol to stop this damnable outrage?
Will Governor Tener permit it?
These are questions that the people of the Northwest are asking in all seriousness, for they feel that, in order that a few speculators may further their own interests, the lives of thousands of the citizens should not be placed in such awful jeopardy, leaving out of the consideration the utter destruction of their property.

God help the people should this calamity be visited upon them!
Remember Johnstown and Austin!
And for no other purpose than the possibility of further enriching a few whose wealth is already a burden to them.

The Clarion Democrat of last week had this to say of the hideous proposition: "The people of Pennsylvania have the right to look for and expect the care and protection of their state government under all circumstances. The moment any element is introduced into the affairs of the state that is harmful to the best interests and protection of the people at large, that moment our state government should be made aware of the impending danger and should begin at once to exercise all of its power to overcome such a harmful thing or influence.

When a number of men, unknown as taxpayers, responsible citizens or business men attempt to seize upon the rights of the people as a matter of speculation the State authorities should at once intercept the law and make it the policy of the state to intervene and stop all such questionable enterprises.

The mere fact that four or five men with a very limited capital, or even large capital, and a tremendous cupidity and nerve endeavor to use the corporation laws of this state to steal away the rights of the people along the Clarion river and the Tionesta creek to satisfy their own greed at the expense of the public, the state authorities should put a stop to it at once and for all.

Between the state and national government the people should surely be protected.

Porkey.

Messrs. Henderson, Miller and Catlin, of Kellestville, have lately purchased two timber lots on Minister creek and will proceed to work it up this coming summer. They will erect a saw mill at Minister on the railroad side of the creek and will haul the logs down the old railroad grade up the creek, which will be a very nice graded road for their work. They have been offered a price much in advance of what they paid for the above lots but have refused, because if other people can see more in it they themselves have enough fertility in their own brains to do likewise. A man never offers just what they see in an investment, but only a fraction. There is two million on these lots, more or less, and we wish our friends a successful cut of the same without accident or loss. All concerned are good managers and good neighbors, and we are pleased to see them locate here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Littlefield, who were called to Clarion last week by the serious illness of Mrs. John Jordan, mother of Mrs. Littlefield, are still at that place and we are informed that the lady has been removed to the hospital and is some better.

Robert Bordick, Jr., spent Sunday with his wife at the Miller home, coming up from Mayburg Saturday evening. Thomas Miller also came down from Henry Mills to spend Sunday with his family here.

J. C. Bennett filled the ice house at the Rupert home last week for the purpose of making ice cream, ice water, and cooling beer during the coming summer. All men are larger thirsty as a rule, but "all men are liars," sayeth the preacher.

The mercury took another drop on Saturday morning to 25 below, and on Sunday it was 15 below, but moderated considerably on Monday, which came two days later than we expected.

Mr. Tompeist of Tidoute was here most of last week pumping out the stock of oil for the National Transit Co., and left Sunday for Sheffield, where he will assist Mr. Snow pump out the oil stock there for the same company.

John Bennett cleared the snow off his newly acquired property here last week. This is the place where Joseph Kinch lived when here.

Mr. Brennan, who lives at Minister, has a very sore leg caused from a cut he got about twenty years ago.
