—Congressman P. M. Spear has recommended Jesse N. Perrine, for many years connected with the Derrick as its business manager, for postmaster at Oil City to succeed W. H. Longwell who has held the office for eight years. The appointment is evidently a popular one, Mr. Perrine having the endorsement of 2354 out of about 2,800 of the business men and patrons of the office. Leastwise J. N.'s friends up this way are pleased about it.

—Dr. J. R. Flickinger, principal of Central State Normal school at Lock Haven, died on the 17th inst., of acute indigestion after a short illness and great suffering. Dr. Flickinger was a scholar and withal one of the most kindly and lovable of men, whose death is not alone a great loss to the school over which he so successfully presided, but a shock to the entire community and the educational interests of the state as well. All who knew him—and he had an extensive acquaintance in Pennsylvania—will be greatly saddened by the news of his demise. He was aged 58 years.

—The old proverb, "Where there is a will there is a way," was fully demonstrated in purchasing a new organ for the Mayburg school chapel by the teachers, Mr. Watson and Miss Blausser. Some time ago they purchased a new chapel organ, not knowing from what source the money to pay for it was to come from, but on Thursday evening last they held a social which was well attended by the entire citizens of the town, and a very enjoyable time was had by all present. Financially it was a booming success. All hail our grand and glorious public school system and long live every educational institution for the enlightenment and uplifting of young America, and long live the educational sentiment aroused by the teachers and public spirited patrons of our public school on this occasion.

—The Nebraska W. C. T. U. held a mothers' meeting which was in charge of Mrs. Emma Secor, Mrs. Dorcas Thompson and Mrs. Lottie Knapp at the home of Mrs. Emma Secor, Thursday afternoon, Feb. 22. The program for the meeting was very entertaining, interesting and helpful. Several recitations were given by Mrs. Ed Connor, Misses Janet Thomson and Edith McKeen. Mrs. Secor and Miss Janet Thomson played a real pretty piano duet and Claude McMillen favored the company with a fine piano solo. The articles for reading and discussion were selected from the magazine, "American Motherhood." This magazine should be a potent factor in every mother's life. After the program the committee served oysters, ice cream, cake and coffee, which was a pleasant ending to a pleasant afternoon.

Patrick Fitzgerald of the Township received a letter from his brother William, of Mendota, California, last week, which gave only meagre particulars of the drowning of his elder brother, Robert, note of which was made in these columns two weeks ago. It seems that Robert and Joseph McCarroll, superintendent of a division of the pipe line crew that was employed by the Standard Oil Co., were crossing the bay at Baypoint, Calif., on a narrow walk, when Robert's boot was caught on a protruding nail and he was thrown into the bay. Neither of the men could swim so that McCarroll could render no immediate assistance, and before help could be brought the unfortunate man was drowned. The body was recovered soon after but life was extinct. The burial was made in the cemetery at Concord, Calif., a hundred and thirty miles from the scene of the accident.

Mrs. Catherine (Shunk) Bean, wife of William Bean, died Monday, February 19, 1912, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Mealy, at Beaver Valley, Hickory township, of infirmities incident to old age, she having reached the advanced age of 76 years. Mrs. Bean was a devoted wife and mother and was a consistent christian who will be sincerely mourned in the community. She was the mother of thirteen children and is survived by her husband, seven sons and four daughters, as follows: John, Charles, Frank, Edward and Warren Bean of Hickory township; Isaac of Nebraska, Pa.; George of Oklahoma; Mrs. John Brecht, Mrs. George Swann, Mrs. Isalah Kiffer and Mrs. Edward Mealy of Hickory township. Fifty grandchildren and thirty-two great-grandchildren also survive her. The funeral was held at the home Wednesday, the services being conducted by Rev. F. M. Fox of Mayburg. Interment in Whig Hill cemetery.

A two-story office building of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co., at Marble, Pa., was destroyed by a fire of incendiary origin last Friday morning at two o'clock, causing a loss of $1,000. A firebug, probably the same chap who caused the above damage, was operating at Fryburg earlier in the week and is giving the residents much trouble and uneasiness. Monday night the mill barn of Frank Baker was fired in two places but the blaze was discovered and put out. Part of the kindling with which these fires were started was not consumed and was found in the barn. Tuesday night the public school building was set on fire in the bell tower but the flames were seen by persons at a dance nearby and extinguished. Wednesday night the barn of Joseph Fassmeyer was fired in the haymow but this also was discovered early and extinguished. All the Fryburg fires were started between eight and nine o'clock. There are suspicions as to the guilty party but nothing definite is known.

From the Franklin News we call this item relative to genial Sam Newkirk, a brother of Mrs. Angus Carson of Tionesta, and one of the best known of the many traveling salesmen who for years past touched our sacred precincts: "The dean of commercial travelers, Samuel F. Newkirk, of Sandy Lake, and his son, Charles H., who for a time have been conducting a confectionary brokerage business at Cleveland, have recently purchased a West 15th street confectionary jobbing business in Erie and are conducting it under the name of S. F. Newkirk & Son. The senior member will assume the management, while the junior member will essay to search the highways and 'byways' for orders. Connected with the Newkirk family is some interesting history relative to the candy business. Three generations have been connected with one house as road representatives. Samuel F. Newkirk is the oldest candy salesman 'in captivity.' He succeeded his father, a representative for years for a Buffalo house, and for thirty-four years was active in the same, covering an extensive territory, frequently touching Franklin and immediate vicinity."

T. D. Collins Loses His Home By Fire.

The fine home of T. D. Collins at Nebraska was totally destroyed by a fire which broke out about four o'clock last Thursday afternoon. The fire is supposed to have been caused by an over-pressure of gas in a stove in a summer kitchen attached to the house and when first discovered this kitchen was a seething mass of flame on the inside. The water supply for the house ran into the kitchen and the first men on the scene found that no water was available to fight the flames and so bent all their energies toward saving the household goods. With the help of every man in the village the greater part of the goods were carried to places of safety and all of Mr. Collins' private papers were also saved. Notwithstanding the efforts of the volunteers many valuables were destroyed and Mr. Collins' loss will be much in excess of $5,000, on which there was no insurance. He lost all his clothing, excepting what he was wearing. He was in his office in the front of the house and when the alarm was given opened the door leading into the burning kitchen. A flash of flame singed his hair and white-clothes but he was not seriously injured. At his time of life, 81 years, it is particularly distressing to be burned out of house and home, but he was not cast down and was heard to remark that "it was the quickest shave and hair cut he ever got." Before the flames had finished their destruction Mr. Collins was planning a new home and lumber is already on the ground for the work, which will be pushed as rapidly as the weather will permit. It is said the new house will be an exact counterpart of the old one, and will be placed on the same site on the hill overlooking the town. A very high wind prevailed Thursday but no other property was endangered, as the house stood far away from other houses. Mr. C. C. Pomeroy, an old schoolmate of Mr. Collins, makes her home with him. She is almost a helpless cripple and was carried from the burning house. She has been quite ill since the fire, but was much improved last night.

Fatal Accident at Endeavor.

Thursday shortly after the noon hour Guy Hillard Jr., who resides at East Hickory, was fatally crushed while employed as one of the crew of the log train of the Hickory Valley railroad connected with the Wheeler & Dusenbury lumbering plant at Endeavor. Usually the crew complete their work for the day early in the afternoon, when a train load of logs are brought from the woods several miles up Hickory creek. The train on this occasion was drifting along at an ordinary speed and when passing No. 1 Junction, about a mile above Endeavor, the car which carries the log loader, and in which Hillard was riding, jumped the track, and he either jumped or was thrown off, the load of logs on the car following toppling over and burying him underneath. In this predicament he remained for quite a half hour while the other members of the crew carefully removed the logs, using almost superhuman strength in accomplishing the task so as not to further injure the unfortunate victim, who never lost consciousness and exhibited remarkable fortitude while enduring terrible suffering.

The young man was brought to the home of his father, Guy Hillard Sr., at Endeavor, and a physician arrived very shortly after, but the injuries were too great and death relieved him of his suffering but a few minutes after. It was found that his body was crushed almost to pulp diagonally across his right hip and abdomen.

The deceased was aged 26 years, having been born and reared in Harmony township. In June, of 1911, he was united in marriage with Miss Myrtle Mowris, who, with the parents, two brothers, Bert, of Lock Four, Pa., and Chat, of Endeavor, and one sister, Mrs. Mabel Stincker of Rocky Grove, Pa., survives him. He was a young man who was highly esteemed in the community in which his life was spent, noted for his industry and steady habits.

Funeral services in his memory were held Sunday afternoon at one o'clock in the Endeavor Presbyterian church, Rev. A. G. Crill, of Erie, conducting the services, assisted by Revs. Reese of Tidoute and Scherer of Endeavor. Interment in the East Hickory cemetery. The attendance at the obsequies was perhaps the largest that ever assembled in this section, there being by actual count more than eleven hundred people present.

At the Court of Justice.

The regular February term of court for the trial of criminal and civil cases, convened here on Monday forenoon, with a full bench, Associate Judge Joseph M. Morgan appearing in his proper place for the first time. The petition of J. E. Childster, guardian of Howard Patterson, to join in the leasing of two tracts of land in Barnett and Jenks townships for oil and gas purposes, was granted by the court. Arthur Barnes, of Hickory township, was appointed guardian of Jennie M. Putnam, a resident of the same township. E. E. Berlin was appointed a road supervisor of Kingsley township to fill a vacancy caused by the death of A. L. Weller. A widow's inventory and appraisal was allowed in the estate of A. L. Weller, deceased. The road supervisors of Barnett township asked leave to increase their millage from ten to twenty mills, for road improvement and to pay debts. There is 54 miles of public road in the township, the assessed valuation is but $106,000 and they owe at the present time $1,560.32. Daniel McKenna, who owns a life interest and is in possession of 25 acres of land in Barnett township, has petitioned the court to compel one James Ray, who also claims the land, to bring an ejectment suit within six months to settle the ownership of the same. Mrs. Jennie Dodge, administratrix of the estate of Frank Dodge, late of Jenks township, deceased, was granted permission to sell real estate to pay debts in said estate, notice of sale to be given by publication. Under an act of 1909, the recent court house and County Home appointments made by the County Commissioners, were approved by the court. A test case to decide the amount of salary per year the present board of County Commissioners are entitled to, was presented and five days given the County Treasurer, who is the defendant in the case, to make answer to their demand. An Act of 1909, where the County Commissioners serve as members of the poor board, allows them each a salary of $500 per year, while a later Act of 1911 allows them in counties of this size but $300 per year. Upon motion, a nol pro was entered on payment of costs in the case of the Commonwealth versus Amel Carlson upon a charge of f. and b. The constables reported no index books whatever in the townships of Jenks, Hickory and Kingsley. The cases of David and Harry Mintz were dismissed by the Court Monday afternoon after argument. The Court quashed the proceedings for the reason that the information and transcripts were not sufficiently set forth to enable the District Attorney to draw an indictment.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. W. H. Spear and M. A. Feit, charge entering building with intent to commit a felony, larceny, and receiving stolen goods, was tried Tuesday and a verdict of not guilty rendered.

The civil list was gone over and the case of Wilson et al vs. Buhl was continued. S. H. Lusher vs. W. A. Baker et al was settled. The case of William Brooks vs. Daniels, Cropp & Co. is on trial this morning.

The grand jury finished its business Tuesday afternoon and was discharged with the thanks of the court. Through their foreman, S. T. Caron, they reported that they had acted on and found one bill of indictment. They visited the county buildings which they found in good condition "except the heating of the cells of the jail, which in the opinion of the jury is not sufficient in a cold time, and we think that more registers are necessary. We find that the county home is badly in need of repairs on the walls and ceilings, as the plaster is falling off in some of the rooms, and the kitchen needs painting. We further report that the barn is in very bad condition with no wall under it, only stone pillars, and the barn is too low to use all the underpart. We recommend a new concrete or stone wall and concrete floor and make all the barn underneath available for use. There is not sufficient stable room in the barn at the present time. We further recommend that there should be a cow yard built to let the cattle out in for exercise during the day."
