SEVERAL DELEGATES WAIT ON HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER E. M. BIGELOW.

COMMISSION NAMED BY TENER

To Codify the Building Laws of the State, and to Report Before the Next Legislature Assembles.

Harrisburg.-Requests for improvement of state roads, either under the main highway building plan or through state aid, were made to Highway Commissioner E. M. Bigelow from half a dozen counties, and as son as the weather permits surveys and inspections will be made to determine the cost.

Representative Alfred Marvin brought a delegation from Pike county which asked that work be started this spring on the highway from Strondsburg to Port Jarvis, Another delegation from Lancaster county asked for road construction in the vicinity of Pleasant Mills, and Cumberland county citizens asked what should be done to obtain state aid for improvement of roads in East Penns-

Other delegations were here from Lycoming and Clearfield counties and more are expected next week.

The preliminary work is being pushed as rapidly as possible with the funds at the disposal of the commissioner and over 40 engineer corps are now at work surveying the main road routes which must be taken over by the state on June 1. Until these roads are taken over the state has no jurisdiction, although the impression seems to prevail to the contrary in many places, letters from Philadelphia automobile associations having been received at the department sharply criticising the state for not maintaining roads in the vicinity of that city. The reply was made that the roads were township property at present and would be for some months, and that township authorities had better be communicated with.

Tener Names Commission.

Harrisburg. - Announcement has been made by Governor Tener of tl appointing of the five men who are to codify the building laws of Pennsylvania with the idea of securing uniformity in construction and the greatest measure of safety, the selections being made in accordance with the joint resolution approved June 14. The commission is not only to codify the laws, but is also to "report on the needed requirements for the proper and safe construction of buildings and to determine the strength and character of materials used therein." The commission is to report to the governor in advance of the next session of the legislature a bill "to protect the welfare and best interest of the owners and occupiers of buildings, including the erection and construction of buildings generally," and to collate into one act statutes existing and those needed relating to construction of buildings, making repairs, erection of party walls, fire escapes and elevators and to regu late use of materials not now covered

The commissioners are to serve without compensation but are allowed 3173 $6,000 for expenses, one of their number to be a man skilled in building. The men selected are: John T. Windrim, architect, Philadelphia, who was architect of the state library and mu- 5710 seum building; Edgar A, Weimer, a noted engineer of Lebanon; James L. Stuart, builder, Sewickley; Freas Styer, attorney, Norristown, and Styer, attorney, Northston, 3801 Charles A. Hexamer, building expert, 3801 3693 Philadelphia.

State Board of Charities.

The official visitors of the state board of charities, about which considerable is being printed just now, are persons officially designated by the state board to keep an eye on in stitutions in their countles. They have rights of inspection just as mem bers of the board, and any abuses are to be inquired into and made subject of reports to the board. In many 45 67 counties the plan has worked very successfully and much good has been accomplished by prompt investigation of reports and correction of conditions. The jurisdiction extends not only to prisons and almshouses but to hospitals and charitable institutions under state control.
