—Lula Snyder, aged 30 years, while suffering from melancholia, with which she had been afflicted since last November, leaped from the Allegheny Valley railroad bridge at Oil City Monday evening at 4:55 o'clock and was swept away by the swollen stream.

—A ruling of State-wide importance was made recently by Judge Brumm, of Schuylkill county, who held that Borough Solicitors cannot be elected for a longer term than a year, and thereby practically declared the act of 1907, fixing the term at three years, unconstitutional.

—Mrs. Sarah M. Tremaine, of Bradford, was here the first of the week to complete the transfer of the property formerly known as the Bigony property, on Elm street, which she recently sold to Prothonotary S. R. Maxwell, and the deed was passed over to the new owner yesterday.

—George Holeman and Bruce Hagerty were seen early Monday morning, dinner plates in hand, hiking out toward the Meko lease, where they are starting a new well for Lowe & Co. It was ex-Treasurer Holeman's first appearance in a driller's outfit since leaving office, and it being the first of April, a lot of mean cusses thought George was springing a huge "April fool" on his friends. But when he returned in the evening with trade-dollar blisters on his hands and heels—he had worn a pair of new shoes—they were sorry they spoke.

—James B. Hagerty has moved his family into the A. C. Urey house, on Highland street. The Hagerty home will be occupied soon by Ralph Cook of Netaska, who expects to conduct a garage for housing and repairing automobiles the coming season, a convenience the town should have had before this.

—A clever exchange sizes the thing up in a nutshell when it says: An editor can use a lot of wind and printers' ink in his effort to boom the town, but if his columns don't show that the town has business men in it with enterprise enough to let the world know they are on the earth the editor has a mighty up hill job on his hands.

—The following officers have been elected for the year in the Presbyterian Sunday school: Superintendent, W. C. Imel; assistant superintendent, H. T. Klinefelter; treasurer, R. J. Hopkins; secretary, Miss Boush Clark; assistant secretary, Glenn Ledebur; pianist, Miss Kate Arner; assistant pianist, Miss Frances Grove.

—By the breaking of the Wilburine pipe line where it crosses the river at the willow tree in the borough, a large quantity of oil was lost Monday, the exact amount not being known, but probably a couple hundred barrels. Some of the enterprising kids dipped several barrels of the fluid of the water where it formed a pool near the break in the pipe.

—United States Deputies have seized 12,000 bottles of catsup, at Buffalo, which is said to be misbranded and not made in conformity with the Pure Food law. This is the second seizure within a month of the same brand, which is manufactured in New Jersey. The report of the Pure Food inspector showed that the catsup contained 90,000 bacteria to one cubic centimeter.

—Special services at the M. E. church: On Thursday evening at 7:30 the pastor will speak upon "The Betrayal." On Friday evening, "Good Friday," the subject will be, "Crucified, dead and buried." On Sabbath morning at 6:30 silent communion and short address on the "Resurrection." Sabbath evening at 7:30 special music by the chorus choir and sermon by the pastor, subject "The Easter Message."

—Robert Shawkey, formerly with the Mayburg ball team, pitched a good game Friday for the Philadelphia Athletics, the second team against Galveston, winning 7 to 1. He pitched the last four innings. The North American says the features were the pitching of Morgan and Shawkey. Both hits of Shawkey were scratches, and Galveston's lone run came on a pass, single, infield out and a passed ball. Shawkey had terrific speed, whiffing five batsmen.

—The annual congregational meeting of the Presbyterian church will be held this Wednesday evening, which all members are urged to attend, and this includes all who attend the church services in any way contribute toward its support. Reports from all the boards and societies connected with the church will be heard, and such business matters as may properly be brought before the congregation will be disposed of. Remember, this evening, at 7:30.

—The receipt of a late copy of the Pittsburgh Index further exploiting the beauties (?) of tremendous dams, and stating that "plans are now developing to dam some of the waterways of western Pennsylvania," would indicate that this dubious "snake" is not yet dead by any means. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," and it will be well for our people to keep an ever watchful eye on the sharks that are bent on putting through this frightful outrage.

—The Allegheny is on a rampage, the waters being higher last evening than at any time within the past ten years or more from natural causes. At this point no damage is being done but on down the river the flood is getting in its work with a vengeance. Cellars and basements at Oil City were being flooded yesterday, and at Pittsburgh the probabilities are that it will be a record breaker when the crest is reached, which will be some time today. On down the Ohio and Mississippi the rivers have reached high water mark and no doubt all records will be broken before they begin to recede.

—Judge Criswell of Venango county handed down his decision in the license matters on Monday, and at present there are but two places in Franklin where the liquor is dispensed, at the Stewart and the United States hotels. The McClure and Keystone hotels were refused, and four others, the Commercial, Exchange, National and Park hotels were held under advisement. At Oil City all of the hotels except the Hotel Connor were granted license, the latter being held up. All of the Franklin applicants for wholesale license were refused, and Wm. Vann Ausdall, wholesale, Oil City, was held up. Emmenton and Rouseville hotels were granted.

—At Warren it is said dealers in liquor are establishing a blacklist and on it are putting the name of every intemperate man in the town and no liquor will be sold them. The list will be extended to parties who may buy intoxicants for persons of known intemperate habits and minors, who are not themselves able to secure it at the bars. If licensees everywhere would exercise more care in this particular there would be vastly less drunkenness in every town, and most of the rowdism and intoxication amongst boys would be done away with. But so long as liquor is sold indiscriminately by the bottle it is sure to get into the hands and necks of those who make nuisances of themselves.

—While taking a stroll Sunday which led him up a small stream known as Holeman run, George Swab of Hunter station came across a partially filled nitro-glycerine can, near an oil well that had been "shot" not long ago. Not being familiar with the high explosive Mr. Swab poured a quantity into the palm of his hand and smelled of it in an effort to "figure it out," when all of a sudden it dawned upon him that it might be nitro-glycerine. Carefully sitting the can down, he washed his hands and, like the Arab, "quietly stole away," not caring to extend his acquaintance further with the dangerous stuff. Mr. Swab thinks there must have been at least two quarts left in the can, enough anyway to create fearful havoc should it let go, and the party who was so careless as to leave it where any pedestrian might stumble over the can, should at once remove it ere some innocent mortal is blown to atoms by the treacherous mixture.

—M. N. Gilbert, one of West Hickory's prominent citizens, has been seriously ill for some time past, and at last accounts his condition was still quite critical. Mr. Gilbert's two daughters, Mrs. Beaver of Titusville, and Mrs. Showers of Lynch, and his son Bert of West Virginia, are at his bedside.

—Many friends will be pained to learn that Mrs. Ernest Sibille, of German Hill, is so ill from a complication of ailments that her life is despaired of. Relatives have been summoned to her bedside, and she may pass away at any hour. Mrs. Sibille has been a great sufferer from rheumatism for the past two or three years.

—Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Herman entertained a jolly party of twelve couples at their pleasant home Wednesday evening, at a six o'clock Dutch supper. The placements were unique hand painted postal cards, artistically portraying "Dutch love" in many pretty and amusing phases. Progressive five hundred encores formed the amusement feature of the evening.

—Some of the flitters of the season are: M. M. Hepler into his new residence in the lower end of town, James Wert taking Mr. Hepler's old residence, Charles McCool takes the Potter house on River street and Thomas Snodgrass will take the Zahniser house vacated by Mr. McCool. Mrs. Knick has taken the upstairs rooms at Wm. Blum's.

—Jacob Starner, of Kane, who is working in the woods near Tionesta, gave us a pleasant call Tuesday afternoon. He informed us that two weeks ago near Kane his brother Peter accidentally shot himself through the left hand and left leg with a revolver and was in the hospital. The family has had a great deal of misfortune since removing from German Hill to Kane. About six years ago the father, Joseph A. Starner, was accidentally shot and killed with his own gun while hunting. A few years later a son, Clarence, lost a leg on the railroad.

Kellestville.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin George of Sheffield were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cloak several days during the week.

The stork has been a frequent caller in town this week, and as a result three homes have been brightened thereby. On Wednesday a young daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Webster Edmiston. Mr. and Mrs. Mark Wilson, who have been occupying furnished rooms in North Warren for the past winter, have decided to take up housekeeping for themselves, and their household goods which they had left in town were shipped to them the last of the week. Their many friends in town will wish them joy in their new home.

Miss Pearl Deter entertained a number of her friends at her home Friday evening.

Mrs. Isaac Bean and daughter of Nebraska were guests of Edward Bean's family during the week.

Tressie Hendrickson went up to Mayburg Friday and stayed over Sunday with her parents.

Miss Margaret Frampton, who has spent the past two weeks with her parents at the parsonage, returned to the Clarion Normal Monday.

Miss May Showers was called to Hickory Monday by the serious illness of her grandfather, M. Gilbert, of that place.

Victor Sunday, going over with Rev. Frampton.

The Tannery company expects to finish up work in town during the next three weeks, when the machinery and teams will be shipped to other places and the Kellestville tannery will be a thing of the past.

The quarantine was lifted from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Matha during the week, and after the usual clearing up the family were allowed their freedom and all were rejoicing that the last of those unwelcome signs was removed from the town. After one day's freedom another one of the family was taken with scarlet fever and they were again quarantined.

—Don't be surprised if you have an attack of rheumatism this spring. Just rub the affected parts freely with Chamberlain's Liniment and it will soon disappear. Sold by all dealers.

THREE PERSONS DIE IN FIRE.

Mrs. Robert Gilmore and Two Children Burned to Death at Their Home Near Leeper.

In a fire which destroyed the home of Robert Gilmore, four miles southeast of Leeper, Clarion county, at 4:30 o'clock last Thursday morning, March 28th, three lives were lost. The dead are: MRS. ROBERT GILMORE, aged 35. ORVILLE GILMORE, her son, aged 11. INA GILMORE, her daughter, aged 9.

Mr. Gilmore was at work at Cooksburg, this county, and Thursday morning Mrs. Gilmore rose early and went to the kitchen to start the fire. To do this it is supposed that she used kerosene oil to hurry the fire and that the flames from the stove communicated with the can, exploding the contents. The little boy, who was up stairs and dressed, heard the noise and running to the kitchen found the place all in flames. He dragged his mother from the burning house to a place of safety near the barn, but not before she had been terribly burned. Going back into the house he dragged the body of his little sister as far as the porch, where he was obliged to abandon her, his own clothing being aflame. He then ran to the home of a neighbor, Charles Glosser, a short distance away. Mr. Glosser saw him coming and ran to meet him with a blanket, in which he rolled him and smothered the flames. The boy gasped out his tale of horror and help was quickly sent to the Gilmore home. Mrs. Gilmore was found and both she and her son were tenderly cared for. They were burned so badly that nothing could be done to save their lives and they passed away the same day, the son at 11:30 a. m. and the mother at one o'clock. The house was totally destroyed with its contents. The charred body of the little girl was found in the ruins near the end of the porch.

Mrs. Gilmore, whose maiden name was Miss Rose Hoover, was well known and respected. She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hoover, two sisters and five brothers. The terrible tragedy threw a deep gloom over the entire community and much sympathy is extended to Mr. Gilmore. The entire family, with the exception of the husband, was wiped out by the explosion and resultant fire. Mr. Gilmore is a cousin of Prothonotary S. R. Maxwell, of this place. Mrs. Stewart Gilmore, of Nebraska, is a sister of the dead woman.

The triple funeral of the victims was held Saturday afternoon in the M. E. church at Helen Furnace, the services being conducted by Rev. G. O. Walker. Interment was made in the cemetery there.

RECENT DEATHS.

JENNINGS.
Mrs. Jennings, widow of the late Geo. Jennings, died at her home at Gultonville, March 27, 1912. She was aged 72 years and had been a resident of Green township for many years. The funeral was held on Saturday, the burial taking place in the Gultonville cemetery near her late home. The following children survive: Claud of West Virginia; Mrs. George Haslet, Mrs. Ed. West, Mrs. Elmer Walers, and George at Gultonville, Mrs. Robert Stroup at Warren, Pa. Mrs. Jennings was a good Christian woman, a kind neighbor, and had many friends in the community in which she lived.

HOOPER.
Ida Catherine Berlin, the beloved wife of Charles S. Hooper, died at the family home, on the Gultonville road five miles east of Nebraska, Sunday afternoon, March 31, 1912, at one o'clock, after an illness of one week of liver and heart trouble. She was the daughter of John and Lavina Berlin, and was born on Whig Hill, May 5, 1870. Besides the stricken husband she is survived by a family of seven children, as follows: Mrs. Ralph Giesen, Alice, Buzz, Lee, Warren, George and Charles Hoover. These are bereft of a faithful, loving wife, a kind and affectionate mother, and the community is left to mourn the loss of a noble Christian woman, whose many acts of kindness and love won for her the high esteem of all who knew her. For many years a devoted member of the United Evangelical church, she kept the faith to the end, and when she realized that she must go she had no fear, but told her friends she was ready for the change. Mrs. Hooper was survived also by her parents, two sisters and two brothers: Mrs. James Lightner of Tionesta; Mrs. R. J. Flynn of Newtown Mills, and Jacob and Clem. Berlin. Funeral services were held at the late home of the deceased Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock, followed by interment in Town Line cemetery, near Whig Hill. The services were conducted by Rev. G. A. Garrett.

POMEROY.
Mrs. T. C. Pomeroy, born at Cortland, N. Y., March 28, 1831, died at the home of F. R. Klinefelter, Nebraska, Pa., April 1, 1912, at 7:30 a. m.

Mrs. Pomeroy for the past two years had made her home with Mr. T. D. Collins, Nebraska, Pa. A few days after the home of Mr. Collins was burned Mrs. Pomeroy was taken very sick with congestion of the lungs, and for the past five weeks had been under the care of the doctor. Two weeks ago she was taken with a paralytic stroke and since that time had fallen rapidly.

Mrs. Pomeroy is survived by one brother who is older than she, Mr. Alonzo Blodgett, of Cortland, N. Y., and two sons, Lewis B. and Harry T. Pomeroy, also one daughter, Mrs. V. W. Bayless, of Minneapolis, Minn.

Mrs. Pomeroy was a woman of strong character, very well read, always keeping up with current events, so that she could converse intelligently on any current topic. She was especially interested in state and national affairs, learning the characters and biographies of prominent business and political men, making her a very agreeable and helpful companion. She was a patient sufferer and very appreciative of kindnesses shown her. She will be missed very much in the home from which she has gone, also by her many friends in this community.

A short funeral service was held at the home of Mr. Klinefelter, Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock, the service being conducted by Rev. W. S. Burton. At five o'clock this morning the remains were taken by special train to Sheffield, from whence they will be taken to Cortland, N. Y., for burial.

Mrs. Hannah Casey King, wife of Geo. L. King, one of Harmony townships best known and most highly respected citizens, died at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning, March 29, 1912, at the family home on the King farm, a half mile south of West Hickory. Her ailment was valvular heart trouble, and she had been ill about three weeks.

The deceased was born in West Hickory, January 16, 1879, and her entire life was spent here. She was a member of St. John's R. C. church and active in its work and its various societies, a model wife and mother and a neighbor who forgot self entirely in ministering to the sick or afflicted among her acquaintances. Her death will prove an inestimable loss not only to her relatives but to the members of the community, where her life, as child, young woman and wife and mother, had been a power for good, and to the stricken husband and family the sympathy of the whole community goes out in fullest measure in this, the darkest hour of their lives.

Her father, John Casey, died here about two years ago. Besides her mother she is survived by her husband and three children: Charles, John, George, Margaret Rachel and William, the eldest 14 and the youngest five years of age. She also leaves the following brothers and sisters: Miss Mary Casey, at home; Mrs. William Hasel, of Warren, Pa.; John A., of Seattle, Wash., and Jeremiah, of McKeesport.

High mass of requiem for the peaceful repose of the soul of the departed was celebrated at St. John's church, Tidoute, at 9 o'clock Monday morning by her pastor, Rev. Father A. H. Wiersbinksi, followed by interment in the cemetery connected with the church. The attendance at the funeral of a large concourse of the friends of the bereaved family attested the high esteem in which this noble woman was held in the community in which her whole life was passed.

The following friends acted as pallbearers: Dr. Morrow, Herman Peterson, Arthur English, West Hickory; Cornelius and Thomas Conley and James Monigan, Oil City.

M'ANINCH.
Mrs. Jennie Myers McAninch departed this life at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Cribbs, near Bolivar, Missouri, March 29, 1912, in her 92d year. She was the youngest daughter of Valentine and Linnie Coy Myers, and was born near Sligo, Clarion county, Pa., Aug. 25, 1820. She united with the Licking Presbyterian church at the age of 15, during the pastorate of Rev. John Core, and had lived a consistent Christian the remainder of her life. In the year 1842 she was united in marriage with Lewis McAninch. To this union nine children were born, six of whom had preceded her to the other world, leaving three surviving: R. G. McAninch, of Manhattan, Kansas; Mrs. Mary Cribbs, Bolivar, Mo., and Dr. D. L. McAninch of Lamartine, Pa. Nineteen grand-children and 25 great-grand children also survive. Mother McAninch retained all her faculties to the last, her memory and eye-sight being especially good.

Oh, never more her face our hearts will gladden;
Oh, never more will sound within our ears
The voice of her we loved with love profound;
But though her body crumbleth in dust,
Still lives her name—which all people said was just—
To us that name, whose luster ne'er will cease;
And to her ashes everlasting peace.

—The Nebraska W. C. T. U. held a mothers' meeting at the home of Mrs. Chloe Walters, Thursday afternoon, March 28, 1912. A very large number of the ladies was present. Several interesting papers were read and recitations were given by Misses Mabelle Combs and Edith McKeen. A very helpful parliamentary drill was conducted by Mrs. Emma Secor. It was decided that a petition be drawn up and signed by all the ladies of this union to be sent to Senator George T. Oliver and Congressman Peter M. Speer, asking them to support the Sheppard-Kenyon bill. Also a petition to be sent to Judge Hinckley asking that no license shall be granted in Forest county. The afternoon was pleasantly ended by a dainty lunch served by Mrs. Chloe Walters and Mrs. Kate McNaughton.
