TAFT IS AT BAY ROOSEVELT SAYS ! WORK TO BE REVISED THAW HEARING

PRESIDENT, IN SCATHING TERMS ACCUSES ROOSEVELT OF DE-NYING "SQUARE DEAL."

OPPOSED TO THIRD TERM

Not Slightest Reason, if Traditon Is ter Telling Bonaparte to Delay ester Prosecution is Sent to Boston, April 26.—Taft jumped into the ring here and before 7,000 persons openly and deliberately kicked Col onel Roosevelt's hat vigorously. To out the pugilistic similes of the veltian campaign, the President spoke in the arena, the largest auditorium in Boston and which hamany occasions been the scene of oug ilistic corrests.

Mr. Tait openly charged the Colonel with deliberate misrepresentation of his policies and administation. He declared it was a painful duty for him to attack his former friend, but declared the gross misrepresentation and falsification to which he had been subjected by Mr. Roosevelt was so unwarranted and unjust he could no longer remain silent. Mr. Taft declared Colonel Roosevelt should not be given a third term There is not the slightest reason why," he said, "if he obtains a third term, and the limitation of Washington, Jefferson and Jackson tradition is broken down, he should not have as many terms as his natural life will permit. If he is necessary now to the government, why not later? One who so lightly regards constitutional principles and especially the independence of the judiciary, who is naturally impatient of legal restraints and due legal procedure, and has so misunderstood what liberty regulated by law is,

could not safely be trusted with successive presidential terms." "By excerpts from my speeches," Mr. Taft went on, "he has sought to show and has charged that I am one who has publicly announced that I am in favor of an aristocracy of political bosses, and that I am linked with political bosses in seeking my renomination. He charges that the patronage of the government is being shamelessly used to secure my renomination, and that in the conventions and primaries which have been held fraud and violence have been systematically used to defeat the will of the people and to secure delegates for me. He says that I am not a progressive but a reactionary; that I was nominated by progressives and after election joined the ranks of those who opposed me for nomination." "If in this contest there were at stake only my own reputation or the satisfaction of my own ambition, I would without the slightest qualm and without care as to the result, continue my silence under these unjust attacks. But I represent a cause. The supporters of this cause look to me to see to it that it is not seriously injured by the unjust, unfounded charges against me, and by the adroit appeals to discontent and class hatred Mr. Roosevelt is now making to the public."

The charge that Federal patronage was being used to renominate Mr. Taft, the President declared false. Seventy per cent, of the office holders were appointed by Roosevelt and some of them are active in furthering his candidacy. The charge that the bosses favor Mr. Taft, he said, was absurd when it was considered that Mr. Roosevelt was formerly supported by these same men. Roosevelt, he declared, is a menace to the business nterests of the country.

Mr. Taft acknowledged a debt of gratitude to the Colonel for aiding in his election to the Presidency. Then he declared that Roosevelt took a senence from his speech in Toledo, garbled it, and used it to create the impression that Mr. Taft was in favor of an oligarchy.

Astor Estate Alone Will Pay $4,000. 000 to $5,000,000 in Inherit-

TAFT IS INGRATE

Says President Has Given Him "Crookedest Kind of a Deal."

HE ALSO HINTS AT A BOLT

Torrent of Hot Denunciation-"Absurd "Untruths," "Disloyalty to Every Canon of Decency and Fair Dealing" and Yielding to Bosses."

Worcester, Mass.-Merciless denunciation of President Taft was Colonel Roosevelt's reply to the President's at tack on him. Some of Coloriel Roose velt's assertions were: That President Taft had not given the people of the country a "square deal," but that, owing to a "quality of. feebleness." he had "vielded to the bosses and the great privileged inter-

That one part of the President's attack upon him was "the crookedest kind of a deal" and "deliberate misrepresentation.

That the President "has not merely n thought, word and deed been disloyal to every canon of ordinary decency and fair dealing such as should bbtain even in dealing with a man's bitterest opponents."

That the President's statement regarding the influence of Federal officeholders in the campaign was "not only an untruth but it is an absurd un-

That Mr. Taft convicted himself of insincerity when he signed the Payne Aldrich Tariff bill. That in speaking of Col Roosevelt's position in regard to the trust problem President Taft "is himself guilty of a crooked deal." That the action of the administration in not appealing the Circuit Court order in the Tobacco case to the Supreme Court was "incompatible with the theory that the administration was acting in good faith." Col. Roosevelt took up President Taft's attack upon him point by point, flaying the President in one sentence after another. Summing up his attitude of opposition to the President, the colonel snapned out these sentences:

"I do not believe he has given the people a square deal. I believe he has yielded to bosses and to the great privileged interests. I think he has done this through feebleness, not though viciousness. I am sincerely sorry for him and only regret that he did not have the strength of character to make good his promises to the American people."

On the way to Worcester Colonel Roosevelt spoke from the rear platorm of his train where stops were made, and his most significant statement was in Willimantic, Conn., where he again made the threat that should his delegates be unseated by the National Committee he would become an inde pendent candidate for President.

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER BIGELOW'S PLANS BALKED BY AUDITOR GENERAL.

FIND MORE CHESTNUT BLIGHT

The National Guard of the State to Be Given New Olive Drab Uniforms -State Supplies for 1912 and 1913.

., Harrisburg, - State Highway Commissioner E. M. Bigelow informed several delegations of citizens who were here in the interest of road improvement in their communities it was necessary to revise the whole road improvement campaign for this year because Auditor General A. E. Sisson had not seen his way clear to approve the expenditure of about a million and a half dollars of nearey derived from automobile license fees for road work.

Commissioner Bigelow, said this would necessarily result in considerable curtailment of road building, and the delegations went home without assurance of anything except the desire of the highway commissioner to do the best he could with the limited amount of money available.

The automobile act provides that receipts from automobile license fees shall be used for highway improvement, and the department had been counting on this money for the pres ent season, but the auditor general takes the position that the legislature priate this money for the specific purpose under the act of 1909, prohibiting expenditure of unappropriated funds. If this contention is sustained the money will not be available for road building until next year.

More Chestnut Blight.

New centers of chestnut tree blight infection have been discovered in central counties by the inspectors of the state commission and a close survey is being made in countles in the Susquehanna valley. The work is being pushed in this section and the inspect ors are being helped by farmers and land owners who have destroyed trees which were affected.

The requisitions are to be made by the commanders of organizations without delay, as the uniforms will not be issued after June 1. The olive drab uniform will have the standing collar of the regulars instead of the turn-down style; will have patch instead of bellows pockets, and be without cuffs. The uniforms now used for general purposes will be used for ordinary work and the new olive drab will be kept for change when formal appearance is desired.

Supplies for 1912-13.

Telegraphones and other instruments for the registration of voices for use in correspondence, surveying instruments stationery by the ton nuts for squirrels and dried blood for the conservatories are on the list of articles to be supplied to the state under the schedule for supplies for 1912-1913, which is to be advertised within a few days. The schedule is the largest ever framed at the capitol, containing 7,180 items, or 2,000 more than before. The increase in size is due to the fact that the supplies for the senate and house are included and that equipment for the highway, department is also on the list,

TOO MUCH WHISKY ON MARKET

Kentucky Distillers Decide to Curtail

Output of Bourbon. Louisville, Ky .- Over-production of Kentucky whisky similar to that during the four years from 1890 to 1893, inclusive, which was followed by several years of depression, is feared by local distillers, who have agreed that curtailment in the output is imperative. The trade has produced about 90,000,000 gallons in the last two years, more than 20,000,000 in excess of the demand. Distillers say a tremendous impe tus was given the production of Kantucky bourbon by the pure food rulings as to what constitutes real whisky, and many increased the capacity of their plants in anticipation of a big demand. The overthrow of Dr. Wiley's conclusions later cut into the consumption of ageing whisky Jobbers all over the country, they say, practically have ceased buying any thing younger than 1910's, and when buy goods of older inspection the purchases are altogether for immediate wants.

West Virginia Court Orders Former Treasurer to Pay $25,000.

New Cumberland, W. Va.-An or der has been handed down by the Court that former Sheriff and County Treasurer A. F. Wilkin shall repay the county about $25,000 within 45 days, and that $10,000 of this amount shall be repaid the county within 10 days. It is asserted that the former official has had custody of a lot of the funds of the county since he retired from office four years ago, this fact being brought out by an audit of the books of the county which is now being conducted. Ex-Sheriff Wilkin takes issue with the state tax commissioner relative to the collection of road and delin quent taxes. It is also a'leged that Mr. Winkin will be able to prove that a considerable amount of the road tax has been worked out. The books of many other counties in the state are now being audited, so it is said, under the direction of State Tax Commissioner Blue. It is said that hearly $1,000,000 will be re turned to the state before the plans of the tax commissioners' office are completed.

Except Fish, a Red Collie Is Only Animal That Has Made Plunge and Survived.

The only living thing except the fish that has ever gone over the Shoshone Falls in Idaho and came through alive is Shep, a red collie belonging to a hotel man in Shoshone. At Shoshone the Snake River plunges into a cavern with less than a foot between the surface of the rushing waters and the roof of jagged rock. Sharp-toothed rocks bristle above the swirling currents, and cruel stones project from the slippery sides. From this subterranean passage the river emerges on the edge of a great canyon, over the brink of which it dashes in a thundering cataract of foam and spray 220 feet to the abysmal depths below. The falls of Shoshone are sixty feet higher than Niagara Falls. A child pulled Shep's plumy tail one day and Shep bit the child. For this he was promptly condemned to death by his owner, who took him to Snake river and threw him in just outside the cavern, and when Shep, battling bravely for his life, was swept out of sight into its mysterious mouth, he was considered a dead dog.

Half an hour later a boy hurried into the hotel and informed Shep's master that his collie was sitting on a haif submerged rock below the falls howling for help. Filled with remorse, the dog's owner hastened to his rescue with ropes and a boat, and half Shoshone attended Shep's triumphai return to his home, where his penitent owner gave him the best in the larder and a soft cushion behind the bar for the rest of his days. Beyond a few trifling scratches and the loss of his toe nails, the dog was none the worse for his terrible experience.

"What is it?" "I'll bet that burglar was a married

Conscientious. An editor of a New York magazine recently received a story of which the scene was laid in the state of Washington. He wished to have the story illustrated, and in order to obtain the best local detail he sent the manuscript to a young artist out in Washington. Before doing so, however, he scrawled hastily across the top of the first page the address of the writer, which did not otherwise appear on the manuscript. It was 'Shelton, Wash." With the story the editor sent a letter asking the artist to make a wash drawing of a certain effective scene and forward it as soon as possible. By return mail the ed-Itor received an anxious reply from the youthful artist, saying: "I note that you wish me to use Shelton wash. I do not know of any such wash, nor do any of the dealers out here. If you can send me a tube I

Without Ceremony. More or less ceremony usually attends the laying of a corner stone. but in one case at least it was laid quite simply. Two Chicago men were talking of the fortune of a third when one said: "He made his first lucky strike in eggs. He bought 10,000 dozen at a low figure, put them in cold storage and sold them at a profit of more than 300 per cent. That was the corner stone of his present fortune."
