In the ball game here on June 26th Pleasantville walked off with the victory, 10 to 6, but it took ten innings of good playing to settle it. The batteries were: Childs and Childs for Tionesta, Robinson and Sheehan for Pleasantville.

The Junior Epworth League of Nebraskas and the mothers of the children enjoyed their annual picnic outing in the grove at Kellestville, Tuesday. The party was also treated to a free ride to Sheffield and return on the S. & T. Ry.

The fine imported Percheron stallion "Chicogo," owned by Contractor H. O. Putnam and kept at the McCoy livery barn, was sold recently to John Hondol, of Fryburg. The horse is nine years old, weighs 1,800 pounds and is a beauty.

The catalogue of the Indiana State Normal School for 1912-1913 is one of the most artistic and attractive books ever issued. It contains 112 pages and is printed in three colors. The illustrations are particularly fine. If interested write for a copy of this high art book free of charge.

While driving his auto through Tionesta township a week or so ago H. O. Putnam ran over a big yellow rattlesnake measuring nearly five feet and carrying thirteen rattles. The snake was lying in the sand and the weight of the machine failed to kill it, so Harry finished the job with a club.

The following is given by Gimlet as the correct way to construct a coroner's cocktail: "Mix three chorus girls with as many men, and soak them in champagne until midnight; squeeze into an auto and add a dash of joy and a drunken chauffeur; shake well, and serve at 70 miles an hour."

The Fourth in Tionesta was as safe and sane as the sanest could wish. Except for the explosion of a few firecrackers—some of the dynamic brand—the day was quietly spent by our people in picnicking, family gatherings, or just resting and keeping cool. There was a wholesome absence of drunken carousing usual on "big days."

Saturday, June 30th, the Clarington W. C. T. U. held an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Geo. Braden, who is our superintendent of the T. L. B.'s, also the county superintendent. Mrs. Braden is very enthusiastic in this work. She has twenty-eight little Light Bearers. A sumptuous dinner was served on the lawn. After dinner a program on this line of the work was given, explaining and showing the importance of enlisting the children in this good cause. The photographer pictured the little tots, which will appear in "The Water Lily."

—Edward T. Beck, who will complete a five mile paving contract in New York State within a few days, has been awarded the contract for a ten mile brick road to extend from Cuba to Obi, N. Y., and passing through the town of Friendship. The contract price is $105,000. Mr. Beck made good on the road he is just finishing and rushed it through to completion.—Warren Mirror.

—The Seneca Kicker, one of our welcome exchanges, celebrated its 14th anniversary on the 4th of July by increasing its subscription from 50 cents to $1.00 a year, a step which its publishers should have taken long before they did, for the Kicker is well worth the price and more too. Good luck to ye, girls.

—The borough school board at its regular monthly meeting, July 1st, effected a new organization as follows: W. C. Inel, president; Q. Jamieson, vice president; David H. Blum, secretary; J. R. Clark, treasurer. The school term, beginning on the first Monday of September, will be as usual, eight months.

—The Hickory township school board has elected teachers for the ensuing term as follows: Laura K. Smutz, principal of the East Hickory high school; No. 5, Mae Libby; No. 4, Dora Rose; No. 3, Miss Baker; No. 2, Mary Henderson; No. 1, no election; Beaver Valley, Dorothy Shunk; Church Hill, Hazel Sibble; Queen, Rachel Albaugh; Albaugh Hill, no election.

—The school board of Harmony township has made a partial selection of teachers for the ensuing term, as follows: West Hickory, Alice N. Siggins, principal; Primary room, Mary Casey; Trunkville, Martha Morrow; Fagundes; Clara Head; Fleming Hill, Mrs. Jennie A. Vall. Teachers for Allender, Washington, Neiltown, and West Hickory No. 2, schools are still to be elected.

—While wading in the Allegheny river at Oleopolis, about 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Raymond M. Wolf, aged 23, a P. R. R. brakeman, was swept into 20 feet of water by a stiff current and, being unable to swim, was drowned. Clyde Proper, of Oil City, who was with him, had his wrist grabbed by the drowning man and was pulled under twice, but got his feet braced against a stone and pulled away and gave the alarm. His experience so unnerved him that it was found necessary to get a doctor for him. The body of the unfortunate victim was recovered Sunday afternoon and that same evening was taken to Allegheny, N. Y., where his parents reside, for burial.

—In addition to the damages done by lightning during the storm of Friday evening, mentioned by our Kellestville correspondent, a number of other places up that way felt the effects of the same storm. At the home of Ben Weller, on German Hill, the chimney was struck and completely wrecked, some of the bricks coming down on the stove. Mrs. Weller and son were in the house and near where the bolt struck, but were not injured. At the home of Theodore Barber, on White Hill, the lightning came in on the telephone wire and tore the leg of a small table on the front porch. Just below Kellestville a bolt struck and reduced two poles of the Forest Telephone Co. to kindling wood.

—Frank Hendricks, who is employed at camp number seven near Endeavor by Wheeler and Dusenbury as a woodsman had a narrow escape from death Thursday afternoon when a speeder on which he was riding was struck by a locomotive on the Wheeler and Dusenbury railroad. Mr. Hendricks had taken the speeder to go to West Hickory and on the return trip when he was near the mill at Endeavor he saw an engine approaching and before he could remove the speeder from the track it was struck and Mr. Hendricks was thrown a distance of about thirty feet. The speeder was completely demolished but Mr. Hendricks escaped with a deep cut on the head and a couple of small cuts on his right leg.

—Edward Cook, 20 years old, is in the Punxsutawney hospital, with a compound fracture of the left leg, sustained in an accident near his home at Cooksburg, yesterday, says the Punxsutawney Spirit of the 28th ult. The young man was driving a team with about 4,000 pounds of mine props behind it. The road is extremely rough and young Cook was jolted from his seat. He fell directly in front of the right rear wheel, which passed over his leg about midway between the knee and thigh. The bone was crushed and a piece of it pierced the muscle. At the hospital last evening it was found necessary to wire the bone. The injury is a serious one, and may result in the patient being slightly lame.

—Thomas Sullivan, the man who was shot while stealing a ride on an Erie freight train who was taken to the W. C. A. hospital in Jamestown, N. Y., June 6, was discharged from the hospital Saturday as cured. He has completely recovered from a wound in which 99 times out of a hundred would have proven fatal. The bullet pierced 19 holes in Sullivan's intestines. This was an abdominal wound fully as dangerous as the one which caused the death of President McKinley at Buffalo, and the president had the benefit of the greatest surgical experts of the country. Naturally Drs. Robert B. Blanchard and L. D. Bowman, of Jamestown, the latter a former Tionesta physician, who has charge of this case, feel highly elated over their success in saving Sullivan's life.

—Electrical storms were quite severe and did some damage near Gettysville last week, according to R. W. Moon, who was home at that place on a few days' vacation. On the 4th during a storm lightning killed one of two pigs confined in an enclosure near the barn and belonging to George Haslet. In the evening of the 5th, about 6 o'clock, a storm of unusual severity passed over that section during which there was a rainfall of fully two inches, flooding gardens and fields. While this storm was going on the barn of Mr. Moon was struck by lightning damaging the roof somewhat and tearing up one corner considerably. Evidence showed that the bolt passed within three feet of his horse which was knocked down and severely stunned, in which condition Mr. Moon found him a few minutes afterwards in his stall. The animal quickly recovered when released from the rope halter by which he was tied, and showed no ill effects from the shock the next day. The gas line of the Forest Gas Co., near the school house in that vicinity was struck and the gas was ignited, requiring strenuous efforts in extinguishing the flame after a gasket had been burned out.

—Gertrude, the five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnahan of West Hickory, who is spending a few days in town the guest of her uncle, Charles Carnahan, of Second street, had the misfortune yesterday afternoon, while playing on the lawn in front of the house, to fall and fracture her left collar bone. The fracture was a bad one, but owing to the little girl's age it will not take the bones long to knit together.—Warren Times, June 27.

—Titusville has a city ordinance which many an other town would do well to copy, and according to reports it is to be rigidly enforced from this on during the summer. The ordinance requires the cutting of weeds and all noxious growths on vacant lots and on the premises of every one within the city limits, at least once a month, thus converting a slovenly and unsightly condition into a "city beautiful." Such a provision in the code of any municipality would work no great hardship upon any property owner, and its strict enforcement would remove many an eyesore from an otherwise beautiful town. If thus treated where would you go to find a prettier little city than our own Tionesta?

—Mrs. Frances Frick, widow of the late John Frick, and a sister of Mrs. Samuel D. Irwin, of our place, died at the Chester county, Pa., hospital, Wednesday, July 3, 1912. Internment July 6, at South Laurel Hill, Philadelphia. Her husband, herself and family had been visitors in Tionesta in the past, and will be pleasantly remembered by many friends in this community. She and her sisters, Mrs. Dr. Price, of West Chester, Mrs. Irwin, and one brother, Capt. Joseph R. Thomas, were children of Col. Philip D. Thomas, of Philadelphia, who came here in 1868, married Helen S. May, and became a well known resident of Tionesta, and who was elected to the State Senate in the Clarion-Forrest district, and who died in 1878, beloved by all who knew him.

—Smith E. Beatty, of Ligonier, Pa., son-in-law of Charles G. Thompson, of Endeavor, this county, was one of the victims to lose his life in the terrible accident last Friday on the Ligonier Valley Railroad, an account of which will be found on the first page of this issue. Mr. Beatty was the engineer of the second engine of the freight train and jumped when the crash came. He sustained a broken leg and the press reports stated that his life would be saved. His injuries evidently were more serious than at first reported, for his death occurred Tuesday morning at the Latrobe hospital, where he was taken for treatment immediately after the accident. His fireman, John H. Ankey, also jumped, rolled under the tender and had both legs cut off. He died on the way to the hospital. Mr. Beatty was over thirty years of age, was a lifelong resident of Ligonier and popular with all who knew him. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Erma I. Thompson, and one daughter aged nine years, Charles G. Thompson and son Lee were visiting at Ligonier at the time of the accident. Jesse L. Thompson, another son, also of Endeavor, was summoned and went down last evening to attend the funeral, which will be held Thursday.

Earl Osborne Loses Foot Under Cars.

C. E. Osborne, of this place, was crippled for life Tuesday morning at West Hickory, when he fell under a freight train and lost his left foot just above the ankle. Mr. Osborne, who is a saw mill worker, came to Tionesta last year and purchased the John Cropp property at the upper end of town. For some time he has been employed on a mill in Potter county and came home a week ago. Not wishing to be so far away from his family he determined to seek employment nearer home and on Monday went to Oil City to look for a place in one of the factories there. During the night he jumped freight train No. 351, known as "the oil run," for a ride home, but when it passed here it is supposed to have been going so fast that he failed to jump and he went on to West Hickory, where he jumped just in front of the depot. This occurred shortly after one o'clock. He evidently lost his footing and rolled under the train, his left leg being badly crushed at the ankle. No one saw the accident and the unfortunate man laid beside the track until four o'clock when the crew of south-bound freight No. 380 discovered him. He was picked up and taken to the Oil City hospital, where his leg was amputated just above the ankle. He withstood the shock very well. Aside from some bruises on his face he had no other injuries and it is thought he will recover. He has a wife and three small children and much sympathy is expressed for him in his misfortune. He was working hard to pay off an indebtedness on his property. Mrs. Osborne went to Oil City Tuesday noon to be with him.

George Brewer Found Dead in Bed.

Our Kellestville correspondent furnishes the following particulars of the sudden death of a well known resident of that place:
George Brewer was found dead in his bed Monday morning, July 8th, on the Weller farm, below town. It is stated that he had been drinking quite heavily for several days. He did not show up Monday morning and searchers climbed in the window and found him lying on the bed surrounded by books and papers, where he had been reading. He is supposed to have been dead about six hours. A physician was summoned, who pronounced the cause of his death to be heart failure. As there was no evidence of foul play or anything to indicate that his death was due to other than natural causes, an inquest was not deemed necessary. Mr. Brewer was aged about 55 years and was unmarried. He had been staying by himself and taking care of the Weller farm for some time.

Nothing is known here as to the antecedents of Mr. Brewer or where he came from. He came to Kellestville many years ago and had made this his home ever since, being employed about the mills and lumber woods. During the big flood in the spring of 1911 his trunk was submerged and all his papers were destroyed, and therefore not a scrap of paper could be found throwing any light on his past history. Neither is it positively known that he ever condescended to anyone, but there is a rumor afloat that he came here from Connecticut. He was a quiet, inoffensive, industrious man, and one who was well known in this vicinity. The funeral services will be held today, Wednesday, with interment in the Whig Hill cemetery.

—Geo. Huddleson, for the past two years a resident of Oklahoma, returned to his native home in this vicinity last week. While many features of that hot section were to his liking, he does not expect to return, preferring "the old stomping ground" to anything he found in the southwest country.

—Our old friend Benjamin Kinney has drifted with the tide landing in the oil fields at Marietta, California, where he finds it necessary, in order to make life bearable, to have the weekly visits of the old FOREST REPUBLICAN. Ben has for years been a land-mark in the vicinity of Balltown and Porkey, and no doubt is much missed by old friends in that community.

—Subscription renewals are thankfully acknowledged as follows: Frank Rudolph, Endeavor; J. T. Flick, Tionesta; W. L. Elder, Warren; Geo. W. Meador, Jamestown, N. Y.; Ben Kinney, Marietta, Calif. (new); Elk Tanning Co., Ridgway; Mrs. R. J. Mills, Corydon, Pa. (new); Geo. Shotts, Tylersburg; Mrs. Minnie Walters, Muncie, Ind.; Joseph Clark, Tionesta.

—The following teachers from here are attending summer schools: Miss June Herman at State College, Center county; F. W. Gill and Miss Katharine Osgood at the University, Wooster, Ohio; Parker Flick at Allegheny College, Meadville. Lloyd White, our new principal, is also attending State College. Ira B. Shoup, of Muzette, is attending Columbia University, in New York City.

—Prof. James L. Marks of Tidoute, and Miss Sarah Sanson Wilson, were married on the campus of the Kiskimincus Springs school June 28th. Prof. Marks is a son of Rev. and Mrs. S. F. Marks of Tidoute, and is well and favorably known to many Tionesta people. His bride is the daughter of Prof. A. W. Wilson, principal of the school in which he has held a chair for some time past. They will make their home at Kiskimincus Springs.

—Fred M. Morgan, for the past sixteen years a resident of Denver, Col., whether he went because of the salubrity of the climate, came east a month ago to get a breacer of pure Pennsylvania ozone, and has been a guest at the home of his brother, James R. Morgan, for the past two weeks. The high altitude of Denver got a little too frisky to suit Fred and he decided to shake it for a season and come back to a country that he knew would welcome him and build him up physically.

—Dr. Wilber T. Lelebur, who has been located in Baltimore, Md., for some time, sprung a pretty and agreeable surprise on his relatives and friends here when he came home July 1st bringing a bride with him. The young lady of his choice was Miss Anna Harold, of York, Pa., who had been a trained nurse in St. Luke's hospital, Baltimore, in which the doctor was resident physician. They were married in Washington, D. C., on March 28th, 1912. They will spend the summer here and are receiving the congratulations of many friends. The doctor had a house furnished at Irvington, a suburb of Baltimore, and expects to locate there permanently.

—Wednesday, June 26, Harry D. Jamieson and Adelia L. Sandrock left on the early morning train for Meadville, where they were joined by their friend, Miss Ethel Clark, and together the party proceeded to Linesville, Crawford county, where, at high noon, the marriage of the first named was solemnized by the Rev. W. O. Calhoun, their former pastor in Tionesta, the full ring ceremony of the Methodist Episcopal church being employed. After the wedding dinner the company spent the day at Exposition Park, Conneaut Lake, and the happy couple left Linesville in the evening for a trip to Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Toronto. They will make their home in Tionesta and begin their married life with the best wishes of a multitude of friends.

A Joyous Family Gathering.

Mrs. Joseph G. Dain, Tionesta's oldest and most revered resident, experienced the joy during the past week of having with her practically all of her immediate family and descendants, and on Sabbath last all were gathered around the sumptuous dinner table in a happy reunion which extended over the day. The venerable and ever genial hostess entered into the spirit of the pleasant occasion as though she were one of the youngest instead of the mother of the company. Should Mrs. Dain be spared till September 14 next, she will have reached her 90th birthday, and for more than 71 years she has presided over her own household, having been married on Christmas eve, 1840. She has been wonderfully blessed throughout her long life with almost perfect health, and but for an injury sustained in a fall a few years ago, she has scarcely known a day that she could not busy herself with her household affairs in which she always found greatest pleasure. Her host of friends in this community wish her continued health and happiness through the remainder of her life among them.

The following members of the family were present at this reunion: Mrs. Jennie C. Partridge and son Fred, of Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Dewees and sons, Dain and Howard, of Salem, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dewees of Cleveland, Ohio; Alex. H. Dale, Oakland, California; Mrs. Belle M. Dewees and J. T. Dale, Tionesta. A group picture of the company was taken.

Notice to Contractors.

The Board of School Directors of Howe Township will meet at Lynch, Pa., on Monday, July 22, 1912, to receive bids on moving the Porter Farm School House. It will be taken down and moved on the railroad about one mile, and by wagon about one-half mile. The specifications are the same as the old ones. The contractors will furnish all new material to finish the building when setting it up again. The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.
