The Very Latest in Autumn Hats at a Very Low Price.

Hats built especially for August and September selling, just the kind that those who care the most for the latest modes and conceits are now seeking; and the price is scarcely half.

$3.50 for hats selling in all the best stores in the land at $5.00 to $8.00. Every one of these hats were made on the other side of the ocean.

They're the finest of fur felt, soft and downy as the ear of a mouse, and are the sort that never lose their jaunty, classy outlines. Over a dozen shapes and each shape comes in white, pink, sky, mode and grey.

Advance Sale of Velvet Shapes $3.75 Each, Worth Considerable More.

Half a dozen shapes, all large and the most popular of the coming season's models.

Velvet hats rank as the coming favorites. These hats we refer to this morning are made with a very excellent quality of Lyon's straight pile velvet. The price now is but $3.75. If you wait until the season is advanced you'll probably pay nearly double.

Jacquard Slumber Robes $1.69, Instead of $2.50.

These come to us from one of the foremost mills in the country, famous for this particular style of blanket. The advantage of this line is that they do not wear rough, launder well and are perfectly fast colors. Everywhere else the price is $2.50. We have only a limited quantity to sell at $1.69.

Eden Cloths, Short Lengths, 10 Cents.

For shirt waists, night gowns, pajamas, house gowns, children's dresses, men's shirts, boys' blouses.

A soft firm fabric that has the appearance and wearing quality of fine Imported French Wool, but unlike wool it shrinks but very little and "does not scratch." The regular price is 15c.

PRESIDENT ASKS FOR SQUARE FIGHT

Denounces Moose Electors on Republican Ticket

CALLS THEM "DISHONEST MEN"

Roosevelt Given Ovation in Providence, R. I., Where He Opens Progressive Campaign—Dem. Canvass.

Addressing members of the Maryland Republican Editorial association in the East Room of the White House President Taft declared bluntly that presidential electors were "dishonest men" if they let their names appear on the Republican ballot and intended to vote for the candidate of another party.

He asserted that those who were not for the Republican party were against it and should get out of the way.

"Regularity, or feeling of regularity and respect for the Republican party for what it has done, what it is capable of doing, are going to bring over into the Republican party many a man who has been doubtful, and it is going to increase that number, in my judgment, as we approach the election.

"It is therefore essential that we make the cleavage as clear as it can be made, so that those who are Republicans shall be Republicans, and those who are with the bolters shall bear their name and title, and not be Republicans and bolters, because they cannot be—at least they ought not to be in all fairness.

"If there are men on that list who are not going to vote for the man at the head of that ticket, I don't hesitate to say that they are dishonest men, in that they are holding out to the people who are to vote for them an implied promise that they will vote for the names on the ticket, when they, in fact, intend to vote for somebody else."

Rhode Islanders Cheer Teddy.

Colonel Roosevelt made the opening speech of his campaign in Providence, R. I. The colonel's greeting was enthusiastic. While the band played "Hail to the Chief" the entire crowd of about 3,000 persons was on its feet and for ten minutes cheered.

While Rev. J. S. Wadsworth offered prayer and while Chairman E. F. Tuttle was making his introductory remarks a condition approaching a riot arose. It was all the police could do to close the doors.

"I have already been asked three times since my arrival in this city," he said, "this question: 'Is this progressive movement liable to last?'"

"I want to tell you right now and most emphatically that it is a movement that is here to stay and that I have simply started it two or three years earlier than it would otherwise have started. It is a permanent movement and is here to stay."

Cheers followed the statement: "The Progressive party has made it its mind that it would like to have the United States senate represent someone rather than it does represent."

Again there was loud applause when the colonel said: "Our opponents have said we shall make mistakes. Very true, I expect that we shall, but we will make them ourselves, we don't want the bosses to make our mistakes for us."

Result of Democratic Canvass.

The first canvass of the sentiment of the country by states, made through the Democratic national committee is completed. Summarized it shows an overwhelming Wilson sentiment through the country, a complete change in the political map, a re-arranging of the list of the doubtful, certain and lost states and a division of the electoral votes into three columns. It also shows that Wilson will be elected by as great a majority as any president ever had from the United States.

Progressive's Official Emblem.

The official emblem of the National Progressive party will be a moose head within a black square, the latter typifying a square deal.

ASK UNSEATING OF JUDGE

Charges Filed Against Jurist in West Virginia.

Governor Glasscock of West Virginia was asked to call the state legislature in extraordinary session for the purpose of impeaching Judge William R. Bennett of Fayette county, recently renominated in the Republican primary of that county.

A petition signed by numerous citizens of Fayette county was filed with the governor, charging Bennett with corruption, gross immorality and incompetency. Judge Bennett is charged with receiving presents and cash.

COW WAS INTOXICATED

Bossy Eats Fermented Cornstalks and Gets a Real "Jag."

The cow with a "jag" is the latest discovery by the department of agriculture. A Virginia husbandman, alarmed by the ludicrous performances of an ordinarily mild animal after munching a ration of ensilage, appealed to the sharps in the department.

Investigation revealed that bossy had feasted on fermented cornstalks and became drunk on raw bourbon whisky—that was all.

Bison Practically Wiped Out.

How effectively the bison has been exterminated may be seen from the fact that a fine head lent by Idaho people for the land show at St. Paul is insured for $2,000. One used to cost a morning gallop and a ball from a big pistol.

Emulated the Ostrich.

In the stomach of a cow recently slaughtered in Davenport, Wash. were found steel nails, a piece of tin can and a 24-point capital O from a foot of type.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

Improvement in Iron and Steel Steadily Continues.

Dun's Review of Trade says this week:

"The industrial and trade situation fully maintains its recent improvement, and a further advance in activity is noted in the reports from the leading centers.

"Everything points to a continuance of the present activity in iron and steel, and the advancing trend of quotations promises increased profits to the producer. Consumers of pig iron are devoting a good deal more attention to their requirements for the first half of next year, but future business is not readily accepted unless higher prices are offered."

ACTORS GET BIG DAMAGES

Vaudeville Team Receives Judgment For $60,000.

In New York Andy Amann and Frances Hartley, a song and dance team in vaudeville, were given judgment for $30,000 actual damages and $30,000 exemplary damages against the United Booking Offices for unlawful combination to prevent their appearing on the stage in the United States.

Back of the booking concern are B. F. Keith, F. F. Proctor, E. F. Albee and Percy G. Williams.

LEGAL WAR ON "MOVIES"

Government Asks Dissolution of Alleged Monopoly.

The federal government attacked the so-called moving picture trust in a civil suit filed in Philadelphia for the dissolution of the Motion Picture Patents company and the General Film company.

Ten moving picture film concerns are accused of combining to monopolize the business, even to the extent of increasing or decreasing the number of motion picture theaters in which they have no proprietary interest.

Bullets Whistle Past Boland.

William P. Boland, whose charges against Judge Archbald led to the bringing of impeachment charges against the judge, had a narrow escape from death when two bullets whizzed past his ear while he was walking through Moose Lake, a summer resort, near Scranton, Pa. Mr. Boland is not sure whether the bullets were meant for him or not.

Was Shooting Down Flaggpole.

John Cullen, aged thirty-eight, caused considerable excitement in Homestead, Pa., when he drew a revolver and started shooting at the flagpole and signs displayed in front of the stores. He declared he had been ordered to shoot down the flag and he proposed to do it. Cullen was held for investigation.

NO FIELD FOR THEIR WORK

How The Good Young Man From California Set the Card Sharper's Right.

There are good men in California, very good men, and shrewd men, too (according to Eli Perkins). One day a real good young man, who used to teach a Bible class in San Francisco, boarded the Union Pacific train at Ogden. He was going home to Boston as a delegate from California to the Massachusetts Sunday-School association. He was neatly and sweetly dressed and spent most of his time reading the Christian at Work. After a while he got introduced to a colonel, a professor, and a doctor, who said they lived in Boston, and they invited him to take a quiet game of euchre. During an animated religious conversation, three aces were thrown on his side of the table, after which one of the Bostonians gayly remarked, with the greatest coolness, "I wish that we were playing poker. I don't know that I have been favored with such a hand for years." Our religious young man from San Francisco immediately saw the game of the sharper, looked up innocently, and remarked: "I have been favored also. I have a pretty good poker hand myself." The three looked at each other significantly. "They call you professor?" asked the young man from San Francisco. "Yes." "And they call you colonel?" "Yes." "You are from the East, I believe?" "Yes, from Boston." "Well, gentlemen," he continued, rising, "you had better take the next train back. We meet it just the other side of the Grand Canon. You can't make a cent at this. They have been teaching it in the Sunday-schools in California for years."

NO MORE SPREES FOR HIM

Changing the Letter on Stenographer's Typewriter Cured Him of the Drink Habit.

In a certain railroad office in the West Bottoms is a stenographer, upon whom his employer places considerable confidence, for he is one of the best in the business. Only one shortcoming has ever been found against him, but this was a grievous one, the kind that was increased 100 per cent when the bi-monthly pay law went into effect. Long and faithful service kept him from being discharged, and his employer was very lenient. From month to month, however, it could be noticed that he was slipping a little more with each payday. Finally one last plan was decided upon to keep him in the service and prevent his falls from the wagon.

During an absence following a pay day a typewriter mechanic was pressed into service, to change the letters on the machine around. The next morning the stenographer reported for work, with the evidences of a "hangover." His employer started on him good and curly, with a message which was to be rushed.

The stenographer started work. The result was something of an "x-&5!" affair. Finally he decided "it was no use."

"I guess I have been cutting up a little," he said. "I expect I better take a day off and sober up."

It was agreed thus, and during the day of sobering up, the letters on the machine were set back into place. The plan worked and though the incident occurred six months ago, the stenographer hasn't missed a day.—Kansas City Journal.
