RECLUSE SLAYS THREE AND SELF

Farmer and Two Sisters Killed by Sixty-Year-Old Man

CASE CLOTHED IN MYSTERY

One Victim Shot While Churning; Two Women Struck Down at Sewing Table—No Evidence of a Struggle.

What is believed to have been a triple murder and suicide was found when the bodies of Frank Hendrix and his two sisters, Esther and Emma, were discovered at their home in New Freedom, near York, Pa.

Death in each case was due to bullet wounds. John Caskey, sixty years old, who was found dead a few miles from the Hendrix home with a bullet hole through his head, is believed to have committed the triple crime and then committed suicide.

Caskey was a recluse who lived on land belonging to the Hendrix farm near the Mason and Dixon line. What occurred there can only be surmised as all the witnesses are believed to be dead, each with a bullet hole in the forehead.

The body of Hendrix, who was forty-five years old, was found in the barn where he had been at work churning cream when his assailant shot him. There was no evidence of any struggle.

The two women, each more than fifty years old, were shot while sewing in their home. Here, too, evidences of a struggle were lacking.

The first intimation of the tragedy was when Mrs. Rose Caskey, a sister-in-law of the aged recluse, stumbled over Caskey's body on the porch of her home, near New Market, just over the state line in Maryland. His life had been ended with a bullet in the right temple making a wound similar to those on the three bodies which were discovered later at the lonely farm near New Freedom.

Caskey left a note which said that he had ended his life because of ill health but made no mention of the other deaths. A .38 caliber revolver was clutched in his hand and three empty cartridges were found in his pocket.

HEALTH SHOULD RULE

Certificate Should Be Demanded Before Marriage, Dr. Wile Declares.

When women declare that they will not marry unless the groom can produce a doctor's certificate of perfect health on that day the problem of sex hygiene practically will be solved, declared Dr. Ira S. Wile of New York, in an address at the Congress of Hygiene and Demography in Washington. Pointing to charts, models, photographs and life size casts illustrating the effects of disease, he declared that he would rip out the whole thing, with the exception of the section on eugenics.

"Do you suppose that chamber of horrors has a moral, reforming or even an educational effect?" he asked. "I do not believe that fear is a high ethical concept to appeal to. Our efforts must be turned, not toward dragging the young to do right, but toward the inculcation of that right thinking which leads to right doing."

GHOST ROUTS FAMILY

Franklin Blacksmith Abandons His Home Following Child's Fright. Declaring his child was frightened into hysterics by a ghost, Samuel Corbett of Franklin, Pa., moved to another house. He says he and other members of the family have seen the ghost, which is that of the late William Dalley, a well known citizen who died in the house several months ago. Lemuel Sloan, an aged railroad watchman, says the ghost walks 150 feet with him every night when he goes home. Their curiosity aroused by the story, a crowd of several hundred persons gathered at the house one night and remained until after midnight. The ghost was taking a night off and did not appear.

PASTOR THREATENS SUIT

Elders Who Ousted Him Must Be Impeached, He Declares. The hearing of charges made by Rev. Stanley V. Bergen, pastor of the Pleasant View Presbyterian church in Franklin township, Fayette county, Pa., who was ousted from his pulpit, against four elders in the church was continued until the next session of the presbytery.

Unless the Redstone presbytery impeaches the elders Mr. Bergen threatens to bring a damage suit against them for $25,000. He says he will be satisfied if they are thrown out of office.

WIFE, 13, MUST GO TO SCHOOL

Judge Lays Down Law to Husband of Young Girl. "You must send your wife to school until she is fourteen years of age or you will be arrested and fined," warned Magistrate Boyle in Philadelphia after imposing a fine upon the father-in-law of John Palasis, whose wife, Annie, is only thirteen years old.

When asked why she did not attend school Mrs. Palasis, who wore short dresses, said she had no time to go to school as she had to get her husband's meals and look after other household duties.
