VICE PRESIDENT SHERMAN CALLED Expires Peacefully Surrounded by Family at Utica, N. Y. WAS UNCONSCIOUS FOR HOURS Body Reposes in State in Utica Court-house While 40,000 Persons Pass By. President Greatly Shocked by Death. James Schoolcraft Sherman, vice president of the United States, died at his home in Utica, N. Y., at 9:42 o'clock Wednesday night. The vice president, who had lapsed into a state of coma, never rallied and passed from unconsciousness to death. Dr. F. H. Peck issued this statement concerning the last moments of the vice president: "The vice president died without regaining consciousness. His end was perfectly quiet. He died in the presence of his wife, her brother and sister, his two brothers and his three sons and their wives. He had been perfectly unconscious since 7 o'clock in the morning, when he had a period of partial consciousness for about fifteen minutes. He died in an uraemic coma as the result of Bright's disease, heart disease and arterio sclerosis."

Sketch of His Career. James Schoolcraft Sherman was born Oct. 24, 1835, in Utica, N. Y. He attended public schools of his native city and was graduated as a bachelor of arts in 1878—the same year that President Taft was graduated from Yale—from Hamilton college, at Clinton, N. Y., near his home. Following his graduation he studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1880. He was elected mayor of Utica in 1884 and was sent as a delegate in 1892 to the Republican national convention. He served as chairman of the Republican state convention in 1895, 1900 and 1908. He had in 1887 been elected to the Fifty-fifth congress and was re-elected a member of Fifty-first, Fifty-third, Fifty-fourth, Fifty-fifth, Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth congresses. While he was a member of the house of representatives in 1900 the Republican senators' caucus committee offered him the position of secretary to the senate and he signified his willingness to accept. President McKinley a little later offered him a post as one of the appraisers of the port of New York. Constituents of his in the Onondaga-Herkimer district held a mass meeting and requested him to continue to represent them in the national house of representatives, which he accordingly did. While chairman of the state convention in 1900 Mr. Sherman was a rival of Theodore Roosevelt for the vice presidential nomination. The congressman in 1902 was honored for the speakership of the house, but he withdrew his candidacy in a letter to his fellow congressmen of New York, declaring that he did not wish to jeopardize the chances of New York to elect a speaker, there being then two candidates from the Empire state in the field. In congress Mr. Sherman was strongly identified with Indian affairs, and at the time of his election to the vice presidency in 1908 was the chairman of the committee on Indian affairs. Mr. Sherman succeeded Representative Babcock of Wisconsin as chairman of the Republican congressional committee in charge of the campaign. President Roosevelt had suggested that, as so much was being said in criticism of contributions by corporations, smaller contributions should be sought among the people generally and the future vice president became famous under the sobriquets of "Dollar Jim" and "Send Your Dollar, Jim," as the solicitor of dollar contributions.

WHITMAN AFTER MEN HIGHER UP Attacks New York Police "System" in High Places INSPECTOR ON THE CARPET Summoned to Explain His Activity in Behalf of Four Gunmen Who Are Accused of the Rosenthal Murder. District Attorney Whitman is facing the police "system" and has set his strength to deliver a crushing blow. He started in by issuing a subpoena for an uptown inspector of police, who, it is alleged, has been active in an effort to discredit Jack Rose, Bridger Webber and Harry Vallon, the state's chief witnesses in the Rosenthal murder case. He uncovered, it is said, an attempt to bribe into silence William Shapiro, the driver of the gray murder car, who lately became a state's witness. Mr. Whitman was convinced that the four gunmen waiting trial for the murder of Herman Rosenthal would have confessed had they not been reached by the "system."

"If the people of New York think the storm has blown over they are mistaken," Mr. Whitman said. "The clean-up of the police has just begun." Mr. Whitman has a statement from Shapiro that an emissary of the "system" offered him $2,000 if he would stick to his non-committal policy. This incident is to be made the subject of investigation by the new grand jury. Mr. Whitman has evidence that the system is controlled by a triumvirate consisting of a civilian employe of the police department, an inspector of police and another civilian once prominent in the city administration. The interests represented by these men, Mr. Whitman believes, are making a desperate fight to have the Rosenthal case closed with the conviction of Charles Becker. Their tactics, the district attorney has reason to believe, aim to break down the strong case that has been presented against all the men under indictment for the murder of Rosenthal.

TAFT DEEPLY MOVED President Hears News of Sherman's Death at Banquet Table. President Taft was much affected when he received the news of Vice President Sherman's death. The president was seated at the banquet table in the Thirtieth regiment armory, Brooklyn, as the chief guest of the navy yard employes after the launching of the new battleship New York. The message was brought to him by a secret service man. "Oh, my God!" he exclaimed. Then he told those nearest to him of the death of Mr. Sherman. Tears sprang to his eyes. When the navy yard constructor finished his speech the president arose and said: "My friends, three years ago, at the launching of the Florida, you all met the vice president of the United States. Word has just come to me that he is dead. Those who knew him, loved him. His death is a great loss to all. I venture, therefore, to ask you all that this meeting be adjourned in honor of his memory."

WOMAN LAIN IN WELL Hurled Through Platform into Water When Horse Runs Off. Three persons were injured, two of them in an unusual manner, in a runaway at Conneaut lake. Brinton McCurdy, a farmer, drove into town with his wife and baby and while he was in a store the horse ran away. Mrs. McCurdy, who weighs 250 pounds, was thrown to the platform of a well. The force with which she struck crushed the boards and she fell twenty feet into eight feet of water. Only partly conscious she clung to the sides until rescued. The lines became entangled about the baby and it was dragged and badly hurt. The third victim was an intoxicated man, who was knocked down by the horse. He stuck his fingers in the circle under the front wheels as the buggy passed over him and three fingers were cut off. Steel Plant Under the Hammer. The plant of the Pennsylvania and West Virginia Steel company at Lebanon, Pa., was sold at public auction at the instance of the Fidelity Trust company, holder of a mortgage given in security of a bond issued. The plant complete was purchased by R. G. Cox of Harrisburg, representing the bondholders, for $47,000. Despondent Man Shoots Himself. Wiltsie Stang, twenty-two years old, son of Amos Stang, a farmer, ten miles from Kittanning, Pa., committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with a rifle. Young Stang, long a sufferer from tuberculosis, had been an inmate of the sanitarium at Mt. Alto until one week ago, when, failing to improve, he started home. Hunter Bleeds to Death. Leaving the house to hunt on Brush mountain, near Altoona, Pa., Merl Riley, nineteen years old, was dead two hours later. He had his gun cocked and had placed it on the ground. The jar discharged it and the contents entered his left thigh, severed an artery, and he bled to death. Railroad Deaths Increase. Figures compiled by the Pennsylvania railroad commission show that in July, August and September 360 persons were killed on the steam railroads of Pennsylvania, against 266 in the same quarter last year and 47 on street railways, against 43 in the similar period last year. Old Horse Wrecks Car. Near Ellwood City, Pa., an old horse roused onto the tracks of the Pittsburgh, Harmony, Butler and New Castle railway and caused the car to leave the track. Before the car came to a stop six trolley wire poles were cut down and ten passengers shaken up severely.

INCOME TAX ASSURED Necessary Number of States Will Ratify Constitutional Amendment. At Washington the opinion is expressed that by the first of the new year three-fourths of the states of the Union will have ratified the constitutional amendment granting congress power to pass an income tax law. Notice of approval by thirty-four of the forty-eight states has already been received and it is unofficially reported that Ohio and Louisiana have recently sanctioned the plan. Only two more states are needed to make the necessary thirty-six, but Secretary of State Knox will not issue the proclamation until one or two more than the number required have acted. Each state has a right to rescind its approval or rejection at any time. COAL MEN SUMMONED High Price of Coal to Be Investigated by State. Primary reasons for the annual winter coal shortage with the consequent increase in prices are to be investigated by the Ohio public utilities commission. General superintendents and car service men of eleven Ohio coal carrying roads have been summoned to appear before the commission on November 15. This winter's car shortage has begun and the price of coal is on the raise. Coal men say that unless the commission can effect some arrangement with the coal carrying railroads this winter the shortage will become a famine. Admits Shooting Girl. At Steubenville, O., Charles Seigel of Altoona, who shot and wounded Laura Bulgar of Johnstown, some months since, pleaded guilty. Judge Richards gave him a reformatory parole sentence. Auto Tumbles Into Sea. At Alicante, Spain, an automobile tumbled over the side of the quay and fell into the sea. Nine persons were drowned.

POISON IN THREE BODIES Chicago Doctor Testifies Against Woman Prisoner. At Chicago the state introduced its principal evidence in the trial of Mrs. Alma Lindloff, spiritualist, clairvoyant and crystal-gazer, charged with poisoning her son, Arthur, and alleged to have predicted the deaths of other members of her family. Dr. Walter S. Haines, toxicologist, testified that he had found between three and four grains of a mineral poison, sufficient to cause death, in the body of Arthur Lindloff and that he found the same drug in fatal quantities in the bodies of William Lindloff, one of Mrs. Lindloff's husbands, and of Alma Lindloff, her daughter. The undertaker who buried William Lindloff testified that Mrs. Lindloff told him he would have another funeral in her house within a year. An insurance agent testified that the woman placed a $2,000 policy on the boy's life a few months before his death.
