GAVE OF SURPLUS WEALTH

Rich Men in Other Days Lavish in Their Donations to Their Favorite Cities.

"Many a man who has inherited millions," once said Frederic Harrison, "is gnawed with envy as he watches a practical man turning an honest penny. How he would like to earn an honest penny! He never did; he never will; and he feels like a dyspeptic invalid watching a hearty beggar enjoying a bone or a crust. Many a rich man is capable of better things; but he does not know how to begin!" The ancient law suggests a restoration of the liturgies, the public services of rich men as they were organized in the model Greek republics. "At Athens the liturgies were legal and constitutional offices imposed periodically and according to a regular order by each local community on citizens rated as having capital of more than a given amount. . . . It always remained a public office, a duty to be filled by taste, skill, personal effort and public spirit. Rich men contended for the office. The chief ambition of a rich man came to be that of making splendid gifts to his fellow citizens, and theaters, stadiums, colonnades, aqueducts, gardens, libraries, museums, pictures, statues—all were showered upon favorite cities by wealthy men in whose possession or control the name of citizen." A few multimillionaires in our American republic have made public benefactions. May their tribe increase! The gift of a public hospital or a school building is always in order.—The Christian Herald.

Musical Sands.

Musical sands have been known for 1,000 years and it is believed that there is a reference to them in one of the tales of the "Arabian Nights." But nature produces much finer results. There is the Mountain of the Bell on the shores of the Red sea, which makes extraordinary sounds and booms when the winds set the countless millions of particles rubbing against each other and vibrating.

PENNY WISE, POUND FOOLISH

Contractor Saved His Nickel, but Was Out Something on the Transaction.

How to save a nickel and lose a thousand dollars is a lesson learned by a Bronx contractor. He was at the Fordham station of the Third Avenue elevated and he wanted to go to West Farms, at the end of the Lenox subway, to submit a bid on a contract. The ordinary way to make such a trip would be to pay two car fares, but this careful contractor saw a way to complete the journey for a single fare, but he says he will never do it again. He bought an elevated ticket and rode down town to Third Avenue and One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, where he got a transfer to the downtown subway train. He intended to ride down to the next station, Mott Avenue, get off there and cross to the uptown side and ride back to his destination, thus saving five cents. Unfortunately that day there was an accident in the subway, the trains were blocked for nearly an hour and he was in a train that was stalled half way between two stations. When he finally did arrive at the office he found all the bids had been opened and the contract awarded. His bid, however, was lower than the one accepted, yet it was for a sum sufficiently large to have shown him a cool profit of $1,000. Then he went out and spent about $20 in drinks to drown his sorrow.—New York Times.

Generous Offer.

The money in circulation in this country amounts to $34.61 per capita. If the parties holding back our share will turn over the $34, they may keep the 61 cents and no questions asked.—Newark News.

ASKS POWERS TO STOP WAR

Turkey Wants to Quit Fighting, Admitting Defeat

BULGARS CONTINUE TO ADVANCE

Rout of Turks in Big Battle Described as "Scarcely Paralleled in History;" Loss of Turks Estimated at 40,000.

A dispatch from Constantinople says that the Turks have turned to the powers with an admission that they have been beaten and a plea for mediation.

This application is said to have been made to the foreign ambassadors in Constantinople and to the powers through the porte's representatives in the chancelleries of Europe.

Mediation with a view to the cessation of hostilities and the opening of peace negotiations with the Balkan allies is said to be the request of the porte.

The correspondent of the Daily Chronicle with the Turkish army writing from Chortu on Nov. 1 confirms the previous reports of the defeat of the Turks in the big battle with the Bulgarians, which he says was "terrible and appalling." He says it was followed by a rout "scarcely paralleled in history."

Forty thousand of the Turkish troops have fallen and 75 per cent of the artillery was captured. Abdullah Pasha had a narrow escape from capture. The army found its way back to Chortu by hand. The Bulgarian artillery mowed down thousands of Turks during the battle. The Bulgars' artillery was much superior to that of the Turks.

It appears from this correspondent's story that the Bulgarians had a bad quarter of an hour's battle after capturing the town of Lule Burgas. They advanced from the railroad a distance of four miles and during this time passed through a depression between the hills. Here the Bulgars were tremendously mauled by Turkish shrapnel from the heights and when the confusion among them was at its worst Turkish cavalry swept like a tornado on the remnant of the Bulgars. But the Turkish cavalry rode too far and came within range of the Bulgarian machine guns which brought horses and riders to the ground in a torn and mangled mass from which few issued alive.

SIX SISTERS DIE IN FLAMES

Lose Their Lives in Rescuing Orphans From Burning House.

Six Sisters of Charity lost their lives in an attempt to save 102 children in a fire that destroyed St. John's Orphan asylum at San Antonio, Tex. They succeeded in rescuing all but two children before they were trapped by flames. Two sisters escaped. The dead sisters are: Mother Mary of the Cross, mother superior of the asylum. Mother Frances Pasteur. Sister Peter Claver Stevia. Sister Leocadia Nolan. Sister Monica Montez. Sister Koetka Farrell.

The death of the Mother Superior, Mary of the Cross, was the sequel to a demonstration of remarkable courage. She returned to the burning dormitory when she heard the cry of a child who had been overlooked in the hurry and excitement. A few moments later she appeared at a window in the front of the building with a child in her arms.

Fire Chief Wright placed a ladder against the wall and began to ascend it, but before he reached her, the mother superior, with the child, fell back into the flames.

GAG GIRL AND ROB SAFE

Insurance Company's Office Scene of Daring Holdup.

Burglars entered a branch office of the Prudential Life Insurance company in Brooklyn, gagged the cashier, Alice Brenneis, with a handkerchief saturated with chloroform, and, after looting a safe escaped with $500.

The robbery took place in the most heavily policed precinct in Brooklyn and within a few blocks of the home of Mayor Gaynor.

ELECTION REFORMS

Summary of Conclusions by Senate Investigation Committee.

While the Clapp committee of the senate has not decided yet upon any program of legislation, members have several reforms in mind. Among the recommendations they will make are the following:

Prohibition of contributions by trusts to presidential, senatorial or congressional funds.

Prohibition of large "individual" contributions by an officer of any corporation.

Publication of campaign receipts during primary and general election campaigns.

Limitation of size of contributions by individuals.

Publication of how every cent in any campaign was spent.

Law to cover both conventions and primary nominating systems for presidential and all other candidates.

To impose on each presidential candidate knowledge of the amount and sources of his financial support by requiring the candidate's certification to the statement of his finances.

To require national, state and ward or precinct managers to report money received and spent.

Strict accounting of all campaign promises.

CAR SHORTAGE SERIOUS

Interstate Commerce Commission Sends Out Appeal.

So serious has the car shortage in this country become that the interstate commerce commission has published an appeal to the "railroads and the shippers of the United States" to co-operate in order to avoid serious injury to numerous industries.

The appeal urgently requests that railroads return borrowed cars as soon as possible. The commission makes the following suggestions:

"That a higher per diem rate shall be made to apply for the use of the cars as between the carriers.

"That an inspection service be at once instituted which shall report to this commission violation of the rules existing which are intended to insure the return of equipment to the home line."

SOLDIERS DIE IN WRECK

Four or Five Fatally Injured in Railway Collision.

The Chicago flyer on the Canadian Pacific collided at Streetville Junction with a troop train of volunteers returning from the annual thanksgiving day sham fight at Milton.

The first car behind the engine of the troop train was telescoped and every soldier aboard was injured. Privates Murdock and McKenzie were killed and thirty-six others injured, four or five fatally. No one was injured on the express train.

Story Boosts Stock.

At Cleveland reports that Mayor Baker is contemplating an immediate campaign for city ownership of the Cleveland Railway company held traction stock at 100%. This is the highest mark the stock ever reached.

Three Important Sales Continued.

Sale of Forest Mills Underwear at one-third off regular price. The sale Infants' Felt Bonnets at one-third off the regular price. The sale of Trimmed Hats at $5.00. Continued because these several sales Saturday were so well attended and we've no doubt many who could not come Saturday will be glad of the opportunity to come today. Cleaning up some odds and ends of Underwear and Children's Bonnets at away less than cost so we can start the season with all new stocks. This we'll say about the hats to be sold for $5.00. They're actually $6.50, $7.50, $8.50 and $10.00, trimmed felt, velvet and satin hats.

Here's a Great Coat for $14.50.

We believe this to be by far the biggest coat value offered in this city during the season. We know that coats very similar, very little if any better have sold for $20.00 and $22.50. These are not reduced coats, but coats a New York coat maker delayed delivery of 'til Saturday. Should have been shipped October 1st. Material is a heavy wide wale two-toned diagonal, light grey and black, blue and black and brown and black. Coats have a large storm collar faced with black velour lustre. All sizes.

$1.25 for a $2.00 Corset.

A respectable saving that—75c. Particularly as this is a new model. Fancy coutil, embroidered batiste fold. Low bust, long back, long skirt. If you can wear that model, save 75c.
