On the teeth of a west wind coming down the valleys from the Tchatladja District Attorney - M. A. Carringer.

The housetops of the capital are black with people straining every ear to the far-off booming. The city is tense with excitement.

This dispatch from Nazim Pasha, who is commander at the front, was issued:

The Turks are said to be marching oward Muradil. The Turkish fleet cooperated with the land forces in repelling the enemy. The battleships, according to the current reports, fired on the Bulgarians from both the Black sea and the Sea of Marmora.

> Cholera Knocks Out Thousands. A dispatch from Constantinople says that Ali Riza Pasha is hopelessly ill of cholera at Hademkeul. Thousands of sick persons and hundreds of dead bodies are lying on the platform of the station there. Nothing is being done, in fact, nothing can be done to fight the epidemic. The correspondent of the Lokal An-people not only the failure to capture Adrianople but the quite unjustifiable postponement of a decision before Constantinople have produced a feeling of depression. The correspondent says: "On my way here (Roumania) I was everywhere asked by anxious people what was the cause of the absence of further announcements of victories, The simple explanation is that the Bulgarians sent their last man and their last rifle to the front. The enormous losses since the battle of Kirk-Killisch have made a deep impression upon the Bulgarian people. The wounded are not sufficiently cared

"It is strange that in spite of the Bulgarian victories the feeling of dislike against the officers' corps is arising in the rank and file of King Ferdinand's army as well as among the people.

"The relationship between the Servin and the Bulgarian soldiers is not larmoniouz. The officers of both armies avoid one another. Considering the position of the war it would seem folly for the Turks to enter peace negotiations at this juncture, for the best Bulgarian troops have been decimated.

312 Turks Blown Up. News was received in Athens of a terrible death dealing explosion of a owder magazine at Salonica. Three undred and twelve Turks were killed, some being blown to pieces. Four hun-red and thirty Turks were wounded. The Turki h magazine was near the cracks where the Turkish prisoners war were confined. The losses were among those prisoners. It is stated that the explosion was an act of revenge perperated by the bands of the outlaws Sandansky and Mondjoff as the result of the Turks killing many

The rates named in the proclamation are practically the same as those which will be in force at the Suez canal next

That a cine of importance has been obtained which would lead to the apprehension of the murderer of Josepha was not denied by Chief of Police Gilson. He said that an accurate description of the man suspected of murdering the lad had been obtained. How accurate may be deduced from his statement that "if the brute does not commit autcide he can't get away." It is believed the man is now in Buffalo

GIRL ON VERGE OF COLLAPSE

Greensburg (Pa.) Girl and W. R. Cuthbert Released by Trenton (N. J.) Police-Shooting on Sleeping Car.

The Trenton (N. J.) police feel satisfied that the shooting of Mrs. Rappe Myers, wife of the proprietor of a Greensburg (Pa.) hotel, by her daughter, Gladys Elizabeth Myers, was an accident. The shooting occurred on a sleeping car of a Pennsylvania railroad train while the train was near Bristol, Pa., bound for New York,

Miss Myers and W. R. Cuthbert, sixty years old, of Lynchburg, Va., were detained temporarily by the Trenton police and later released. It was thought at first that Cuthbert was concerned in some way with the shooting, as he was found with Miss Myers at the side of the wounded woman a few seconds after the shot was fired. Later he explained that he had been standing on the front platform of the car next in the rear and had run in when he heard the shot.

Miss Myers, who is twenty years old, was on the way to New York to pur chase a trousseau for her coming wed ding to J. Blair Dillard of Salem, Va. a druggist.

She had a casket of jewels which she was taking to New York to have heard her mother re-entering their sec President Samuel Rea was elected to tion, after Mrs. Myers had gone for a few minutes to the dressing room elected president of the railroad in she took her revolver from under her pillow and fired, thinking a burglar was after the gems. She was half awake at the time.

"Miss Myers told me she dreamed a burglar was pulling aside the curtain of her berth," said Cuthbert, "and that she reached under her pillow to get the revolver and shot her mother. It seems that Mrs. Myers was about to enter the berth at the moment her daughter dreamed she saw a burglar in the aisle. Miss Myers says she was startled and fired before she was fully

Miss Myers is on the verge of a nervous collapse as a result of her shocking experience. She constantly loving ministrations of her relatives fail to comfort her in her grief and self-condemnation.

Only twenty years old, and striking ly beautiful, the young girl has aged in appearance ten years within the past twenty-four hours. She is on the verge of collapse and cries out constantly in her remorse for having fired the shot that ended her mother's life.

Years Found Under Leaves. With the finding of a skull and the bones of a girl in underbrush near Punxsutawney, Pa., the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Yemima Hill, thirteen years old, from her home in Battle Hollow, June 25, 1910, has been partly cleared.

John Straitiss, passing through a clump of woods, stumbled on something buried beneath leaves. He uncovered a human skull and bones of a human form.

Coroner Sayers gives it as his opinion that the little girl had been carried to the spot where her skeleton was found and there attacked and killed, her assailant covering the body with leaves and brush.

Popular and Electoral Votes for President, the Governors Chosen and Their Pluralities, the Political Complexion of the Next Senate and House.

The tabulation of the results of the election has been made, and it is now possible to get a comprehensive idea of just how the various States balloted. The accompanying tables show the votes for Presidential electors in every State in the Union, giving the electoral and popular votes for Wilson, Roosevelt and Taft, and the popular votes for Debs and Chafin. Also the make-up of the next Senate, and a recapitulation of the standing of the next House. One table shows the Governors elected and their pluralities. Wonderful Sarah Bernhardt. Sarah Bernhardt often has said it is her enthusiasm and continued interest in life and work to which she ascribes her youthful appearance. Now she has a new enthusiasm-the moving pictures. For years she refused to pose before the moving picture camera. Then she gave her consent and acted "Camille" before a long string of film recently in Paris. She could hardly restrain her eagerness to see the finished pictures, and when they were shown to her she insisted the whole play be repeated several times. Edmond Rostand accompanied her to the exhibition, and when she had delightedly watched the films run off several times she turned to him with all the enthusiasm of a chorus girl, saying, "Now, what next is there for me to do?"

Lincoln's Superb Oratory.

In an address by Joseph H. Choate on the occasion of his eightieth birthday, Mr. Choate spoke thus of Mr. Lincoln's celebrated speech in Cooper Union, in 1860; "With an awkward form and most ungainly address, he stood there with a little trepldation, not very prepossessing; but when he came to speak it was as a flashlight. Not only his whole personality and his face lighted up, but he seemed to lighten up the audience, and for one hour or an hour and a quarter he discussed the great questions of the day and held the audience in the hollow of his hand "
