Next Week Will Be Christmas Preparation Week.

A Great Merchandise Movement to adjust the Store and Its Stocks to the Demands of the Christmas Season.

With less than five weeks to Christmas, we are turning our attention to preparations for the busiest time of the store year—the Christmas season. We have planned for a bigger holiday business than ever, and tremendous purchases of gift goods and wear things of every description are now in the store with more and bigger shipments to follow.

These Vast Stocks

Of holiday goods will require lots of room for their proper display, and so we are going to devote the entire week beginning with Monday, Nov. 25, condensing stocks, clearing shelves, cases and racks. Dozens of small lots, broken assortments and odds and ends—but seasonable, desirable and stylish merchandise just the same—from our record Fall business will be closed out at sacrifice prices—far, far below the regular values. December is here and time is too precious to waste—so we have cut prices deeply to make room as quickly as possible.

Each Day During This Event

Will demonstrate our readiness to meet your every requirement from the greatest variety and quantity of reliable merchandise we have ever gathered together at this season.

There Will Not Be a Day Next Week

When anyone who visits this store will not be impressed with the exceptionally economical buying possibilities presented on every side. Many articles are especially suitable for Christmas gifts.

Watch For Articles

In next Monday's Oil City papers, and plan to take advantage of this underselling event.

City Without Scrapers.

In Hamburg the nature of the soil is such that no very tall buildings can be erected.

Suits to Order, $12.50 to $35.00. Shirts to Order, $2.00 to $12.00.

The Gentleman From Tionesta

Who bought an Overcoat for himself and four other members of his family from us on Saturday last certainly spoke volumes when he said: "I don't know anything about clothing. I am at the mercy of the man who sells it and yet I can see plainly more value in your Overcoat than any I have seen elsewhere."

You have no idea how clothing can be "doctored." If we were to adopt a "doctored" policy we could become wealthy. But back of our business ambitions there is an honorable principle that is worth more to us than money can buy.

We want to have every man look us in the eye and when he says "How do!" to us we want to know there is friendliness behind it.

You can't win a man's friendship by imposing on his confidence. We shall never allow a suspicious article of merchandise to enter our store if we can avoid it. We will pay the penalty if such should happen. We want you to be as pleased with us as we are to have you pleased.

This is Shirt and Underwear Week.

We have some remarkably good values in both.
