Roy Combs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Combs, of Nebraska, while out in the woods examining some traps one day last week, sunk the blade of an axe into his left knee cap, and the services of a surgeon were required to sew up the wound. The injury is a serious and painful one and he will be crippled for some time.
One of the happiest little ladies in our burg is Miss Helen Burton, the M. E. pastor's daughter, who became the possessor of a handsome new piano last week, and is diligently applying herself to the task of mastering the instrument that she may be able to bring solace and delight to her devoted daddy in his declining years.
The bazaar and supper at the Presbyterian church last Friday evening netted the ladies of the aid society quite a neat and satisfactory sum, the gross income being $108.00. The fancy work goods were of a high class and sold readily at good figures, the candy booth was a popular stand, while the hot 25-cent supper was patronized to the limit.

The teacher and pupils of Room No. 1 of the Tionesta school invite you to attend their Christmas exercises next Friday afternoon at two o'clock.
Tomorrow you may write it 12 12 12. It's you'd better do so a time or two for it's the last opportunity you'll have to so write it in the next hundred years.

George Monday, of Hunter Station, had a narrow escape from death last Wednesday when he was struck by a tree which he was chopping down for firewood. He was caught under some of the branches and received a severe injury on his left arm and bruises about the head.
If you have been worrying over what you might send to an absent friend as a Christmas remembrance, cease it at once. A year's subscription to the FOREST REPUBLICAN will solve the problem, cost but $1.00, give greatest pleasure, and will remind him or her of you 365 times during the year.
John I. Dunlap, who has been cashier of the First National Bank of Fryburg, Pa., since its organization, has resigned and moved to Clarion. At a meeting of the directors of the bank George A. Ditz, the assistant cashier, was advanced to cashier, and Dr. James M. Hess was elected assistant cashier.
Postmasters are notified that from December 20 to January 3rd the "back-stamping" of mail will be suspended to expedite the delivery of mail during the holiday season. Special delivery and registered mail only will be stamped with the time of receipt, the ordinary mail going through the offices by the "short cut" routes.
Saturday ends the open season for all small game, and its well, for slaughter has been terrific, and if something isn't done within the next year to reduce the limit that one hunter may take in a day, and the provision strictly enforced, there'll be little use for any law on the subject whatever. Could we depend upon a perfect breeding season each spring it would not matter so much, but with only about one perfect season in a half dozen years, as is usually the case, the extinction of the birds is bound to come.
A dwelling house owned by the Forest Chemical company at Lynch, this county, and occupied by W. E. Geier and family, was burned up Sunday night at midnight. The father, being employed at night work at the chemical plant and the mother being away on a visit, the only occupants of the dwelling at the time were a 16-year-old daughter and a younger sister, who escaped in their night clothes and went to a neighbor's house. Very little of the household effects were saved, and Mr. Geier's loss is total, he having no insurance. The loss on the building, it is said, was covered by insurance.
Do not forget that parcels post begins to be a fact on January 1st. Those dealers who are first in their appeal to the rural population, who make special arrangements to supply that trade by mail, and advertise the fact in the home paper that reaches the rural residents, will be those most likely to profit by the increased opportunity for trade. Especially should grocers and others who can use country products, such as butter and eggs, prepare to accept shipments by mail from the surrounding territory. Fair dealings and the rural carriers, under the kind domination of Uncle Sam, will make some people prosperous, and it may be you.—Franklin News.

After next July, a standard barrel of apples must be twenty-six inches between the heads, sixty-four inches in circumference, outside measurements around the middle, and the heads must be seventeen and one-eighth inches in diameter. In accordance with the law if the apples in it are hand-picked and free from blemishes, may be labelled "Standard." But a fine of one dollar and costs will be extracted for every barrel that is marked "Standard" and does not conform to the requirements. The law was passed at the earnest solicitation of those who believe that a purchaser has a right to know what he is getting when he buys a barrel of apples. I do away with the "pig in the poke" business, so to speak.
Many automobile owners will be interested to learn that to make a family affair of an automobile is going to cost more money following the first of January in case a new ruling made by the State Highway Department holds good. Officials have received word to the effect that after the first of January, of the coming year, "joint ownership registration" of automobiles will be discontinued and the licenses for the operation of any motor vehicle would be issued in the name of but one person. Furthermore, every other person than the owner operating a car, will be required to take out a drivers' license, costing $2. The new rule is expected to make quite an increase in the revenues derived by the State from automobiles, and no little chagrin among the owners. This money goes to good roads.
A complaint comes from Grand Valley that there it appears as if the game wardens are a county force and exist in name only. It is said that within the vicinity of Grand Valley the game laws are a by word and such a word as "limit" to the amount of game that can be legally killed, is unknown. The game laws are openly being daily violated and, at the present time, a hunting party from Erie is being piloted about the hunting grounds and game is being slaughtered regardless of law or decency. According to the ideas of residents of that section, it is high time that the authorities get after the "guides" and see to it that they are given lessons such as local men received last season. It is complained that unless this is done, that the time is not far distant when a respectable sportsman will be unable to get a few birds. It has been stated that there have been slouts in this section for some time, but whether they will make arrests just now, or wait until later in the year, as they did last season remains to be seen. There certainly is a good opportunity for game wardens to do work along the D. A. V. & P., from where great shipments of game annually come.—Titusville Herald.
And so it is. Respect for the game laws, like human nature, is pretty much the same the world over.

Mrs. J. C. Geist and son Willis were called to Corsica, Pa., Saturday, on account of the death of the former's niece, Mrs. Frank Miller, which occurred Saturday morning, following a stroke of paralysis. The deceased will be pleasantly remembered by many of our young people as Miss Essie Glenn and as a visitor at the Geist home here a few years ago. Her age was 26 years. She is survived by her husband, a son and a daughter. The funeral was held Monday.
At a recent meeting of the ladies of Geo. Stow W. K. C., the following officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, Mrs. Garris Holeman; S. V., Mrs. Sule H. May Sharp; J. V., Mrs. Martha Gaston; Treasurer, Mrs. Jennie E. Agnew; Chaplain, Mrs. Alice Lanson; Conductor, Mrs. Emma Hunter; Guard, Mrs. Eva Smeersbaugh. The installation will take place soon after the first of the new year, the date not having yet been fixed. Mrs. Jennie Carrington, State Department Treasurer, will be the installing officer.
The second number of the lecture course was given Tuesday evening of last week by the Rev. Roscoe Laper Foulke, of Erie, Pa., and this number alone was well worth the price paid for the entire course. Dr. Foulke has a good voice, a charming personality and a pleasing delivery, and he captivated his audience from the start. His subject was "Unchristian Gens" and dealt with boy life. He made an impassioned plea that the boy be given a square deal, and that his audience was in thorough sympathy with him and the subject was evidenced by the hearty applause accorded him throughout the evening. Indeed he made such a good impression on his hearers that he will be greeted by a packed house should he be engaged for a return date. Dr. Foulke is not wholly a stranger to our people, having been stationed at West Hickory some years ago.
Tionesta Lodge, No. 369, I. O. O. F., last Wednesday closed a deal for the purchase of the Partridge block in this place from the owners, Mrs. Jennie C. Partridge, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and A. H. Dale, of Oakland, California. The purchase price was $1,700, which was for the main building, the residence annex, owned by Mrs. Partridge, not being included in the deal. It is the intention of the lodge authorities to retain their hall on the third floor, which has been their meeting place for many years, and the purchase of the block will give them a permanent home in a good location. It is expected that work will begin at once toward fitting up the second floor for parlors, banquet hall, kitchen, etc., and further improvements, such as a new porch, new walk and painting, are contemplated next year. The first floor will remain as a store room. When all these improvements are completed Tionesta Lodge will own as fine a home as any order in this section.
Supr. J. O. Carson has sent out during the past week a large number of the booklets containing the program of the Forest County Teachers' Institute to be held in Marienville next week. The book is the best ever issued in the county and compares very favorably with those issued by the superintendents of many of the larger counties. It contains an announcement of the institute, a list of the instructors and entertainers, the programs of the institute and directors' convention, instructions to teachers and directors, examinations for 1913, eighth grade examinations and high school entrance, as well as a list of the teachers and directors, and an honor roll of pupils of the different schools in the county who were not absent from school during the year 1911-1912. The honor roll is an entirely new feature and a good one, as it will promote a better attendance in the future. There are 153 names in the list this year. At the end of the book are a few pages devoted to school advertising and supplies. The work is from the presses of the FOREST REPUBLICAN.

The home of Mr. H. M. McKean, Endeavor, Pa., was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Friday evening, Dec. 6th, 1912. A card from Fred M. Come back here next spring, Fred, when the bluebirds and robins prepare to set up business for the summer, and where you have friends galore who'll be tickled to death to entertain and make life worth while for you.

Rice and will soon move to Brookston.
Prof. C. A. Anderson, principal of the Big Run schools, spent Thanksgiving at the home of his parents at Brookston, and visited his Sheffield friends a few hours Saturday.
Beautiful simplicity marked the marriage ceremony Saturday at Oil City, of Miss Janet Harper Hevly, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Hevly, and Henry Yale Cornelius, the son of the Rev. S. A. Cornelius, D. D., pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, who officiated. After a two week's trip to the east, which will include Washington, Philadelphia and New York, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius will go to housekeeping in their newly furnished home in Oil City, where the groom is employed with the Oil Well Supply company. The bride is pleasantly remembered by many of Tionesta's young society folk, where she has frequently visited. Among the out-of-town guests who witnessed the ceremony were Misses Celyn Clark and Genevieve Douth of this place.

A Dastardly Outrage.
On Wednesday night before Thanksgiving the good name of our town was disgraced by the most dastardly outrage ever committed in the community when some unknown persons entered Riverside Cemetery and damaged three monuments by toppling them from their foundations. The stones disturbed were those erected over the graves of Mr. J. H. Dingman, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Arner, and Mrs. Jacob Siggins. In the first two instances mentioned the pedestals were pushed from their bases but the Siggins monument was further damaged by the top being broken off as it fell. We refrained from mentioning the outrage last week, under agreement, in the hope that the guilty parties might be ferreted out if the matter was not given too much publicity, but so far there seems to be no clue. It is thought to have been the work of drunken hoodlums. It was an outrage deserving of the severest punishment the law can inflict and we hope the guilty parties may be found and placed where they can neither desecrate cemeteries or contaminate decent citizens.

Alex VanHorn Dies Mysteriously.
Alexander M. VanHorn, one of Howa township's oldest and best known citizens for more than 25 years, died rather mysteriously at his place of abode at Pigeon on Monday of this week. For a number of years past he has conducted a general country store at that place and lived in the building. Failing to appear for several days, the neighbors forced the doors of the store and found the proprietor unconscious and in a dying condition. Before a physician could be summoned he had expired, leaving no clue as to the cause of death. He was aged about 70 years, and while he was one of the most familiar figures in that community, little is known of his antecedents, as that was a subject upon which he seldom talked. He was a man of considerable native ability, affable and congenial, and well liked by his neighbors, and by whom he will be much missed.
Recent Deaths.
KIFFER.
Eliza (Knicely) Kiffer, of the family of the late Fred Kiffer, died at the widow's home at Beaver Valley, Hickory twp., this county, Dec. 6, 1912, and the funeral was held from her late home on the 8th inst., Rev. Mr. Byington, officiating. The interment was made in the Kiffer cemetery near the old hemesstead. Mrs. Kiffer is survived by ten children and two step-children, her husband having died some years ago.
WEANT.
At the home of her great-grand-daughter, Mrs. John Huffman, Tylersburg, Pa., where four generations were represented, there passed into rest one of the oldest persons in Clarion county, on Saturday evening, Dec. 7, 1912. She was Mrs. Marie Weant, relict of the late Detrich Weant, and her age was 97 years, 10 months and 26 days, having been born in Rhennda, Hesse Castle, Germany, Jan. 11th, 1815. With her husband and children then born she emigrated to America more than 63 years ago. They settled upon and cleared up a tract of land in Green township, on what was then known as Coon hill, between the two Coon creeks, about two miles from Nebraska. It was there they passed the greater portion of their lives, and where they reared their family, the late Mrs. Peter Youngk being their oldest child. After the death of her husband, more than a quarter century ago, she made her home with her children and grand-children all of whom were very kind to her and provided for her every comfort, so that her declining years were passed in peace and quiet. She was a woman of rare good sense, generous and kind toward all, and a most companionable friend. She retained her faculties to a remarkable degree and was able to go about and attend to her ordinary duties, up to within 24 hours of her death, when she was stricken with paralysis, which it might be said was her first and last illness. Early in life she was confirmed and became a member of the Reformed church, to the faith of which she clung throughout her remarkably long life. Surviving her are three children, Nicholas Weant of Bakersfield, California; Mrs. Lewis Smith of Tylersburg, and Mrs. Christina Lusher of Oil City. Besides these there are numerous grand-children, great-grand-children and a number of great-great-grand-children.
Funeral services in her memory were held yesterday afternoon, at Mt. Zion Lutheran church, German Hill, followed by interment in the cemetery connected with that church, beside the remains of her husband and other kindred.
EVANS.
A host of friends in this community of Gus B. Evans will be saddened to learn of the death of his estimable wife, which occurred at their home in Franklin, at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening, Dec. 8, 1912, after an illness of several weeks from paralysis. Katherine Scott Evans was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Scott, and was born in Tidouite, Jan. 8, 1875. April 3, 1895, she was united in marriage with Gus B. Evans, then and for several years after holding a responsible position as bookkeeper and assistant general manager with the extensive lumbering firm of Wheeler & Dusenbury, at Endeavor, Pa., where the young couple began housekeeping at once, and continued to reside until Mr. Evans went with Congressman N. P. Wheeler to Washington as his confidential secretary, and where they remained for four years, or throughout Mr. Wheeler's two terms in Congress. For upward of two years past their residence has been in Franklin, Mr. Evans having resigned his position with the company at Endeavor to enter business pursuits in that city. Mrs. Evans was a member of the Endeavor Presbyterian church, and a woman of many graces of character; an ornament to society, possessing those charming qualities of mind and heart that endeared to all who knew her, and in the neighborhood where the most of her life was passed her memory will be revered for her uniform kindness and gentility toward those with whom she was associated. In her home life Mrs. Evans was a most devoted, faithful and loving companion, and the stricken husband has lost most heavily in her early taking away. In this, the darkest hour of his life, he may find some comfort in the knowledge that his large circle of friends are thinking of him and sympathizing with him in his great sorrows. Besides the husband Mrs. Evans is survived by one brother, John Scott of South Prairie, Wash., and one sister, Mrs. Charles H. Snyder of Franklin.
Funeral services in memory of the departed one were held at the late home yesterday afternoon at two o'clock. These were largely attended by sympathizing friends from Endeavor, Tidouite, Tionesta and other places. Rev. J. F. Scherer, pastor of the Endeavor Presbyterian church, assisted by other ministers at Franklin conducted the services. Interment today in the Tidouite cemetery.

A card from Fred M. Morgan, who spent a couple of months here last summer, states that on account of a recurrence of heart trouble, he has again been obliged to leave Denver, Colo., for a lower altitude, and he expects to spend the winter in San Diego, California. Come back here next spring, Fred, when the bluebirds and robins prepare to set up business for the summer, and where you have friends galore who'll be tickled to death to entertain and make life worth while for you.

Beautiful simplicity marked the marriage ceremony Saturday at Oil City, of Miss Janet Harper Hevly, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Hevly, and Henry Yale Cornelius, the son of the Rev. S. A. Cornelius, D. D., pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, who officiated. After a two week's trip to the east, which will include Washington, Philadelphia and New York, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius will go to housekeeping in their newly furnished home in Oil City, where the groom is employed with the Oil Well Supply company. The bride is pleasantly remembered by many of Tionesta's young society folk, where she has frequently visited. Among the out-of-town guests who witnessed the ceremony were Misses Celyn Clark and Genevieve Douth of this place.

A Dastardly Outrage.
On Wednesday night before Thanksgiving the good name of our town was disgraced by the most dastardly outrage ever committed in the community when some unknown persons entered Riverside Cemetery and damaged three monuments by toppling them from their foundations. The stones disturbed were those erected over the graves of Mr. J. H. Dingman, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Arner, and Mrs. Jacob Siggins. In the first two instances mentioned the pedestals were pushed from their bases but the Siggins monument was further damaged by the top being broken off as it fell. We refrained from mentioning the outrage last week, under agreement, in the hope that the guilty parties might be ferreted out if the matter was not given too much publicity, but so far there seems to be no clue. It is thought to have been the work of drunken hoodlums. It was an outrage deserving of the severest punishment the law can inflict and we hope the guilty parties may be found and placed where they can neither desecrate cemeteries or contaminate decent citizens.
