THF FOREST REPUBLICAN. J. E. WENK. - EDITOR & PROPRIETOR. WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 22, 1913 1913 JANUARY 1913

THE Professor has set his foot down on the big dance at his inauguration and there'll be no hop. Evidently Mr. Wilson wanted nothing in his that might look like a Waterloo affair.

HON. A. R. MECHLING, Forest county's representative at Harrisburg, fared sumptuously in the matter of committee appointments, having six assignments, as follows: Bureau of Statistics, Centennial Affairs, Fisheries, Forestry, Game, and Public Roads. These are all important committees and will keep our member busy for the most part of the session.

In the organization of the House at Harrisburg Monday night the Committee on Committee's report was thrown overboard in so far as the chief and resident clerkships were concerned, Thomas H. Garvin of Delaware county, and William S. Leib of Sci uylkill, respectively, being their way up the creek to look after some elected to these offices, defeating the candidates set up by the committee. They occupied these positions in the last Assembly and had personal strength enough to overcome the set-up by the committee, which, after all, is nothing more than a piece of machinery in the hands of a boss, far worse in fact than a caucus-dictated slate committee.

You will observe now that nothing is being said about the enormities and the iniquities of the tariff. During the campaign of last fall all of our ills were ascribed to the wicked Payne-Aldrich tariff and President Taft was denounced as and two rigs so far as we have noted up something of an intellectual monstrosity for having signed it. Now the polley of let the tariff alone, or at least touching it very gently, is promulgated as the only Sheffield ran into two trees between wise policy for the Democratic party to Sheriff and Hastings, and on its return pursue. High pressure business provperity, such as we now enjoy, is not regarded as possible under anything but ample protection by any sincere free tails over. The train was hung up there trader. But why go into spasms about the robber tariff, and then decide to let it go shead and rob? - Punxy Spirit.

Special Road Election Probable.

Among the early matters for consideration by the legislature of Pennsylvania when it convenes this week will be the measure to submit to the voters of the state the proposed constitutional amendment to borrow $50,000,000 for construction of highways, says the Titusville Herald. This procedure will be in the on the job. Rupert conversed with a form of a joint resolution, which takes the same course as a bill, and which must pass three readings in each house of the general assembly and then be certified to the governor. Constitutional amendments can be voted on by the people only after having been passed by two legislatures. Two years ago the legislature approved of the proposed amendment and if the resolution is passed this year the people of the state will have an opportunity to register their will very soon. One of the plans discussed is a bill to submit the question to the people at a special election to be held within ninety days after the passage of the resolution, which would enable the present legislature to enact ways and means to carry the amendment into effect. A special election would settle the question very promptly and this plan appears to meet with general favor among the legislators. If the amendment is not submitted to the people this year in time to permit the present legislature to pass the necessary act to provide for the issuing of the bonds, the highway building program must await the action of the legislature of 1915.

Mrs. M. D. Spencer is visiting he inughter in Oil City this week. We neglected to mention the young on born to Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Cloak on ast Sunday morning, 12th in-t.

A young daughter was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Verne Host, on Tuesday. Laura Kelly, Carroll Berlin and Zelda Hopkins were the victims of measles last week.

The W. C. T. U. held a meeting at the come of Mrs. E. E Daubenspeck, Wednesday afternoon, at which the subject of Franchise was discussed. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Ass Barnes on the 29th.

An extra train was run to Nebraska Wednesday noon to carry the president of the road, T. D. Collins, to his home, who had been visiting his extensive works in the lumber woods where he has ome fifty teams at work.

Mrs. W. L. Watson was a Warren vis itor Thursday.

On account of the open winter the kindling wood factory has so few orders that they are only running about half the force, and in consequence a good many of their men are out of work.

Although the weather has not been vorable a good interest is manifested in the revival meetings in progress in the M. E. church. A number have bowed at the altar and the interest is increasing. Meetings will be held each evening this week.

Mrs. James McMichael and Miss Lois Weish, of Sheffield, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Babcock and other relatives and friends in town this week.

J. C. Scowden and W. H. Harrison were up from Tionesta Monday.

N. P. Wheeler, Jr. and Jack Hillard, of Endeavor, were in town Monday on timber interests.

H. E. Murphy left Saturday for Ridgway, where he has accepted a position as apparently aged about twenty-two. bookkeeper for the Elk Tanning Co. He expects to move to Ridgway in a few weeks. H. B. Dotterrer has the grippe.

Porkey.

A heavy storm suddenly struck here on Saturday afternoon accompanied by wind bail, lightning and thunder, that made things go some while it was in progress, which was about twenty-five minutes. Many trees found their way to the ground to the present time, one on the South Peon Oil Co. lease, and one on the Proper lease. The S. & T. train going toward trip found the track torn up near Hastings where a tree had fallen on the hill used in the mills. and slid down on the track turning the for two hours until the repairs were made allowing the train to proceed on its way, There was a pair of newly weds on the train that amused the passengers so that time flew pretty fast and all was mirth. All on board had a good visit and were none the worse for the detention. Prof. Bill was a passenger and entertained the audience with some comical sayings. There was one thing lacking that is nearly always present-a drunk man. The telephone line of the S. & T. is out of commission but the Buttermilk Line is still woman at Endeavor on Sunday by ing torn. She is also suffering from switching his telephone on to the Na- shock and physicians say her conditional Transit telegraph wire when he tion is serious lone bandit who has held half a dozen railroad ticket offices in New York and Pennsylvania during the last month, was captured in Boston, the police believe, when William J. Clayton, a young six-footer, was taken into custody after a sensational chase following an attempted daylight robbery. A diary found in one of Clayton's tockets read as follows:

Dec. 17, New York, Wells Fargo, $327; Jan. 2, New York, Erie, $360; Jan. 10, Philadelphia, Erie, $300; Jan. 11. Pittsburg, B., R. & P., $54; Jan. 14, Philadelphia, S. P., $127.

The attempted robbery occurred at the ticket office of the Boston and Maine railroad in Washington street when a man who had just purchased a ticket for Pittsfield suddenly pointed a revolver at Cashier George Hackar, ordering him to give up all the money he had. The stranger ordered every person in the office to get into a corner. All complied except George Titcomb, a railroad ticket agent, who had just entered. The bandit had vaulted over the counter to rifle the cash drawer when he saw Titcomb rush out the door. Instantly he went over the counter again without taking any money and dashed into the street with the office force after him.

Then followed a chase through the busiest streets of the city, officers who joined the pursuit not daring to fire at the fugitive because of the crowds. The man finally bolted into a barber shop. He had just ordered "a shave in a hurry" after throwing his overcoat and hat to one side when an officer entered and arrested him. He offered no resistance. The man is

Producer Struck on the Homestead

(Pa.) Steel Works Grounds. At Homestead, Pa., a 1,000,000-foot per hour gas well was struck in the Homestead Steel works yard by the Carnegie Natural Gas company, a subsidiary of the Carnegie Steel company. The finding of the well caused much excitement and the town is feeling a slight attack of gas fever. The company had been drilling for two months and penetrated the fifth sand. The depth was 2,100 feet. The well is not regarded by the company officials as an especially big producer, but is valuable owing to its proximity

Posse Searches For Masked Men Who Attacked Her.

Sheriff Glass and a posse of heavily armed men searched the mountains between Shamokin and Excelsior, Pa. for two men who brutally attacked Miss Ella Lee, nineteen years old, as she was walking along the road between Johnson City and her home. The assailants, wearing masks, seized the girl and attempted to drag her into the underbrush. In resisting she was badly kicked and her cloth-

Boy Shot in Argument,

Unchangeable clothes, not the changeable weather, are responsible for much of the grippe and many of the colds that are prevalent just now It people would use judgment in the way they dress, they would not be obliged to worry about every rise or fall of the temperature. Suit your clothing to the weather, 1f you perspire in an overcost on a warm day it is likely that you will be chilly the next day in the same overcoat if the thermometer drops towards zero. If it is moderate, do not put on your overcoal, Then when it gets colder you will be able to enjoy the effect of extra clothing. $500; Dec. 23, Buffalo, Grand Trunk, When you go into a heated train, take your overcoat off. If you are obliged to stay in a warm office even for a short time, do not keep your overcoat on. The temperature in-doors remains about the same all the year round. Therefore, the extra warmth is not needed. Don't wear heavy underclothes. It is more important to pay attention to the kind of overcoat you put on than to use the heaviest underweat in the market.

Do not wear zero clothing in a 70° temperature, for the heavier clothes will do you little good when the temperature falls. Common sense in dress will save many doctor, bills. - Karl de Schweinitz.

Trust Company Election.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Oil City Trust Co. was held Tuesday, and resulted in the election of the following directors: Joseph Seep, D. T. Borland, Henry Suhr, James P. Kern, S.

H. Simpson, H. H. Fair, A. M. Lowentritt, W. W. Splane, Joseph Levi, S. Justus, H. R. Merritt, Later the board met and organized, electing the following officers:

> President-Joseph Seep. Vice Presidents-D. T. Borland and H. R. Merritt.

Treasurer-Frederick Fair. Assistant Treasurer-A. K. Helle. The election of Mr. Merritt as director and vice president fills the vacancy caused by the death of George Lewis, September 9, 1912. Mr. Merritt has been with the company over 30 years, and filled each position from messenger to bis present office. Mr. Fair has been the assistant treasurer, and Mr. Helle is advanced from note teller. Both gentlemen have been with the company for a long term of years. The business of the company has shown remarkable growth, having doubled in the past five years. The last report made to the Commissioner of Banking, under date of November 2, 1912, shows deposits of $4,000,000, and assets approximating $5,000,000. These figures are exclusive of the trust department, with deposits of to the steel works. The gas will be $1,150,000.00. The past year has been the most successful in the history of the company, both in volume of business and Graniteware, Tinware, earnings.

Dr. Joseph Kaltfus, secretary of the State game commission, sends out the following earnest appeal in behalf of some of our game birds, which we hope will strike a responsive chord in the hearts of those so situated that they can act upon his suggestion:
