TO LOWER HIGH COST OF LIVING

Purpose of Democratic Tariff Revision Bill MEASURE BEFORE CONGRESS

Necessaries of Life Put on Free List While Luxuries Are Taxed—Income Tax Will Furnish Big Revenue. TARIFF BILL FEATURES. A graduated income tax on salaries of more than $4,000. Free raw wool. Sugar rates cut 25 per cent; sugar to be free in three years. "Market basket" items on the free list: meat, bread, flour, potatoes, milk, salt and fish. Reduced rates on butter, eggs and other necessities. Lumber, iron ore, wood pulp, print paper, bituminous coal and leather to be free. Radical cuts in manufactured wools, including blankets, flannels, ready made clothing and women's and children's dresses. Heavy cuts in steel products and pig iron. Some chemicals and drugs shifted from free to dutiable list. Taxes on luxuries stand except for some instances where they are raised beyond the Payne-Aldrich law figures.

The Sixty-third congress was called into extraordinary session on Monday for the purpose of revising the tariff. The Democratic tariff measure is designed to make good the party's promise to reduce the cost of living by removing or sharply reducing the duties on the necessities of life and products controlled by the trusts. Urged on by President Wilson they have added to the free list many of the products that enter into the ordinary market basket and slashed the duties on articles that contribute to the warmth and comfort of the workman and the average American.

The users of luxuries have been called upon to assume a burden fully as large as that laid on them by the present law and in addition the man of wealth must contribute more liberally than ever to help remove the burden of taxation on those less able to bear it. About $120,000,000 of the revenue needed by the government is made up by the imposition of an income tax. All persons having net incomes over $4,000 and partnerships with an equal income will be called on to help make up the loss. The incomes of the latter will be subject to a flat tax of 1 per cent, but individuals will be obliged to submit to a tax of a graduated character.

Generally considered President Wilson's tariff bill is a radical downward cut where it concerns the necessities of life and products that are controlled by alleged monopolies. In regard to other features of the bill, notably the chemical schedule, the rates are in many instances higher than those in the Payne-Aldrich law. The tariff bill does away with the maximum and minimum clause of the present law and substitutes for this system of retaliation a provision for reciprocity treaties. It puts the relations between the United States and the Philippines on a free trade basis and provides for the repeal of the corporation tax law substituting therefor the income tax.

The most impressive cuts in the new bill relate to foodstuffs and clothing and the raw material which is used in building purposes. The bill contains a free list in which is found these items: All dressed and prepared meats, flour, bread, milk and cream, potatoes, salt, corn, cornmeal and fish. The most impressive single cut in the bill is that by which raw wool goes on the free list. It is now taxed a duty of about 35 per cent ad valorem. The bill also provides for ultimate free sugar. It proposes an immediate reduction of 25 per cent and the removal of the remaining duty in three years.

There have been important reductions in farm products. Butter has been cut from 4 to 3 cents a pound, eggs from 5 to 2 cents a dozen, cattle from a duty of 27 per cent to 10 per cent ad valorem, sheep from 16 to 10 per cent, hay from 46 to 26 per cent, fruit from 27 to 15 per cent, lemons and citrus fruits from 68 to 24 per cent and poultry from 13 to 6 per cent. One More State Needed. Senator Bristow of Kansas, author of the resolution for a constitutional amendment providing for direct election of United States senators, declared the resolution now lacks the ratification of only one state to make it effective. Senator Bristow's official list shows that thirty-five states have ratified the amendment. He expects that Connecticut will be the thirty-sixth state which will make the long sought reform a reality.

COX ASKS FOR ENGINEERS

Wants Government's Aid in Devising Ways to Prevent Floods. Acting for the Ohio Flood Relief Commission Governor Cox sent a telegram to President Wilson asking that government engineers be sent to Ohio to view the flood-stricken districts and to devise ways and means of preventing such disasters in future. The message suggested that although the banking institutions are giving great assistance to the banks in the flood districts, the comptroller of the currency should be placed in charge of the distribution of relief funds so that credit may be established quickly.

Sad Conditions in Zanesville. Ad. C. Gumbert of Pittsburgh, accompanied by the Zanesville (O.) local relief committee, visited the flooded districts of Putnam and the Seventh ward. Later he said: "There are from 8,000 to 10,000 people in Zanesville who are homeless. Others have nothing but the bare walls, water soaked and mud begrimed, after they got there. I am preparing a message to send to the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce that Zanesville needs home furnishings more than money, that beds and bedding, children's and women's shoes, gas stoves, coats and anything calculated to establish meager comforts of a home are needed here."

Undertaker Arrested. Upon complaints filed by members of the Ohio national guard, A. Osman, a West Side (Columbus, O.) undertaker, whose business place is near the flood district, was arrested on a charge of larceny. Two guardsmen told Chief of Police Carter that Osman had offered them $25 for the body they might recover from the debris if they would turn them over to the Osman undertaking establishment. The police allege that more than $500 had been taken from bodies of victims sent to Osman's place. Four more bodies were recovered from flood wreckage, making the total of bodies recovered in this city eighty-four.

Dayton Nearly Flooded Again. Ten more inches of water in the Miami river would have given Dayton, O., another flood last week. A ten-hour downpour of rain, together with clogged sewer intakes, flooded many streets in the city. Monument avenue, Third, east and west of the business section, parts of Main street, Wayne avenue and other thoroughfares stood upward of one foot deep. Much apprehension was felt in Riverside because of the washed conditions of the levees, and guardsmen, assisted by many residents, kept a constant vigil.

TO BE BURIED IN HARTFORD

Details of Morgan Funeral Arrangements Withheld. Funeral services in this country over the body of J. Pierpont Morgan will be held in New York city at St. George's Protestant Episcopal church. Interment will be at Cedarhill cemetery, Hartford, Conn., Mr. Morgan's birthplace. The date will be decided later. This brief announcement was made by Henry P. Davison of J. P. Morgan & Co. Child's Bank Left by Burglar. A child's bank with "In God We Trust" printed across the top and containing $30 in dimes, was left untouched by a burglar who ransacked the home of Harry L. Kramer in California, Pa. Montenegro Port Blocked. Eight warships of the powers blockade the only seaport of Montenegro to force lifting of siege of Scutari.

SUFFRAGETTES AGAIN USE TORCH

Another House Burned by the Militants in England "REIGN OF TERROR" STARTED

Latest Outrage Together With Dynamiting of Railroad Station and Passenger Train Has Alarmed England. The suffragettes in England continue their "reign of terror." They burned a large unoccupied house at Cherleywood in Hertfordshire. Only the walls of the building were left standing. The usual cards bearing the legend, "Votes for Women," were found. The loss is $12,500. The suffragettes are striving strenuously to make good the threats of their leaders who promised to attack human life in reprisal for the sentencing of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst to three years in prison at hard labor. Their argument for the vote this time took the shape of alarm clock bombs such as those used by the McNamara gang in America. At Oxted station in Surrey on the London, Brighton and South Coast railway, a bomb of this make exploded, blowing out the doors and windows of a lavatory. An empty London and Northwestern railway passenger train was torn by an explosion in a third class carriage at about the same time that the Oxted station was being shot to pieces. The militants have all England pretty well frightened. There is even talk among business men of calling out soldiers to quell the militants. The police believe some of the recent criminal acts attributed to the suffragettes, principally the attempts to destroy railway property, were done by men engaged by the women. All railway stations and tunnels are being patrolled to prevent damage. In spite of the fact that she has been sentenced to three years Mrs. Pankhurst has promised to be present at the big suffragette meeting in Albert hall next Thursday night. In the meantime the case of Miss Zelle Emerson, who is said to be very ill in jail where she is serving a term of two months for window smashing, is attracting widespread attention. Her mother, who is a wealthy Detroit widow, besieged Reginald McKenna, the home secretary, but it was not a successful argument. She had written to the home secretary demanding that her daughter be examined by her own physician. "For God's sake, save my daughter," was the conclusion of her appeal. The language of her letter angered the home secretary who sent back a curt refusal saying that he had word that nothing was the matter with the young woman. Mrs. Pankhurst almost broke down when the jury pronounced its verdict. Justice Lush in passing sentence said her crime was a most serious one. Immediately after the sentence of three years fell from the judge's lips the women in the courtroom broke out in a chorus of "Shame!" and "Outrageous!" With Mrs. Pankhurst's defiance to the judge, "I'll fight! fight!" still ringing in their ears the suffragists went wild. Standing on the seats they shrieked and shouted anathemas at the court. The police were powerless. The judge's warning that he would commit the entire party of women to prison for contempt fell upon deaf ears. They mocked the judge and laughed at his threats and they finally left the court singing the suffragist battle song. Mrs. Pankhurst's release is certain and few people doubt she will appear as she promised at the great meeting at Albert hall on April 10, when the suffragettes plan to hold a great meeting. There is reason to believe that the officials of the jail will not attempt to feed her forcibly. As soon as she is hungry enough to get a doctor's certificate that her health is in danger she will be released "on license" for a period which is in the discretion of the home secretary.

ETHEL ROOSEVELT A BRIDE

Weds Dr. Richard Derby—Ceremony in Oyster Bay Last Week. In striking contrast to the wedding of her half sister Alice to Nicholas Longworth was the ceremony Friday morning that made Miss Ethel Roosevelt the wife of Dr. Richard Derby. The marriage of Alice Roosevelt was probably the most elaborate that ever took place in Washington. The wedding Friday morning was one of the simplest of the season. The ceremony took place in Christ Episcopal church, Oyster Bay, L. I. Three clergymen officiated. Only relatives and intimate friends were invited to attend the ceremony and the breakfast afterward at Colonel Roosevelt's home. Carnegie Gives Million More. Another million of Andrew Carnegie's wealth has been placed to the credit of the endowment fund of the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, by the former steel king, which brings the total up to $8,000,000. Formal announcement of the gift will be made at the Founders' day exercises April 24. Ex-Mayor Warwick Dies. Charles E. Warwick, mayor of Philadelphia from 1895 to 1899, died after an illness of several years.

BOILER BLOWS UP; TWO KILLED

Two men were killed when the boiler blew up on a tugboat as it was passing under the Penrose ferry bridge over the Schuylkill river at Philadelphia. The dead men are the engineer and the fireman of the boat. Eight members of the crew jumped overboard and were rescued. The boat sank within five minutes after the explosion occurred. Bishop J. J. Carroll Dies. Bishop J. J. Carroll, rector of St. Edward's Roman Catholic church in Philadelphia, died last week. Complications following an injury received a year ago, when he was thrown from his horse, brought on the bishop's fatal illness. He was one of the most widely known clergymen in the country. BANKER AND GIRL IN TOILS

Former Charged With Conspiracy to Cheat: Other With Embezzlement. In Philadelphia warrants were issued by Magistrate McFarland for the arrest of Charles L. Kolb, the cashier of the Textile National bank, and Miss Mary B. V. Sturgis, aged twenty-six, a former stenographer and private secretary of H. S. Ashmore, president of the Melbourne mills. The warrants for Kolb charge him with conspiracy to cheat and defraud, while Miss Sturgis is charged with embezzlement. It is said that the amount of money involved in the alleged transaction is between $15,000 and $20,000. Ashmore was compelled to be out of town a great deal and left his affairs in the hands of the young woman. He claims he left checks signed in blank and that she misappropriated funds by misusing these checks. SCHOOL HEAD IS INDICTED Heeter of Pittsburg Faces Trial on Girl's Charges. True bills were returned by the grand jury in Pittsburg against Superintendent S. L. Heeter of the Pittsburg public schools and George Patterson, twenty-five years old, accused by Miss Ethel Fisher, eighteen years old, formerly a domestic in the Heeter home, who had been in West Penn hospital as a result of an alleged criminal operation. The grand jury held Superintendent Heeter on two charges and Patterson on one. It is believed an early trial will be given Heeter. He has requested such action as the only course to insure his early vindication of the charges. He declares he is innocent. Philadelphians Given Pen Sentences. Former Director of Public Safety Henry Clay of Philadelphia and John E. Wiggins and Willard H. Walls, contractors, convicted several months ago of conspiracy to defraud the city in the erection of public buildings, were refused new trials and immediately sentenced to not less than eighteen months' nor more than two years' imprisonment and fined $500 each. Says Spouse Hated Work. That her husband was so bitterly opposed to work that he flatly refused to earn a livelihood and that she was compelled to seek employment as a paper hanger stenographer and in other lines to provide food for the household were among the statements made by Mrs. Camilla C. Brown of Monongahela, Pa., in her suit for divorce from Samuel A. Brown. Boiler Blows Up; Two Killed. NEW ELECTION PLAN APPROVED

Legislature For Direct Choosing of U. S. Senators NOT NEGATIVE VOTE IN SENATE

Anticipating Ratification of Amendment McNichol Introduces Bill Providing For Party Nominations. Pennsylvania has joined in ratifying the amendment to the constitution of the United States which would provide for the direct election of United States senators. When a couple of more states take similar action the new method of filling the office will be in force. The senate adopted the Jones resolution, the measure having passed the house several weeks ago. There were forty votes for the proposition and none against it. Senator James P. McNichol of Philadelphia was in his seat but did not vote. Senator E. H. Varo of Philadelphia supported the resolution. Before the resolution was voted upon Senator McNichol introduced a bill to provide the machinery for the direct election of United States senators. As the federal constitution does not yet provide for the direct election of senators, but undoubtedly will do so before the next legislature meets, the matter is covered by making the bill read: "Whenever the constitution of the United States shall be amended so as to provide for the election of United States senators by a vote of the electors of the several states, candidates for the office of United States senator shall be nominated and elected in the year next preceding the expiration of the term of office of the United States senator whose successor is to be elected in the manner provided by law for the nomination and election of candidates for the office of governor."

Under the McNichol bill the nomination of candidates for United States senator would be made in the same manner as governors are nominated. At present the system is by state conventions. The house has passed a bill to provide for the direct nomination of the governor by the people. The indications are that the senate will not accept this method and the state convention plan will continue in vogue. Governor Tener's club license bill, sponsored in the house by Samuel B. Scott of Philadelphia, was defeated on second reading by a vote of 111 to 77. There was a stiff fight in the house on the teachers' tenure of office bill. After much debate the bill was passed finally as amended in the house by a vote of 118 to 65. The bill would provide that teachers who held permanent certificates and had taught ten years in any one school district should be permanently employed by the district. The salary or position could not be changed except by a vote of two-thirds of the school board. The Magee bill, designed to put Pittsburg in a school district of the second class for the sole purpose of ripping out of office the fifteen members of the board of public education was defeated in the senate. The measure fell because of its failure to receive a constitutional majority. The vote was 21 yeas and 16 nays. For the purpose of delaying and, under certain conditions, of killing the resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution for a $50,000,000 bond issue to improve state roads Representative John H. Scott of Philadelphia persuaded the house to send the measure back to the committee on public roads. Despite the fact that the resolution was passed by the legislature of 1911 and had been before the people for two years Scott argued that "some people wish to be heard on the measure."

Governor Tener, who is much interested in state road building, discussing the vote in the house, said: "The action would not have happened had there been a full attendance. The enemies of the administration and of good roads took advantage of a light house and succeeded in sending the resolution to committee. A majority of the committee men are friendly to the resolution and there is no doubt in my mind about the legislation being promptly reported. The friends of good roads in the house will see that the amendment is agreed to and put up to the people who must decide whether the department is to be created. I am confident that the citizens of Pennsylvania are in favor of the improvement of highways."

MOVIES TO BE CENSORED

Governor Tener Signs Bill to Provide Pay For the Work. Governor Tener signed George W. Allen's bill, to make an appropriation to the state board of moving picture censors. This office was created at the last legislature, but no appropriation was provided and the appointment of a censor could not be made. Among other bills signed were: Piper bill, to require foundries to establish toilet rooms. Stein bill, to authorize the board of inspectors of the Western penitentiary to remove the buildings, machinery and appliances to the new penitentiary site in Centre county. Flynn bill, to authorize the purchase of live stock and farming implements for the Centre county penitentiary.

ETHICAL PURSE

Woman Also Loses Scarf Containing $413—Finder Not "Stung." The pocketbook that someone picked up in Brownsville, Pa., on April 1 was no "April fool" joke, because it contained $610 and with it was lost a bandana handkerchief containing $413. Mrs. Mary Stanick of Linn station went there to attend the eight-hour day labor celebration and reported to the police she had lost $1,023. Mrs. Stanick says she carried the pocketbook and the handkerchief in her blouse and believes she lost them near the Pennsylvania railroad station. It is believed the finder of the parcels is congratulating himself that he was not "stung" by the customary April 1 pocketbook.

BUSINESS CONTINUES WELL

With Flood Conditions Overcome Normal Activity is Expected. Dun's Review of Trade says this week. "The general trade outlook continues very satisfactory, although conservatism in all branches is manifest. The disastrous floods of last week caused more or less interruption to transporting and distributing agencies, but as these are restored a return to full normal activity is expected. "While the iron and steel industry was disorganized by the floods, mills and furnaces are rapidly resuming work and fundamental conditions remain distinctly favorable." Thinks Parrot Swallowed Ring. "Poll," a parrot owned by Mrs. Anna Simons of Hickory township, near Sharon, Pa., has a penchant for eating anything that comes within range, and now the owner of the bird is lamenting the loss of a diamond ring valued at $100, which the bird is accused of swallowing. EDICT FOR BOSS BARNES

Governor Sulzer Orders Him to Keep Away From State Capitol. Governor Sulzer warned William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the Republican state committee of New York, to keep away from the state capitol building while the legislature is in session or he would take steps to make him. The governor was very much disturbed when he learned that Mr. Barnes frequently visits the rooms in the capitol set aside for the use of the Republican leaders of the senate and assembly. When Chairman Barnes learned of Governor Sulzer's edict he said: "I expect to exercise my individual rights as all other citizens do until the constitution is repealed withdrawing them. However, if it is personally uncomfortable to the governor for me to visit the capitol to watch the travesties of government daily occurring there I shall be pleased to make my visits to the people's house, which is one of the people I unquestionably have the governor's invitation to do."

It is believed the finder of the parcels is congratulating himself that he was not "stung" by the customary April 1 pocketbook.

BUSINESS CONTINUES WELL

With Flood Conditions Overcome Normal Activity is Expected. Dun's Review of Trade says this week. "The general trade outlook continues very satisfactory, although conservatism in all branches is manifest. The disastrous floods of last week caused more or less interruption to transporting and distributing agencies, but as these are restored a return to full normal activity is expected. "While the iron and steel industry was disorganized by the floods, mills and furnaces are rapidly resuming work and fundamental conditions remain distinctly favorable." Thinks Parrot Swallowed Ring. "Poll," a parrot owned by Mrs. Anna Simons of Hickory township, near Sharon, Pa., has a penchant for eating anything that comes within range, and now the owner of the bird is lamenting the loss of a diamond ring valued at $100, which the bird is accused of swallowing. Champion Churchgoer Dies. Mrs. Mary Ann Gossler of Sunbury, Pa., died, aged eighty-seven. It is believed she held the world's record for religious service attendance. She did not miss church or Sunday school for seventy years. PITTSBURGH MARKETS. Butter—Prints, 41; tubs, 40. Eggs—Selected, 22. Poultry—Hens, live, 19 @ 20.
