PEOPLE who come to Pennsylvania from other states are agreeably surprised to learn that we have no personal property tax.

MORE snakes showing up, it would seem. The Franklin News says: Representative Donald Glenn calls attention to a bill introduced into the Legislature providing for the construction by a private concern of a dam on the Youghiogheny river.

Gettysburg Battlefield Reunion.

The Acts just passed by the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, regarding the great Gettysburg Reunion Celebration, at Gettysburg, Penna., July 1-4 next, were immediately approved by Governor Tener, and the one appropriating $165,000 for the Pennsylvania Commission to provide free transportation to Gettysburg and return makes the following five (5) classes of Soldiers, Sailors and Marines of the Civil War eligible to such transportation.

Class A. All honorably discharged Soldiers who enlisted from this Commonwealth and served in a Pennsylvania Regiment, or any unit of Pennsylvania Volunteers, at any period during the Civil War, including commands of the Pennsylvania Volunteer Militia (Emergency Regiments) and independent companies, batteries and troops, who are now living in Pennsylvania as citizens of this Commonwealth.

Class B. Any of the above who are now living in other States, but Pennsylvania provides these free transportation to Gettysburg and return only from the railroad station on the border of Pennsylvania which is nearest to their present residence, also.

Class C. To any Soldier either Union or Confederate, borne upon the rolls of any other State as a Civil War Veteran, but now living within Pennsylvania as a citizen of this Commonwealth, such transportation may be issued.

Class D. To United States Regulars, Soldier of the Civil War, now living within Pennsylvania as citizens of this Commonwealth.

Class E. To United States Sailors and Marines, Veterans of the Civil War, now living in Pennsylvania as citizens of the Commonwealth.

All applications therefore must be made, and before June 1st, and the earlier the better, to the Pennsylvania Gettysburg Commission, at the Capitol, Harrisburg, Pa., and upon Application Blanks now procurable from said Commission, wherein must be stated explicitly the War record, etc., of each applicant, who must, in applying for such Application Blanks, state what Class he comes under.

No Chestnut Tree Blight Here.

There are several reasons for fearing that Forest County's present apparent freedom from chestnut blight may not last permanently according to the reports of the field agents of the Pennsylvania Chestnut Tree Blight Commission who recently made a special inspection of woodlots in various parts of the County, unless great vigilance is exercised to prevent an outbreak of the disease.

The most important of these reasons for fearing an invasion of Forest County by the parasitic fungus which causes the blight is the geographical location of the County. Two advance spot infections of the blight were found last summer in Warren county, directly north of this county. In Elk county, to the east, four scattered spot infections, embracing in all more than three hundred trees, were discovered and removed last year by field agents of the Blight Commission. Dangerous infections have also been found in Somerset county. These are, of course, far to the south of Forest County, but they show with what ominous persistence the parasite would make its way westward if unchecked.

The main steps in advertising such an invasion are a general knowledge of the appearance of the blight and a general willingness to cooperate with the Blight Commission in combatting it. If diseased chestnut trees are found no better public service can be rendered than to report the facts promptly and thus assist in the control and eradication of a new tree pest that has caused such enormous losses in Eastern Pennsylvania.

A rumor has started on the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania Railroad to the effect that the company will in the near future demand that all employees of all classes and departments sign a pledge against the use of intoxicating liquors. Although no official confirmation has been given the report, it is being stated persistently that such an announcement will soon be made.

Big Flood Controlling Farce.

There is no essential difference in the problems presented by the Mississippi and the Allegheny rivers. If reservoirs will stop floods on one river, they will stop them on another. Here is an interesting editorial from the Philadelphia Record: "To control the floods of the Mississippi, by catching and holding part of the waters in reservoirs, is a problem often spoken of without any real comprehension of its meaning. At the present moment a volume of water is passing Memphis at the rate of 2,300,000 cubic feet per second, and this will continue for thirty days. The month's total will be 5,961,600,000 cubic feet, and to hold only half of this there would be required one hundred and seven reservoirs, each of an area of one hundred miles square, of an average depth of ten feet. The Roosevelt dam in Arizona holds only a fraction of what one of these reservoirs would hold, and it cost $8,000,000. The cost of such a scheme would be prohibitive and, moreover, the rainfall which produces the Mississippi floods is nearly always below any possible reservoir site. Where does anybody propose to locate the catch basins for the rains that recently fell in Indiana and Ohio?"

The Albaugh Family.

It has been suggested by many of our friends that at least a short historical sketch of this family be given in our papers, and so we send you the following: The father of this family, J. P. Albaugh, was born at Rock Creek, near Washington, D. C., in the State of Maryland, Dec. 26, 1804. The mother was born near Trenton, N. J., Feb. 8, 1801. Early in life these families moved to Allegheny county, N. Y., where they grew to manhood and womanhood. About the year 1835 they moved to Pennsylvania, locating on the outlet of Sugar Lake, in Venango county. By this time the family was fast growing into strong manhood, working at clearing up the farm and digging ore and chopping cord wood for the many blast furnaces then in operation in the county. In the early spring of 1853 the family moved to the furnace owned by Wm. Cross, located on Little Hickory creek, about two miles from the river. On the 12th of April of that year one brother, Wesley, died, aged a little more than twenty years. This is the last death in the family to this date. Typhoid fever claimed many victims at the furnace that spring. The family was noted for being expert with the ax, and could cut and put up their five and six cords of wood per day each, but they conceded that Elias was rather the best.

They now purchased two hundred acres of land from Wm. Cross and cleared up the same, turning the forest into fruitful fields. To show how well preserved this family has been we desire to give the following facts: Elias Albaugh was born Nov. 25, 1828, and is now aged at this date, April 30, 1913, 84 years, 5 months and 5 days. Charles Albaugh was born Oct. 15, 1830, and is aged 82 years, 6 months and 15 days. James Albaugh, Oct. 31, 1834, aged 78 years, 7 months. Wm. Albaugh, Jan. 13, 1837, aged 76 years, 3 months and 37 days. Mary Albaugh Taylor, June 23, 1840, aged 72 years, 10 months and 7 days. Jonathan Albaugh, April 22, 1844, aged 69 years and 8 days.

The combined ages are 463 years and 9 months. The average age, 77 years, 1 month and 20 days. Three of the boys, Charles, William and Jonathan, served over three years in the War of the Rebellion, and were honorably discharged. In connection with this statement, the first and last named were severely wounded. Another fact is that, since March 12th, this family has lived so near each other that all could have been visited within six hours of any day. It is expected that this family circle will soon be broken, and when once broken all expect to fade, each other rapidly across the great divide, according to the decrees of nature. F. J. Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, etc. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Look to Your Plumbing.

You know what happens in a house in which the plumbing is in poor condition—everybody in the house is liable to contract typhoid or some other fever. The digestive organs perform the same functions in the human body as the plumbing does for the house, and they should be kept in first class condition all the time. If you have any trouble with your digestion take Chamberlain's Tablets and you are certain to get quick relief. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

Recent Deaths.

CAUGHY.

Sunday, April 20, was a day of sadness at Clarington when the remains of Alex Caughy, one of Forest County's excellent young men, was laid to rest in the Clarington cemetery. He had been on the surveying corps which is making a survey of the Clarion River for the purpose of building dams, and a short time before his death he had been bothered by a tack in his shoe which pricked the ball of his foot. He paid no attention to it until Tuesday, April 15, when he became too ill to work. His case developed rapidly and it was soon found that he had lockjaw. All was done for him that medical science could do, five doctors and specialists being called and Dr. Brewer, the home physician, was in constant attendance, but despite all efforts he grew rapidly worse and died at eleven o'clock, Friday, April 18, 1913. Beautiful and impressive services were held in his memory, and many friends and relatives were present at the funeral. Twelve pall bearers, friends of the deceased, carried his body to the cemetery. Rev. Humbert, Presbyterian minister of Sigel, preached the funeral sermon.

Alex. N. Caughy was aged 34 years and 5 months, and since a small boy he had made his home with Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Braden of Clarington, who were father and mother to him and cared for him as one of their own children. He is also survived by four brothers, John, Clem, Robert and Benjamin, and two sisters, Fannie and Mrs. Hugh Brennan, all of Pittsburg. Alex was known everywhere as a man who was honest and upright in all his dealings. He worked in the store for the firm of Mechlun, London & Braden for six years, and held many other positions of trust, such as time-keeper and lumber scaler for the United Natural Gas Co. the past two years. Many friends are left to mourn his death and to us it seems too bad to lose a young man in his prime, but it is God's way and His will be done, not ours.—(Clarion Republican please copy.)
