MUCH of the so-called silk nowdays is made of wood. Germany produces more than one million pounds of this cellulose silk, worth $1,500,000. A ton of wood worth $10 yields cellulose worth $20, and this cellulose yields silk worth $850.

MUCH credit is due our Forest county Representative in the recent legislature, Hon. A. R. Mechling, for his good work and watchfulness in killing enake legislation, particularly is this true of the "water snake" bills that so persistently crawled into the records. Had our county not had a wide awake member in Harrisburg this session there is scarcely any doubt but that some of those vicious dam bills would have gone through. It was a comfort to know, also, that Governor Tener was alert and ready with his veto

THE Harrisburg correspondent of the Derrick sends this special dispatch to the paper under date of July 28: Although besought and importuned by the Western Pennsylvania water grabbers to approve the bill appropriating $500,000 for the Youghiogheny dam, Governor Tener turned it down cold because of "insufficient funds," but it is certain that he would not have approved it under any conditions, as the people interested of the party and discussed the work against it had informed him that it was to be done in advance of the guberthe first step towards getting control of streams by the water grabbers. The water grabbers are a persistent set and it will be well watered then."

ALL of the 1997 bills passed by the legislature were disposed of by Governor Tener, either by approved or veto, within the time limit. Excepting the appropriation bills few of them were of more than indifferent importance, and the state would not have suffered without them. Of those placed before him the Governor signed 857, of which the larger number carried appropriations, and vetoed 250 two of the number being recalled. Of the more than sixty million allowed, Philadelphia gets the lion's share as usnal, and yet a howl is raised by the North American because the Governor refused to dump a cold million into the city coffers for the improvement of the Delaware river port. Citizens outside of Philadelphia think the Governor did the wise and just thing in pruning $750,000 off the grab.

THIRTY-ONE PERISH IN FIRE All But One Are Girls-Holocaust in

Rochester, N. Y Thirty-one persons lost their lives in a factory fire at Binghamton, N. Y All but one of the victims were girls.

At least fifty more were injured.

Words can do little more than give a dim idea of the shocking fate of those that perished. Not even the Triangle fire in New York two years ago last March equaled the disaster. Here in a great building of brick and wood, where the floors were piled inches deep with oil-soaked rags and waste, where there was only one stairway and two fire escapes, 125 girls whose average age was less than twenty had less than eighteen minutes to save their lives. Circumstances and bad fortune made their position hopeless. James P. Whiskeman, engineering expert, made a thorough examination of the site of the destroyed factory.

His investigation, he said, revealed the fact that a stairway running through the clothing company's building had been removed to make more room for manufacturing. "It is another case," said Whiskeman, "of dollars and cents being placed above human
