—Ralph, youngest son of W. L. Klinefelter of Sheffield, was operated upon last week at Emergency hospital, Warren, for appendicitis. He withstood the operation well and will soon be able to leave the hospital.

—Welch & Lowe's well on the Strickenberg farm, Smokey Hill, was finished last week, but failed to respond as a producer. A showing of gas was tapped, but it was too light and the casing was pulled and the hole plugged.
—We erected last week in getting the names over the phone and publishing the list of the Barnett township teachers. Marjorie Cassatt is the teacher elected for Cooksburg, instead of Marian Crawford. Floyd Fitzgerald is the teacher for Pleasant Grove, instead of Florence Fitzgerald.

—The last quarterly conference of this conference year will be held at the M. E. church, Tionesta, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. Communion and baptism Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Special music. Conveyance will be provided to take the "shut-ins" to the Sunday morning service. No evening service will be held.

—The Tylersburg harvest home association will hold its 6th annual harvest home picnic in the Tylersburg Grove on Thursday, August 14. Able speakers have been secured for the day. Good music will be furnished by the Venus cornet band. There will be a good ball game in the afternoon. All are cordially invited to attend and spend a pleasant day.

—William J. Elder, for many years the cashier of the Tionesta savings bank and one of the town's most popular and useful citizens, died at Emergency hospital, Warren, Sunday evening following an operation for appendicitis. His age was 68 years, and he is survived by his wife and five children. Mr. Elder was favorably known to many of our Forest county citizens.
—Our townsman Judge Irwin has been honored with and has accepted an invitation from Edwin C. Bell of Titusville, to speak at the celebration of the 5th anniversary of the completion of the Drake oil well. The celebration is to take place in Titusville on the 27th of August, and it is expected that many noted oil operators of the early period of the development will be in attendance.
—Saturday night July 19, 1913, a farewell party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wagner in honor of Bruce Stitzinger, brother of Mrs. Wagner. The evening was pleasantly passed with games and music, including lots of fun. Later in the evening refreshments were served. There were fifty-one present and everyone reported having an enjoyable time. Mr. Stitzinger has just returned from a four month's stay in Hahachest, Romania, and expected to start yesterday for Salt, California. Everybody is sorry to see Bruce leave the vicinity so soon but all wish him good luck on his journey.

—G. T. Anderson has disposed of his interest in the Anderson & Carlson tenorial parlors to Frank Stephens of Eagle Rock, who has installed a good artist in "Trix's" place, who, we understand, will soon engage in mercantile pursuits with David Blum in the new room of the Lawrence block. Clothing, gent's furnishings and jewelry will comprise the principal lines in which the new firm will deal.

—George Birtell and a party of friends from Edenburg motored over Saturday and spent the day fishing for Allegheny river terrapin in accordance with George's most approved method, which is a dead sure winner every time. In the evening they gave their attention to bullfrogs, bagging enough to make 'em all happy. The others of the party were Q. A. McElhatton, R. A. McElhatton and William Hummel.

—The 1913 catalogue of the Clarion State Normal school has made its appearance. It is a handsome book of 110 pages, containing a number of illustrations, a mass of information concerning this popular school and a list of the names and addresses of the graduates. Young people thinking of attending a normal school should write for this catalogue before making their selection and all of the alumni of the school should have a copy.

—A post-card received Friday from Rev. John F. Scherer, of Endeavor, Forest County, who with Mrs. Scherer, is enjoying an outing over the water, was dated from Venice, and read: "Arrived here last night, (July 3rd) Came to hotel from train in gondolas. Novel experience. Wonderful city. Fine trip. All well. Hip, hip, hurrah!" The last exclamation was no doubt an expression of patriotism on our own Fourth of July.—Seneca Kicker.

—Arthur, the 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davenport, residing on the river hill west of Tionesta, fell through the hay loft while playing in the barn Saturday evening, and sustained the fracture of the bone of his left arm between the wrist and elbow. In his descent his head struck on a box cutting a two-inch gash over the right eye. Dr. Gregg was called and gave the needed surgical relief and the child is getting along all right.

—M. S. Carnahan of Pleasantville is making another test for oil on the Wheeler & Dusenbury lands in Kingsley township. He has just started the drill in a well on Ross Run near where the Whig Hill road crosses the stream. H. S. Sutley is moving his rig over to tract 5183, about a mile west of the Carnahan location, and will drill a well for a Bradford company, of which H. W. Tracey of Bradford and Judge Bouton are members. This location is on what is known as the Rock branch of Ross Run.

—There will be a vacancy on the 28th Congressional District at the United States Military Academy, West Point, and one at the Naval Academy, Annapolis, and for the purpose of selecting the principals and alternates, examinations are to be given at Oil City on Friday, August 15, 1913, at which time a principal and two alternates for each position will be selected as candidates for appointment. Should any young man desire to try for appointment he should write Congressman Hulings at Washington for information.

—Some inquiries are being made in regard to the Hunters' License required under the new Resident Hunters' License Law, and Joseph Kalibus, Secretary of the State Game Commission has notified County Treasurer Wade E. Brazee, through whom licenses must be secured that the license blanks and license tags required by the act are now being prepared and as soon as they are ready they will be forwarded to the county treasurer, when they may be secured by those desiring them. Since no species of game will be in season before October the delay doesn't matter much.

—On the 22d inst. the neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Barton met with them at their home in Greenwood, Barnett township, to celebrate Mrs. B's sixtieth birthday, the event being a surprise to the hostess. A sumptuous dinner was served on the lawn in the shade of the apple trees. Mrs. Barton was served on a plate left her by her mother, which was two years older than herself. The day was perfect and all reported a fine time. The friends in attendance from Hotelville were: Mrs. A. M. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Chas. Moore, Mrs. D. Sylvia, Mrs. Geo. Irwin, Mrs. Ves. Fitzgerald and Mrs. J. B. Campbell. Also Rev. and Mrs. D. O. May, of Clarion.

—County Supt. Carson goes to Warren tomorrow to assist in the state permanent certificate examinations for Warren and Forest counties which take place Thursday and Friday. The other members of the board are Prof. E. T. Adams, superintendent of the borough schools and Prof. F. W. Gill, principal of Tionesta high school. We understand, however, that Prof. Gill will not be able to attend owing to a sudden attack of illness requiring an operation for which purpose he has gone to a hospital at Columbus, Ohio. The many friends of Mr. Gill will be pleased to learn that, according to later information received from him, the operation is not necessarily a dangerous one, being for the removal of an enlarged gland in his neck.

—The Green township school board will establish a high school at Nebraska this fall and for that purpose an addition is being built to the school building there, which fortunately will be at no expense to the taxpayers, as Mr. T. D. Collins and Hon. F. X. Kreidler, of Nebraska, will build the addition and present it to the township. We understand that Mr. Collins has also deeded the school grounds to the township, and has agreed to meet for the first year any added expense the new high school may entail over what the present school costs. The new building will be located at the rear of the present building and is 22x46 feet in size, two stories, with two rooms, each capable of accommodating fifty pupils. It stands on a concrete wall and will cost about $2,500. It is to be completed within six weeks. Mr. Collins has the contract and Wallace Mesly, of Tionesta, is the carpenter in charge, beginning the work last Monday. The school board is now seeking a good principal for the high school, the other three positions having been filled at the last meeting.

The Best Medicine in the World.
"My little girl had dysentery very bad. I thought she would die. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured her, and I can truly say that I think it is the best medicine in the world." writes Mrs. William Orvis, Clark, Mich. for sale by all druggists. adv

Mr. Reynolds is an old Forest county boy, having been born and reared in young manhood in Barnett township, and he is finding great pleasure in visiting the friends and scenes of his boyhood days. They travel in a handsome seven-passenger touring car.

The Largest Class.
One hundred and fifty-eight were graduated in the class of 1913 at the Clarion Normal. The majority of these had secured positions before graduation. Some receive $80, $85, $70, $75, $60, and one has $50 per month. The teachers aid the students to obtain positions. It pays to secure an education. Clarion State Normal is one of the best in the state. We have experienced teachers, an ideal location, commodious buildings and a first class athletic field. Fall term begins Sept. 8. Recent Deaths.

SPARKS.
Lou's E. Sparks, aged about 32 years, died Saturday, July 26, 1913, at his home at Eagle Rock, Pa., after an illness of three weeks of typhoid fever. Deceased was a son of W. T. Sparks, and besides his parents is survived by five brothers and two sisters, Elmer, James, Emmet, Harry, Carl, May and Rose Sparks, all of Eagle Rock. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at the family home, the service being conducted by Rev. W. S. Barton, of Tionesta.

COLE.
Nelson Green Cole, son of Daniel and Lucinda (Green) Cole, was born at Clintonville, Venango county, April 23, 1848, and died at his home near Nebraska, July 26, 1913, aged 65 years, 3 months 3 days, after a lingering illness with cancer of the stomach.
When the subject of this notice was one year old his parents moved to what is now known as Kellestville Forest county. In 1871 he made his first pilot trip down the Allegheny river, when yet quite a young man. From this time on he followed very successfully this avocation until river rafting of lumber was succeeded by railroad transportation.

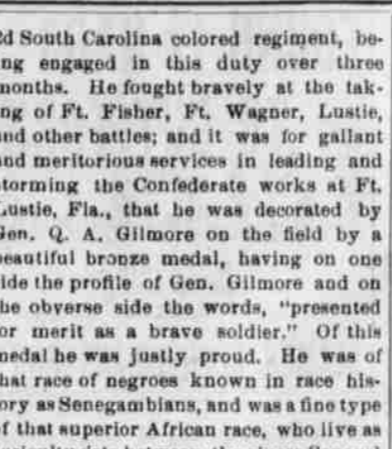

Politically Mr. Cole was a staunch Republican, and while health permitted taking an active part in political affairs of his township, state and nation, holding various times about all the offices of trust in his community, and serving with much credit to himself and credit to his township in the office of road commissioner for eighteen years, and a school director for six years. In 1897 he moved with his family to the farm where he had since resided, about a mile below the village of Nebraska. In 1887 he was united in marriage with Miss Emily J. Allison of Nebraska, who with three children, Ray, A., Beta E. and Anna L. Cole, all of Nebraska, survives, one son, Arthur P., having died in infancy. Two brothers, James W. of Marienville, Pa., Clinton of Lancaster, Ohio, and one sister, Elizabeth Lenox of Erie, and one grand child, also survive.
For upward of 27 years the deceased had been a member of Tionesta Lodge, I. O. O. F., which fraternity attended the interment in a body and conducted the services at the grave.

The funeral was held at the late home of the deceased Monday afternoon at one o'clock, the services being conducted by Rev. W. O. Calhoun of Linesville, Pa., who paid a glowing tribute to the moral worth and the honest, consistent life of Mr. Cole, whose passing away is a heavy loss to the community in which he had spent upward of three score years.

KEPLER.
Jacob Musser Kepler, of Pine Grove Mills, Centre county, Pa., died at his home near that village, Thursday afternoon, July 24, 1913.
J. M. Kepler was the third of five children of Jacob and Katherine Kepler, and was born March 9, 1833, upon the farm where he died. Until grown to manhood his life was spent upon his father's farm, working in the summer, and attending the public schools, and later the Pine Grove Academy in the winter time. After leaving the Academy he, for some years, taught school. But, being a man of ambition and tremendous energy, he gave up teaching to engage in more active lines of endeavor, going to Phillipsburg, Pa., in 1859, where he conducted a hotel, and a store, and ran a daily stage line from Phillipsburg to Curwensville. In 1871, he removed to Petroleum Center, Venango county, where he devoted his attention to producing oil, being interested also in properties at Tidoute, Triumph and other oil region points.

He was attracted to Tionesta, and came here in 1872, making this place his home for 10 years. While living in Tionesta, Mr. Kepler acquired the Salmon Creek Lumber Co. property at Kellestville, which enterprise was carried on with characteristic energy. In 1885 he built the Kepler block at the corner of Bridge and Elm streets in Tionesta. Always a Democrat of uncompromising conviction, he was active in politics, and as an instrument in his effort to make democracy triumphant in his adopted county, he launched the old Forest National Democrat upon the troubled sea of journalism, and published that vigorous party organ until failing health induced him to dispose of all business interests in this community and return to the home of his boyhood. He had purchased his father's old farm; also adjoining farms that had originally been owned by kinsmen. It was his ambition and pleasure to make of this property an ideal estate, and the 300 or 400 acres of rich bottom land was brought to a high state of fertility. To this was added several hundred acres of mountain forest land in which every kind of wild game bird and animal peculiar to present day Pennsylvania, was found in abundance, making a splendid game preserve where he spent much time in his favorite pastime of hunting. Amid these scenes of his younger days, he passed the last years of an active life in ease and comfort directing the affairs of his farm and living to the advanced age of more than 80 years. Mr. Kepler was twice married and leaves five children to survive him.

HARRY.
Thomas P. Harry died from the infirmities of old age at his home near West Hickory, Pa., July 28, 1913. He had been long and favorably known to the people of that vicinity as a highly respected, industrious and honest colored man. His kind disposition won the confidence of the entire community. He was a tanner by trade, well versed in his work. They called him Uncle Tom. He was vigorous to the last, was in Tionesta last Friday, cheerful and happy as usual. He was born in Allegheny county, Pa., March 28, 1824. The lady he chose for his wife was Margaret Simmons, who revealed to him a plot to blow up the negro soldiers' quarters in a school house by the rebels in Florida by night, and just before he was discharged from the army he married her in the summer of 1865, at Lake City, Florida. She was born in slavery in Florida, June 3, 1847. Her death occurred about a year ago. When the war broke out Mr. Harry was a laborer in Philadelphia, Pa. He joined Co. K, 3d U. S. colored troops, there July 23, 1863, and shortly after was elected by his comrades to the office of sergeant. He was injured by the bursting of a shell in the attack on Morris Island. In 1864 he was detailed to Ft. Montgomery to drill the 2d South Carolina colored regiment, being engaged in this duty over three months. He fought bravely at the taking of Ft. Fisher, Ft. Wagner, Lottis, and other battles; and it was for gallant and meritorious services in leading and storming the Confederate works at Ft. Lottis, Fla., that he was decorated by Gen. Q. A. Gilmore on the field by a beautiful bronze medal, having on one side the profile of Gen. Gilmore and on the other side the words, "presented for merit as a brave soldier." Of this medal he was justly proud. He was of that race of negroes known in race history as Senegambians, and was a fine type of that superior African race, who live as agriculturists between the rivers Senegal and Gambia in Africa, whose characteristics are that they are tall, rather light colored and do not have the flat noses, kinky hair and thick lips that belong to the Congo, Guinea and other races. Of this he was justly proud. In all the walks of life he did his duty well as God had given him light. He was a good citizen and a model soldier, as his life history proves. He was one of the earliest and patriotic members of Geo. Stow Post, later joining Berlin Post at East Hickory. Rev. W. W. Dale conducted the funeral services at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon, followed by the interment in the East Hickory cemetery. a. d. i.

ECONOMY

Is a good thing in buying clothes; but don't think real economy means low price. Here are the best clothes you can possibly get for the money you invest.

The most noted tailors of the country made them; many are the famous Adler-Rochester clothes. The designs show robust originality for young chaps; and more conservative beauty for men not so young. You'll like the fabrics; they're all of tested high quality. This means more than a good wearing suit; the garments hold their shape and keep their crisp "new" look.

These suits were made by hand by the most expert tailors; and it's this perfect workmanship that gives the garments their clean-cut, finished style. Prices are

$12, $15, $18, $20, $25 and $27.50
