CONGRESSMAN Willis J. Hulings announced that as a result of the competitive examination for the cadetship to the U. S. military academy at West Point held recently, William W. Fradenberg of Ridgeway, Pa., had been selected as the principal, and William Paea of Oil City and Austin C. White of Grove City as the alternates.

FIFTEEN candidates for judge of the Superior Court have filed their petitions at Harrisburg. There will be two vacancies to fill, and if we understand the new primary law aright the four candidates receiving the highest number of votes will be the nominees regardless of what their political faith should happen to be.

THE controversy over the meaning of the act of assembly appropriating the income from automobile licenses to public road improvement, and the refusal of the auditor general to approve warrants drawn for this purpose has effectively stopped work on the state highways, the evil effect of which is felt in every community, and that just at a time when the roads should be put in the best possible condition for the fall and winter.

A Popular Candidate For Superior Court Judge.

HON. WILLIAM D. WALLACE. Since the filing of the petitions with the State department at Harrisburg, of the candidacy of a number of more or less prominent men for the office of Superior Court Judge of Pennsylvania, considerable interest has been aroused throughout the state as to the character, fitness and ability of these men for the important position to which they aspire, but none has been more favorably received than that of former Judge W. D. Wallace of the common pleas Court of Lawrence county.

Judge Wallace has no backers in this contest but the plain people of the state, whom he has served practically all of his life, and his candidacy is entirely free from all factional, political or other influences of a character in the slightest degree questionable, and he goes to the people unimpeded in any way by promises or motives other than to give them the best that is in him.

Twelve petitions from as many counties in the western end of the state were filed in behalf of Judge Wallace. These petitions contained the names of almost 2,000 voters from the following counties: Erie, Mercer, Venango, Lawrence, Beaver, Allegheny, Washington, Armstrong, Dauphin, Lackawanna, Blair, and Fayette.

PAY ONLY FOR SERVICE

Legislators Not Allowed to Draw Money For Partial Attendance. Payment of items in the general appropriation bill for "balances of salaries" of deceased Pennsylvania legislators or of full salary to a member elected in the middle of a session was declared to be illegal by Deputy Attorney General Cunningham in an opinion given to Auditor General A. W. Powell.

The question arose over the payment of an item for $794 to the estate of John H. Riebel, "father of the house," who died in the middle of the session, but it affects Powell because there is an item in the bill of $467 for "payment of balance of salary, stationary and mileage" of the present auditor general from the time he resigned from the senate until the close of the session.

JUDGE IS COUNSEL ALSO

Beaver County Justice Argues Case Before Himself and Wins. Antonio Chiari of Marianna, Pa., charged with changing coal checks in the Marianna mine of the Pittsburgh-Buffalo company, had the unusual experience of having the presiding judge in his trial act as his attorney. The case was heard before Judge Richard S. Holt of Beaver, who, in the absence of any other counsel, offered to act not only as judge, but also as counsel for the youth. After hearing the evidence the jury acquitted the defendant, but placed half the costs upon him.

Rib Diet Almost Fatal.

Dr. S. C. Weaver received a real shock at Homer City, near Indiana, Pa., when he found a metal umbrella rib, twenty-six inches long, embedded in the abdomen of a cow owned by Giuseppe Mazzi. It is believed the cow swallowed the rib while eating grass several weeks ago. The animal has been in a decline for some time. When the surgeon was called he found the abdomen greatly inflamed and an operation revealed the rib. The cow will in all probability live.

Reformatory Boy Killed by Fall.

While mopping a corridor on the third tier in the Pennsylvania industrial reformatory at Huntingdon, Pa., William Norton, aged twenty, an inmate from Susquehanna county, tripped over a companion, lost his balance and fell over the edge of the high tier. He landed on his head on a concrete floor sustaining a fracture of the skull, which resulted in death.

Convicts Get Away.

Thomas Wiggins and Charles Taylor, two "trusties," made their escape from the Eastern penitentiary in Philadelphia by climbing through a window of the second tier and then lowering themselves to the ground over the prison walls by means of a sectional ladder. The police are making a search for the two men, but have no clue to their whereabouts.

Stewart Clovis, aged twenty-four, of New Salem, Pa., was electrocuted while repairing the engine of an auto, mobile when the bulb of the portable electric light he was holding broke and his hand came in contact with the wires inside, sending 110 volts of electricity through his body.

Thaw Case Drives Man Insane.

Freeman Lyarger, a resident of Kerttown, near Meadville, Pa., worried so much over the escape of Harry Thaw and the dread that he would be returned to New York state that it drove him insane. Lyarger is now confined in the Warren asylum.

Church People Squabble.

A near riot occurred, it is said, in the Dutch Fork Disciple church in Donegal township near Washington, Pa., when one faction opposed to the present pastor is said to have entered the church during services and attempted to elect a pastor.

Mistaken For Burglar, May Die.

Louis Gaspiere, who was shot by James A. Moore, was slightly improved at the Shenango Valley hospital in New Castle. Moore claims that he mistook Gaspiere for a burglar and that when the latter started for him he pulled the trigger.

Good Reason for His Enthusiasm.

When a man has suffered for several days with colic, diarrhoea or other form of bowel complaint and is then cured sound and well by one or two doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as is often the case, it is but natural that he should be enthusiastic in his praise of the remedy, and especially in the case of a severe attack when life is threatened. Try it when in need of such a remedy. It never fails. Sold by all druggists. Adv.

Genius and Appetite.

"Men of genius are almost uniformly large eaters," says Dr. Hanover. "They require a tremendous amount of good, wholesome food, for long continued and exhaustive intellectual work demands full nutrition to repair the waste brain tissue.

"Scott is said to have attributed his tremendous capacity to his power of digestion and the good, wholesome restraint of appetite in his youth. "Most of the French leaders, in war, politics and literature, were men whose digestions were powerful and appetites unflinching. Napoleon's capacity to eat was enormous, as was Talleyrand's and Mirabeau's. German statesmen and poets seem to have had the same reputation, for Bismarck and Goethe were both of them noted for their insatiable desire for food."—Chicago Tribune.

Stung.

"How soon do you start on your trip to Europe?" asked a man of a friend he chanced to meet one morning. "I had to give it up," replied the other. "Why so?" Inquired the first. "Well, you see," said the man, "my wife went and ordered her clothes for the trip, and when the bills were paid there was absolutely no money left to go with."—New York Times.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

After an intelligent old gentleman at the age of seventy-six dropped dead in his home, his son found over Two Thousand Dollars in paper money over the old clock which stood on the wooden mantle, surrounding an open crackling fire. Not even his own wife knew that much money was there. The old gentleman was simply careless. His son had married the town banker's daughter, and the bank was trusted. Both the old gentleman's money and life were in danger, for burglars have a way of learning where money is hidden, and fire at any time might have burned the house. Are you careless?
